ABOUT

A Beautiful Aching is the expression of one person's experiences and the resultant outcomes in Understanding from those experiences. It is a personal passion project.

This document is not about motivational statements to make One simply, "Feel Good". It is about discussing fundamental issues of the Human condition on a foundational level.

Is it not better to know where One currently stands, rather than be told all is fine, no matter the urgency of a situation?

When it comes down to it, this text is a Self-exploration, Self-discovery tool.

"Who are you?", "What are you?", "What is this place?", "Why are you here?" and of course "How do you relate to yourself?".

One needs to begin to explore, to have any hope of finding these answers.

If One does not Understand the True context from which they exist, then One has no possibility of Knowing that which they Truly are.

A Beautiful Aching

WRITING STYLE

Do Not Interpret what is being said.

Understand
what is being said.

The style in which these writings are presented may seem quite venerating, but when broaching the subjects that are explored, it is almost impossible not to express them with reverence and respect. When One is discussing the process of Creation, how can that not be the case? Look at what is being Created.

The framework which underpins this work is as follows,

- This publication is broken up into sections and those sections will be referred to as "Verses". The reason for this is that they are too short to be considered chapters and they can also be read out of order or in isolation. Although it is best to view them in the context of one another.

- The writing is intended to be light, airy, with roughly one to three sentences per paragraph. This makes the information easier to ingest and understand, as opposed to long, dense paragraphs.

- Everything is to be written in Present Tense. Contextual setups and Quotations are exempt.

- Generally, verses are setup like a bread crumb trail. Either the verse asks a question at the beginning, then drops logical crumbs to the conclusion, or it makes a statement at the beginning then offers a logical trail to validate that statement.

- Verses themselves are also stepping stones, with previous verses providing context for newer verses. Although, once the original Overview verses have been read, it is possible to jump to any subsequent verse and find value in it.

- There is a mindful attempt to present the information as an objective description rather than a subjective opinion.

    - An objective description is, "The experience was pleasurable (or painful)". There is no value judgement in this case, just a statement about the experience.

    - A subjective opinion is, "I prefer pleasure (or pain)". A subjective opinion is a preference or a value judgement. There is nothing wrong with this, One should simply be aware of what it is.

    - The terms "Good" and "Bad" are also value judgements that are avoided, unless they are used in the context of a quotation.

- A capital letter at the start of certain nouns and verbs is used to refer to the Universal aspect of what these words mean and to also highlight particular words. For example,

    - Using the word Creation with a capital "C" refers to the Universal Creation. A lower case "c" could refer to something a Human may create.

    - Using capital letters like "I" and "O" in the words Inner and Outer is to emphasise these Dualistic counterparts.

- The writing is presented in a Third Person Perspective. The use of the words "I" or "You" is avoided unless they are used in the context of a quotation.

    - Any reference to the Individual is made as "One" or "the One".

    - Any reference to an Individual other than the One is made as "Another" or "the Other".

- They/Them pronouns are used extensively throughout this blog in reference to the non-specific singular Individual. The reason being, is that when referring to a non-specific Individual, that Individual can either be Male or Female.

  To encompass both genders with pronouns would require using the combined terms He/She or Him/Her incessantly, which would make for an awkward reading experience. So to improve readability, They/Them pronouns are utilised instead.

  When referencing a specific Individual, He/She or Him/Her pronouns will be applied where applicable.

- Verses are presented in a form that is accessible by the average person. Any technical jargon is kept to a basic level and contorted leaps of logic are avoided.

- Verses are intended to be light on words but dense on substance, so One can come back in one week or one year and potentially gain a different insight and viewpoint of the topic being addressed.

- Red, underlined words and phrases are the titles of the verses that they are referencing.

INTRODUCTION

A Beautiful Aching is offered as an Oasis in the Desert.

It is up to You, to come and Drink.

As is mostly the case, it is best to begin at the beginning and in this instance that would be the first verse, What's In A Name?.

However, to appreciate and best understand what is being presented, please read the About and Writing Style sections first before moving on to the verses.

Following that, it is advised to read the Overview verses prior to any subsequent verses, as this establishes a context for the exploration that is to unfold.

The Overview verses, in their intended reading order, are as follows:

1. What's In A Name?
2. Unrequited Love
3. The Conflict
4. The Destructive Solution Explored
5. The Creative Solution Explored
6. The Fundamental Process Of Nature
7. This Is Heady Stuff
8. What's Love Got To Do With It?
9. The Overview

I am not here for Cowards or Revolutionaries.

I am here for the Courageous Rebel.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The primary catalyst for all that is to be presented throughout this volume, can be encapsulated in the following dialogue.

***

Q. Do you love her?

A. ?...No!

Q. What do you mean?

A. Love couldn't handle the intensity, so it got left in the dust a long way back.

Q. So what do you call it?
How do you describe it?

A. I don't call it anything.
How do I describe it...?

A Beautiful Aching.

***

Birth is a painful process with an extraordinary outcome.

Similarly, Creation is a Painful process with an Extraordinary outcome.

Welcome.

Let's Explore.

UNREQUITED LOVE

Let me guess, there's a girl?

Of course there's a girl.

There's always a girl.

In an Unrequited Love scenario there is a situation where One feels strongly and passionately for Another, but the Other does not reciprocate those feelings.

Naturally, this will expose a Conflict within Oneself.

Hence, the underlying question will arise,

"How can One feel so strongly and intensely for the Other,
but the Other feels nothing in return?"

One is within their right to feel as they feel for the Other. But also, the Other is within their right to feel or not to feel.

In fact, neither can help what they feel or do not feel.

Now, the turmoil begins.

How to resolve this conundrum?

The passion is intense, the longing to be with the Other is extreme. But still, it goes unfulfilled.

Angst, Torment, Pain; Excruciating, Unbearable.

The Questions.

How?

What?

Why?

"LEAVE! ME! ALONE!"

Then..., The Answer.

What is this..., Answer?

The Answer is..., The Flower.

What?!!

The flower will emit its fragrance even though none may be present to partake of its scent. There is no angst in the flower because no one is near to smell its aroma, it will express its perfume nonetheless.

As for the One that feels passion and affection toward the Other, they accept what they feel regardless of how the Other feels.

They honour themself by allowing their feelings for the Other and in doing so, they honour the Other.

The outcome?

Peace.

***

Can it not be seen, that all Conflict is essentially, Unrequited Love?

***

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THE CONFLICT

Conflict is the Catalyst for Contemplation.

Conflicts are nothing more than problems without a solution, equations that have yet to be solved, questions that have gone unanswered. Answering or solving these leads to Understanding, which then transitions to Knowing.

When One experiences a Conflict, there is a strong Energy component to it. Energy Flow is what drives the Universe, so Energy drives Conflict.

Intensity is generated when there is resistance and by its very nature, Conflict exposes resistance.

All Conflicts will have an Inner and Outer component to them, this is the Dualistic nature of the situation, with the Outer being merely a reflection of the Inner. Avoiding the Inner Conflict will never fully resolve the Outer, because if the focus is on dealing with the Outer Conflict alone, then One is just forever chasing shadows.

Ongoing, unresolved Inner Conflict can be a precursor to a greater Outer Conflict. Which may then lead to violence and destruction should the Inner Conflict persist unresolved.

Nature cannot allow a Conflict to go unresolved indefinitely. It cannot allow an impasse, it cannot let Energy stagnate. Doing so ultimately leads to Death and Nature cannot Die. If Nature Dies, All Life Dies.

Should there be a Conflict that has gone unresolved for an extended period of time, Nature will direct more Energy into it, which will increase the Intensity being experienced, thus forcing a resolution to the Conflict.

Nature has no preference when it comes to how a Conflict is resolved, the resolution can be Creative or it can be Destructive. The choice is up to those experiencing the Conflict.

The role of the Antagonist is to expose One's deficiencies and insecurities.

Because only when they've been exposed,
can they be resolved.

Primarily, fear of Conflict equates to a fear of looking deeper for Understanding of Oneself.

***

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THE DESTRUCTIVE SOLUTION EXPLORED

When One is faced with an Inner Conflict that they are unprepared to resolve, they will try to find ways to either,

1. Avoid and ignore the Conflict.

2. Dissipate the Energy driving the Conflict.

By doing so, they may reduce the Intensity temporarily and thus gain a period of reprieve.

AVOIDING THE CONFLICT

Distraction or attempting to move One's Awareness away from the Conflict is the primary method for avoiding and ignoring the Inner Conflict. This can be achieved by obsessing over other activities, unnecessary busy work, seeking constant sensual stimulation (stimulation of the senses) and substance abuse. This technique only really works while the Intensity is relatively low.

The way a high Intensity Conflict is avoided and ignored is to push it out of One's Awareness altogether, which leads to the creation of the "sub-conscious". This then compartmentalises the Conflict and allows time for a resolution. But in so doing, creates a backlog which one day must be addressed and accounted for.

DISSIPATING ENERGY

A method that is used to dissipate Energy, thus temporarily reduce Intensity, is Self-destructive behaviour such as heavy, repetitive substance abuse. This forces the available Energy to be consumed in repair and healing of the body.

The physical body is the primary vessel for experience and interaction in this material reality, hence without it, all else is irrelevant. That is why it must be maintained to a minimal level of health for any material experience to be possible and the reason why Energetic priority is given to its well-being first and foremost.

So, in effect, by constantly engaging in activities which damage the physiological body, Energy must be consumed in repair on the physical level. Therefore, there is little Energy left to initiate deeper levels of healing of the Human Being, consequently the deeper Conflicts are never addressed.

If a point is reached where One can no longer avoid the Intensity of the Inner Conflict and is unwilling to face it, then what comes about is a situation of "Path of Least Resistance". The Inner Conflict seems insurmountable, so the only other solution is to inflame the Outer component of the Conflict, which may potentially lead to violence. This also dissipates the Energy temporarily, but can bring on feelings of guilt and Self-loathing, which in turn could feed the Inner Conflict even further.

These additional feelings of guilt and Self-loathing may also be repressed, adding to the backlog of Conflicts that require resolution.

There is usually a combination of both strategies at play when manoeuvring to avoid the Inner Conflict, with the outcome of such choices being a spiral of Self-destruction.

THE CREATIVE SOLUTION EXPLORED

Bring Awareness to the Inner Conflict...,
Face and Allow the Intensity...,
A Resolution Will Come.

This approach is not a quick fix, real solutions that have a strong foundation take time. One can buy into superficial facades, but all facades eventually crumble, no matter how thick their construction.

This approach is about stripping back the facade, chipping away at its thick, hard, crusty shell, exposing more and more of what lay beneath. It is not an additive process where something must be done. It is a subtractive process where something must be let go.

It may seem a little ironic that a process titled the "Creative Solution" is actually deconstructive in nature. This is because it is Inwardly Deconstructive, Outwardly Constructive.

A journey of a thousand miles, begins with the first step.

The often quoted saying above is apt, because it is the only solution available to gain real, substantial results. There are no quick fixes, there are no shortcuts, there are no ways to fake a real resolution.

Any attempt to bring down the facade all at once is also not possible, nor advised. The Energy and Intensity involved would easily crush the unprepared and reset the Conflicts all over again.

The solutions that present themselves with this method may not necessarily be the solutions that are desired, but they are the solutions that are needed. Attachment to specific outcomes is its own Conflict that must be confronted, if One is to move beyond this condition.

Additionally, the solutions may not be a direct course of action to take, they instead may offer a deeper Understanding of the Conflict in question or they may simply allow for the acceptance of a certain, difficult situation.

At any stage in the Creative Solution approach, One will experience the Intensity that One can handle. But then, One can handle a lot more than One thinks.

To lighten the load that may be felt while reading this verse, be assured that there are relief stops along the way, places that allow for moments of calm, places to breathe, without facing constant, Intense Conflict all the time.

As One experiences the breakthroughs with each Creative resolution, there will be a sense of a burden being shed and a real satisfaction from the Understanding that follows.

THE FUNDAMENTAL PROCESS OF NATURE

Creation is the primordial Question,
Eternally searching for its Answer.

Singularity cannot Know what it is, until it has something to reflect off of.

Just like One cannot know what One looks like, until they stand before a mirror to see their own reflection.

By asking the very first Question, Singularity is effectively creating a mirror.

A mirror is a Question. A Question is a mirror.

Creation is the resonant reflection of Singularity/Source/Consciousness looking at itself.

Poking, Prodding, Challenging, Exploring.

The Question,

"What is this that I AM?"

When One looks into a mirror, is not a similar question being asked? Does One not ask,

"How do I look?"

Duality is the framework for the Questions to be asked.

The Conflicts are the Questions.

The outcomes to those Conflicts are the Solutions.

If the Solutions work, then Creation is birthed.

If the Solutions do not work, Destruction is the result.

Knowing what does not work is just as valuable as Knowing what does, if not more so.

In a sense, more is gained by exploring the possibilities that do not work because then there is a better Understanding for those Solutions that do work and why they work.

But a Destruction is also not the end, it is simply that the Conflict has been reset or a new, greater Solution has been found.

So, the perpetual cycle: Conflict – Solution – Understanding – Knowing – Conflict – Solution – Understanding – Knowing...

There are no wasted efforts. There are no true failures. All is valid, because all contributes to Knowing.

Singularity cannot change what it IS.

Singularity can only venture to Know what it IS.

CLARIFICATION

Clarification for the above statement,

"All is valid, because all contributes to Knowing."

Validity in this context can be expressed in the following scenario.

If a building collapses due to poor design, poor construction, ignorance or incompetence, then the collapse is a valid outcome for the situation and events leading up to the failure. It demonstrates that those responsible for the construction lack the Understanding or willingness to design and construct such a building.

Therefore, the situation provides the opportunity to investigate and gain the Understanding required to create a building that will possess the resilience and integrity to stand resolute.

An outcome maybe Unpleasant, but Pleasantness and Unpleasantness are not determining factors for validity.

***

The point of this, on a Human level, is to attain a state where One is approaching and observing Conflicts from the direct perspective of the Source itself. Rather than from the perspective of One whose Awareness is lost and stuck in a deep, dark labyrinth of Conflicts.

This is achieved through the Ultimate resolution of Inner Conflict.

One is always free
to Know and Understand.

But One should not be forced to Know and Understand.

Nor is One entitled to Know and Understand.

*

BRING AWARENESS TO THE INNER CONFLICT..., FACE AND ALLOW THE INTENSITY...,

***

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THIS IS HEADY STUFF

The reason that this may feel like Heady Stuff is because of the natural inclination to "Work This Out". Which is fine, because it is part of the process that leads to Understanding and this is the precursor to Knowing.

An aspect of "Working This Out", is processing the information. Processing information is just calculating an outcome to an equation, this is something machines are very good at.

Machines can calculate equations endlessly and the equations can even get more and more complex over time. But when all is said and done, the machine is still, only calculating equations.

Yet, there is one thing the machine cannot accomplish, no matter how many equations it solves or however complicated those equations become.

The machine can never Understand the equation, because the machine is subordinate to the equation. It is the equation that drives the machine.

Understanding the equation, is Transcending the equation.

The machine does nothing without the equation and the equation is useless without the machine.

Hence, the machine can never Understand how and why the equation works.

Thus, the machine can never reach a state of Understanding, so it can never attain a state of Knowing.

WHAT'S LOVE GOT TO DO WITH IT?

Tina's song is great, but it is wrong. Love is not a "Second-Hand Emotion".

In fact, Love is not an Emotion at all.

Love is the driver of all Emotion and more.

Yes, Love makes One feel happy, joyous, peaceful.

But cannot Love also make One feel sad, angry, restless?

As far as Creation goes, all Creative Expression is an Expression of Love. It could even be said that all Expression is an Expression of Love.

An Artists creation is an expression of love, an Engineers design is an expression of love, a Writers story, a Singers song, a Chefs dish...

But to Create, is it not also necessary to Destroy? In all of the above examples and many others, is something not destroyed, at some level, so something new could be created?

The mere act of Expression means Love is at play, somewhere.

Now, One may ask,

"But what about all the violence in this world, where is the Love there?"

Violence is an Expression of an inability to accept suffering, an unwillingness to face pain.

From the verse, Unrequited Love, can it not be seen that pain is just an indication of Unrequited Love?

So, does Love = Consciousness? Does Consciousness = Love?

Can a difference be found?

DEFINITION

Violence – In this context, Violence is defined as violating Another's sovereignty against their will, using physical force.

THE OVERVIEW

These first few verses to this point, have set the foundation for what is to come. They have been an overview of the subject matter and the topics that are to be presented. There is a great amount of detail and nuance to investigate and this will develop with each subsequent verse.

The Overview verses are intended to bring about a new perspective and to stimulate the questions that need to be asked. They do not provide all the answers nor, do they ask all the questions, because then the Overview would never end.

The Overview verses, in their intended reading order, are as follows:

1. What's In A Name?
2. Unrequited Love
3. The Conflict
4. The Destructive Solution Explored
5. The Creative Solution Explored
6. The Fundamental Process Of Nature
7. This Is Heady Stuff
8. What's Love Got To Do With It?

The point of all the information that will be presented here is not to simply comprehend what these words and sentences imply, what is most important is to Know the state from which these words and sentences come from.

For these words and sentences can be considered to be nothing more than road signs to the destination, or even postcards from the destination.

They are not the destination itself.

STRENGTH

Strength Is Not
The Sword You Carry.

The Strength that is being referenced here is not a physical strength, but a Strength of Character, an Inner Strength and it comes about when One allows themself to be Vulnerable.

Much like a flower allows itself to be Vulnerable just so it can display its beauty and express its fragrance. Not for any reason of vanity and ego, but simply because this is what is in its Nature and in this state of Vulnerability, it allows Truth to be expressed through it.

But the flower is a fragile and delicate thing and in the course of its life it will be scorched by sun, pelted by rain, savaged by storms; yet it will not complain nor play the victim. Instead, it will continue to display its beauty and express its fragrance, regardless.

At any time, the flower can be squashed in an instant or uprooted mercilessly. But even this, does not dissuade it from being a flower.

Then, the moment may arrive, when it is crushed, its life ended, its resilience finally overcome and still, for a few moments longer, it will continue to express its fragrance, not apologising for being a flower.

And thus, the flower is Powerful.

Even when faced with its own destruction, it still does not deny, that it is simply, a flower.

WISDOM

Wisdom Is Not
The Books You Read.

The premise of Wisdom is built on the foundational recognition of the interplay between Dualistic aspects, without any preference for either counterpart.

Light/Positive and Dark/Negative support and aid each other in the advancement of Life and Understanding. Just like the Inward and Outward breath promotes and advances the life and health of the physiological body.

Darkness can be considered unpleasant and difficult, but this in and of itself is not inherently "Evil".

Light can be considered pleasant and comfortable, but this again does not make it inherently "Good".

It is the denial of this symbiotic relationship from either side that initiates a corruption, and if the denial is strong enough, then what is referred to as "Evil" ensues.

It is not always recognised that the Self-Righteous can be just as Evil, as the Wicked.

For instance, forcing an Outward only breath would soon create an unbearable situation for the physiological body and eventually, natural mechanisms would override this condition, causing an involuntary Inward breath.

This involuntary Inward breath would then need to be deep and intense to counteract the effects of the unnaturally prolonged Outward breath. In turn, the body's physiological systems would be in a state of upheaval for a period of time, attempting to reach a natural, dynamic equilibrium once again.

If adamant and persistent in pursuing this course, all manner of perverse actions may be utilised in exclusively promoting the Outward breath. Each resulting in failure and each failure requiring a more drastic response. Ultimately, the only way to destroy the Inward breath, is to also destroy the Outward breath. Which obviously means death to the physiological body itself.

Conversely, the same holds true.

Wisdom does not favour the Outward breath, nor the Inward breath, but allows for the natural flow of one into the other, unhindered.

One that is Sane, never feels joy
at the suffering of Another.

One that is Wise, understands that suffering is sometimes the Nature of Things.

So, in terms of Dualistic counterparts, it seems more appropriate to counter-pose Evil with Wisdom rather than "Good".

TEACHING VS INDOCTRINATING

TEACHING

Teaching is based on creating an environment and situation where a student's innate Understanding and abilities are drawn to the surface, developed and refined.

The methodology for this is where the teacher presents the student with the teacher's own Understanding and abilities, in a manner that will stimulate and inspire the student to learn and develop these same Understandings and abilities, from their own perspective.

The ultimate goal being, that at some point in time the student will attain the same level of Understanding as that of the teacher and eventually surpass the teacher. Hence, becoming a teacher themself and continuing the cycle.

This is how the natural Human experience develops and grows.

INDOCTRINATING

Indoctrinating is where a predefined set of political, ideological or religious standards are programmed into a programming vessel, so the vessel can then regurgitate predictable responses and behaviours whenever stimulated to do so.

One of the methodologies used to achieve this is through exhaustive repetition. Where the programming vessel must either repeat mind numbing operations or be exposed to repetitious statements and actions. To the point that when prompted for a response, the vessel automatically expels or enacts what is required of them without question or any thought of dissension.

To make this even more effective, physical, emotional or psychological manipulation techniques can be utilised if the vessel does not produce the required response in a manner that satisfies those manipulating the indoctrination process.

This then sets up a behavioural pattern that whenever a vessel is presented with a condition or situation that is opposed or not within the framework of their programming, they may react in a very emotional or even violent manner.

The most effective results are produced when the indoctrination process is initiated on a programming vessel that is in the infant stages of development and rigorously continued on into early adulthood. Then systematically reinforced throughout the lifetime of the programming vessel.

At no point is the vessel to ever challenge those that oversee the indoctrination process.

At no point is the vessel to ever exceed the authority of those that oversee the indoctrination process.

The programming vessel will always be a programming vessel. Until the time comes that their limited understanding and abilities are no longer required. Upon which they will be discarded or even disposed of.

Indoctrination will often obscure itself by hiding behind the masks of "teaching" and "schooling". Because what semi-sane Individual would knowingly send their children to be "educated" in an Indoctrination Centre?

Teaching is a process of drawing out, developing and refining innate, natural Understanding from within.

Indoctrinating is programming and enforcing a predefined political, ideological or religious standard from without.

CREATION IS A NINCOMPOOP

Humans have intelligence. (Yes, I know what you're thinking.)

Humans are a part of Nature, an outcome of the Creation.

Supposedly, the Creation has no Intelligence. It is just some collection of accidental, random events that brought about the Creation.

This implies the Creation is just a dumb and clumsy nincompoop. But with all its seemingly idiotic bumblings, it still manages to Create something Extraordinary.

Yet Humans, with all their intelligence, only understand the Creation in the most simplistic and superficial of ways.

So, if the Creation has no Intelligence, where then did Humans get their intelligence from?

How can the Creation bestow a quality on to one of its outcomes, that it does not possess itself?

How is this possible?

Entropy is the general trend of the Universe

Some see this sort of definition as proof that Creation is nothing more than a random accident. Because things are observed to eventually decay into a state of seeming Disorder, this somehow proves that there is no Order.

So, what is essentially being said is that there is no Order in the structure and functioning of all plants, animals, sentient life forms, ecosystems, planets, star systems, galaxies...

Wait... What?!

If the only thing going on in the Universe is things decaying into Disorder, where then did all this Order come from to begin with?

Simply put, if there is no Order, then there is nothing to decay into Disorder.

But there is Order, so what is Creating this Order?

DUALISTIC COUNTERPARTS

For reference purposes, the following list of Dualistic counterparts is presented. This is not a complete list, just a sampling.

Creation	Destruction	Powerful	Vulnerable
Masculine	Feminine	Active	Passive
Male	Female	Honesty	Deception
Light	Dark	Reveal	Conceal
Day	Night	Comfort	Discomfort
Dawn	Dusk	Safe	Dangerous
Birth	Death	Ascend	Descend
Positive	Negative	Attack	Defend
Right	Left	Awake	Asleep
Pleasant	Unpleasant	Forward	Backward
Attractive	Repulsive	Begin	End
Outside	Inside	Below	Above
Hot	Cold	Courage	Cowardice
Expression	Absorption	Demand	Supply
Inhale	Exhale	Hope	Despair
Expand	Contract	Dry	Wet
Source	Sink	Rough	Smooth
Predator	Prey	Open	Closed
Joy	Anger	Even	Odd

Happiness	Sadness	Heads	Tails
Clarity	Confusion	Horizontal	Vertical
Calm	Conflict	Object	Environment
Stability	Turmoil	Subject	Context
Strength	Weakness	Space	Time

The final four entries on this list may seem a little strange,

- Horizontal and Vertical.
- Object and Environment.
- Subject and Context.
- Space and Time.

HORIZONTAL AND VERTICAL

If Dualistic counterparts are considered opposite expressions of one another, then how are a Horizontal and a Vertical line opposite?

Perpendicularity is as opposite as two lines can be. As soon as the angle between the two lines shifts from being perpendicular, the lines start to becoming parallel, which means that they are becoming alike.

Two Perpendicular lines which overlap or intersect each other is one of the most basic symbols for Duality. Such a symbol is generally referred to as a Cross. A Cross or an "X" is also often used to represent Conflict.

OBJECT AND ENVIRONMENT

Considering that Dualistic counterparts cannot exist without one another, like Heads and Tails of a coin, then it can be seen that an Object cannot exist without an Environment and an Environment would be worthless without at least one Object in it. So, when examined from this perspective, an Object and an Environment are very much Dualistic counterparts.

Also, the Object is often an Environment for other smaller objects and an Environment is usually contained within a larger space or Environment, thus it becomes an Object itself.

SUBJECT AND CONTEXT

A similar explanation as above can be made for a Subject and a Context. The Context is simply the environment in which the Subject is expressed.

SPACE AND TIME

Space and Time are Dualistic counterparts because neither aspect can be defined independent of one another. Space cannot exist without Time and Time cannot exist without Space. This will be expanded upon in the verse, Understanding Space/Time.

Counterpart pairs also create context for one another, for example, Darkness gives context to Light and vice versa. What would Light mean if there was no Darkness?

Dualistic counterparts, from an overall Energetic perspective, are also never in equal balance, they exist in a continual state of asymmetric flux. Always positing to create perfect balance but never achieving this state, thus the constant flow and movement within the Universe.

AN INTERESTING OBSERVATION

If the term "Individual" is broken down into its components of "Indivi" and "dual" then it can be observed that,

- Indivi – Is the shortening of the word "Indivisible", which means incapable of being divided.

- Dual – Is the shortening of the word "Duality".

So, the term "Individual" or "Individuality" can be defined as an Indivisible Duality.

What does this mean?

Just an interesting observation.

DEFINITION

Individual – A Unique Fundamental Sovereign Self-Aware Expression of Singularity. An Indivisible Duality. This definition is for the word as a noun, with a capital "I".

THE ELECTRIC CIRCUIT ANALOGY

Consider an electrical circuit that has been designed and manufactured to comfortably operate at 1 Volt and it achieves what is required of it at this 1 Volt source input.

If however, 1.5 Volts were to be applied to this circuit, it may soon become apparent that the circuit functions warmer than its normal operating temperature. It may also operate in a more erratic and excited manner and generally become more unstable.

Increasing the source voltage to 2 Volts would most likely see this circuit become very warm, even to the point that components and interconnections fail or disintegrate. The circuit may no longer function at all because its design conditions have been well exceeded with this increase in intensity.

Now, what if the circuit had a way to adapt to these increases in energetic intensity? Could it adapt to handle 5 Volts, 100 Volts, 1 000 000 Volts?

No, the circuit itself has no ability to adapt its circuitry.

However, the Human Being has the capacity to adapt to higher Energetic states.

The only requirement being, is to "Face and Allow the Intensity", the rest takes care of itself.

Because the deeper the Awareness, the higher the Energy state and vice versa.

ATTENTION

The above verse is an analogy, One must not directly subject themself or others to any form of electrical energy. The Energy being referred to in the Human experience is of a different sort and nature altogether.

THE DARK CUPBOARD

Consider two Individuals that have grown up living in a dark cupboard their entire life and this dark cupboard also happens to be located in a deep dark basement.

What if somehow these two Individuals managed to hear about a thing called, the "Sun"? Then they may well spend their time discussing and debating the existence and merits of this, "Sun". They could postulate all sorts of theories and philosophies surrounding the idea of the "Sun" and even formulate equations proving or disproving any or all of these theories and philosophies.

Alternatively, they may go the route of ignoring reasoning altogether and simply create an object of worship. They could then ascribe all sorts of qualities and abilities to this object of worship, being only limited by their imagination.

But what if they instead, opened up the cupboard door, walked up out of the basement, went outside and looked at the daytime sky?

Now, what if only one of these Individuals bothered to leave the cupboard, walk outside and look at the daytime sky? What if this Individual then returned and informed the Other of what they had observed? Would their discussion then be based on philosophy, or science, or religion, or would it simply be, a description?

When discussing Truth, it is not philosophical, nor scientific, nor religious, but descriptive.

Because Truth is a Discovery, not a head game.

Also, in the case of Discovering Truth, it is an Inward journey not an Outward one.

CLARIFICATION

The aspect of science that is being referred to here is Scientific Theory not the Scientific Method. The Scientific Method has validity in this context.

THE SPRING SCALE ANALOGY

Consider a spring-loaded bathroom scale. This scale, like many of its type, has a rotating disk with markings on its surface which reference certain weight values. Above this disk sits a transparent viewing window with a thin line, usually red, etched centrally onto its surface and its purpose being to indicate the relevant weight value on the rotating dial below.

POLARITY SCALE
MEASURING INTENSITY

As an object of a certain mass is placed on to this scale, the dial rotates anti-clockwise from its zero position to the appropriate value that represents the weight of the item placed on it. Then once the item is removed, the dial rotates clockwise, back to the indicated zero position.

Now, let's make some modifications to this scale (refer to the associated image). Instead of having the freedom to only move anti-clockwise from zero, the dial can also move clockwise from the zero position. Furthermore, let's assign the term "Positive" to values to the right of the zero and "Negative" to values to the left and these values will denote Intensity rather than Weight.

So essentially, the zero designates the central position of the disk, with Positive and Negative values on opposite sides and the disk can rotate in either direction.

In the nominal position, the red etched line on the surface of the viewing window sits above the zero mark on the dial. If some type of Positive element is placed on this scale, the dial will move anti-clockwise and rest at the point that represents the Intensity of this Positive element. The magnitude of the Intensity will be indicated by the value on the dial that lies directly below the red etched line.

If this same process was to be repeated with a Negative element, then the magnitude of its Intensity would be shown with the dial moving clockwise to the appropriate value.

The red etched line, in this case, portrays what is meant by the term "Detachment". It has no preference in the direction that the dial rotates, nor does it have a partiality for the Intensity value which is presented to it. In a sense, it is simply Aware of the Polarity and magnitude of Intensity offered by the rotating disk.

Emotions are a valuable indicator and feedback mechanism for the Polarity and Intensity of certain Energy states. Neither Emotional polarity is "Good" or "Bad", although they can be accurately described as being Pleasant and Unpleasant.

Acceptance of suffering has nothing to do with "coping mechanisms" and other such adulterations. It is about genuinely experiencing what is being genuinely presented, without any attempt to dissipate or morph the Emotional experience in any way.

Also, activities like self-flagellation which intentionally induce suffering upon Oneself are unhelpful. They are a senseless practice encouraged by psychotic Individuals.

THE THUG, THE COWARD

The Thug is One that is so terrified of feeling Vulnerable, that they over compensate to the extreme. They create the persona of being overly aggressive so as to frighten off Others or to intimidate them into submission, and if this does not work, they then revel in using violence against those that are not willingly subjugated.

Hypocritically, the Thug will often be the first and the loudest to cry "Injustice!", when they themself are exposed to their own treatments and actions.

The Thug also likes to coalesce into collectives or gangs, because of the consternation they feel from a backlash against their own Thuggery. This is also why many Thugs are drawn to authoritarian institutions and agencies, so they can wear authoritarian titles and authoritarian issued costumes to give themself legitimacy.

Resolving the fear surrounding the Thug, disarms the Thug and makes the Thug impotent.

UNDERSTANDING SPACE/TIME

Consider a circle.

This circle encloses an area or a Space.

A Space implies movement, because what would be the purpose of the Space, if there were no ability to move within it.

Now, a unique physical object cannot be at two distinct points in that Space at exactly the same Time.

For a physical object to move from one point in that Space, to another point in that Space, requires Time.

Hence if Space exists, then Time exists and vice versa. But if one is absent, both are absent.

If the Space between two points is increased, but the speed of movement between those points remains the same, then the Time to move between one point and the other also increases.

Thus, Space/Time is referred to as a continuum. The greater the Space, the greater the Time.

Expressed in a more general sense, a change or variation in one aspect of a Dualistic relationship corresponds to a change or variation in the other.

There is however one point in that circle where Space/Time does not exist, where no movement is possible at all.

That is, the absolute centre of the circle.

At the absolute centre of the circle there is no area, meaning there is no Space and therefore no Time.

The only thing that is found there is Stillness, Silence, Singularity.

But the centre of the circle is fundamental to the creation of the circle, because the circle does not exist without the centre.

So, there is a paradox, from the Source of Stillness the entire dynamic Universe is birthed.

Also consider, that every point within the circle is a potential centre of a new circle.

TIME

Asking the question, "When did Time Begin?" or making the statement, "The Beginning of Time" makes no sense, because this implies that at some point in Time, Time began.

For Time to have a Beginning and an End would indicate that Time already prevails. It suggests that Time would have to exist within an envelope of Time.

There cannot be a Beginning of Time. There cannot be an End of Time.

There can only be a Beginning and an End to the things that emanate within Time.

Time itself is a functional mechanism within the framework of Eternity.

THE UNIVERSE IS HOW OLD?

There is a generally accepted concept that the Universe has an age.

But what does this mean?

If the Physical Universe is defined in terms of Space/Time and Space and Time are a continuum, in which the two aspects cannot be defined independent of one another, how then can the Universe have an age?

For the Universe to have an age, Space would have to exist within an envelope of Time. Meaning, that at some point in Time there was no Space but then, at another point in Time, there was.

However, as is demonstrated in this previous verse, Understanding Space/Time, Time does not exist without Space, so there is no period in Time where Space did not exist.

Therefore, the Universe cannot have an age.

Even if Time did exist without Space, what then existed in the Time interval between Space not existing and existing?

Within what environment does Time existing without Space?

Time implies movement, Space implies movement. Both aspects are inextricably tied to movement.

Referencing the Universe as a whole in terms of Time is meaningless, only the contents of the Physical Universe can have a meaningful Time reference.

It cannot even be stated that the Universe is Ageless, because this too is meaningless. This implies that the Universe is Timeless, therefore Spaceless.

So, perhaps the best way to describe the Universe is that it simply, IS.

Creation did not come from somewhere.

Creation is not going to somewhere.

Creation, IS.

THE UNIVERSAL MODEL

The current generally accepted model of the Physical Universe is comprised of,

1. Planet – Potentially may have smaller satellites or moons in orbit.
2. Star System – Planetary bodies orbiting a central star.
3. Galaxy – Countless star systems orbiting a galactic centre.
4. Universe – The collection of all galaxies.

But this is incomplete and the term Universe is used incorrectly in this case, because there is also discussion of there being many Universes or a Multi-verse.

The expanded model of the Physical Universe that is alluded to in these pages is,

1. Planet – Potentially may have smaller satellites or moons in orbit.
2. Star System – Planetary bodies orbiting a central star.
3. Galaxy – Countless star systems orbiting a galactic centre.
4. Primary Verse – The collection of all galaxies within the particular Primary Verse.

5. Secondary Verse – The collection of all Primary Verses within the particular Secondary Verse.

6. Tertiary Verse – The collection of all Secondary Verses within the particular Tertiary Verse.

7. This Primary, Secondary, Tertiary... sequence continues indefinitely.

8. Universe – The collection of all of the above. Because "Uni" means One or the Whole.

This model now shows the Infinite Fractal nature of the Physical Universe.

DEFINITION

Fractal – The definition of a Fractal from the American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, 5th Edition.

- An object whose parts, at infinitely many levels of magnification, appear geometrically similar to the whole.

- A geometric figure that repeats itself under several levels of magnification and that shows self-similarity on all scales.

THE TRANSCENDENCE OF TRUTH

There is a tendency to equate "Truth" and "Lie" as Dualistic counterparts. Instead, it would be more accurate to associate Honesty and Deception as Dualistic counterparts in this context.

Truth itself has no Dualistic counterpart. Truth is Transcendent.

A crude definition for Truth would be, "What IS".

Truth is the foundation upon which Duality/Reality is built.

Truth is not "What Will Be", nor is it "What Was" as these two conditions imply Birth and Death, which are themselves Dualistic counterparts.

Truth is always Alive. Truth is Life. Truth is the Present. Life only exists in the Present.

"What IS", is the Present.

"What Will Be", is yet to be Born.

"What Was", is Dead.

> A Fact is simply the memory of a Truth.

If a Lie is defined as a Deception, then as was stated, it is the Dualistic counterpart of Honesty.

If a Lie is defined as an untruth, then a Lie cannot exist, because an untruth is a contradiction.

Creation contains many paradoxes but it does not contain a single contradiction. Any perceived contradiction is not an error of Creation, it is an error in observation and in the Understanding of "What IS".

If untruths or contradictions existed then there would be holes in the foundation of Reality, which would make for a very unstable Reality.

One cannot avoid Truth forever because illusion/delusion has a finite time span. Eventually, Conflicts will emerge that will resolve the delusion and nothing burns away delusion, like Intensity. Thus, the ultimate result of this Inner inferno, is Clarity.

Knowing Truth comes from a state of Inner Clarity, not from knowing everything.

Discovering and Expressing Truth is akin to walking down the street, seeing what is around, what attracts attention and describing it from this state of Inner Clarity.

Truth is independent of personal belief. Truth does not care what One believes. Truth goes on being Truth, regardless.

Because...,

Truth IS.

To Discover, Understand and Know Truth, is to allow the experience of...

What IS.

CLARIFICATION

It should be noted that a Deception is not necessarily nefarious.

An insect that camouflages itself against its background to deceive predators, is legitimate in its actions.

A predator that is hunting prey for food may also use deceptive techniques to achieve its end.

In these cases, like many of this type, the Deception is real, it does exist and is justifiable.

So, can these even be considered a Lie?

HOPE AND BELIEF

Belief = Unexplored Ignorance.
Ignorance = Ignoring Truth.

Exploring Ignorance does not mean looking for ways to justify Belief.

Exploring Ignorance means genuinely questioning Belief.

"Hope" and "belief" are facades the ego creates when it encounters situations and ideas it cannot cope with nor Understand.

When the search for Wisdom and Truth is discarded, it is replaced with "hope" and "belief", which are nothing more than cheap conveniences.

"Belief" is easy, there is little to no effort or angst required to manufacture a "belief". There are no real Conflicts that need be resolved, there is no real turmoil One must navigate.

When One "believes", One simply pretends that the Conflicts do not exist.

"Belief" itself is a hindrance to the discovery of Truth. One can "believe" 7×7=53 and with that "belief" they convince themself that no further investigation or contemplation is necessary, because "I believe" and that's good enough.

To Discover and Understand, One must first recognise that One does not Know. But "belief" is nothing more than a pretending to Know.

To Understand and to Know takes great effort, commitment, courage, resilience and even then, there are no guarantees.

So, it is somewhat understandable that so many are content to just "hope" and "believe".

Often, the Wisest thing One can acknowledge is,

I don't Know.

NATURE, THE ALGORITHM

Creation is the materialisation of the Universe from Singularity. Singularity's manifest, resonant reflection.

Nature is Creation's Algorithm that oversees the functioning of the Universe by directing and co-ordinating all expressions of Life Force/Consciousness.

Nature's Prime Directive is to create circumstances and situations which contribute and add to Understanding and Knowing.

Duality is the structural framework in which all this takes place.

One expression of this is in the Predator/Prey interplay or survival of the fittest. Those organisms that adapt to the ever-changing conditions survive, while those that cannot, perish.

However, being the biggest most ruthless thug on the block does not necessarily ensure survival. In fact, this approach may lead to a rather quick demise, as other organisms identify the threat and take swift action against it.

Nature's role is to not only promote and sustain Life, but to also enhance it and make it prosper. Yet to do this, it must challenge Life, by providing purposeful obstacles to overcome and creating Conflicts with meaningful consequences.

Meaningful consequences create a high degree of urgency to stimulate learning, creativity, adaptation and resourcefulness.

Those Individuals and species that most accurately comprehend this and are able to best adapt to the dynamic situational context, prosper.

But prosperity in this sense does not mean simply creating cushions and buffers against the effects of Nature, instead requires the Wisdom and Understanding to work in conjunction with Nature.

Nature carries out this role without fear nor favour for any individual organism or species within Creation.

Worshipping or praying to some deity is not going to garner any special privilege from Nature. Although there are parasitic entities which encourage and consume the Energy from these types of activities.

Power is not derived through the attempted dominance of Nature.

Power is discovered upon a deep acceptance of Nature.

DEFINITION

Algorithm – In the context of this blog, an Algorithm is a device or structure that produces a repeatable Output for a given Input. Examples of which are,

- A See-saw – With a see-saw, when one end is pushed down the other end goes up. This result is repeatable while the see-saw is intact and functioning correctly.

- Computer Program – A computer program is a logical device or structure which produces a certain Output for a given Input. The whole point of a computer program is that it is reliably repeatable.

Nature already knows the most efficient way to a required outcome.

It can be observed that Nature is efficient in all aspects that are currently somewhat understood. Thus, would it not be reasonable to accept that Nature is efficient in all its aspects and all its expressions? It makes no sense otherwise, why would Nature be efficient in some areas but not in others?

Does it not also make sense then that Nature will get One from where they are now, to where they need to be, at the time One needs to be there, in the most efficient manner feasible? Even though, in hindsight, it may seem as though the path is rather convoluted.

Not only that, Nature is mandated to co-ordinate the requirements and activities of all things, in all of Creation, in the most effective and efficient way possible. The scope of which is beyond the Human intellect to fully comprehend.

So, from a Human perspective, a personal quality that is helpful in navigating this endless, intermingling labyrinth, is Inner Trust.

REAL CHANGE

The role of the Individual is not to obstinately change themself or the world around them.

The role of the Individual is to Understand themself and the world around them.

From an Inner perspective, Real Change is something that is allowed, not something that is done.

For the One embarking on the journey, there are no specific pathways that can be mapped out as transitions to the change. Because Real Change is unknown, so the pathway cannot be outlined prior to the transition. Real Change goes into areas that have not been explored as yet, so the pathway does not exist as yet.

Real Change is a discovery of both the path and the destination.

Moving to a state or condition that One is familiar with, is not Real Change.

Real Change is when there is unfamiliarity with the situation or circumstance One finds themself entering into.

Real Change, on any level, can be quite difficult to contend with. But this is especially the case when it comes to a change in the Inner condition, a transitioning to higher Energy states.

Engaging fears and insecurities is mandatory and Real Change will cause anxiety and trepidation. Although this passes as One becomes accustomed and acclimatised to the new state.

If the process of change feels comfortable and easy, then it is not Real Change.

THE MEANING OF CONTEXT

Q. What gives a measuring device,

A. Zero! Without zero
the measuring device is useless.

Q. What gives a measuring device Meaning?

A. The units. Without the units the measured values are nothing more than arbitrary numbers.

One must be Aware of where zero is and its relation to the measured value, such as the units, to have any meaningful frame of reference for the Subject being measured.

Meaning comes when defining the Subject relative to and in terms of the Context.

Understanding comes when there is a comprehension of Meaning.

Awareness anchored at the Source/Singularity gives One's life true Context and Meaning.

Awareness that is not anchored at the Source/Singularity is like a point in a co-ordinate system that is oblivious to its own origin.

THE INFINITY COIN

Consider the situation where One is being offered a $1 coin.

However, this offer only appeals if One can have just the Head side of the coin. One refuses to accept the Tail side of the coin because it offends them and is unpalatable to them.

Well, in such a circumstance, One may not be able to accept the coin at all.

Yet, One really does want the Head side of the coin. So they finally accept the whole coin, even the Tail side. The desire for the Head side makes them begrudgingly put up with and endure the Tail side of the coin.

Now, One has enjoyed the Head side of the coin and is being offered a $5 coin. But again, they must accept both sides of the coin, if they are to have the coin at all.

The conundrum. The Head side of the $1 coin was Pleasant, but was it Pleasant enough to offset the Unpleasantness of the Tail side? Is it worth accepting the more valuable coin?

This is an important consideration, because One will now receive five times the Pleasantness from this new offering than what was received from the original. But also, five times the Unpleasantness.

What to do?

For Awareness to transition to higher and higher Energy states, a very similar scenario is at play. Energy requires a Dualistic charge interaction to flow; both Positive and Negative, both Heads and Tails. One must accept the Whole for Awareness to pass through the gateways to these higher Energy states.

So, the Ultimate Question,

“Is One prepared to accept the Infinity Coin?”

The Infinity Coin can only be received when there is no longer any resistance nor hesitation to accepting the Whole Coin.

Both the Head and Tail sides are to be welcomed, without preference.

THE STRUCTURE OF INTEGRITY

Integrity in the context of a physical construction, such as a bridge or a building, refers to the structures capacity to support not only its own weight, but also its ability to support loads that are place on to it.

If the structure has the ability to hold itself together while carrying loads that are within or even beyond its design targets, then it can be said that the structure has Integrity.

If the structure is unable to support even its own weight or shows signs of failure under loads that are far less than its design targets, then the structure can be considered to be of poor Integrity.

A structure that is of poor Integrity is deemed ineffective and unsafe because it is seen as a danger to all other objects around it.

In the Human context, those Individuals that express genuine Integrity will carry their loads and burdens safely and effectively, not capitulating and destroying themself or those around them.

While those that lack Integrity will crumble in on themself and seek to off load their own burdens and responsibilities on to others. They may also make claims about themself that cannot be substantiated, in an attempt to project a false facade, as they blame others for their own deficiencies and failings.

This, at its core, is an Expression of an inability to cope with the burden and Intensity of the Inner Conflict.

Just because One maybe experiencing "Hell" does not mean One must be corrupted by it.

Those that have Integrity will not only endure the suffering that comes from the Inner Conflict, but will Transcend it.

Those that lack Integrity will succumb and capitulate to the suffering and be corrupted by it.

Thus, "Hell" plays its role in separating the wheat from the chaff.

Ultimate Integrity does not simply carry the load or bear the burden, but Transcends it, to the point that it becomes effortless.

One can appear to have Integrity when there is no load being applied. However, the true test comes, when considerable duress is encountered.

The Question is, can One bear the load, the burden and achieve Transcendence, without intoxicating or destroying the experience as a way to avoid the suffering?

THE INFINITY OF SINGULARITY

In this verse, the terms Singularity and Universe (as in Uni-Verse) will be used synonymously and are referencing the Absolute Whole. However, it is more accurate to state that Universe/Creation is the resonant reflection of Singularity.

***

Words are Finite.
Sentences are Finite.
Language is Finite.

How is the Infinite to be described,
when only Finite methods are available?

If Universe were to be defined in some way, then this definition would imply that Universe has a boundary. Because all definitions, by their very nature, are defining boundaries.

But if Universe has a boundary, then the next logical question is,

"What is beyond this boundary?"

Because a boundary is a separation and as such, it is separating at least two items, states or conditions.

The fact that there is a boundary means that the entire Universe has not been fully defined within the particular definition. It means the definition is omitting some aspect of Universe.

In other words, a definition can only define a part of Universe. No definition can define the whole of Universe, because the mere act of defining creates a boundary and a boundary is a separation, an isolation of a portion of Universe/Singularity.

Consequently, a definition which encompasses the Absolute Whole is not possible. Universe/Singularity cannot have a boundary, thus cannot be defined.

Also, the finite is definable because there is a boundary. The Infinite is undefinable because there is no boundary.

So, with Singularity being undefinable, Singularity is Infinity.

Hence, the Infinity of Singularity.

Silence is the Echo of Infinity.

***

For something to have Form, it must have a definable boundary.

Form, is simply the shape or structure of a particular boundary.

It has been shown, that Singularity has no boundary.

Therefore, Singularity has no Form.

AVOID STRESS AND ANXIETY?

Avoid Stress and Anxiety.

This sort of advice is frequently given with the intent of improving One's health and well-being. But what does this mean, and is that really the outcome of such advice?

Generally speaking, Psychological/Emotional stress is not a switch that is turned off and on at will.

Psychological/Emotional stress, in and of itself, is not a health problem, it is an indication of Inner Conflict.

Chronic, unresolved Inner Conflict begins to break down the Psyche and eventually the Emotional and Physical bodies as well. This is the health problem.

Stress and Anxiety are to be resolved, not avoided. Avoidance creates the chronic issue.

Stress can have a stimulating and rejuvenating effect once the Inner Conflict has been resolved.

An effective method to improve and maintain Physical health is high intensity exercise.

Exercise is a stress on the Physical body. It stimulates the Physical body into an adaptive response, which then leads to an improvement in health and well-being.

However, chronic exercise creates chronic Physical stress and eventually a breakdown of the Physical body will result.

Relatively short exposure to high stress produces the adaptive response. Rest is required to allow the adaptation to manifest.

The difference between Physical and Psychological/Emotional stress, is that Physical stress from exercise is allowed and even welcomed, whereas Psychological/Emotional stress is treated like an illness that must be shunned and avoided.

ANATOMY OF THE HUMAN BEING

Anatomy of the Human Being is a series of verses that will provide a general outline of the elements that make up the Human Being and give an overview of the functioning of each element.

The structural makeup of the Human Being is as follows,

HUMAN PSYCHO-BIOLOGICAL ORGANISM

- Physical Body.
- Emotional Body.
- Psychological Body or Psyche.

HEART CENTRE

Connection point or interface between the Human Psycho-Biological Organism and Mind/Spirit.

MIND/SPIRIT

The term Mind/Spirit is being used due to a lack of a more appropriate term. The term Mind in this context is not referring to brain function or mental chatter.

- Soul Consciousness.
- Universal/Creation Consciousness.
- Source/Singularity/Consciousness.

ENERGY NODE POINTS

How these elements relate and interact is through Energy node points which correspond to regions of the body.

- Physical Body node point is the connection to the Earth.
- Emotional Body node point is the connection to the Physical Body.
- Psychological Body node point is the connection to the Emotional Body.

- Heart Centre node point is the connection to the Psychological Body.
- Soul Consciousness node point is the connection to the Heart Centre.
- Universal/Creation Consciousness node point is the connection to Soul Consciousness.
- Source/Singularity/Consciousness node point is the connection to Universal/Creation Consciousness.

Conceptually, these aspects of the Human Being can be considered as layers on top of one another or alternatively, in the form of circular rings that are concentric to one another, with Singularity being at the centre.

Other teachings and cultures have referred to these as "Chakras" and the terminology used here for some of these individual points may vary from those teachings and cultures.

Although the structural elements of these Energy nodes are present in each Human Individual, they are not necessarily operating at any meaningful capacity, let alone full capacity. Operational performance of these nodes is dependent on the level or depth of Awareness of the particular Individual. Most Individuals have a level of Awareness based within the Emotional Body Energy state and relatively few venture past this point in the course of a life time.

This series of verses will be split into two parts, with the Human Psycho-Biological Organism verses being presented in succession and the Mind/Spirit verses presented further along.

Ranging from levels below that of any animal to the potential of Divinity, as in an unobstructed connection to Singularity.

THE PHYSICAL BODY

The Physical Body is the outer most expression of the Human Being, the densest of the three bodies. It is the material vehicle through which the material world is experienced.

This is what anchors all the other components of the Human Being into this reality.

An analogous system would be computer hardware. That is, the physical components of a computer system, including the BIOS/Firmware.

BIOS (Basic Input Output System) runs and controls the hardware components in a computer system, such as the CPU, memory, storage devices and also interfaces with other peripherals.

The nervous system of the Human Body is equivalent to computer BIOS, although it is orders of magnitude more sophisticated. It controls the hardware components of the Physical Body, such as the brain, the heart, the lungs, the reflexes, physical senses and many other systems and functions.

The endocrine system is also deeply integrated into control and signalling functionality.

The Human Physical Body is the biological instrument that runs the program, the algorithm of the Human Psyche.

THE EMOTIONAL BODY

The Emotional Body can be difficult to clearly define in a logical and rational sense, but its purpose cannot be understated as part of the whole Human experience.

The general functions of a correctly operating Emotional Body can be summed up in the following ways.

- The Weather System of the Psycho-Biological Organism.
- Inner Conflict Indicator and Feedback.
- Sensory Device to indicate the state of a situation or environment, such as being safe or dangerous.
- A Measure of Personal Value.

THE WEATHER SYSTEM

In many ways Emotions are analogous to the Earth's weather systems. Comparably, weather systems help promote the life, growth and experiences of biological life forms. While Emotions help promote the life, growth and experiences of the Human Psycho-Biological Organism. In fact, Emotions do this for any complex animal.

Weather systems provide the constantly changing environmental conditions which stimulate and drive growth. Just like the weather is sometimes fine, sunny and calm, but at other times it is rough, dark and stormy, Emotions possess a very similar quality in this regard.

Storms may represent unstable weather conditions and potential destruction, but they also have a clarifying and cleansing effect. When One experiences the moments after a thunderstorm, there is often a refreshing sense in the air. This is especially the case after a thunderstorm which proceeds a long period of hot, dry weather. Plants and other life forms spring to life from these invigorating effects.

When One experiences the turmoil bought on by an intense Inner Conflict, the resulting Creative resolution can also have a stimulating and rejuvenating effect on the Individual in question. The serene period that follows, allows for rest and recovery to take place, along with any adaptations to manifest.

INNER CONFLICT INDICATOR AND FEEDBACK

Inner Conflicts are usually indicated by Emotions like fear, insecurity, stress, anxiety. Any Emotions that have a strong attachment to a particular desire or outcome.

But upon resolution of an Inner Conflict, lighter more pleasant Emotions will be the feedback response.

For more about stress and anxiety and the connection to Inner Conflict, please refer to the verse, Avoid Stress And Anxiety?

SENSORY DEVICE

The sense of dread in a particular situation or the feeling of peacefulness in a certain surrounding are sensory indicators of conditions that are either dangerous or safe.

These can trigger physiological responses such as "Fight or Flight", in preparation for the body to act quickly and decisively in avoiding or subduing a particular danger. Or there is the counter to this, with the calmness experienced in a safe environment, which can stimulate the body to rest and recover.

The Emotional Body can also be a very accurate device for the measurement of Honesty and Deception, provided that it is calibrated correctly to begin with. More on this in the verse, Calibrating For Truth.

A MEASURE OF PERSONAL VALUE

Of course, the aspect of the Emotional Body that will be very familiar is its expression of personal value. The people and objects that One most value's will also provide the most potent Emotional experiences.

A child will provide a strong Emotional experience for a parent, both in a Pleasant and Unpleasant way. Children will be a source of great joy for parents, but will potentially also cause great distress. The children of Others may evoke an emotional response, but it will not be on the same level as that of One's own children.

The passing of a loved one will arouse levels of sadness which correlate to the value and meaning that the departed had to the particular Individual. However, there is very little sadness felt towards the passing of a person that One has no affection for.

A further example is when One experiences a passionate and romantic relationship with Another. There is always high potency in these exchanges, both in a loving and possibly volatile nature.

A Psycho-Biological Organism that is weighed down by a sub-conscious state of perpetual fear, will invariably have an Emotional Body that is not operating correctly and the above-mentioned functions can be severely hindered and confused.

Or put another way, a backlog of sub-conscious, unresolved Inner Conflicts can interfere with the correct functioning of the Emotional Body, particularly if there is strong resistance against any resolution taking place.

***

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL BODY

The Psychological Body is equivalent to the operational software of the Human Psycho-Biological Organism, the behavioural program/algorithm of the biological instrument and the term "Human Nature" is referring to this Human psychological program.

It not only contributes to the survival and reproductive functions of the Human Psycho-Biological Organism, but also to the inquisitive and creative aspects in artistic and technological endeavours.

Obviously, this program is not uniform across all Individuals and just like there is a Human Physical Body archetype, with many feature variations, there is also a Human Psychological Body archetype, with expressive variations. These expressive variations are commonly referred to as the "Personality".

A BRIEF OVERVIEW

This outline is presented with the intent to expand on some of these points in future verses.

- The Psychological Body, just like the Physical Body, may become ill and dysfunctional in its own way and the effects of this dysfunction can and does spread to the Emotional and Physical Bodies as well.

- The types of things that cause the Psychological Body to become ill and dysfunctional are chronic fear and trauma that are then compartmentalised within the Psychological Body like a cancer, which results in suppressed Inner Conflict.

- Suppressed Inner Conflict causes the Psychological Body to become disfigured, contorted and burdened with these innumerable wounds, which then leads to distorted and contradictory beliefs/programming as a way to avoid dealing with the pain that they hold. This is similar to the way One would avoid any contact on a sensitive and infected physical wound.

- In this state the Psychological Body is susceptible to Psychological Malware, just like a compromised computer operating system would be.

- Psychological Malware takes the form of various types of manipulation, examples of which are ideological indoctrination, propaganda, fear mongering and gas-lighting.

- This level of sub-conscious chronic fear and trauma that drives Inner Conflict, is not something that is created in a single life time, but is passed on through genetic transfer to offspring. A parent's unresolved Inner Conflicts are transferred to the child at the time of conception and from this, an accumulation effect begins.

- The genetic capacity to accumulate suppressed chronic trauma is limited and eventually a tipping point is reach where the Human Psycho-Biological Organism must unload, but ideally in a safe and "controlled" fashion.

- From countless generations of accumulated, unresolved chronic trauma there is the situation that is observable today. A biological species that has reached the accumulation capacity of the organism and now the unloading begins. Thus, a world gone mad.

THE STUDY OF PSYCHOLOGY

Currently, the study of psychology is limited in its Understanding because it has no idea or concept of what is beyond psychology. It does not see how psychology fits into the greater scheme of the Human Being. In fact, it is not even Aware of the full make-up of the Human Being.

It is trying to Understand the program from an Awareness that is at or below the level of the program, it has not yet Transcended the program to be able to comprehend proper context. As an analogy, a fish cannot comprehend the ocean because it is too busy swimming around in the ocean and is not able to elevate its Awareness above it.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE THREE BODIES

This verse is a very general guide to the types of characteristics that may be conveyed by an Individual whose Awareness range spans the Human Psycho-Biological Organism. These characteristics are ones that are most prominent and may not be as pronounced in the vast majority of Individuals that express a similar scope of Awareness.

This perspective is for informative purposes only and is not intended to be used as a way to categorise, demean or abuse others. Those that would use this material in that manner most likely have an Awareness state that is even more restricted than those they wish to vilify.

MASCULINE AND FEMININE

First off, a basic Understanding of Masculine and Feminine Energy forms and flows for Natural systems needs to be established.

Masculine Energy forms are Expressive.

Feminine Energy forms are Receptive.

This construct then sets up the mechanisms of Energy flow between Energetic polarities.

In terms of the more dense, materialistic Energy states, Energy flows from the Masculine to the Feminine.

At the more refined, higher frequency Energy states, Energy flows from the Feminine to the Masculine.

This exchange mechanism is aptly portrayed in the way water falls from the clouds to the ground in its denser, liquid state; while rising up to form the clouds in its amorphous, vaporous state.

The issue with current Understanding is that only the Masculine aspect of Energy flow is mostly recognised and the Feminine aspect is either unknown, vague or obscured. That is, Energy is seen to only flow in a Positive to Negative direction, but not from a Negative to Positive direction also.

This is an important facet that is being missed.

THE PHYSICAL BODY

Male – Masculine Physical Body.

Female – Feminine Physical Body.

An Awareness limited to the Physical Body may express the following characteristics;

- Tendency for the "Macho Male" | "Girly Girl" types. This is due to the lack of expression from a counterbalancing Emotional Body.
    - Males may tend to an exaggerated masculinity. Some could even see and describe themself as "Alpha Male".
    - Females may tend to an exaggerated femininity and will often overly sexualise themself.
- Subdued Emotional experience, limited Emotional capacity due to an underdeveloped Emotional Body.
- Could also manifest as blunted Emotional expression, meaning that Emotional expression lacks nuance and refinement. That is, it is very polarised.
- Emotional experience may be replaced with obsessive stimulation of the physical senses and endocrine function.
- Very much a Physical Body and material world focus.

THE EMOTIONAL BODY

Male – Feminine Emotional Body.

Female – Masculine Emotional Body.

An Awareness limited to the Emotional Body may express the following characteristics;

- Counterbalancing expression to the Physical Body.
    - However, if the Emotional Body expresses in a greater disproportion to the Physical Body, then the Individual may exhibit exaggerated characteristics of the opposite gender, due to the gender reflection of the Emotional Body.
    - In other words, a Male may present as being effeminate while a Female may present more masculine traits.
    - In certain circumstances homosexual tendencies may result, because Energetically the Masculine is always looking to connect with the Feminine and vice versa.
- The Emotional Body dominates behaviour with Awareness confined to this level.
- Greater Emotional capacity as the Emotional Body develops. Though this may lead One to be Emotionally reactive as part of the adaptation process.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL BODY

Male – Masculine Psychological Body.

Female – Feminine Psychological Body.

An Awareness limited to the Psychological Body may express the following characteristics;

- Greater Emotional capacity, although still not fully developed.
- Somewhat of a detachment from Emotions. That is, not so Emotionally reactive.
- A more developed and proportional gender expression which corresponds to the gender of the Physical Body.

- Any homosexual tendencies diminish as the Psyche develops and the strong Emotional Body is counterposed with a gender expression that correlates with the Physical Body.

- A more developed personality, but still not whole.

- Greater tendency to be Self-Reflective.

- More cognisant of personal behaviour and the effects and consequences of behaviour.

As Awareness transitions through the gateways between these bodies, One may or may not even be mindful of the transitions, since the capacity to recognise these has yet to properly develop. An Awareness limited to these levels is tuned to perceive more dense, low frequency experiences.

The main Understanding to gain from this verse is that wherever on the Human Consciousness spectrum One finds their Awareness currently situated, remember to engage and explore. Explore every corner, explore every aspect, explore every dead end. But when Awareness is compelled to move on, allow it to do so. Know that turmoil will come as Awareness shifts and it is helpful to not be too resistant to the impending change.

A verse that outlines these types of transitions is, Real Change.

Allow the Inner Turmoil.

Another important consideration is that One not let themself be too attached to behaviour or defined by behaviour, because what is mostly being describe here, is only behaviour. Endeavouring to find the Source and not stopping until it has been reached, is what all this is really about.

Currently, the vast majority of Individuals in this world express an Awareness that sits within the Psycho-Biological range and the majority of those are within the realm of the Emotional Body. Maybe in the not too distant future, this will shift closer toward Singularity.

To reiterate again, this perspective is for informative purposes only and is not intended to be used as a way to categorise, demean or abuse others.

Those that feel compelled to do so are encouraged to read the verse, The Thug, The Coward.

CALIBRATING FOR TRUTH

As was mentioned in the verse, The Emotional Body, the Human Psycho-Biological Organism is an excellent instrument for the measurement of Honesty and Deception, provided that it is calibrated correctly.

The term "Calibration" is generally used to denote the process of aligning a measuring device against a known, well defined standard.

For example, the "metre" unit of length is currently based on the speed of light in a vacuum as 299,792,458 metres per second. Thus the "metre" is defined by how far light travels in a vacuum in $^{1}/_{299,792,458}$ of a second.

Calibration of the Human Psycho-Biological Organism is achieved in a similar manner. If an instrument is being calibrated for Honesty and Deception then the best and obvious standard for this is Truth, because of the fundamental Nature of Truth, see The Transcendence Of Truth.

For One to be able to accurately determine the varying levels of Honesty and Deception in the world around them, One must first calibrate themself to the standard of Truth.

So how does One go about accurately calibrating against such a standard?

By clearing Oneself of all Self-deception and Self-delusion, however small.

It is these falsehoods and fallacies that condition the Individual with a distorted standard to measure Honesty and Deception by.

Once all Self-deception and Self-delusion has been resolved and eliminated, the only thing left is Truth. Because there is nothing else, Truth itself cannot be eliminated. Truth may be hidden, it may be obscured, it may be misrepresented, but it can never be destroyed.

It is also valuable to dispense of the notion of "My Truth" and "Your Truth". This is a misguided technique to mischaracterise Truth as a Subjective opinion, a way of justifying Self-deception and Self-delusion. Refer to the verse, Objective Truth.

The primary factors that contribute to Self-deception and Self-delusion are,

- Fear – Truth is too uncomfortable or painful to accept.
- Insecurity – Pandering to One's own insecurities as a way to avoid Inner Conflict.
- Addiction – Physiological dependencies such as substance abuse.
- Biases and Prejudices – An over attachment or obsession with Emotional preferences.
- Belief – Psychological conditioning or programming to fit a certain ideology.

All these elements affect the Individuals ability to have a precise frame of reference for Truth, because they cloud and skew One's perceptions, thus resulting in poor accuracy when it comes to determining levels of Honesty and Deception.

Another related aspect to consider here is; why are political and religious institutions so heavily invested in promoting Hope And Belief?

They perpetuate the idea that "Salvation" is only available through their particular avenue, though they may not express it in this exact manner. But what is not often noticed is, that their avenue is actually a roundabout, in which an Individual can find themself lost, indefinitely.

Below are links to related material. These are short pieces from the Exygen writings. (see Appendix C)

FOUNDATION OF DUALITY

Singularity is "One and Only One", the Source and the Absolute Whole. There is not multiple Singularities, however Singularity has two foundational aspects to it.

1. Singularity is the Origin of the Universe, the Zero Point, the Source and this aspect will be referred to as the Universal Origin and designated by (0). It provides the Context for the Universe. Please refer to the verse, The Meaning Of Context.

2. Singularity is the Whole Universe, which refers to all the things within the Universe and this aspect will be referred to as the Universal Whole and designated by (1). It is the collection of all the Subjects, Fragments or Boundary States which make up the Absolute Whole. Another important thing to Understand here is that the Universe is Infinite because no boundary can be placed around it. Please refer to the verse, The Infinity Of Singularity.

SINGULARITY MODEL
THE CIRCLE

From these two points, Singularity is not only the SOURCE of all things, it IS all things. It is both the Zero (0) and the One (1). It is Everything and it is Nothing, as well as being Infinite. This then, is what sets the foundation of Duality within the Universe.

Also, it is important to Understand that these aspects are Qualitative differences, not Quantitative. This means that they are expressing a different Quality of Singularity, they are not making any Quantity or value statements about Singularity. They are not referring to the numbers 0 and 1.

To help clarify this, the Singularity Model diagram above shows that the origin of the circle cannot be detached from the circle as a whole, otherwise the circle ceases to exist.

The circle is the origin and the origin is the circle. They are simply two aspects of the same thing.

Now, everything within Universe/Singularity is a division of Universe/Singularity, a Fragment of the Universal Whole. Along with that, the process of division creates boundaries and these boundaries are the basis of the Finite Nature of manifest reality. Additionally, being divisions of Singularity, these Fragments will display the same Dualistic characteristics as Singularity itself.

As an aside, the reason that these Fragments are Finite is because Infinity is the True Reality and the Finite is the illusion. Illusions are transitory, illusions have their moment, but eventually, all illusion dissolves back into the Nothingness of the Whole.

Continuing on, each one of these Fragments is a unique, individual piece, there is not two exact same Fragments which occupy the same space and time as one another. In the same way, each piece of a cut cake is a unique and individual piece of cake that cannot co-exist in the same space, at the same time as another piece.

These Fragments within the Universal Whole will be designated by ($\mathbf{f}_x$) or Universal Fragment and when referencing a specific Fragment, the x will be assigned a number such as 1, 2, 3..., as in ($\mathbf{f}_1$), ($\mathbf{f}_2$), ($\mathbf{f}_3$). So in the example of the cake, ($\mathbf{f}_x$) is referencing the pieces of cake, whereas ($\mathbf{f}_1$) references specific piece 1 of the cake.

These terminologies and designations will be used in an upcoming verse and are presented here to provide a foundation on which to build.

SUMMARY

- (0) = Universal Origin, Zero Point, State of Nothingness, Singularity Source, Context.

- (1) = Universal Whole, Infinity, State of Everythingness, Singularity Universe, Subject.

- These are Qualitative aspects of Singularity; they represent the Everything and Nothing of Infinity. They do not represent numerical value; they are not Quantitative like the numbers 0 and 1.

- (0) = (1) = ∞, Since both are referencing Singularity. (∞, Infinity Symbol)

- (f_x) = Universal Fragment, a division or boundary state within the Universe.

- (f_1), (f_2), (f_3), ... = A specific Universal Fragment.

CLARIFICATION

The Fragments discussed here are not disconnected shards of Singularity but are unique individual boundary states that are created by vibrational Energetic patterns. As Energetic frequencies shift and change, so do the boundary conditions and patterns that define these Fragments.

CRASH THE ALGORITHM, PART ONE

All Algorithms/Programs, when presented with an Input, must express an Output. They have no choice in the matter, it is simply a part of their Nature. They are so bound by this rule that if an Input is received which the Algorithm is not set up to cope with, then that Input will crash the Algorithm itself.

A classic example of this, in fields like mathematics and computer science, is Division by Zero.

Division by Zero is a situation where an equation results in a number, any number, being divided by zero. This leads to an Output that mathematical equations and computer programs do not like very much and that Output is, "Undefined".

This means that the equation or program has no idea about what to do with the particular Input, it has no notion of how to express an Output. So, if certain steps are not taken to deal with this type of situation, the outcome ends up crashing the particular equation or program.

This is the equivalent of a stalemate or an impasse, which has previously been mentioned in the verse, The Conflict. Nature cannot allow these situations to linger unresolved, so it will ensure that a feasible solution is made available, or a crash will result.

Yet why is this the case? Why is something like the Division by Zero so problematic for an Algorithm?

The verse, Division By (0), A Conceptual Exercise, explores a modified version of Division by Zero to help shed light on this.

But the basis of this dilemma is Self-Referencing.

SELF-REFERENCING

Self-Referencing is when an Algorithm is tasked with referencing itself to come up with a Solution to a Question. To demonstrate this, two comparative examples are shown in the table below.

EXAMPLE A	EXAMPLE B
Not Self-Referencing Valid Algorithm	Self-Referencing Invalid Algorithm
a = 1 b = 2 c = ?	a = 1 b = 2 c = ?
Procedure (Add) begin c = a + b end	Procedure (Add) begin c = Add + b end
c = 3	c = ?

Example A shows a simple procedure to add two variables together and this procedure is called Add. The procedure begins and asks the Question,

"What is the result of adding the variables, a and b?"

Well, with a and b being assigned the numbers 1 and 2 respectively, the answer logically is 3. So the Algorithm assigns the Output variable c, with the value of 3 and then ends.

It can be considered that the procedure Add has the value of 3 at this instance.

This is a valid Algorithm because it is able to produce an outcome that is logical, based on the Question that is being asked.

Example B shows a procedure to add two variables together, but one of those variables is the procedure called Add itself. Therefore, the Question that this procedure is asking is,

"What is the result of adding myself to b?"

The variable b is assigned the value of 2 but the procedure Add has not been assigned any value, with its task being achievable only when all the Input variables are independent of it.

The Algorithm is stuck because it does not Know what value it itself is, given that it has not determined its own value yet.

It is referencing itself without Knowing itself and it can never Know itself because it can never reference itself.

This is an example of a Question that requires the Answer to the Question as an Input to the Question to be able to Answer the Question. It is Infinitely Self-Referencing.

This Algorithm tends toward Infinity and that is what Crashes the Algorithm. Algorithms cannot handle Infinity, because Infinity freaks them out.

BOUNDARY CONDITIONS

Essentially, there is an invalid boundary condition to the Question that Example B is asking. All Questions require sufficient and appropriately valid boundary conditions within them, if they are to be Answered.

Questions with valid boundary conditions are generally of the form, "Who…?", "What…?", "How…?", "Why…?".

But even though the Question Example B is asking does contain a "What…?", it is invalid because the "What…?" is leading to a Self-Referencing situation, so it actually has insufficient valid boundary conditions.

A Question without valid boundary conditions or no boundary conditions, is just the Question Mark (?). Everything and Nothing is being asked all at once.

This type of Question is impossible for an Algorithm, Algorithms can only work within Finite spaces. They must be constrained to these Finite spaces by boundary conditions, or else they fail.

Infinity is a state in which no Questions are possible, because no boundaries exist.

One way to observe this phenomenon in the physical world is by having two mirrors face one another. The reflection that is observed within both of them goes on repeating forever. The reflections are Infinite, because the reflections are Self-Referencing.

An Algorithm cannot Self-Reference, it cannot Self-Reflect. But Understanding requires Self-Reflection and that is why an Algorithm can never Understand.

Consciousness has no problem with this, because Consciousness Transcends the Algorithm.

Consciousness is the Observer and the Observed, it is Self-Reflecting and Self-Reflection.

This is Understanding. This is Knowing.

CLARIFICATIONS

The two mirrors facing one another will bring up important Questions.

"How can this occur if Nature is an Algorithm?"

And,

"This is a Natural phenomenon, so how does it not crash the Algorithm?"

As was stated above, an Algorithm will crash if it is not set up to cope with an Input that may crash it.

Nature is setup to cope with this Input.

The effect that is observed in this situation is the equivalent to an escape routine, built into the Algorithm. It is there to prevent a crash, as it gives a glimpse into the True Nature of Consciousness.

It is an example of a visible, manifest Transcendence of the Algorithm.

***

An Algorithm itself does not actually recognise a Question at all. An Algorithm only sees and executes a process.

It is Consciousness that recognises the question as a Question and the answer as an Answer.

In the context of Creation, Nature is the Algorithm and Life Force/Consciousness or Energy Flow executes and animates the process.

CRASH THE ALGORITHM, PART TWO

All Human experiences are Inputs into the Algorithm of the Human Psyche and like all Algorithms, it must produce an Output of some sort or a crash will result.

These Outputs generally take the form of,

- Actions taken.
- Understanding gained.
- Creative inspirations.
- Acknowledging the Input.
- Remembering an Input.
- Mental Chatter.
- Dreaming.
- Emotional Expression.
- Physiological Response.

The above list is intended to convey the idea of what these Outputs are like and is not claiming to be all inclusive.

Pleasant or even moderately uncomfortable experiences are fairly straight forward for the Psyche and it has little issue in processing them in a conventional manner.

Traumatic Human experiences however, maybe more difficult to process and this is completely dependent on the robustness and resilience of the Individual Psyche in question. It would be extremely problematic and unsustainable if the Human Psyche crashed every time a traumatic event was experienced. This would leave the Human Psycho-Biological Organism in a dysfunctional state, unable to operate in any meaningful capacity.

So, there would need to be some sort of safeguard in place to avoid a total breakdown of the Psychological Body, if and when a severely traumatic event or situation is experienced.

Well, that safeguard is, Psychological Compartmentalisation.

This is a systematic process which psychologically quarantines the problematic experience. With the expectation that at some point in the future the Psyche will develop to a sufficient enough degree, that it can then process and resolve the core Conflict that the traumatic experience incited.

Experiencing a relatively small number of traumatic events in a lifetime is possibly not a significant issue and most Individuals currently living many not experience any events traumatic enough to cause the involuntary compartmentalisation of those experiences.

But when One considers the possibility that all Inner Conflicts must be resolved, as a mandatory prerequisite of the overriding Natural Algorithm, then it may be worthwhile to contemplate the following Questions,

*

"What happens to these unresolved Inner Conflicts if they are never resolved?"

*

"What if past generations experienced such extreme and traumatic events on a global scale, that they have been long forgotten and deeply compartmentalised within the Human Psyche?"

*

"What if multiple such events occurred over the course of Human history, even beyond what is currently recorded,
or even known?"

*

"What if this compartmentalisation then drives Psychological behaviour to avoid exposing these experiences, as a way of preventing complete Psychological shut-down.

But this inadvertently creates the situation that more and more compartmentalisation occurs, due to the slow breakdown of the Psyche?"

*

"What if this unresolved trauma is passed on from generation to generation through the reproductive process, because all Conflicts must be resolved, at some point?"

*

"What if reproduction is not just a reproduction of the Physical Body but also, the Emotional and Psychological bodies, flaws and all?"

*

"What if there is a limit to the amount of trauma that the Human Psycho-Biological Organism can store, before another safety mechanism is activated, that sees the flow of these traumatic experiences reverse and begin to be outwardly expressed?"

*

"What happens when this reversal takes place within an Individual?"

*

"Could there be a point in time, within the span of Human existence, that this begins to occur to a large portion of the Human population?"

*

"What if that time is now?"

*

"Would it not take some of the most Experienced, Robust and Resilient Souls in the entire Universe to ride out this unprecedented storm?"

*

"Can One even imagine what kind of experience that would be?"

*

"Can One even imagine the Humanity that would emerge from such an experience?"

*

"Are You up for it?"

The Psychological/Emotional Intensity that is felt when dealing with the consequences of ancestrally repressed trauma, or legacy trauma, is the equivalent of a Division by Zero. Intense traumatic experiences essentially present a Division by Zero scenario.

If the Psycho-Biological Organism cannot process the situation being presented, it will compartmentalise it. Ideally, Awareness is brought to the matter and the Intensity allowed to peak, until the Inner Conflict resolves itself.

"But why would this Inner Conflict resolve itself?"

Because Nature cannot allow a stalemate, it cannot allow an impasse, so a viable Solution will be provided, so long as the Intensity is allowed to climax and is not hindered in any way.

The Solution may be a new Understanding, a new insight, a new door opening; releasing old habits, old fears, outdated situations. Any or all of these and more. But most importantly, it is a shift in Awareness, an adaptation to a higher Energy state.

Upon a successful resolution, a revitalisation and rejuvenation is felt, with some time for respite to rest and recuperate. But the process is not complete and it will continue in a very methodical manner, with the Intensity increasing as the capacity for greater Intensity improves.

Trying to subdue, dissipate or somehow eliminate the Intensity of unresolved Inner Conflict may result in violent or destructive behaviour to Oneself or Others. It is of great importance to bring and maintain Awareness in these situations to minimise destructive behaviour.

The early stages of this process can be most challenging, as One learns and develops the ability, capacity and Understanding of how to successfully attain a real resolution.

Self-Reflection is absolutely key here. Self-Reflection is exercising Awareness, encouraging it to penetrate deeper and deeper into a wholly Conscious state.

This is not a short-lived process.

It will take a number of years to fully resolve itself. The Intensity levels will fluctuate in a wave like manner. It will seem as if each apparent disaster is simply followed by another, in a never-ending stream.

Hold Strong.

Meaningful outcomes,
Flower from the Greatest Adversity.

If One is to remember anything going into a time of such upheaval, then remember the statement that appears at the bottom of almost every verse, including this one.

DIVISION BY (0), A CONCEPTUAL EXERCISE

DISCLAIMER

When discussing the Transcendence of the Algorithm, any strict logical and rational approaches begin to break down very quickly, as these are the domain of the Algorithm. They are helpful in exploring within the Algorithm, but are next to useless beyond it. That is why this is referred to as a "Conceptual Exercise", it is not a mathematical proof of anything.

FOUNDATION SUMMARY

The following is a summary of the information introduced in the verse, Foundation Of Duality.

SINGULARITY MODEL
THE CIRCLE

- (0) = Universal Origin, Zero Point, State of Nothingness, Singularity Source, Context.

- (1) = Universal Whole, Infinity, State of Everythingness, Singularity Universe, Subject.

- These are Qualitative aspects of Singularity; they represent the Everything and Nothing of Infinity. They do not represent numerical value; they are not Quantitative like the numbers 0 and 1.

- $(\mathbf{0}) = (\mathbf{1}) = \infty$, Since both are referencing Singularity. (∞, Infinity Symbol)

- $(\mathbf{f}_x)$ = Universal Fragment, a division or boundary state within the Universe.

- $(\mathbf{f}_1)$, $(\mathbf{f}_2)$, $(\mathbf{f}_3)$, ... = A specific Universal Fragment.

DIVISION BY (0), A GENERAL APPROACH

Division by $(\mathbf{0})$ in this case, means dividing some fragment of the Universe, $(\mathbf{f}_x)$, by the Origin of the Universe, $(\mathbf{0})$, which is also the Whole of the Universe, $(\mathbf{1})$.

So, the Question that Division by $(\mathbf{0})$ is effectively asking is,

"How many times does the Universal Whole fit within a particular Universal Fragment, of which the particular Universal Fragment is a part of?"

Or put more simply,

"How many times does the entire Universe fit within a particular grain of sand, of which the particular grain of sand is a part of?"

Now, on the surface it may seem obvious that the Universe cannot fit within the grain of sand. Although it could be said that a fraction of the Universe can fit and that fraction is the grain of sand itself, but this is not the primary issue here.

The issue that arises comes from the fact that this is a Self-Referencing Question, because Singularity implies "One and Only One", there is no Other, there is not multiple Universes or Infinities. So how can a fragment of the Absolute Whole, be divided by the Absolute Whole, of which it is a fragment?

Again, put simply, the individual grain of sand is a part of the Universe, so how can the Universe fit within the individual grain of sand, of which the individual grain of sand is a part of?

This leads to the Self-Referencing nature of the Question; it is Infinitely Self-Reflecting. Because if the grain of sand is being divided by the Universe at one level of reality then it is simultaneously being divided by the Universe at all levels of reality.

DIVISION BY (0), A SOMEWHAT TECHNICAL APPROACH

Division by Zero generally takes the form of,

$$\frac{x}{0}$$

This implies any number, x, divided by zero. All numbers exist within the numerical universe of Infinity, so are therefore divisions or fragments of Infinity.

However, in the case of this conceptual exercise, a Universal Fragment, ($\mathbf{f}_x$), is being divided by the Universal Origin, (0), so rewriting the general Division by Zero equation using the above terminology we get,

$$\frac{(\mathrm{f}_x)}{(\mathbf{0})} \; or \; \frac{(\mathrm{f}_x)}{(\mathbf{1})}$$

Which means that a fragment of the Universe is divided by the Origin of the Universe, which is also the Whole Universe, because both are the same thing.

Now, if we are talking about a specific fragment of the Universe, ($\mathbf{f}_1$), then the equation looks like,

$$\frac{(\mathrm{f}_1)}{(\mathbf{0})} \; or \; \frac{(\mathrm{f}_1)}{(\mathbf{1})}$$

The problem that comes about for resolving this equation is that Universal Fragment 1, ($\mathbf{f}_1$), exists within the Universal Whole, (1). So how then is Universal Fragment 1, ($\mathbf{f}_1$), able to be divided by the Universal Whole, (1), of which it is a part?

Since (f_1) is a unique individual Fragment within the Universal Whole, (1), trying to divided it by the Universal Whole at one level of the equation means that it is concurrently being divided by the Universal Whole at the next level. Then, if it is being divided at the next level, it is also being divided at the level below that. In fact, it is being simultaneously divided at every level below and above the original level, wherever that is, all the way to Infinity.

SIMULTANEOUS DIVISION INFINITELY SELF-REFLECTING

The Universal Whole, (1), is referencing an aspect of itself in the form of Universal Fragment 1, (f_1). This is the Self-Referencing nature of the equation, it is Infinitely Self-Reflecting, above and below.

This is why Algorithms cannot cope with this type of equation, because they always tend toward Infinity.

A DISCUSSION ABOUT MODELS

All models are essentially an analogy. They represent the actual item or subject of that analogy in a form that is intended to define and describe its nature, not to replicate its reality.

They are a simplified conceptual device for describing isolated aspects of reality. They can never represent the 100% True Nature of a situation, because the True Nature of a situation is tied into the complex web of all of Creation and no model can replicate all of Creation.

By isolating an aspect of Creation, many of the interconnections and their influences are missed. But the isolation is necessary, because otherwise the underlying complexity would be too overwhelming to be able to develop a meaningful Understanding from.

As is often the case, some models are more valuable than others and their value is determined by how well they describe and represent the system that is being explored.

The best models will be based on a deep foundational Understanding, upon which further complexity of the system can then be built.

Whereas, models that are built on poor foundations will not be able to support any complexity built on top of them. They will require constant reinforcing and bolstering, which results in them being turned into a contorted mess just to be able to support a simple facade of understanding.

THE DIRECTION OF RESOLVING CONFLICT

The direction of Conflict resolution is incredibly important in the process of establishing Clarity and exercising Awareness toward full Conscious expression.

If One's sole objective is to either avoid Conflict or only resolve Outer Conflicts, then a never-ending quest is undertaken, as Conflicts are expressed from an Inner source and projected Outward, forever Diverging.

But if the primary direction of resolution is turned Inward, then the Conflicts are Converging and an eventual full resolution is possible.

The associated image of the Human Being Model will be used to demonstrate this point.

HUMAN BEING MODEL
CONCENTRIC RINGS

OUTER CONFLICT

From the Unresolved Conflicts image shown opposite, the web type overlay represents the labyrinth of interconnected Conflicts projecting from near the Source.

If One is to fixate on only resolving Outer Conflicts, then it can be seen that there is never an end to the Conflicts that require resolution, because the Conflicts are in a Diverging trajectory.

Meaning, that the further One moves away from the source of the Conflicts, the more Conflicts there are and the more that will be created.

INNER CONFLICT

However, if the primary direction of Conflict resolution is turned Inward, then the Conflict paths are Convergent and ultimately lead to the state of Singularity upon resolution.

Attaining this state does not mean that all Conflicts everywhere are resolved forever. It simply means that the Conflicts are now observed from the perspective of Singularity, rather than the perspective of One whose Awareness is lost in the endless maze of never-ending Conflicts.

This is a condition which is detached from the ever-present, Conflicting Nature of the Universe, by virtue of the Clarity that is offered from this vantage point.

One's True Self, One's True Expression, is buried under a Mountain of Inner Conflict.

Awareness is always Outward facing, but the movement of Awareness is ideally Inward. One way to express what is meant by this statement is with the following example.

If One were to stand closely facing a wall within a room, then all that could be seen in this circumstance, would be the wall directly in front. This is assuming that One is not able to turn their head nor body in any way.

One is unlikely to be Aware of what is behind them and the only way to become Aware would be to begin moving backward. So that what was behind, then appears in front, purely by the change in perspective from the backward movement.

This is how Awareness moves deeper within Consciousness. Awareness itself cannot turn around to see what is behind it, but it can progress deeper. Its viewpoint can transition, so what was behind, then appears in front and subsequently, new Understanding is gained from this shift in Context.

To further demonstrate this concept, consider the scenario where One is lying face up on the surface of a deep body of water. Perception of what may be below is difficult from such a position. But as One sinks lower and lower into this body of water, what was below would soon be above, with Awareness deepening all the way to the bottom.

To add a little more complexity to this situation, it is not Awareness moving under its own volition that creates the movement deeper toward the Source, but the resolution of Inner Conflict behind it that leaves a vacuum and that vacuum draws Awareness deeper.

It is the process of Psychological/Emotional compartmentalisation/repression that pushes Awareness further and further out toward the surface of Human experience. So once it reaches the boundary limit and the underlying pressures force a change, the only options available would be to attempt to destroy Awareness itself, or begin the long and arduous journey back to the Source.

With Awareness at such shallow levels, the underlying Energy Node Points and associated Bodies atrophy, due to the lack of Energy flow through them. This then severely diminishes signalling to and from the Source, thus seriously inhibiting Human function and life experience.

Often, the barrier to resolving Conflict is not the Answers One seeks, but the Questions One asks.

THE HUMAN CONSCIOUSNESS MODEL

The purpose of this model is to illustrate the associations and interactions between some of the more prominent aspects that make up Human Consciousness. It has been developed to fit around a Spinning Top figure, which provides the most suitable form and symmetry to define and describe these relationships.

In terms of value, this model simply offers a visual representation of the processes that exist in developing deeper levels of Awareness. It makes no claims other than that and it should not be considered of any greater value than that.

For a brief discussion on the usefulness and validity of models please refer to the verse, A Discussion About Models.

MODEL COMPOSITION

HUMAN CONSCIOUSNESS MODEL
SPINNING TOP

First off, the Spinning Top Model is made up of layers which correspond to the anatomic layers of the Human Being, as described in the verse, Anatomy Of The Human Being.

The associated image above shows the structure and arrangement of these layers, with the Physical Body being represented by the Outer most ring and the Vertical axis representing Singularity. While the other Bodies and Consciousness layers are proportionately arranged in between.

The fully formed model as presented in the above image describes an Individual whose Awareness has reach the state of Singularity, as the Spinning Top figure is shown to be complete and balanced.

Whereas, an Awareness level that has yet to reach this point, will be represented by an incomplete disk that is disconnected from the central axis.

ASPECTS OF THE MODEL

A list of key aspects of Human Consciousness are presented below, with their depictions on the Spinning Top Model being shown in the corresponding image.

- Awareness – Outward looking Inner face. It can also be considered a permeable membrane.

- Understanding – Both side faces of the Knowing volume. This references the capacity to Understand Truth, it does not mean "understanding everything". Dualistic in Nature.

- Clarity – The Angular Sweep of the two faces of Understanding about the Singularity axis.

- Knowing – The volume created by Awareness and Understanding. This references the capacity to Know Truth, it does not mean "knowing everything".

- Singularity – Vertical axis. Singularity is actually just the Origin Point, but as it expresses, the Dualistic framework is formed. Upward from the Horizontal plane is Positive. Downward from the Horizontal plane is Negative.

- Separation from Singularity – Horizontal axis. This is the separation of Awareness from Singularity.

- Space/Time Arena – Horizontal plane.

- Sub-Awareness – Phantom Zone or Shadow Self. Generally referred to as the "sub-conscious", but this term is inaccurate.

- Energy Flow – Corresponds to the Vertical height of the Knowing volume. Dualistic in Nature, symmetrical about the Horizontal mid-plane.

HUMAN CONSCIOUSNESS MODEL
DEFINITIONS & DESCRIPTIONS

HOW THE MODEL WORKS

1. The Awareness plane or membrane is somewhat permeable, so the Inner Conflicts that make up Sub-Awareness or the Phantom Zone will infuse through into the Awareness membrane. Especially as more and more pressure builds within the Sub-Awareness volume.

2. As these Inner Conflicts are presented to Awareness via this permeation process and are dealt with in a manner that resolves those Conflicts, see the verse The Creative Solution Explored, the resolutions that manifest themselves culminate in greater Understanding. This Understanding then transitions into and increases the Knowing volume. In doing so, the Awareness face moves deeper, filling the void left behind it by the resolved Conflict. While the Understanding faces symmetrically sweep further around the Singularity axis, thus increasing Clarity.

3. These changes cause both the Awareness face and the Understanding faces to increase in surface area, at least at the initial levels of the model. The Awareness face begins to decrease in surface area as that face progresses through the steeper portions of the Spinning Top form. This demonstrates the initial broadening of Awareness at the early stages, followed by a greater potency to Awareness as it approaches Singularity and becomes anchored in the moment.

4. The rise in Vertical height of the Knowing volume equates to an increase in Energy Flow, with the Vertical change being symmetrical in both directions about the mid-plane. This symmetrical growth is similar to the way a tree needs to develop deep roots to be able to grow tall.

5. These transitions all move into the space referred to as the Phantom Zone or the Sub-Awareness.

6. If this process is allowed to continue, the Awareness face will journey through all the Bodies and states of Consciousness and culminate in a merger with the Singularity axis.

MODEL TRANSITIONS

Progression and development of the Spinning Top Model, as Awareness transitions toward Singularity, is laid out in the above image and a description for this process is as follows,

1. No Awareness – At the absolute edge of the Outer ring is the state of No Awareness. Here there is no Awareness, no Understanding, no Clarity, no Knowing and there is no Energy Flow. Here, there is Nothing.

2. Physical Body – Expression of the Physical Body gives birth to some level of Awareness, Understanding, Clarity, Knowing and Energy Flow. Energy Flow increases moderately for a given movement of Awareness toward the centre, as demonstrated by the shallow slope of the Spinning Top form in this region.

3. Emotional Body – As the Awareness face moves deeper there is progression into the Emotional Body, this comes with a greater spread in Understanding and Clarity, thus an increase in Knowing.

4. Psychological Body – At the Psychological Body stage there is a further increase in all the correlating aspects, as Awareness proceeds closer to Singularity.

5. Heart Centre – This area sees a significant increase in Energy Flow for a given transition of Awareness toward the centre. The experience of greater Intensity when resistance from Conflicts eventuates, is the by-product.

6. Soul Consciousness – The steepness and height of the Spinning Top form in this vicinity indicates the drastic increase in Energy Flow for a relatively small shift in Awareness. As a result, very high levels of Intensity are experienced when engaging Inner Conflicts through this area.

7. Universal Consciousness – Break through. At this point, Energy Flow levels are high but very little to no resistance from Inner Conflicts is encountered, as complete resolution is near.

8. Singularity – Wholeness has been achieved and every aspect of Consciousness asymptotes toward Infinity. With the limiting factor being the Psycho-Biological Organism itself and its capacity to sustain.

An important point to note here is that as Awareness transitions through all the Bodies and states of Consciousness, each of these expressions are not full developed until Awareness completes its progress to Singularity itself.

Transitions of Awareness from a Body or state of Consciousness occur when the preceding levels develop to the point of being able to support the next level above. The foundation simply needs to be sufficiently suitable; a base threshold need only be met.

To emphasise again, full expression and development of all the Bodies and states of Consciousness is not experienced until Singularity is reached.

PERSPECTIVES ON TRUTH

The verse, Calibrating For Truth, discusses the notion of "My Truth" and "Your Truth" as being misguided and delusional and although this point still stands, there are different perspectives to Truth that are valid.

These perspectives, at first glance, may seem unrelated and even quite contradictory, but upon further and deeper investigation, an underlying commonality may be found.

If One is to consider the situation where two Individuals are placed at two different locations around a large architectural structure, such as a building, then asked to draw what they see before them. It is very likely that both Individuals would draw a very different image from one another, even if it is assumed that what they draw is an accurate representation of what they see.

They may then convene to compare what they have drawn and be surprised at how different each image is, given that they are made aware that both images represent the same structure or are parts of the same structure.

It is also possible that neither Understand what they themselves have drawn until they are free to explore the entire structure, so as to observe the proper Context, of not only their own image, but also the image drawn by the Other.

Although each of their perspectives is unique at the Time and Space that the images are drawn, the actual structure they draw is Objective and both perspectives are shown to be valid once the overall Context of the Objective structure is Understood.

SPECTRUM OF AWARENESS

The term "Awareness" has been used extensively in previous verses, but what is meant by this and how does it differ from "Consciousness"?

Well, Awareness in this physical reality spans the spectrum from Death to full Consciousness. With Death implying no Awareness, while full Consciousness indicates an unobstructed connection to Singularity, because full Consciousness is Singularity.

It is important to note that full Consciousness in this context, refers to the Human Psycho-Biological Organism's maximum Consciousness capacity.

The Physical Body being awake and not sleeping does not equate to a fully Conscious state.

Also, Consciousness is not the thoughts that One has, Consciousness is the Observer of those thoughts.

If Consciousness is equated to the Source of all water everywhere, then the spectrum of Awareness is the drop, the puddle, the pond, the lake, the sea, the ocean. These are all fractal states of water and similarly of Awareness.

Each drop of water, is water, it is complete, there is nothing missing. Substantively there is no difference between one drop of water or an entire ocean of water.

Awareness stuck within the Algorithm only Understands what that particular level of the Algorithm is capable of allowing it to Understand. Its range and capacity is limited to the drop, the puddle, the pond, the lake, the sea, the ocean.

Awareness that has Ascended to the level of Consciousness, Knows Infinity. It Knows the Source from which all water has come. Its range and capacity is all water, everywhere.

Low level Awareness is the equivalent of standing on a shoreline and getting One's feet wet, then becoming hysterical over the "Intensity" of the experience.

High level Awareness is swimming out into the deepest part of the ocean, during the most extreme and vicious storm, whilst being calm and at ease in this exceedingly difficult situation.

Consciousness however, is not only the swimmer in this plight, but it is also the ocean and storm in which all this takes place.

Consciousness is the Silence in which the Music is played.

It is the Stillness, from which the Breath is drawn.

With Consciousness, no Boundaries exist, no Questions are possible, all those have been left behind and only Silence, Stillness remain.

Awareness is the personal perspective, a fractal aspect of Consciousness. Just like Light is Light, whether the Light is coming from a candle or the Sun. It is only a matter of scale and Intensity.

Additionally, the idea of a "sub-conscious" is inaccurate, because there is no "sub" to Consciousness. Meaning that there is nothing that is beyond or below Consciousness.

There is however "sub-Awareness", a state in which One is unaware of Self and the level of unawareness is dependent on One's capacity to delve deep into the unknown of the Self. Or put another way, One's capacity to Self-Reflect.

Consciousness is not an Expression,
it is the Source of all Expression.

Consciousness is not an Absorption,
it is the Void that welcomes all Responses.

***

THE DEPTH OF SUBSTANCE

When observing the surface of a puddle in comparison to a small patch of ocean,
One may get the impression that they are both, just water.

But they most definitely do not equate to being the same thing.

In other words,

Mimicking qualities superficially,
does not manifest or imply Substance.

MANIPULATE THE ALGORITHM?

"Can the Algorithm be manipulated with Conscious intent?"

The above Question is one that may surface if the previous verses have been sufficiently understood and considering that the Algorithm is a product of Consciousness and the Human Being has the potential to attain a fully Conscious state, it is valid.

But then, the follow up Question that should be asked is,

"Why?"

Why would One wish to manipulate the Algorithm, if One has attained a fully Conscious state?

The desire to manipulate the Algorithm implies a fear of the Algorithm, or at least a fear of certain outcomes of the Algorithm.

However, all fear is to be drop before One can attain a fully Consciousness state, so the Question is essentially pointless.

Consciousness does not fear the Algorithm, nor any outcome of the Algorithm. The Algorithm is free to do what the Algorithm has been Created to do.

Consciousness simply explores the Infinite possibilities of the Algorithm, discovering the many Extraordinary expressions that the Algorithm manifests.

It is ego that is afraid of the Natural Algorithm and its outcomes.

It is ego that desires to control and manipulate the Algorithm because of its fears, doubts and insecurities.

Ego is the false Self, the illusion of Self.

Ego is the outcome of chronic legacy trauma. Refer to the verse, Crash The Algorithm, Part Two.

Essentially, ego is fear.

Intelligence built on a solid foundation of Wisdom, can achieve the Extraordinary.

Intelligence absent of any Wisdom, is simply cunning, deceitful and manipulative.

If One still feels unsatisfied with this particular response, then the only other option available is, to come and find out.

THE ANTI-AUTHORITARIAN PARTY

(Satire)

We interrupt the regular scheduled programming to bring you this political message.

The Anti-Authoritarian Party (A.A.P.) of <insert country name here> exists for the sole purpose of making ourselves extinct, with the intent of never being resurrected again. Ever!

The way we would like to achieve this goal is by gaining public support, through the ballot box, to deconstruct the authoritarian systems that have infested our great country like a cancer and disguised themselves as Freedom and Liberty, by incessantly using words like "Safety", "Security" and "Democracy" whenever describing these same oppressive policies and systems.

We see that the time of centralized authoritarian political power structures is fast coming to an end and that ending can either be chaotic and destructive to Humanity or it can be achieved in a controlled, peaceful and organised manner.

Stupidly, we prefer the controlled, peaceful and organised option.

We wish to dismantle the functions and services that authoritarian political power structures have monopolised for themselves and either abolish them altogether, or pass them on to private individuals and organisations, so they may offer them to the public in the spirit of healthy economic co-operation and competition.

So, what are we up against in our vigilant quest?

INTRODUCING THE COMMI-FASCIST

We would now like to take this opportunity to introduce people to an animal that, over many centuries, has been the source of great turmoil in this world. While at the same time deflecting responsibility for its countless crimes and failures.

We would like to introduce, The Commi-Fascist.

This strange beast may be unfamiliar to most by this particular name, as this creature is extremely schizophrenic by nature and likes to masquerade as a "Communist" or a "Fascist" as if they were two completely separate and different animals. But really, they're not.

The Commi-Fascist likes to pretend that it is the opposite of what it actually is and thus aggressively and sometimes violently, attacks those that most resemble it or try to expose it. So it is best for the untrained not to hold a mirror up to these creatures, as this infuriates them no end. These are such hideous beasts that not even they can stand the sight of their own reflection, without having a violent episode.

The Commi-Fascist's scientific classification is, Politicus Hypocriticus.

Like a chameleon, changing its name to suit its political surroundings is an adaptive measure and the Commi-Fascist has gone by many aliases over the course of Human history. But what it cannot change and what the Commi-Fascist can always reliably be identified by, is its base authoritarian nature.

Over time, the Commi-Fascist has developed a sophisticated hunting style, in which it no longer presents itself in its true form of horns and a pitch-folk. Instead, it has now refined a technique that has it stealthily approach its timid prey, while creating a pretence of caring and only wishing to help and serve its bedazzled victim. But this ruse is maintained only long enough to subdue its target into a sense of false security, until it finally exposes itself with its vicious nature. However, by then, it is often too late to save the helpless and thoroughly dependent vassal.

The Commi-Fascist is a binary pack animal, which means together they play a "Good Cop", "Bad Cop" routine to set the trap for their next, unsuspecting conquest.

One tried and tested game, that delivers a very high success rate, is the "Political Power Spectrum". This is a devious creation which has one end occupied by the "Communists" and the other end by the "Fascists". Then once in position, they proceed to squabble amongst themselves, attempting to herd everyone else into the middle of their quagmire.

But what is not immediately obvious, is that there really is no "middle" in this game and the reason for that, is the fact that these are essentially both the same extremes. There is no real difference between the two of them, even though the game is played as if there were.

Both are authoritarian by nature, so taking a middle position means choosing half of one authoritarian system and half of the other authoritarian system, which in total, still amounts to one full authoritarian system.

And that is their trick!

Even if a different position on this spectrum is taken, the total is still, one full authoritarian system. Whether that is a 25/75 percent mix or a 75/25 percent mix, the total is still, one full authoritarian system.

It's all in the math, people.

It's like having a colour spectrum that is book-ended with two slightly different shades of poo brown. Well, with such a system, every position within that spectrum is going to be a shade of poo brown. Is it not?

This means that you're going to get shafted, while swimming in poo, no matter where you choose to pitch your tent. There is virtually no escaping this playing arena, once it has been entered.

So, here's a tip for young players...

Don't play this game, it's a trap!

JOIN OUR COMMON CAUSE

Now that we have introduced ourselves and what we are up against, we hope that you are encouraged to join us in our valiant endeavours, so we may all see a truly strong, free and prosperous Humanity in our lifetime.

Finally, please take a moment to read what some of our members have to say.

Authoritarians often use victim-hood status as a justification for the oppression of Others.

One cannot have Power over One's own life,
if One is not Responsible for One's own life.

Voting for "Leaders", is Psychological Acquiescence.

It is abdicating responsibility for One's own life, while creating the illusion of power.

Authoritarians will often feign concern and caring for others, when their agenda requires.

But it's surprising the speed at which all that disappears, when the next war needs to be sold.

What right does another person have,
to use a third party, such as government,
to enforce their own values,
beliefs and opinions onto you?

Voting in a "democracy", is doing just that.

If Authoritarians know that there are certain situations where Authoritarian action is acceptable to those they wish to subjugate;

What then is to stop them from actually creating those situations?

When assessing the actions of government,
three things should be considered,

1. Incompetence is a given.
2. Corruption is highly likely.
3. Maliciousness must always be suspected.

Because this is the nature of those that are attracted to Authoritarian positions.

The government is good at one thing.
It knows how to break your legs and then hand you a crutch and say,

"See, if it weren't for the government, you wouldn't be able to walk."

Harry Browne

Multiple extortion-based revenue streams.

All the useful idiots it could ever need

And a herd that believes Government organisation and operation, that has managed to legalise itself.

THE HEART CENTRE

This next series of verses is a continuation of the Anatomy Of The Human Being verses and picks up from where the Human Psycho-Biological Organism series left off, which was the verse Characteristics Of The Three Bodies.

The Heart Centre is unique in the structural makeup of the Human Being, in that it is not one of the Bodies or states of Consciousness, but instead is the interface between the Human Psycho-Biological Organism and Mind/Spirit.

The Heart Centre is the fulcrum, the balance point, between the aspects of Consciousness and the material Bodies through which life is experienced.

Awareness transitions this region relatively quickly, due to the fact that it is essentially a junction point.

Some of the features that characterise experiences beyond this level are,

- There is no specific gender expression at or above/deeper than this level. However, this does not mean that gender is not expressed through the Bodies in the material world, in fact they are even more defined and refined.
- Duality, in general, becomes less and less polarised the higher or deeper Awareness penetrates.
- The Intensity of Psychological and Emotional experiences ramp up.

Upon Awareness's path toward Singularity,
One cannot Imagine what will be Discover.

Because what will be Discover, is far beyond Imagination.

MIND/SPIRIT

Mind/Spirit is the more refined, less dense, high frequency Consciousness aspect of the Human Being, although defining this in a tangible way that is meaningful and satisfying is difficult.

Definitions of material items and concepts are less problematic, as One can associate and correlate these descriptions through both the Physical and Emotional senses.

Definitions involving areas and functions of Consciousness are tricky, since most have yet to develop the level of Awareness and internal sensory infrastructure to be able to recognise what is being referred to in these descriptions, but attempts will be made nonetheless.

Mind/Spirit is made up of,

- Soul Consciousness.
- Universal/Creation Consciousness.
- Source/Singularity/Consciousness.

Transitions through the gateways of these states of Consciousness are met with a very strong sensation, with others having previously referred to this sensation as "Bliss". Bliss is an ecstasy surge that is so potent it reaches the point of being uncomfortable, which may seem an odd thing to state. A crude similarity can be made with being tickled, which in itself is not painful, but it can be uncomfortable.

These ecstasy surges are experienced as Awareness transitions into each of the three Consciousness states of Mind/Spirit, although there is a relatively mild teaser of this within the Heart Centre.

GATEWAY TO THE TRUE INDIVIDUAL

> I will give my Life for you.
>
> But I will not live my Life for you.
> Osho

Those that make it to this point must have a strong sense of Individuality. Hive or herd identity is a state that is more associated with the Human Psycho-Biological Organism, as there is no real sense of Self within that space.

Sparks of Individuality can exist in the shallower expressions, which may lead to deeper discoveries, but for the most part, it takes an intense and sustained Inner upheaval to provide the necessary catalyst for truly deep exploration.

It is also important to remember that Singularity is "One and Only One". A fractured identity needs to be resolved if One is to come even close to this state of Being and a hive or herd identity, in a Human Being, is a fractured identity.

Another aspect that should be noted is that those that lust to rule the herd and those attention seekers within the herd, possess some of the most elevated levels of herd identity of all. Even though, they may present themselves as the strongest, or the smartest, or the most capable.

What they are actually hiding is the fact that they themselves are so insecure in their own Self, they are so insecure about their own Individuality, that they desperately need the reassurance of the herd and they desperately need to control the herd to pander to those insecurities. This level of desperation requires the comfort and obedience of the herd at all times.

These rulers and attention seekers are some of the most insecure and neurotic Individuals of the herd. This then is what makes them some of the most dangerous as well, given that they may go to great lengths to maintain their elevated status within the herd.

A strong Individual requires none of this attention.

A strong Individual is comfortable within themself, regardless of how the herd thinks or feels about them.

A strong Individual does not need approval from the herd to validate their existence.

A strong Individual wishes no harm or ill will toward the herd or any individual member of the herd.

A strong Individual will go about their life, learning and adapting as best they can to the situations that Life creates for them, with little fuss or fanfare.

A strong Individual is not an isolationist! Although they have no issue functioning on their own, if required.

A strong Individual Understands that to live an efficient and prosperous life requires the co-operation of others, preferably other strong Individuals, but any Individual that is prepared to engage in a willing and co-operative exchange is a benefit to all parties.

A strong Individual does their best to not be a burden on others.

A society of strong Individuals engaging freely, respectfully and peacefully, is the base foundation of a strong and solid society.

A society of weak and feeble sheep, destroys itself in only a few short generations.

This is because pandering to the whims of a relatively small number of insanely insecure, neurotic, status seekers is a tremendous drain and burden on the rest.

Additionally, with the other herd members lacking the fortitude to say NO! to these insatiable lunatics, destruction is the only possible outcome.

However, being a black sheep is not the same as being an Individual either. Engaging in activities and holding opinions that are always counter to that of the herd, is still being controlled by the herd. No matter what the herd thinks or does, the black sheep will think and do the opposite. So it really is just a sheep in denial.

Herd identity is also more commonly known as, "The Ego".

Feelings of Powerlessness stem from the ego, because ego is what desires to control and manipulate all it can. Mainly as a way to avoid exploring, engaging and resolving fears and insecurities.

But a truly Powerful Individual, does not feel the need to unduly control or manipulate anything.

Because a truly Powerful Individual, is strong enough to be what they need to be and do what they need to do.

Thus, from that, they let the cards fall where they may.

Ego is a compensation mechanism, which attempts to accommodate for a fragile psyche.

SOUL CONSCIOUSNESS

DISCLAIMER

The information provided in this verse is presented, as is. No proof is given and no logic or reasoning is laid out as validation; primarily because, currently, this is not possible.

One may come to this same perspective and Understanding, or variations of, through the course of their own pursuits, but no one can be made to see, what their eyes are not ready to see.

The best that can be achieved here is that when taken within the full context of the information provided in these writings, it can be seen that it fits with the greater, overall picture that is being painted.

This disclaimer may apply to any number of other verses, but it is particularly applicable here.

THE SOUL, A VERY GENERAL OVERVIEW

The Individual Soul is a fragment of Singularity and like all fragments it is subject to the constantly shifting boundaries within Singularity. This means that it is not Infinite, it is not Eternal, but rather it comes into being, serves its time and purpose, then dissolves back into the Silent Stillness of the Void. Enriching the Whole with all that it has gained through its existence and experiences.

As with all things within Singularity, a Soul is essentially an Algorithm, with its birth and initial development occurring around and on a planetary body. Generally, a planetary body that has the capacity to sustain at least one Sentient life form.

This development is achieved by means of Incarnation through those Sentient life forms and also in Non-Incarnate states around the planetary body itself. Both Incarnate and Non-Incarnate Souls provide a structural and stabilising influence to the energetic forms that support all life on the particular planet in question.

There is also a population ratio that is maintained between Incarnate and Non-Incarnate Souls and the exact proportion is dependent on the health and/or development of the Sentient life form(s) itself.

A degraded or less developed Sentient life form requires a greater number of Non-Incarnate Souls to exist at any given time, relative to the number of Incarnate Souls. This is because of the need for more controlled and structured energy forms to assist in stabilising the overall system, with the Incarnate Souls already having quite a task in maintaining the stability of the physical expression that each manifest through.

The Incarnate/Non-Incarnate sequence resembles the Wake/Sleep patterns of a Human Being, with one life of a Human Being resembling a single Wake/Sleep cycle of the Soul. Also, the length of a Souls life is variable from Soul to Soul, just like there is varying lengths of life between Individual Humans. Some Souls expire young, while others grow and develop through the perceived equivalent of millions of years, if not longer.

As a reflection of Human life, there are many threats to a Souls existence, especially when young. These are mitigated as the Soul develops and strengthens, but are never eliminated.

A Soul is strengthened through incarnations and the greater the adversity that can be overcome in each incarnation, the greater the Understanding and Knowing that is gained and hence the more robust and resilient the Soul becomes.

Once developed to a sufficient capacity, Souls may transition from one planetary body to another and Incarnate on those through the different Sentient life forms found there.

An example of this is Earth. It is predominantly occupied by Souls that are not indigenous. Meaning, that they have come from other places and planetary bodies. However, once a Soul is caught up in Earth's karmic cycle, leaving is not so easy, due to Earth's quarantine status. (Given how volatile and unstable most Individuals can get from relatively minor disruptions, is this any surprise?)

In many ways the Soul behaves like a multifaceted lens for Consciousness with each Soul being a finite fractal expression of Singularity. It is essentially the Whole contained within a fragment of the Whole.

The greater the Understanding achieved in this lifetime, the better the platform for the Soul in subsequent incarnations.

While One is still breathing,
it is not too late.

DEFINITION

Sentience or Sentient Life Form – A biological organism that has the capacity to connect with and incarnate an Individual Soul. This equates to an ability/capacity to Self-Reflect; or stated differently, be Self-Aware of One's Individuality.

The Moment is Truth.
The Moment is Eternal.
The Moment is the Forever Now.

What passes through this Moment

the Forever changing Face that Reflects back

At a moment in time when all Inner Conflicts have been resolved and Self-Reflection is allowed to reach a high level of Intensity, Self-Ignition takes place and Self-Illumination results.

At this point, Awareness has transitioned so close toward Singularity that Inner and Outer cease to exist. To extend the analogy from the verse, The Direction Of Resolving Conflict, Awareness has transitioned so deep into the depths that it has almost reached the bottom and there is virtually nothing left behind it, so everything will appear before it. Everything appears as Outer and in effect, One is turned inside-out.

Some experiences and features of Universal Consciousness are,

- The Void. The Question Mark (?).

- Transcending the Algorithm. Transcendence of Duality.

- Death of the ego. Birthed into Universal Consciousness.

- Extraordinary in its Ordinariness. From this vantage point, the very Ordinary is shown to be the most Extraordinary.

- "So obvious. Why did I not see this before?"

- It is not necessarily what One sees that changes, but how One sees it.

- Awareness is anchored in the moment, Consciously in tune with the Living Universe.

- Mental chatter ceases. (The type and quality of mental chatter is dependent on the current level of Awareness.)

- Definitions become less meaningful due to the diminishing of tangible boundaries.

- One becomes transparent to the effects of life experience and circumstances.

- Total Let Go. Total Relaxation into Being.

- The state from which One truly begins to learn, because the illusion of Self is no longer in the way.

- Plus many others, that One can discover for themself.

BEWARE, THE EXPERT

"The Expert" is One that can be of great value to those that require and rely on the information and understanding that "The Expert" can provide. They themself have most likely investigated and researched the field in which they are proficient for a considerable amount of time and have presumably developed a solid understanding, along with a strong foundation of knowledge, from those endeavours.

However, not all Experts are created equal and not all Experts motivations are always honourable, regardless of any claims made. So, these then are factors which must be taken into consideration whenever evaluating the information and advice from "The Expert".

"The Expert" that functions from a core of integrity and principle will be aware of and acknowledge the limitations of their own understanding. They will offer insights and perspectives with no requirement that others must abide by the information or advice they impart.

Censorship is not something they would endorse either, because allowing the free flow of ideas and opinions helps correct errors and refines understanding. Even absurd and outlandish perspectives should not be suppressed, given that only when expressed openly, does the opportunity arise to show them to be illegitimate.

"The Expert" that may be operating under ulterior motives will often be presented, or present themself, as the "go to authority" in a particular field and that their pronouncements must be followed and adhered to without question.

These are also the type that will eagerly seek censorship of contrary viewpoints, because they are fully aware that they cannot successfully debunk opposing perspectives, due to their information being based on contrivances, not actual facts and reason.

To assume that all Experts are unbiased, facts-based puritans, that can never be unduly coerced or influenced in their opinions, is insanely naive. "The Expert" can be influenced by economic, ideological, corporate and political factors, or their prejudices could simply stem from a base desire for social status.

"The Expert's" area of proficiency can not only be used to clarify understanding in a certain topic, but it can also be used to skew and misdirect any discussion should there be a sinister motivation on their part. Especially when being questioned by those that may not be as well informed on the subject under scrutiny. They are often used to provide the intellectual cover and justification for insane policies or courses of action that political actors may wish to pursue.

When political or corporate players roll out "The Expert", either overtly or covertly, to substantiate their authoritarian positions, alarm bells should sound loudly in all those that may be affected. For "The Expert" is the new battering ram that is used to smash any dissension that may be in the way of an oncoming tyranny.

Good Ideas do not need to be imposed onto Others.

Good Ideas naturally spread themselves.

But the fundamental reason to not just automatically comply with "The Expert", is that "The Expert" could simply be wrong.

If an individual makes a decision based on a lack of understanding and that poor decision has catastrophic consequences, then the outcome would only affect that individual and possibly their family or community, depending on their sphere of influence.

When a small centralized ruling class of a large population makes a decision that turns catastrophic, then the fallout effects the entire population, whether all the members of the population willingly participated or not.

These rulers and their "Experts" will often claim that the issues they are responding to could have drastic effects on the whole population, but quite often these assertions are vastly exaggerated to drum up political support for their authoritarian actions.

The failures of course, are never the fault of the authoritarians, there is always some other group or some other circumstance that is invariably responsible and "The Experts" will be paraded around to attest to this official and "correct" version of events, no matter how absurd.

In the end, false Experts and their authoritarian handlers have the potential to destroy entire societies and often do.

What I do, is for the greater good.

The Tyrant's Mantra

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THE NO RISK FALLACY

Alternatively, The Fallacy of Guaranteed Safety & Security.

Nature's primary role is to devise circumstances and situations that stimulate Awareness, encouraging it to stir, while consequently keeping it fresh and vibrant. Thereby establishing the opportunity for Awareness to engage and resolve Conflicts in a more creative and efficient manner, which in turn allows it to penetrate deeper into Being.

Human Beings in a hunter gatherer setting will be subjected to many natural threats and dangers, to keep Awareness primed and highly tuned. Survival is completely dependent on One's ability to be Aware of their environment and innate capacity to adapt.

Societies that are heavily structured toward eliminating all Risk, will not only fail in that regard, but will create dull, comatose husks that barely function as real Human Beings, due to the lack of meaningful stimuli to arouse and challenge Awareness. But then, maybe that is the point of creating such societies.

However, Nature will not allow this kind of situation to persist indefinitely.

If a society becomes so comfortable and decadent to the point that Awareness is stagnating in a very shallow state of Being, it will conceive the necessary catalysts to re-enliven and re-invigorate Awareness into activity. This means that, if Nature needs to create tyranny to awaken a population out of its lethargic state, then Nature will create tyranny.

In fact, wannabe tyrants are ever-present, they exist to take advantage of lapses in vigilance, even in societies where Awareness is highly advanced. Their role being analogous to the sickness and diseases of the Physical Body.

Sick societies give tyrants the foot hold that they require to potentially destroy societies.

Risk is built into the foundational structure of Life. No authoritarian or their laws are ever going to eliminate Risk, no matter the claims made or guarantees given. Elimination of Risk, even if it is only perceived, leads to apathy, ignorance and arrogance, which then opens the door for tyranny to establish itself.

Just like diseases of the Physical Body, open tyrannies are generally relatively short lived. A serious disease that is not resolved quickly will eventually kill the host. Tyrannies that are not put in check promptly within a society, will ultimately destroy the society. This is because tyranny is based on a fundamental corruption and corruption has the seed of its own destruction built right into it.

Tyranny prefers to operate in the deep, dark shadows for as long as possible.

Because once it is widely exposed,
the light of Awareness shines upon it, which then leaves it extremely vulnerable.

Nature has infinitely more tricks up its sleeve to stimulate Awareness than the ego has workarounds. This ensures that the rot of stagnation does not overcome all of Creation, with Nature's ultimate trump card being death itself.

Levels of Safety and Security are something an Individual decides for themself, possibly in voluntary co-operation and exchange with others. They weigh up all factors that they may be aware of and determine the degree that is adequate for them.

Authoritarian forms of Safety and Security are neither Safe nor Secure. Because authoritarians demand that their mandatory dictates be followed by all. If not, violent retribution will result for those that refuse to comply.

So how then, is this Safe & Secure?

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THE MYTH OF RANDOMNESS

Truly Random events do not exist.

The Sun does not Randomly rise in the North and set in the East, nor does it Randomly disappear during the day and reappear at night.

A cat does not Randomly give birth to a carrot, nor do dogs Randomly sprout from the ground.

An apple tree does not Randomly fruit elephants, nor does a wild flower Randomly grow to the size of a redwood tree.

There is nothing in all of Creation that was ever Random and there is nothing that ever will be.

A seed that falls from a tree does not Randomly end up at a particular place on the ground. The location from which it may eventually sprout is determined by many factors, some of which are,

- Wind.
    - Speed, strength and direction of wind will play a significant part in where a seed ends up.
    - Wind movement through and around surrounding objects and obstructions will also contribute substantially to its final resting place.
- Temperature.
    - Colder temperatures lead to increases in air density, which means the seed experiences a slight increase in resistance to its descent and is therefore affected more by any prevailing air currents.

    - Areas of sun and shadow respectively heat and cool local air pockets and thus influence fluctuations in air movement for the local environment.

- Humidity.

    - Greater humidity also increases air density, which again leads to an increase in resistance for the falling seed.

- Rain.

    - Light rain may make the soil "sticky", hindering the seeds ability to move too far from the place of its initial landing.

    - Heavy rain may cause flooding, which carries the seed far from the tree from which it originally derived.

- Weight.

    - The lighter the seed the more it will be affected by atmospheric conditions, possibly finding itself farther from its place of origin than a seed of greater weight.

- Space and Time.

    - Each seed starts off from its own unique place in the tree and the time of release has its own prevailing conditions, which all contribute to the seeds "Right Time".

    - Space and Time variations can play a significant part in where the seed ends up. The environmental and atmospheric conditions around the particular tree will invariably change from one moment to the next.

All of these Inputs and many, many more are the predetermining factors for the final resting place of the seed. None of these events are Random. All have their own predetermining factors, while all of those also have their own predetermining factors and so on.

Additionally, the seed itself becomes a predetermining factor for other events.

It may sprout and develop into a whole new tree; it may become food for certain animals to consume; it may decompose, feeding micro-organisms and adding fertility to the soil, which then feeds other plants...

If Randomness actually existed, then fields of study like science and mathematics could not. Because what is the point of scientific investigation, if every specific event or action has a Random outcome? It would be impossible to gain any meaningful Understanding of anything.

SO, WHAT IS RANDOMNESS?

Randomness in the context of science and mathematics is a statistical concept. It is used as a simplification tool. It reduces all the unknowns that contribute to a particular outcome into a possibility.

Determining, let alone Understanding, all the variables that contribute to the outcome of a specific event is incomprehensible to current Human Understanding. It is impossible to compute the exact outcomes of Natural events due to the fact that all of Creation would need to be modelled. This requirement comes about because of the fundamental interconnection of all things, the Universal Whole.

Of course, modelling all of Creation is functionally not possible, refer to the verse A Discussion About Models. Additionally, it creates Self-Referencing issues, refer to the verses Crash The Algorithm, Part One and Division By (0), A Conceptual Exercise.

The concept of Randomness leads to the idea of Probability and so, the best that can be achieved when attempting to determine outcomes to events, is Approximations and Probabilities.

As an aside, some may consider mathematics to be the foundation of Creation. This is not the case, mathematics is used to approximate Creation, it is a language that defines and describes. It is not the Source of Creation or Universal Origin itself.

THE RANDOM NUMBER GENERATOR

In mathematics and computer science there is a procedure known as the Random Number Generator.

This is an algorithm and like all algorithms it requires an Input, from which, it produces an Output.

The operations performed on the Input are predetermined, so for a given Input there will always be a specific Output. These operations may become complex enough to give the impression of Randomness, but complexity does not equate to actual Randomness.

The Random Number Generator does not produce authentic Random Numbers, but only simulates the concept of Randomness. It cannot produce true Randomness, because true Randomness is contrary to the very nature of an algorithm.

Essentially, Randomness itself is only a convenient concept used for mathematical purposes.

***

Given that the Human Being is an outcome of Nature and Nature is an algorithm with predetermining Inputs leading to specific Outputs, does then the Human Being really have Free Will?

Or, like Randomness, is "Free Will" simply a convenient concept?

SCIENCE AND THE UNIVERSE

Science is not Truth.

Science is a means by which
Truth may be discovered.

Science is not the foundation of the Universe.

Science is a field of study that explores and examines the Universe as a way for Awareness to gain Understanding. Refer to the verse, The Human Consciousness Model.

The view of Science as being at the heart of the Universe leads to a warped perspective of Science, it creates a worship of Science. It turns Science into a dogmatic religion that must be believed and never questioned, with its practitioners becoming priests; rather than Science being correctly recognised as a potentially valuable tool for the seekers of Truth.

But a tool is only as useful as its foundational creation allows for and its outcomes are dependent on the quality and competence of those that adhere to its strict methodologies.

Misunderstanding this tool will achieve distorted perspectives, which could lead to catastrophic outcomes.

Misuse of this tool, intentionally or not, may have equally disastrous ramifications should the allure and seduction of its potential not be countered by the balancing nature of Wisdom.

If the wielders of Science come to opinions that do not fully align with the True reality of the Universe, then it is not up to the Universe to conform to the Science. Universe cares nothing about these misunderstandings. The Universe will continue on as it is and the abusers of Science will eventually reap the consequences of their ignorance and arrogance.

Science has its limitations, one of which is, that it cannot explore areas where Awareness has not yet reached.

If the Scientific understanding is superficial, then the Scientific solutions offered,
are also superficial.

An example of this is pain killing drugs. Pain killing drugs are based on Scientific understanding, but pain killers do little to resolve the cause of pain. All they do is mask it and possibly add their own unwanted side effects.

A second limitation of Science is, a Scientifically valid solution does not automatically equate to an appropriate solution.

One may treat 100 Individuals suffering from chronic pain with a bullet to the head and claim a 100% success rate in curing these Individuals from pain. Ignoring the mass murder component, this is Scientifically valid. 100% of people treated with this protocol, are no longer experiencing any pain.

Ah! Wonderful Science.

At best, all that Science can really establish, is that Action A will result in Outcome B. It makes no determination on whether Action A is appropriate for a particular situation, or whether Outcome B is appropriate for a particular situation.

One is to determine this for their own specific requirements and circumstance.

Another limitation of Science is that it can only explore the tangible world, the world of the Algorithm, it cannot reach the realm of Consciousness. Its scope is limited to the expressions of Consciousness, because itself is an expression of Consciousness.

For Science to be able to explore Consciousness directly, it would need to exist outside of Consciousness, which is just not possible. Refer to the verses The Infinity Of Singularity and Foundation Of Duality.

The path toward Consciousness runs parallel with Awareness for a time, but the road for Science eventually reaches the Threshold of the Abyss, which it cannot cross and must therefore be left behind, if Awareness is to reunite with its Source.

Real Science Endeavours to Discover and Confirm Truth.

Contrived Science Serves a Political Agenda of Control and Manipulation.

***

Scientific experiments isolate a particular aspect of Creation, to study it and gain Understanding of it. Often, the Subject of that study is taken out of its natural environment so variables can be more easily controlled and their influence more accurately measured.

However, all this does is show how the Subject behaves in this isolated situation, it does not necessarily show how the Subject behaves in its natural environment.

Consider an Individual interacting with a group of their closest friends. Now also consider that same Individual being placed amongst a group of complete strangers. From One's own personal experiences, it can be easily deduced that this Individual will behave differently amongst their friends, than they would amongst strangers.

It is logical to expect that their behaviour will differ. This is natural, different surroundings will evoke different behaviours.

This variation in behaviour holds true for all things.

Scientifically studying Subjects out of Context, will not necessarily give real insight into their true nature.

So, scientists may claim that their theories and experiments are accurate and valid, but are they really?

THE ILLUSION OF GROWTH

Economic growth is a topic that central bank, government and corporate actors salivate over, which is all well and good, provided that the growth is organic and based on real, substantive free market conditions.

But what if the actual growth is not to the liking of these players, yet they wish to present the case that it is? How could they go about creating the illusion of growth if no such growth existed?

What is presented here is not a specific approach that may be taken, but the principle underlying what may be possible.

HOLLOW OUT THE CORE TO MAINTAIN THE FACADE

Consider a solid sphere of say 100 millimetres (4 inches) in diameter, made from a particular substance. For this sphere to be able to grow in size, it would require more of the same material from which it is made to be deposited evenly on to its surface, then as this accumulation continues the greater its mass and diameter would become.

But suppose this material is in short supply or no longer available, how could the sphere then grow?

One may conclude that the sphere could not grow in size, because there is no material available to contribute to its diameter and therefore its mass.

Well, that is somewhat correct, there is no material available to add to its mass but there is material available that could contribute to its overall size.

If the intent is to only make the sphere larger in diameter, then an approach that could be taken to achieve this is to use the material at the core of the sphere and place it evenly onto the surface of the sphere. Thereby increasing its diameter whilst maintaining the same mass. The sphere would not be any heavier than it originally was, only larger.

So, if the purpose is to create the appearance of growth, then all One need do is transfer the mass at the core of the sphere and place it on the surface. Essentially, Hollowing Out the Core to Maintain the Facade; the facade of growth that is.

To the external observer the increase in size is seen as legitimate because the external observer is unable to see the inside of the sphere or feel the weight of the sphere. Either of these occurrences would give the game away.

However, the problem with this approach comes when the wall thickness becomes thinner and thinner the more this ruse is perpetuated. Eventually, the wall thickness becomes so thin that it is no longer be able to support its own weight and at that point the sphere will collapse in on itself, with the hoax then being exposed.

For instance, if One is to consider the above example of the 100 millimetre (4 inch) sphere, the increase in diameter that is possible by hollowing out its core in the manner suggested, is presented in Table 1 below.

WALL THICKNESS (mm)	DIAMETER OF HOLLOW SPHERE	WALL THICKNESS (inches)	DIAMETER OF HOLLOW SPHERE
50	100.0	2.000	4.000
40	100.3	1.750	4.003
30	102.5	1.500	4.022
20	110.6	1.000	4.215

0.10	1291.1	0.008	36.958
0.05	1825.8	0.004	52.260

To be clear, this table presents a condensed number of steps to get to a diameter of 1825.8 millimetres (52.260 inches) and a wall thickness of 0.05 millimetres (0.004 inches) by incrementally removing material from the inside of the sphere and transferring it to the surface. To achieve this in a practical and methodical manner would require thousands upon thousands of iterations. (Refer to the Clarification and Methodology sections at the end of this verse)

What is to be noted with this example is the trend in behaviour, rather than the repetitious detail.

Starting with an original solid sphere diameter of 100 millimetres, it is possible to create a hollow sphere with a diameter of 1825.8 millimetres and a wall thickness of 0.05 millimetres by following the above approach.

Starting with an original solid sphere diameter of 4 inches, it is also possible to create a hollow sphere with a diameter of 52.26 inches and a wall thickness of 1/256 inches by following the above approach.

As a comparison, the image below shows the relative size difference of the original solid sphere and the largest hollow sphere presented in Table 1.

HOLLOW OUT THE CORE TO MAINTAIN THE FACADE
SPHERE COMPARISON

Obviously, the external diameter of the sphere can be made to appear impressively large. But what may not be so apparent at face value, is that the sphere lacks any real substance. All its mass is spread out onto its flimsy skin, resulting in a thin veneer, ready to collapse.

The only question is,

"How long before it collapses?"

In an economic context, what is the primary instrument that is used to Hollow Out the Core to Maintain the Facade?

The Central Bank.

CLARIFICATION

The tables and charts presented in this verse are based on a constant volume, constant density premise. That is, the mass is unchanged as the outer diameter and wall thickness changes. So if the same material is being transferred from the core to the outer surface, then the material volume does not vary.

METHODOLOGY

The process summary for Hollowing the Sphere is as follows;

Iteration 1

Step 1 – Start with a Solid Sphere Diameter.

Step 2 – Determine the Solid Sphere Volume.

Step 3 – Select the Core Diameter.

Step 4 – Calculate the Core Material Volume.

Step 5 – Calculate the Increase in Diameter.

Step 6 – Calculate the Wall Thickness.

Iteration 2

Step 1 – Determine the Diameter for Material Removal.

Step 2 – Calculate the Material Volume for Removal.

Step 3 – Calculate the Increase in Diameter.

Step 4 – Calculate the Wall Thickness.

Iteration 3 and on

Repeat Iteration 2 until the desired number of iterations is reached.

For a more in-depth explanation of the process and calculations that were developed to produce these tables and charts, refer to Appendix B, Hollowing The Sphere Calculations.

Table 2 has been compiled to give an indication of the enormous number of steps required to get to the 0.05 millimetres wall thickness entry in Table 1, using this methodical approach.

ROOM TO BE AFRAID, ROOM TO FAIL

If no space is given for
One to be Afraid or to Fail, then no room is available for Strength, Courage and Resilience to grow.

If young Individuals are sheltered from feeling Afraid or not allowed to Fail in endeavours that they pursue, then the skills and abilities to Overcome cannot be developed. So the resilience to persevere against seemingly insurmountable obstacles can never mature and ripen.

This then eventually culminates into feeble and inept adults, which are easily coerced and manipulated because they quickly capitulate in the face of adversity. Or in some instances, they react violently as a way to mask weakness and feign Strength.

In times when it is almost considered a crime for One to feel Afraid, the prevailing attitude is, that the catalyst which triggers the Fear must be destroyed, even if that catalyst itself had little to do with the underlying cause of Fear.

If One is Afraid, allow for the space to be Afraid.

If One has Failed, allow for the space to reflect on the Failure.

The sense of Fear, in and of itself, has never caused anyone any harm, regardless of the Intensity.

However, reactions to Fear have contributed to death and destruction on a monumental scale.

THE AUTHORITARIAN STATE

The Authoritarian State and its Indoctrination systems do their best to shelter young Individuals from confrontational experiences, so they do not develop essential skills of resilience and thus never learn to truly Overcome. Because if they did, young Individuals may grow up and not require the Authoritarian State at all, owing to the fact that they would no longer be dependent on the Authoritarian State.

The underlying role of the Authoritarian State is not to protect and serve, nor provide safety and security; its real goal is to create Dependency. The more dependent a population is on the Authoritarian State, the greater its Political Power over a subservient population.

The reason why Indoctrination Systems often go out of their way to shield the young from things like "Bullying", is because the Authoritarian State does not want Individuals becoming able and proficient in dealing with the "Bully".

Should Individuals develop capabilities to contend with the minor bullies in their life, they may eventually develop the capacity to resolve the ultimate bully, which is the Authoritarian State itself.

But of course, it is unthinkable to Authoritarians that their precious State could simply disintegrate into dust.

When a Religious system of control then all that can be expected from this,

are empty platitudes about Individuality and Freedom.

Authoritarian Democracy is a poison because it treats Individuals like herd animals that need to be managed and controlled, with citizens being willingly compliant.

Libertarian Democracy encourages Individuality, Self-Expression and Self-Sufficiency, through which growth and greater understanding is gained.

But then, if a Libertarian Democracy actually comes about, what is the purpose of the "Democracy"? In such a society, the "Democracy" is redundant, because these Individuals do not require a centralised political power structure to rule over them.

They do not require "Democracy" at all.

"Democracy" is a pathetic belief

CENTRALIZED POWER

Centralized power/control systems and structures are antithetical to Nature.

Nature diversifies points of failure to ensure that one point of failure does not destroy all of Creation.

Centralized political power structures require enormous amounts of time, energy and resources to maintain because of this. As Nature is always in the process of breaking them down, encouraging a reassessment and restructure.

These systems are highly inefficient because they are so antagonistic to Nature.

The more a system moves in the direction of greater centralization, the greater the forces that will arise to counter the effort and the more inefficient the system becomes.

It's only Natural.

OBJECTIVE TRUTH

One may contend with the prospect that there is no such thing as Objective Truth, and all sorts of arguments can be examined to possibly substantiate the claim.

But then, if there is no such thing as Objective Truth, how can any argument be made denying Objective Truth?

The fact that an argument is being considered at all implies an Objective Truth. Because all arguments are presented to assert an Objective Truth.

That is the purpose of an argument!

To promote the denial of Objective Truth is to claim an Objective Truth, and with that very assertion, the idea is instantly torpedoed. Even before any details are offered.

When presented in the right way,
Truth makes sense.

Whereas, lies have to be believed.

***

REFLECTION OF PERFECTION

A Reflection cannot lie.
A Reflection will only present...

What IS.

Given a flawless reflecting medium

Creation itself cannot be in error, because Creation is simply a Reflection; a Reflection of Singularity.

Singularity cannot be in error, because to judge One as faulty, means that a comparison is being made to Another, that is not.

But Singularity is "One and Only One", there is no Other. So Singularity must be Perfection, because comparison to Another is just not possible.

LIVING PERFECTION

Life, is Dynamic Perfection.
Death, is the idea of a Static alternative.

One will make mistakes, but a mistake does not condemn One to be an imperfect Human Being.

One will be prone to errors, but an error does not denounce One as a faulty Individual.

The Perfect Human Being makes mistakes, is prone to errors; but learns from them, adapts because of them and thus grows from the Understanding, the Knowing that springs forth.

This, is the role of the Human Being!

Imperfect are those that are immobilised at the thought of a mistake, paralysed by the fear of an error.

Likewise, those that continuously repeat the mistake and rerun the error.

Never Discovering what is there to be Discovered.

Never Understanding what is there to be Understood.

Never Knowing what is there to be Known.

Defining Perfection as never making a mistake, is Defining Death.

RECOGNISING PERFECTION

Whether Creation/Life is seen as Perfect or Imperfect, is dependent on any preconceived ideas of what Creation/Life should be.

If One sees a juicer as a pasta machine, they will then consider the juicer an Imperfect pasta machine. This is because they have incorrectly identified what the device is and what the device is used for.

Creation/Life is Perfect, when recognized for what it IS and its actual purpose Understood. This has previously been outlined in the verses, The Fundamental Process Of Nature and Nature, The Algorithm.

***

CHASING PERFECTION

Attempting to attain Perfection is like a dog chasing its tail, because Perfection already IS.

Instead, One is invited to strive for Accuracy and Precision, rather than Perfection.

As Accuracy and Precision will help expose the Perfection,
That IS.

PERCEPTION OF IMPERFECTION

How many more must be sacrificed, just to appease the next, "Saviour of the World"?

When One perceives the world as Imperfect, then One may set out to correct this offence, by requiring all Others to concede, or endure the consequences.

But then, Another sees what has been done and to address this affront, they enforce their own ideology, until conformity is reached, willingly or not.

However, this shall not do, so yet Another will endeavour to bring about "Utopia", because their self-righteousness deems them to be the authority in this regard.

Hence, this process continues, until every lunatic decides, "I Know Best!" and all Others must comply, or face shameful retribution for any display of insolence.

For who would dare question the wisdom of such sages, that atop ornately gilded soapboxes decree, "The World is Wrong!", but accept no responsibility for the chaos and destruction their petulance delivers.

Maybe, the original error was not with the world itself, but with the perception of what the world, should be.

Maybe, it is the perception of error, that needs to be Understood first, rather than belligerently forcing change, to accommodate One's own personal fears and insecurities.

STILLNESS OF THE SPINNING DISC

The verse, Understanding Space/Time, sets up the premise that the centre of a Circle has no Space and therefore experiences no Time. This verse will continue with that assertion by using an example of a spinning disc to reinforce the claim.

***

A rigid disc spinning about its centre is represented in the diagram below.

THE SPINNING DISC
STILLNESS OF THE CENTRE

As this disc rotates from Position 1 to Position 2, it can be observed that the distance travelled along each of the three arcs deceases, the closer the arc is to the centre of rotation.

That is, Arc 3 is shorter than Arc 2 which is shorter than Arc 1. (Arc 3 < Arc 2 < Arc 1)

The time to move from Position 1 to Position 2 is the same for all three arcs, given that the disc is rigid. So what this reduction in length of the three arcs indicates, is that the speed of movement along each arc is also decreasing, the closer the arc is to the centre of rotation.

From this finding, it can be extrapolated that the closer the arc of rotation is to the centre of rotation, the slower the movement along that arc from Position 1 to Position 2.

Extending this reasoning further, when the arc of rotation finally reaches the Absolute Centre of rotation, which is also the centre of the disc, movement ceases altogether.

If considered from the perspective of the points placed at either end of the three arcs, it is apparent that these end points are converging as the arcs get closer to the centre. Then, at the Absolute Centre of rotation, they merge and become one point. Which shows that there is no movement there, because there is no longer any separation between the two points.

This is the case no matter how fast the disc may be spinning.

The Absolute Centre of rotation, Transcends the movement of rotation.

The Absolute Centre of rotation, Transcends Space/Time.

At the Absolute Centre of rotation, there is nothing but Stillness, Silence, Singularity.

CLARIFICATION

It should be noted that the important aspect here is the Centre of Rotation. The centre of the disc is only incidental in this case.

The reason why a disc has been chosen in this example, is that the Centre of Rotation happens to coincide with the centre of the disc, which would also be the centre of mass, if the disc was an actual physical item of uniform density.

Rotation of an object around a point that is not its centre of mass, creates an imbalance which then induces vibration at sufficient speeds.

REPRESENTING THE CIRCLE

The Circle can be used to describe and represent many aspects of Universe/Creation, the most prominent of which are,

- The Circle can represent Singularity.
- The Circle can represent the Universe.
- The Circle can represent the Whole.
- The Circle can represent Duality.
- The Circle can represent Consciousness.
- The Circle can represent the Individual.
- The Circle can represent Time.
- The Circle can represent Infinity.

THE CIRCLE AS SINGULARITY

On its own, the Circle is "One and Only One".

THE CIRCLE AS THE UNIVERSE

The Universe is a self-contained Whole, which the boundary of the Circle represents. But as many other geometric shapes can also be considered self-contained wholes, the Circle possesses a unique quality, since the distance from its centre is equal to all positions along its boundary. The term for this distance is of course, the radius.

Now, if this radius is of Infinite length, then not only is the Circle of Infinite size, but the centre of this Circle can then be placed anywhere within the Circle and still be the centre of this Infinite Circle.

How is this possible?

Because no matter where the centre is positioned, it is always an equal, Infinite distance to the boundary, in this case, no boundary. Which by definition, is a Circle, albeit, an Infinite Circle.

In three-dimensional space, a sphere of Infinite radius describes the same situation.

THE CIRCLE AS THE WHOLE

CIRCLE AS THE WHOLE
PIECES OF THE PIE

The Circle can be divided into pieces, but these pieces together create the whole Circle.

Similar to the way pieces of a pie make up the whole pie. However, each piece of pie is also a self-contained whole.

THE CIRCLE AS DUALITY

As was mentioned in the verse, Foundation Of Duality, the origin of the Circle cannot be detached from the Circle as a whole, otherwise the Circle ceases to exist.

SINGULARITY MODEL
THE CIRCLE

The Circle is the Origin and the Origin is the Circle, they are simply two aspects of the same thing. It is this indivisible relationship that shows the Dualistic nature contained within the Circle itself.

THE CIRCLE AS CONSCIOUSNESS

CONSCIOUSNESS MODEL
SELF-REFLECTING vs SELF-REFECTION

The diagram above represents what the terms Self-Reflecting and Self-Reflection indicate in the context of Consciousness.

Self-Reflecting denotes a reflection expressing from the Source/Centre of the Circle out toward the Boundary.

Self-Reflection illustrates a reflection coming back from the Boundary toward the Source/Centre of the Circle.

In this instance, the Boundary refers to the temporally finite boundary states created by manifest reality.

This process, in a very basic manner, describes the Reflecting nature of Consciousness within itself.

THE CIRCLE AS THE INDIVIDUAL

An individual Circle is "One and Only One", a self-contained whole or an Indivisible Duality. The verse, Dualistic Counterparts, explores this "Interesting Observation".

THE CIRCLE AS TIME

The Centre of the Circle can depict the Moment, while the Boundary of the Circle portrays Eternity.

Thus, the Moment is the source of Eternity, as Eternity is expressed from the Moment and contained within the Circle itself, is all of Time.

THE CIRCLE AS INFINITY

Consider the Circle as a regular polygon with Infinite, equal length line segments. Reducing the resolution of this polygon creates the standard regular polygons, which can then be deemed approximations of the Circle.

A polygon is a closed, two-dimensional shape, bounded by three or more straight line segments.

A regular polygon is a polygon where all the line segments are of equal length and all the internal angles are of equal magnitude, as presented in the diagram below.

REGULAR POLYGONS AND THE CIRCLE

POLYGON CIRCULAR APPROXIMATIONS

Standard regular polygons are shapes such as a Triagon (Equilateral Triangle), Quadragon (Square), Pentagon, Hexagon, Heptagon, Octagon, Nonagon, Decagon.

As the number of line segments is increased, the polygon more closely approximates and resembles the Circle. Increasing the number of line segments to Infinity, then gives the Circle its true form.

At this stage though, these line segments are no longer actual line segments, but instances of Singularity. Because the distance between the two end points of each line segment has been reduced to zero.

So essentially, the Circle can be thought of as an Infinity Polygon or "Infinagon?".

The most fundamental approximation of the Circle as a regular polygon, is the Triagon. This is because three is the minimum number of line segments possible for a polygon.

There are two ways that a regular polygon can approximate a Circle.

1. Inscribed Circle – Where the Circle is tangential to each line segment of the polygon at its midpoint. This has the Circle within the polygon.

2. Circumscribed Circle – Where the Circle intersects each of the vertices of the polygon. This has the polygon within the Circle.

The Triagon, being the most fundamental approximation of the Circle, presents the situation that the size difference between its Inscribed Circle and its Circumscribed Circle is the most extreme out of all the regular polygons. Increasing the number of line segments of the polygon, has the diameter of the two Circles converging closer together.

Then, upon reaching an Infinite number of line segments, the Infinity Polygon, the Inscribed Circle and the Circumscribed Circle all attain the same diameter. All become the same Circle. Could they even be regarded as, a "Wholly Trinity"?

Extending this comparison into three-dimensional space has the Platonic Solids, or more specifically Geodesic Polyhedra and Goldberg Polyhedra, portray the Sphere in a similar way.

POLYGONAL CONVERGENCE

Regular polygons present natural convergences and divergences when coupled with their circumscribed and inscribed circles. This verse will primarily deal with the convergence aspect, as divergence follows a similar template, only in the opposite direction.

Polygonal Convergence is the term that will be used to describe the diminishing pattern that is created when the inscribed circle of a regular polygon becomes the circumscribed circle for the next iteration of the parent polygon.

POLYGONAL CONVERGENCE DIMINISHING PROPORTION

The larger Quadragon in the above diagram is shown with its circumscribed and inscribed circles.

In the Polygonal Convergence process the inscribed circle becomes the circumscribed circle for the next polygon in the sequence and following from that, the next inscribed circle is generated.

A convergence pattern follows a structured reduction progression and each subsequent polygon will be reduced by the same factor from its predecessor. This Polygonal Convergence Factor is unique to each specific regular polygon and can be readily ascertained by following the steps below.

1. Triagon
Polygonal Angle

2. Triagon
Radii Angle Relationship

3. Triagon
Convergence Factor

1. Pentagon
Polygonal Angle

2. Pentagon
Radii Angle Relationship

3. Pentagon
Convergence Factor

POLYGONAL CONVERGENCE FACTOR

CIRCUMSCRIBED vs INSCRIBED CIRCLES

1. POLYGONAL ANGLE

The first item that is to be determined is the Polygonal Angle and this angle is produced by extending two connecting lines from the centre of the polygon to two adjacent vertices.

In the case of the Triagon, the Polygonal Angle is 120° and for the Pentagon it is 72°, as shown in the above diagram.

To determine this angle, simply divide 360° by the number of vertices found on the regular polygon in question.

The reason for this, is that the vertices in a regular polygon are dividing the circle equally. Therefore, the angle formed by two connecting lines from the centre, to two adjacent vertices, will be the Polygonal Angle.

$$Polygonal\ Angle = \frac{360°}{n}$$

Where,
360° = One revolution of a circle.
n = Number of regular polygon vertices.

The number of vertices happens to also correspond with the number of polygon line segments.

2. RADII ANGLE RELATIONSHIP

Next, by extending a line from the centre of the circle/polygon to the intersection point of the inscribed circle and polygon, creates a right-angle triangle. This intersection point coincides with the midpoint of the polygon line segment, since the inscribed circle is tangential to this line segment at its midpoint.

Establishing this right-angle triangle now defines a relationship between the radius of the circumscribed circle and the radius of the inscribed circle, with the angle between the two being half the Polygonal Angle.

3. CONVERGENCE FACTOR

Finally, by using trigonometric relationships, the length of the inscribed circle radius can be resolved. In the case of the Triagon, the trigonometric relationship which determines the inscribed circle radius, x, is,

$$\cos(60°) = \frac{x}{1}$$
$$x = \cos(60°)$$
$$x = 0.5$$

Where,
60° = Half the Polygonal Angle of a Triagon.
x = Inscribed circle radius.
1 = Circumscribed circle radius.

So what this now gives is the Polygonal Convergence Factor for the Triagon, because the original circumscribed circle radius is set to 1.

This means that each subsequent Triagon in a Triagonal Convergence will be reduced in size by a factor of 0.5 from its predecessor.

A generalised representation of this relationship which is applicable to all regular polygons is,

$$x = \cos\left(\frac{360°}{2n}\right)$$
$$x = \cos\left(\frac{180°}{n}\right)$$

Where,
x = Polygonal Convergence Factor.
n = Number of regular polygon vertices.
360°/2, takes into account that half the Polygonal Angle defines this relationship.

The table below shows the Polygonal Angle and Convergence Factors for the first nine regular polygons.

POLYGON	NUMBER OF VERTICES	POLYGONAL ANGLE	CONVERGENCE FACTOR EQUATION	POLYGONAL CONVERGENCE FACTOR
Triagon	3	120°	cos(60°)	0.5
Quadragon	4	90°	cos(45°)	0.7071

CONVERGENCE DENSITY

As has been established in Table 1, these Polygonal Convergence Factors approach 1 as the number of vertices is increased. This then leads to convergence patterns that increase in density with the higher order polygons.

POLYGON SPIRALS

Previously in the verses, Representing The Circle and Polygonal Convergence, the relationship between circles, polygons and convergences was discussed. Delving deeper into the possibilities that materialise out of these associations yields Convergent Polygon Spirals. These types of Spirals are generated by tracking a point on each subsequent propagation of a particular Polygonal Convergence pattern and fitting a smooth curve through them.

Connecting Points
Quadragonal Convergence

Smooth Spiral
Quadragonal Convergence

POLYGON SPIRAL
QUADRAGONAL SPIRAL

For example, the way a Quadragon Spiral is created appears in the diagram above. The Connecting Points image uses straight line segments to show the polygon vertices that are to be connected via the emergent Spiral. The Smooth Spiral image is what arises when a spline curve is fitted to those points.

These connecting points are determined by,

1. Selecting a vertex on the outer most polygon of a convergence pattern.

2. Rotate either clockwise or anti-clockwise around the centre of the circle/polygon, while also transitioning inward to the next polygon in the convergence.

3. Upon rotating an amount that is equivalent to the Polygonal Angle, the next point is located at the vertex of this subsequent polygon.

4. Repeat steps 2 and 3 for however many vertices are to be connected in the developing Polygon Spiral.

SPIRAL DENSITY

Polygonal Convergences with higher order regular polygons produce denser convergence patterns. It follows then, that Spirals generated from these higher order Polygonal Convergences will produce denser Spirals, as is shown to be the case in the Polygon Spiral Density diagram below.

Triagonal
Convergence Spiral

Heptagonal
Convergence Spiral

POLYGON SPIRAL DENSITY
TRIAGON vs HEPTAGON COMPARISON

However, when examining a Heptagonal Convergence Spiral, not only does it display more revolutions than a Triagonal Convergence Spiral, the resultant curve of the Heptagonal Spiral exhibit's gentler transitions through all its connecting vertices.

The Triagonal Spiral possesses a characteristic lobe prior to its transitions. The reason for this is a combination of a greater disparity between the parent Triagon and its convergent offshoot, plus a larger Polygonal Angle it must rotate through while bridging one vertex point to the next. Thus requiring a more abrupt change in direction as a way to keep the consequent curve smooth.

SPIRAL CONVERGENCE COMPARISON

Polygonal Convergences have two fundamental variances, Symmetric Convergence and Asymmetric Convergence and Spirals can be generated from either variant.

Previous examples above have been founded on Symmetric Convergences, but the diagram below shows the different outcomes obtained by both Symmetric and Asymmetric Convergence, using the Hexagon as a base.

What this comparison reveals, is that the Asymmetric Convergence Spiral exhibits fewer revolutions compared to its Symmetric counterpart, in a way similar to the Spiral generated with a Triagon source. But it does not possess the characteristic lobe of the Triagonal Convergence Spiral, instead offering a more gradual transition through the vertices of each polygon.

POLYGON SPIRAL ARMS

Finally, not only do these Polygonal Convergence patterns generate one Spiral, but can produce a Spiral for each vertex of the particular foundational polygon. For example, with the Pentagon having five vertices, it provides the framework for up to five separate Pentagonal Convergence Spirals.

POLYGON SPIRAL ARMS
PENTAGONAL SPIRAL

In closing, Polygonal Convergences and Spirals not only furnish interesting forms in their own right, but can also be used more discretely, by providing the proportional metric for defining scale and elemental relationships within a geometric or artistic composition. Essentially, they can be used as the supportive framework for many types of design work, with their versatility being limited only by imagination.

THE INSIDIOUSNESS OF WORSHIP

Worship is a mask that presents an appealing facade of Reverence and Respect, but behind it lies an insatiable chasm of entitled desire and expectation.

When One Worships Another, be it an Individual or perceived deity, they do so not out of appreciation and admiration, but out of self-serving motivations, driven by chronic fear and insecurity.

However, unreserved fealty has its price and the amount to be paid must reflect the willingness to prostrate Oneself, so eagerly and absolutely.

A price that is readily promised, by those that cannot deliver and have no right to authorise, yet do so anyway, simply to siphon the desperate and the lost.

This price is of course, Eternal Heaven itself.

A nebulous prize, that suits the grandeur of the exhibition and to accept any less, would make a mockery of the ritual.

But to question is not permitted, because if it were discovered that this price cannot be paid, then sentiment could shift, turning exaltation to demonisation, with these vendors of the ethereal finding difficulty maintaining their perch.

Despite all the power they project and adulation they command, not even these grant immunity against a contract thus void.

From the worshipper to willingly worshipped, the entire episode is a display of saddening tragedy. For Divinity so misrepresented, flaunts how skewed and misguided the path has become.

As all things have their time, Truth will eventually prevail and what will then be laid bare, is that Worship is Insidious.

organised Religions are simply a vehicle by which

If a religious or political institution claims to be the source of attributes like Morality and Integrity, then One may be convinced that the only way to acquire these qualities is by affiliation with this collective group.

Power therefore, resides with the collective authority, because One may not want to be without Morality and Integrity, so must willingly submit themself to the collective authority.

But the actual reality is, that True Morality and Integrity are aspects of the Individual. They cannot be acquired through osmosis by being physically, emotionally and psychologically amalgamated into a collective.

Only the facade of Morality and Integrity is obtained through association.

True Morality and Integrity, is the Power of the Individual.

True Morality and Integrity that are enforced from external religious or political sources.

They are qualities that are Weak Individuals require "Strong Leadership" to lead them and "Strong Leadership" requires weak Individuals to be led.

"Strong Leadership" strives to weaken a society, in an effort to exploit and manoeuvre the society to the bidding of "Strong Leadership".

A strong society based on Strong Individuals, will greatly resist any underhanded manipulation from "Strong Leadership".

The field of viable candidates to occupy "Strong Leadership" roles will dwindle, as the Individuals within society become weaker.

As a consequence, this results in weak Individuals filling these positions and to compensate for inadequacies, they establish ever more oppressive forms of "Strong Leadership".

Strong Individuals have no requirement for "Strong Leadership". Strong Individuals are the bane of "Strong Leadership".

The demand for "Strong Leadership" is a condition that a society anticipating robust stability and longevity should vigorously avoid.

Depreciation of the Individual within society, begins the deterioration of society.

A degraded society then looks for "Strong Leadership" to stabilise the society and in doing so, diminishes the Individual even further. Thus leading to a weaker Individual, which then ensures a weaker society, that then calls for even greater enforcement of, "Strong Leadership".

This is, The Social Degradation Spiral.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

MORALITY INTERTWINING INTEGRITY

Morality is not a virtuous garb that is adorned only when convenience permits.

DEFINITIONS

Integrity – The capacity to endure difficulty without boasting of or glorifying achievements. See the verse, The Structure Of Integrity.

Morality – A personal attribute which incorporates a standard of expression and behaviour by which One endeavours to conduct themself, especially under burdensome conditions. Morality is completely meaningless, if at first sign of adversity it is discarded to the dirt.

Some of these standards of expression and behaviour may include,

- The committed pursuit of Understanding and Knowing Truth.
- Not participating in, promoting or encouraging actions or behaviours which are contrary to healthy, naturally sustainable expressions of Life.
- Not being self-righteous in denying Another's Sovereignty and Freedom to peaceably live their own life, even if it is contrary to One's own personal views and standards.
- Not engaging in any malicious manipulation and abuse of Another, with the goal of simply elevating and advancing Oneself or One's own self interests.

- Not engaging in spiteful retaliation.

- Being willing and prepared to make an unwavering stand against real injustice.

Encompassed in all of this, is the understanding and acceptance that decisions and actions made based on Moral standards, will at times be inconvenient. It may well create difficulty for Oneself and One's own circumstance.

This is where Morality intertwines with Integrity.

If Morality is abandoned on the Fear of Suffering, then One is just a slave to their Fear of Suffering.

During the course of One's life, their set of Moral standards may be redefined and refined as life experience, honest evaluation and deeper Self-Awareness deems necessary.

***

THE SOURCE OF MORALITY

True Morality is not a religious or philosophical contrivance, but a conveyance based on Deep Foundational Self-Awareness.

It is not formulated, manufactured or derived from external sources, but is an Expression of Consciousness manifest through Being.

At the heart of the Genuine, Full Human experience, is a bedrock of True Morality. Those that seek a Genuine, Full Human experience, will naturally be resistive to Immorality.

Immorality will attempt to hide or obscure itself from the mirror of True Morality, because to acknowledge its own ugliness is extremely provoking and offensive.

To compensate for this, it will strive to degrade the Moral base by normalising Immorality, whilst hidden within shadows and acting behind virtuous facades.

Manipulation and pressure will first be bought to bear on those of weakest Moral Integrity, as these will capitulate quickly, thus initiating a wave of capitulation.

All this, in the pursuit of creating a more hospitable environment for open Immoral behaviour.

Religion does not make the Moral Individual.

The Moral Individual
reflects well on the Religion.

DEFINITION

What is inferred by the phrase, "The Genuine, Full Human Experience" is,

1. Emotional Intensity turned up to 11.

2. Psychological Resilience turned up to 11.

With 10 being the maximum.

Oh! That is on a Logarithmic Scale.

Conceptually speaking.

SUB DEFINITION

A Logarithmic Scale is where a division on that scale has a value 10 times greater than its predecessor.

A Linear Scale has a 1 to 1 relationship with all the divisions on it.

That is,

- The value of the division from 0 to 1 is 1 unit.
- The value of the division from 1 to 2 is 1 unit.
- The value of the division from 2 to 3 is 1 unit.
- And so on.

A Logarithmic Scale has a 1 to 10 relationship with the preceding divisions on it.

That is,

- The value of the division from 0 to 1 is 1 unit.
- The value of the division from 1 to 2 is 10 units.
- The value of the division from 2 to 3 is 100 units.
- And so on.

The reason for this scale is so that data sets with a wide range of values can be displayed in a compact manner.

***

MEASURING MORALITY

LOW LEVEL MORALITY

Low Level Morality exhibits a Low Level of Consistency between how One behaves towards Others, in comparison to, how One expects Others to behave toward them or their loved ones.

HIGH LEVEL MORALITY

High Level Morality exhibits a High Level of Consistency between how One behaves towards Others, in comparison to, how One expects Others to behave toward them or their loved ones.

Essentially, Morality is a Measure of Reflective Behaviour.

This assessment is applicable to at least some level of sanity, in which One is not intent on harming themself or their loved ones.

Given this proportionate standard of measure, Exceptionalism is a Highly Immoral position.

To produce particularly Vile Monsters, indoctrinate them with a high degree of Exceptionalism.

THE SHADOW SELF

BALANCING EVIL

Evil is not a balancing force
for anything.

Evil is the result of a severely forced imbalance, in either direction.

It is Darkness that is the balancing force to Light.

Not Evil!

Darkness ≠ Evil

The "Shadow Self" is a term that is used to define aspects of Human Consciousness that Awareness is not cognizant of. The phrase, "Phantom Zone", has previously been used to identify this same notion in the verse, The Human Consciousness Model.

Although the Shadow Self is quite dark and difficult to contend with, as it pierces the veil into the Awareness state, the Shadow Self itself is not inherently Evil and does not imply Evil. The verse, Wisdom, gives a context and definition for the concept of "Evil".

The Shadow Self simply means unexplored aspects of the Self, areas that Awareness is fearful and unwilling to go into. This unwillingness to explore the Shadow Self may then potentially culminate in Evil.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

Initial engagement with the Shadow Self may give the impression of Evil.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

Interacting with the Shadow Self can and will be exceptionally difficult.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

The Shadow Self unquestionably holds enormous amounts of pain and unfathomable depths of darkness.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

There is possibility for violent and destructive behaviour if Awareness is lost to the Shadow Self, so maintaining Self-Awareness is key.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

Strong resistance, reluctance and refusal for Awareness to engage with the Shadow Self has some likelihood to manifest into Evil.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

The fear of what is perceived to be within the Shadow Self can provoke Evil reactions, if the Psychological and Emotional Bodies are weak and lack stability.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

Vile Psychological and Emotional experiences can conceivably lead to Evil actions, if Self-Awareness capitulates to the Shadow Self.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

Vile Psychological and Emotional experiences are similar to extensive, chronically infected, puss filled wounds, which upon first exposure can be quite nauseating.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

Once Awareness has been brought to the problematic areas of the Shadow Self and underlying issues resolved, these areas then transform, transitioning from being part of the Shadow Self, to integrating with the Awareness state of Knowing.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

The Shadow Self is there to impart deep levels of Insight and Understanding, once its wounds are exposed and begin to heal.

But the Shadow Self, in and of itself, is not inherently Evil.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

OPPORTUNITY COSTS OF CREATION

As has been stated in the previous verses, The Fundamental Process Of Nature and Nature, The Algorithm, Creation is the manifestation of Consciousness. It is the vehicle for Consciousness to gain greater Understanding of itself, with Nature being the Algorithm that facilitates this process.

Those aspects of Creation that best contribute to the Primary Objective will be supported by Nature, because they are considered to be of most value to Creation. The resources expended in supporting these is well worthwhile.

Those aspects that are failing in this Primary regard, will be stimulated to improve and permitted opportunity to correct and align with Creation's objective, given the constantly changing contextual framework.

However, if improvement is not forthcoming, then it becomes an inefficient use of resources to maintain a failing organism or system.

Thus, Nature will take steps to remedy this and re-purpose these resources into areas that further advance the Primary Objective.

The more a Human Individual aligns with the Primary Objective, the more they will be sustained by Nature, in terms of personal health and well-being, along with subsidiary resources.

If an Individual is not interacting with Life in a fitting manner, why then would Nature expend resources on them?

This is also the case for Humanity as a whole.

So, One could now ask,

"Who does it harm,
if I don't engage with Life?"

*

"Who does it harm,
if I don't look after my own health and well-being?"

*

"Who does it harm,
if I avoid facing and resolving deeply held fears and insecurities?"

*

"Who does it harm,
if I buy in to a particular ideology or religion?"

*

"Who does it harm,
if I rigidly comply to lifelong indoctrination?"

*

"Who does it harm,
if I wallow in decadence?"

*

"Who does it harm,
if I participate in a little corruption?"

*

"Who does it harm?"

Everyone!

One may not see or experience the harm in the present. But all these things are an indication of stagnation and Nature cannot allow stagnation to persist indefinitely.

Nature will cause disruption to stimulate the stasis, in an attempt to re-establish healthy, vibrant Energy Flow once more.

Nature will destabilise rigid belief and thinking, to encourage Awareness to explore more deeply and intently.

Because if it cannot, then there are many other places these resources would better be utilised.

Opportunity Costs may give a superior return elsewhere, or in another form.

This applies not just to the Individual, but to Humanity as a whole.

FISH OF THE OCEAN

If One were to explain to a fish

then the fish could retort,

"What is this you speak of?"

*

"I know not of such things."

*

"Are you a deceiver?"

*

"Are you here simply to mock and ridicule?"

Indeed, if the fish were the type that swam the great depths,
then the fish may yet query,

"What even is this, "Ocean"?"

For the fish to Understand the Ocean,
the fish must venture beyond the Ocean.

For the fish to Know the Ocean,
the fish would need to Know what is Not the Ocean.

Only then, can a concept and a context for the Ocean develop.

If the fish cannot distinguish then the fish does not Know, the Ocean.

It is within this framework that Ideology and Religion are able to control and manipulate.

When all One knows is Ideology and Religion, then One cannot have any concept or context for that which is beyond Ideology and Religion.

In fact, they may even reply,

"I do not subscribe

IDEOLOGICAL IDENTIFICATION

The insidious power of Ideology over the Individual is in the deeply ingrain perception that the Ideology is the Individual and the Individual is the Ideology.

This occurs to such a degree, that to mock, or even criticise the Ideology, is seen as an attack on the Individual themself.

Indoctrination can reach such perverse levels, that some will willing commit murder, rape and pillage, along with other heinously atrocious acts, all in the name of Ideology.

CONFUSING VERBS WITH NOUNS

Very often, One may confuse a role they fulfil with identification as that role.

For example, Being a Mother or Being a Father is a role that is fulfilled, but there is a profound difference with strongly and solely identifying as A Mother or as A Father. For these are superficial identifiers.

The importance of the role should not be dismissed and superficial identifiers serve a purpose. There simply need be a clear Awareness and distinction between the role and the Individual.

This distinction can even extend to Being a Woman or Being a Man. Rather than foundationally identifying as A Woman or as A Man.

To explicitly clarify for these particular examples, a gender role is not something an ego in a shallow Awareness state gets to choose. A psychologically and emotionally healthy biological Female is enacting Female roles. A psychologically and emotionally healthy biological Male is enacting Male roles.

The Individual though, is never a role.

The Individual is the Pre-Eminent Noun.

It could even be considered, that there is only one noun and that noun, is the Individual. Given the Individual is an Indivisible Duality; the manifest essence of Singularity.

All things are an expression of Singularity. So Singularity is Being a tree, Singularity is Being a chair, Singularity is Being a dog.

However, "Being" an Individual makes no sense, since all Human expression originates from the Individual.

Therefore, One cannot "Be" an Individual.

One IS an Individual.

Problems come about when Foundational Identity is attached to some superficial characteristic or a role enacted.

Considering all of this, there may be deeply pertinent and intentional reasoning behind the term, "Human Being".

Errors are compounded and magnified the further Awareness moves away from the source of the Error.

With this being especially True,

DEFINING SPIRITUALITY

The term, "Spirituality", has so far not been used at all, in any of the writings presented on A Beautiful Aching and this is for good reason.

With that reason being,

"What does it mean?"

What is a definition for "Spirituality" that is substantive and meaningful, but does not venture off into religious ideology, vague intangibles and judgements of "Good" or "Bad"?

To satisfactorily define what is "Spirituality", is to define what is not "Spirituality", by process of exclusion.

But it can be argued that ALL is Spiritual, so what then does "Spirituality" even mean.

Rather than "Spirituality" being defined in terms of ideological preference or state of personal Self-Awareness, this definition offered below, is instead a state of acknowledgement.

SPIRITUALITY

THE UNLEARNING

Knowing Truth, does not require

Knowing Truth, requires an Unindoctrination process.

The process of discovering Truth, or Conscious Awakening, is not necessarily about acquiring more information or learning new skills.

It is primarily about Unlearning nonsense; clarifying Oneself from the mountain of excrement that One believes to be true.

Thus, from this state of Clarity, Truth has a clear and unhindered path for both Expression and Reception.

To gain all One actually IS,

THE DISASSOCIATION OF SOVEREIGNTY

What is being referred to in the title of this verse, is the Disassociation of Sovereignty from the Individual.

If a computer operating system is infected with Malware which attempts to seize control of said computer, then the legitimate user/operator would have difficulty utilising the computer for their own purpose.

If the Human Psyche is injected with Psychological Malware which attempts to seize control of the Human Psycho-Biological Organism, then the Legitimate Authority would have difficulty utilising the Human Psycho-Biological Organism for its own purpose.

The verses, Crash The Algorithm, Part Two and The Direction Of Resolving Conflict, discuss how unresolved trauma is compartmentalised, resulting in Awareness being pushed further out toward the boundary of Human experience, away from the source of Human expression.

As a product of this shallow state of Awareness, a vulnerability is created, allowing opportunity to insert Psychological Malware into the Human Psyche without detection. Establishing the possibility for interference with Legitimate signalling from the Sovereign Authority, which is the Soul itself, as seen in the hierarchy of Anatomy Of The Human Being and The Human Consciousness Model.

Once this breach has occurred, it becomes problematic for Awareness to distinguish between signalling from the Soul and signalling from the Malware, since both appear to originate through appropriate avenues behind the Awareness state. Doubt and uncertainty will obviously arise as disparate messaging arrives through these influencing channels.

Complicating the situation even further, upon success of the initial breach, a doorway is opened allowing manipulation vectors to penetrate from all directions. Signal traffic may in turn congest and conflict to the point that it suppresses the Legitimate Source, while also potentially overwhelming the Human Psyche as a consequence.

Employing ideological indoctrination techniques to take advantage of this violation, influences perception and behaviour of the affected Individual. Religious, Political, Nationalistic or any other collectivist agenda, can then be served through the unscrupulous utilisation of the numbers game.

On top of all this, Psychological Malware not only provides opportunity for exploitation, but additionally creates distortions and corruptions within Legitimate coding of the Psyche. Which causes warped perceptions of Reality, preceding abhorrent behaviours, separate from the manipulation aspect.

Adding yet another contributing factor to this already convoluted mess, is that the Psyche is constantly engaged in the process of self-repair. Venturing to undo and heal these unwanted intrusions, whilst having to contend with an ego resistant to any real hardship. As hardship is inevitable in such a circumstance.

Furthermore, Psychological Malware can and will use the ego as a defensive strategy to protect from exposure and rejection.

All in all, rather than creating a method of reliable control, what eventuates is an erratic and chaotic predicament perpetuating from generation to generation, as the initial intervention entrenches itself deeper into the Human Psyche, making way for ever more penetrating incursions.

So, the question at the forefront of this assessment is,

“What is the initial intervention that has set up exploitation pathways for the Human Psycho-Biological Organism?”

The answer is, insertion of malicious code within the Human Psyche compelling it toward obedience and subservience to an exogenous source. Instituting the mechanism for the Disassociation of Sovereignty from the Individual and thus, a forced abdication from Self-Authority.

Worshipping gods and expecting saviours is the primary outcome of this Disassociation of Sovereignty.

Difficulties transpire as this is an unstable situation, with the afflicted Psyche attempting corrections, while contributing efforts come from Nature to facilitate the healing process.

It seems rather ironic here, to have religions that worship deities quick to condemn any abhorrent behaviours, since the basis of their existence is the source of the abhorrent behaviours. The sooner these psychologically parasitic ideas are exorcised from the Human Psyche, the better it will be for Humanity as a whole.

God is the Fallen One.

To close out this analysis, an Individual's level of Awareness sets the Contextual Foundation for their perception of Reality. Having a superficial or incorrect Contextual Foundation, causes a multitude of cascading effects bringing unintended consequences.

Add to that, extrinsic, pernicious Psychological coding which endeavours to override Legitimate Authority and results are predictably, unpredictable.

Despite the tremendous underlying calamity, it must be acknowledged at this point, how phenomenally impressive the Human Psycho-Biological Organism is. Being able to function at all in this severely disconnected Awareness state and under such staggeringly volatile conditions, is truly a testament.

Every conceivable effort and action has been made to capitulate the Human Psycho-Biological Organism, to subdue it into total subservience to an external authority. Every dirty trick, every manipulation, every trajectory of attack has been undertaken.

Yet, the Human Psycho-Biological Organism has not been broken and cannot be broken.

All attempts have failed.

This Earth Human species has shown itself to be Resilient beyond possibility; Robust unworthy of expectation.

The only thing left now, is for Awareness to come back home.

A Strong Individual will put themself in difficulty and disadvantage for the benefit of Others.

But a Strong Individual will not abdicate Sovereignty for the appeasement of Others.

Is engaging in Human trafficking, "Human Nature"?

Is being Protective of Children, "Human Nature"?

Is Molesting Children, "Human Nature"?

Which of these are "Human Nature" and which are not?

Or, is it more a case of expressing characteristics from a Healthy Psychological state, rather than an Unhealthy Psychological state?

Genuine behaviours of a Psychologically Healthy Individual are extremely different to that of an Individual of severe Psychological derangement. Yet, both are to be considered as conveying "Human Nature"?

Throwing around blanket terms like "Human Nature", to define and justify Individual characteristics for a broader Humanity, simply displays ignorance disguised as understanding.

For the most part, the term "Human Nature" has no place when defining and discussing Individual behaviours and characteristics out of context. Especial behaviours that Psychologically Healthy Individuals would consider abhorrent.

The term "Human Nature", has meaning when discussing a Psychologically Healthy Human Individual.

"Human Nature", has no meaning in reference to insanity.

It is not surprising then, to find a direct correlation between Psychological Health and Morality.

***

A Psychologically Unhealthy Individual can never be Truly Moral, no matter how much Religion they immerse themself within.

In fact, it may be the case that a Psychologically Unhealthy Individual will seek out Religion, as an attempt to grasp at a perceived Morality.

This signifies that the Psyche is at least attempting to find a sound Contextual Foundation from which to build.

PERCEPTIONS AND REALITIES

Clarity is the ability to see, What IS.

Philosophy is blindly guessing at what might be.

Perception itself does not create Reality.

But the Actions that result from Perception, do.

If Perception is founded on Truth and Clarity, then Truthful Actions result and a Truthful Reality is created.

If Perception is distorted away from Truth, then the Actions taken do not represent actual Reality and thus create a distortion of Reality.

- Which feeds back to Perception.
- That initiates additional false Actions.

FALLIBILITY OF HINDSIGHT

Hindsight is not necessarily 20/20.

Taking a certain course of Action, brings with it its own Supporting and Opposing forces, which will lead to a particular Outcome.

Taking a different course of Action, brings Supporting and Opposing forces which may be quite unlike the first course of Action, leading to another Outcome.

The balance and makeup of Supporting and Opposing forces will vary depending on the course of Action taken.

The point here being, is that Hindsight may not take into account differences in balance and makeup of Supporting and Opposing forces for an alternate course of Action.

Additionally, some of these forces may only make themselves known when a specific course of Action is instigated.

The reliability of Hindsight as a means to evaluate Actions and Outcomes should always be tempered, given its limitations to foresee variabilities in prevailing forces.

We cannot see, the road not taken.

WHY TERMS MATTER

The term "Singularity", encapsulates the very essence of what the word is referring to and describing. It has meaning that is not bound to religion, because the Universe itself is not religious.

The term "God", offers nothing as an insight to the True Nature of the Universe, it describes nothing of the Universe. It only has religious connotations, because religion wants all to consider Religion to be at the centre of the Universe.

Which is just not True.

Religion also requires the Individual to Subordinate their Sovereignty to this idea of "God", which then opens up vectors for corruption of the Individual, because there is no "God" to be Subordinate to.

The very act of Subordinating Sovereignty is the initiating corruption of the Psyche.

KNOWING INFINITY

This verse is presented as a way to conceptually Understand Foundational Structure. It is not an actual description of the beginning of the Universe, for there is no Beginning or Ending to the Universe.

The processes and functions of Creation are highly interconnected in complexity and cannot be adequately described in a short summation. But a general overview can be presented, which may then offer an invitation for further exploration.

***

Maybe if One Said Less,
One might come to Understand More.

Singularity/Consciousness cannot perceive of itself in its fundamental state of Nothingness, because of its Infinite nature.

Meaning, that it has no Boundary, therefore no Form, from which to make any meaningful and substantial evaluations.

Infinity cannot Know Infinity, since Infinity has no way to Understand Infinity. (Division By (0))

For Understanding and Knowing to occur, Form is required for Consciousness to Reflect on to and off of, back to Consciousness.

- Boundaries create Form.

- Vibration creates Boundaries.

- Hence Form is the result of Vibration.

- Different Forms are the result of changes and variations in Vibration.

- All Vibration is based on digital frequency, or pulsation. Reason being, is that the only thing Singularity has at its disposal, is itself and its Indivisible nature.
  It is Nothing (0) and it is Everything (1).
  It only has, Duality.

"But how is this Vibration initiated?"

It is initiated from a Force that induces Resonance. However, this Resonance not only occurs from a singular point source, but from every point source, as Singularity is again, Nothing and Everything.

Certain aspects that arise from the resulting complexity are,

- Interference patterns between Resonance waves.

- Variations of Frequency, Amplitude and Wavelength create differing densities and transitions between boundary states.

- Higher Frequency Resonance creates more responsive waveforms.

- Higher Amplitude Resonance creates more impactful waveforms.

- Shorter Wavelengths create denser, more compact waveforms.

- Node points where Resonance waves intersect become so dense, that what is known as "Matter" is formed.

All this has a compounding and layering effect, which eventuates into the Fractal Nature of the Universe.

"How does the Force come about to induce the Resonance?"

The Force comes about from the Desire, the Longing, the Love, to Understand.

CLOCK FREQUENCIES OF THE SUN

A Central Processing Unit (CPU) within a computer system has the ability to generate what is known as a, "Clock Frequency".

This Clock Frequency produces pulsations that are necessary to regulate computational processes and sequences of the CPU.

If the Clock Frequency is erratic in its output or interfered with, then all manner of errors may result, culminating in the eventual possibility of hardware failure.

Included in the many functions and outputs of the Sun, is the generation and expression of a multitude of Clock Frequencies. These serve to regulate and co-ordinate operations within the entire Solar System, including Life on Earth.

Biological processes such as photosynthesis and vitamin D production, have dependencies on Solar Clock Frequencies in the visible light range. But the light spectrum output from the Sun extends way beyond what is visible, as it promotes and governs many Life processes, seen and unseen.

Additionally, Solar expression is a mechanism for information transfer of Life Code, which creates, heals and maintains all forms of Life.

For the Human Psycho-Biological Organism, Sun output is vital for Physical health and well-being. Furthermore, it carries code information required to help repair and heal Emotional and Psychological structures, plus Clock Frequencies to regulate Emotional and Psychological function.

Human Psycho-Biological processes dependent on Solar output can be inhibited and disrupted in several ways,

- Sunglasses – Interfere with unadulterated Sun output entering the eyes.

- Sunscreen – Interferes with the take up of Sun output through skin.

- Electromagnetic Fields (EMF) – mobile phones, computer screens, microwave ovens, electrical smart meters and other technologies, all generate frequencies that may distort or impede Physiological, Emotional and Psychological function.

A cumulative degrading effect can occur from these over time, which could be difficult to trace, with the outcomes then being falsely attributed to other causes.

Direct Sun exposure however, should be limited to optimum levels for the applicable climate and region. As too much, just like too little, can yield adverse effects.

An additional aspect of Solar Clock Frequency that might not be immediately apparent, is the regulation of Time Perception.

TRADITIONAL INDOCTRINATION

Religion is currently an acceptable form of Indoctrination, primarily because of its traditional longevity. With all meaningful opposition long eradicated or forgotten.

In its favour, Religion at least draws on some level of reality as a foundational hook to lure and maintain followers.

Wokeness is new, with no traditional legacy, opposition still immediate and fierce.

Based on delusion, devoid of reality and victimisation the over-riding mantra. So its followers not only see victim-hood everywhere and create victim-hood, but often consider themself, The Victim.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

HEALTH CARE ≠ MEDICAL AID

Is poor health the result of sickness and disease?

Or is sickness and disease
the result of poor health?

An actual Health Care Industry is not possible.

Because a genuine Health Care system would make itself obsolete long before it becomes an industry.

A massive Medical Industrial Complex can only be maintained and sustained if there is a large, constant supply of illness.

Health Care ≠ Medical Aid

Pharmaceutical companies pedal the idea that poor health is the result of the body being deficient in patented drugs.

***

Blindly placing responsibility for One's health into the hands of governments and corporations, invariably leads to the unsurprising exploitation of One's good faith.

Medical costs due to accident or misfortune are dwarfed by those for Self-Inflicted or Self-Induced causes.

How much more would be available for the truly needy, if it were not for so many actively destroying their own health through poor diet and lifestyle choices?

There is no need for more hospitals, doctors, nurses or other medical resources.

What is required, is Healthier Individuals.

Generally speaking, the Human Body is not inherently prone to illness.

The Human Body requires prolonged serious abuse to be easily susceptible to illness.

***

CURE OR CAUSE

Instead of researching a Cure for Cancer, how about reframing the Question and researching the Cause of Cancer?

If the Cause is Resolved, then a Cure is unnecessary.

But there is little profit in that, is there?

Profits for Cancer charities.

Profits in ongoing research.

Profits in ongoing drug development.

Exorbitant Profits for drug sales.

Perpetually searching for a Cure, has multiple streams of Profit.

Why are Cancer treatments so expensive, when Cancer research charities have no doubt raised Billions of Dollars worldwide over the past forty years?

Do pharmaceutical corporations accept charity donations for research and then still charge for the cost of research?

Where has all this money gone?

This same pattern can be found in many other diseases and illnesses.

Perpetually searching for a Cure, is ridiculously more profitable, than Resolving the Cause.

So, any talk of your health or the health of your children, is just empty political rhetoric.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

NORMALISING THE ABNORMAL

If an Individual is born with a Deformed Limb, like an arm or a leg, then that Individual is recognised as having a Deformed Limb.

Such an Individual should be allowed the opportunity to live their life as best they can, freely and peacefully, reciprocated; in whatever way suits them, with or without any help that others may want to provide.

However, the fact that this Individual has a Deformed Limb, should not be Normalised.

It Should Never, Be Normalised.

There is an archetypal standard for Healthy Human Male/Female Physical Form and Function, which is obvious for those that choose to be honest.

When Deformed Limbs start being Normalised, it has the likelihood to entice the Emotionally and Psychologically unstable to go about Deforming their own, otherwise, healthy Limbs.

This, then cascades in to a collective behaviour.

Others will be persuaded or pressured to do the same.

Those that have Deformed Limbs will be inclined to increase their numbers, as an additional method of Normalisation. Leading to this Abnormal behaviour being considered, "Tolerant" and "Inclusive".

Young children will be Indoctrinated into believing it to be Normal to have a Deformed Limb.

Young children, not knowing any different, will consequently be encouraged to Deform their own perfectly Health and Functional Limbs, because young children wish to be seen and accepted as Normal.

This whole process also applies to Emotional and Psychological Deformation/Derangement, not just Physical.

Sinister forces will use such techniques to destabilise societies, as resistance comes to this insanity. Hence, leveraging the resulting turmoil into greater political power and control for themselves.

An Individual of Abnormal Form or Function should be accepted and treated as any Other.

But the Abnormality itself, should never be Normalised.

MISGUIDED SUPER HEROES

Strength, is not the Measure of One's Ability to Throw a Punch.

Strength, is the Measure of One's Capacity to Take a Punch.

The incarnation of the Soul, is a process that provides the experience to Understand as many aspects and facets of Creation as deeply as possible. In order for the Soul to Know itself and in turn, to Know Creation.

This process naturally encompasses a range of Pleasant and Unpleasant experiences, because this is the Nature of a Dualistic Reality.

A storybook Super Hero with exceptional powers, whose purpose is to protect those weaker from Unpleasant experiences, interferes with the Souls journey and development.

This is a crime against the Soul.

This is why storybook Super Heroes do not actually exist.

A sane and moral Individual, will unquestionably assist Others in difficulty as best they can, without storybook Super Powers.

A storybook Super Hero or Saviour, incessantly saving those weaker, is the equivalent of a weak Individual going to a gym, but expecting a stronger Individual to lift the weights for them.

A storybook Super Hero flying halfway around the world to prevent an aircraft from fatal collision, is unduly and unwisely interfering with the Soul experience of all affected Souls.

If every aircraft encountering difficulty was saved by a storybook Super Hero, what Understanding could ever be gained from such situations? Designers, manufactures and operators of aircraft, would have no incentive to improve their product. Because designers, manufactures and operators of aircraft, should do their best to ensure their aircraft do not fail.

Given that, while observing an alien world with a developing species, One was able to foresee a tragedy emerging and had the means to avert it, should One interfere?

Should One interfere in a process that may likely incentivise that species to develop new and unique levels of Understanding?

Interference would rob them of this opportunity.

Interference would simply satiate the ego's desire to play, storybook Super Hero.

Is this not Selfish?

Is it not Selfish to flaunt powers which thwart Others from being motivated into advancing deeper levels of Understanding?

Ideas of a storybook Super Hero are severely misguided.

The True Power, of a real Super Hero, is an unglamorous ability that is potentially available to all.

That Power is, Wisdom.

DIRECTIONS TO FIND GOD

Okay, first, turn Inward,
then take the third path on the right.

Follow this path to the end,
until you get to the Gates of Hell.

These are never locked,
so just walk straight in.

Here is where things become tricky.

Hell is a bit of a maze and establishing a sense of direction is problematic.

However, perseverance pays off and it eventually becomes apparent, that whichever direction you take,
it will always be down.

But go with it.

Oh..., I forgot to mention,
after walking through the Gates of Hell,
they lock behind you.

Oops!

Managing to make it down into the Bowels of Hell is a big plus, just be sure to re-hydrate often,
as it can get quite toasty in there.

Also, best prepare for a long stay, since finding the way out is not all that obvious.

Supposing, by chance,
you do find the way out.

Dragging yourself by the fingernails, up an Almost Vertical Endless Cliff-Face, is the easiest route.

Do not try the other options,
as these go on, meandering forever,
circling back to where you started.

Don't ask me how I know.

Good for you,
should you make it to the top of the Almost Vertical Endless Cliff-Face.

Here, you will find yourself on a ledge,
just wide enough to stand on tippy-toes.

Which really only leaves you with two choices.

Either, you slide back into the Bowels of Hell, or you leap off, surrender to the Infinite Void and see what happens.

A little hint,
picking the Infinite Void will pretty much destroy everything you think you are.

So..., there's that.

Be sure to choose wisely.

If you opt for the Infinite Void,
you are now the Infinite Void.

Well, the problem at this point is,
Um...,
presuming it was God you were looking for,
it may be disappointing to realise that,
Um...,
he's just not here.

Singularity: So, you refuse to find out for sure, because you're afraid of being wrong?

Religious Person: Well no, not just that. Swimming out into the middle of the ocean is hard. There's sharks and storms and many other dangerous things.

Singularity: So, you refuse to find out for sure, because you're afraid of being wrong and it's hard?

PRESERVING CULTURE?

"We need to Preserve our Culture."

Why?

Why should a Culture that has led to Tyranny, be Preserved?

Culture is the Context in which Individuals, hence Societies, operate.

If this Context has allowed Tyranny and Evil to not only establish itself, but to entrench itself so deeply into every aspect of Society, that it now becomes a monumental task to overcome, why would any sane Individual want to Preserve this Culture?

"Culture was better 20, 30, 40 years ago."

Going back 20, 30, 40 or even 100 years, leads to here.

Why create the same situation for future generations to have to deal with?

It is disgraceful for current generations to even consider regressing Culture to a place that produces the same issues.

Deal with these issues Now!

Sentimental value is not a valid reason to cling to a Culture that allows Tyranny and Evil to flourish.

SUBSERVIENT TO ILLUSION

An important thing to recognise; Government Does Not Exist, Government Is Not Real, Government Is An Illusion.

Government, is purely a mental construct.

There is no aspect of Nature or Creation that is the layer or level of Government.

Accepting Government as real, is a trance state that is induced through indoctrination from a young age. Ensuring the idea is neurologically hard-wired into the brain during development, making it more difficult to resolve.

Any perceived actions of Government, are not the actions of an actual Government, they are the actions of Individuals impersonating Authority.

It is Individuals that must be held to account for their actions, not some pretend Government.

Therefore, if Government Is Not Real, then the Power of Government Is Not Real.

So, the Power of Government, is also, an Illusion.

Replace the word, "Government" from the preceding assessment, with the word, "Religion" and the same holds true.

Ignorance of Truth and Natural Law, is no defence against Justice and Restitution.

POLITICAL INFIDELITY

POLITICAL GAMES

An Individual looking to genuinely resolve a conflict with family, friends, neighbours or acquaintances, does not resort to Politics for the solution.

One is unlikely to manipulate the situation simply to maximise the benefit for themself, whilst undermining and devaluing the needs and concerns of their counterparty.

A Real Solution, to genuine conflicting concerns, would at least bestow some benefit to both sides or have rational reasoning for being one-sided.

There are no Political Games being played in this type of scenario.

On the other hand, Politics is the opposite to this, where Political Games are the order of the day.

Politics is a Game of Underlying Petulance, Spite and Resentment.

With War being
Politics to the Extreme.

Political Solutions, are the Worst Solutions.

A situation where both sides are playing Political Games, means no Real Solution is possible.

NATURAL LAW

If One were to jump off an extremely tall build unassisted, One would most likely encounter a somewhat immediate and terminal expression of Natural Law.

However, Natural Law does not always operate with such expediency.

Natural Law, shall quite often play out over time in discreet and subtle ways, that might not be so obviously connected to causal action. Setting up the Context for lessons to be learned in a far deeper and more meaningful manner.

Wilful Ignorance of Natural Law, only leads to consequences that are both unexpected and bewilderingly.

In reference to any Injustice incurred, those that attempt to hinder or thwart the Natural resolution of Injustice, may find the Remedies for the Injustice significantly compounded.

All real Injustice will eventually be resolved, regardless of the measures taken to avoid or resist.

Natural Law, for the most part, is Context Driven.

TRAVERSING THE DARKNESS

Traversing the Darkness, is transitioning to an unknown destination, along an unknown path.

It will never be possible and likely not desirable, to have the ability to perceive all the steps in between.

At times, the veiling fog may only allow the next step to be visible. Presenting no other option, but to hesitantly proceed.

At others, the fog could recede to despairingly expose, the absence of steps, in any direction. With waiting being offered as the mandatory choice.

Presuming steps that are not, simply steers One astray. Becoming perpetually lost, a real possibility.

Debilitating turmoil, encountered often on this path, breeds respectful familiarity, for its lessons and its ways.

Darkness pressing hard against One's face, crushing with its force, uncovers terrified apprehension and reluctance to pass through.

However, fearing to go on, determined to retreat, reveals the impassable wall directly at One's back.

This is the path, the path Traversing the Darkness. The path which seems endless in both distance and pain.

Yet even in such Darkness, sparks still alight. Giving brief clarity and resolve to push on ahead.

Then as each spark coalesces, within Awareness's flame, clarity's briefness extends down the way.

Traversing the Darkness, does eventually end, at the destination that is Now. The destination, that is Home.

The True Path, is the Inner Path.

The Path upon only the Individual can walk.

FACE THE DARKNESS, RESOLVE THE DARKNESS

The primary reason for issues such as obesity, drug abuse, alcoholism and others, is an unwillingness to face Emotional and Psychological Darkness.

When One is faced with Emotional and Psychological Darkness, attempts to make Oneself feel better may be undertaken, as an avoidance to dealing with the Emotional and Psychological Darkness itself.

Rather than trying to make Oneself feel better, directly face what is being felt and experienced.

Allow Awareness to Transition the difficulty through Darkness.

Giving opportunity for the Light of Consciousness, to Transmute it along the way.

USELESS PROFESSIONS

A question to the Psychologists and Psychiatrists reading this, how is an Individual that has never experienced extreme, deep and prolonged Emotional and Psychological turmoil, supposed to help Another experiencing extreme, deep and prolonged Emotional and Psychological turmoil?

Experiencing extreme, deep and prolonged Emotional and Psychological turmoil is not an illness! It is a part of a Process!

One cannot guide Another through a Process, if they have not fully experienced the Process themself.

The vast majority of Psychologists and Psychiatrists are little more than Pretenders and Frauds.

Extreme, deep and prolonged Emotional and Psychological turmoil is not a chemical imbalance!

Then offer to play a part as an objective observer, presenting suggestions and insights to their specific case in order to help them gain clarity and direction.

Also, learn from their experience of going through this Process to better assist Others and possibly Oneself.

This is all predicated on the condition that the Psychologist or Psychiatrist is familiar with the information provided in this volume.

AWARENESS STABILITY RANGE

An Awareness Stability Range is a measure of an Awareness's ability to remain stable within a defined span of the Light/Darkness Polarity Scale about the Equilibrium point.

Over many generations and including current lifetimes, this range has been reduced to the point that even a minor disruption causes many to become Emotionally and Psychologically unstable.

Primarily resulting from an obsessive refusal to experience any discomfort at all.

A Natural process exists to broaden and improve this range. However, allowance of difficulty and discomfort is essential and it must not be resisted or obstructed in any way.

AWARENESS STABILITY RANGE
A NATURAL ADAPTIVE PROCESS

The above diagram outlines the individual steps in this Natural process and given a sufficient amount of cycles, the range of stability an Awareness is able to reside within can be significantly improved.

It is also possible for this process to function in the opposite manner, where Awareness is first drawn into Positive Polarity, then the Natural Balancing Mechanism develops toward the Negative.

An unstable Positive Polarity state is expressed through over excitement and exuberance.

The Deeper the Roots,
the Higher the Branches.

Why does February only have 28 days, not including a leap year?

Why not take a day from any two months with 31 days and give it to February, so it has 30 regular days, like many other months?

Why is a week 7 days?

Is it only because some God, in some old book, was claimed to have created the Earth in 7 days?

What is the purpose of breaking up the year into weeks and months?

Why was it not broken up even further, creating another grouping of days?

Patriotism, is a Psychological derangement.

Defining Oneself by a Political Identity is settling for a false, superficial Identity.

Strong attachment to superficial Identity can easily be utilised against you and your best interests.

Patriotism is a basic, surface-level Identity that Ego clings to when there is nothing substantive on offer.

PARASITIC RAPE

Religion, is a Rape of the Soul

Wokeness, is a Rape of the Soul and D.E.I., is its Phallus.

When Awareness is at such a shallow state,
the act of Raping the Soul

One can observe Another being Raped

But if the Other has conceded to being Raped, then there is little One can do to intervene.

MORAL CONTEXT

Morality is a

Morality, to a significant degree, is a product of environment, culture and upbringing.

Although, accumulated Soul experience and Understanding can seep its way down to shallow Awareness states.

Playing a "good person" does not directly correlate to Spiritual development.

When required, a highly developed Soul can and does play the role of Malicious Antagonist.

The Malicious Antagonist is often brought forth to counteract deeply ingrained, comfortable delusion and ignorance.

The reason a highly developed Soul is most suitable for this purpose, is because of its willingness and ability to take on any Karmic Debt that may be incurred.

Creation does not give a shit

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

RULES OF THE GAME

NATURAL KARMIC LAW

Natural Karmic Law governs interactions between Sovereign Sentient Individuals and Entities.

The severity of Natural Karmic Consequence is determined by the depth of Sovereign Awareness of the affected Individual and their willingness to assert Sovereignty.

Abdicating Sovereignty to some God or other party has the effect of dampening the consequences of Natural Karmic Law.

Natural Karmic Law can only be fully applicable to Fully Sovereign Sentient Individuals and Entities.

SOVEREIGNTY SUPERSEDES LAW

Individual Sovereignty Supersedes Man-Made Laws.

If a Sovereign Individual is unjustly hindered from pursuing their natural course of life by another Individual or Entity, then that Individual need only assert their Sovereignty for Karmic Law and Consequence to begin taking effect.

Karmic Law, generally allows time for grievances to be settled between parties. But, should this fail, Karmic Law may offer a substantial amount of rope for the offending party to hang themself with.

Karmic Law will always justly resolve any situation; across life-times, if necessary.

Karmic Laws are not written Laws, but are innately Understood when Awareness is of sufficient depth.

Man-Made Law cannot override Natural Karmic Law.

PRESIDING IN JUDGEMENT

One that places themself in a position of Judgement over another Sovereign Individual, comes under the oversight of Natural Karmic Law.

If an innocent Sovereign Individual is wrongly adjudicated and penalised, then Natural Karmic Law may play a part in redressing the injustice.

If the injustice is an error due to such things as insufficiently understood evidence or information, then counter-balancing remedies will likely only be minor. Provided that the error is swiftly corrected, if and when clarity emerges surrounding the contentious events.

In other words, Errors of Good Faith are deemed more or less neutral in the context of Natural Karmic Law.

However, if the injustice is the result of Maliciousness or Corruption, then Natural Karmic Law could play-out in a merciless way toward those that Sit in Judgement.

Any attempts at deceiving Natural Karmic Law are a laughable absurdity.

Unjust, Corrupt systems, must by necessity, become more and more Unjust and Corrupt, in an attempt to hold back the consequences of Natural Karmic Law.

This only then leads to a more catastrophic collapse, when it eventually comes.

SOVEREIGN CONTRACTS

Contracts are created between Sovereign Entities for a specific purpose or to achieve a required outcome.

Once the specific purpose is no longer applicable or the outcome has been achieved, the Contract is fulfilled and thus, ended.

If a party breaches any term of the Contract, the Contract is voided and agreed-to penalties may apply.

All Contracts must have some form of termination mechanism.

There is no Natural Foundation for Perpetual Contracts.

Under Natural Karmic Law, any Perpetual Contracts are null and void.

Soul Contracts are a Foundational way in which Sovereign Entities interact on a much deeper level.

Conditions and Boundaries of applicable Soul Contracts will become known to an Individual when Awareness is of sufficient depth.

Awareness of Conditions and Boundaries of Soul Contracts is not a requirement for them to be carried out or enforced.

LEVELLING THE PLAYING FIELD

A Beautiful Aching presents Foundational Understanding to all Individuals on this world, with a depth and detail that has not been previously available.

This is so all have the opportunity to Understand the Rules of the Game, in a fair and equal manner.

Thus, let the chips fall where they may.

Advantages in material wealth, technology and/or political force, are of little consequence in the face of Natural Karmic Law.

QUALIFICATION FOR JUDGEMENT

An Individual should only be given the task of presiding in Judgement, if their Soul is willing to accept the Karmic Debt incurred from any Unjust adjudication they deliver.

A genuinely Righteous Individual, will have no issue with such a commitment and will not shy away from difficult cases.

This principle could also be extended to Political Leaders and Bureaucrats.

There is nothing like Skin in the Game, to inspire Diligence and Integrity.

Those that make reference to the Soul from a superficial Awareness perspective, are actually making reference to shallow aspects of the Psyche.

But because their Awareness is entangled within Physical and Emotional Awareness states, it gives the impression of being Deeply Meaningful.

It is not.

The Soul is not subordinate to any Political Framework or Religious Ideology.

Where are the factories that produce Russian Souls?

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

A SOUL'S CATCH 22

A Soul must be able to turn up the Energetic Intensity to help resolve the barriers that inhibit Awareness from penetrating deeper into Being.

This is achieved by gradual increases to Energetic Intensity, allowing time for adaptation, then repeating the process.

An Ego may not react well to higher Energetic Intensity, which brings difficult and unpleasant Conflicts up to the surface for Awareness to confront.

There is possibility that the Ego could drive the Psycho-Biological Organism toward self-destructive behaviour or worse, as an out-of-control reaction to an unstable Psyche.

The higher the Energetic Intensity that the Soul can provide, the better the conditions for Awareness to penetrate deeper into Being.

However, applying more Energetic Intensity than the Psycho-Biological Organism is able to cope with, could be disastrous for not only the Psycho-Biological Organism itself, but for Others as well.

When the stability of the Psychological Body is delicate, the bandwidth between, not enough Energetic Intensity and too much Energetic Intensity, is quite narrow. This leaves the Soul with a very precarious predicament.

If a Soul plays it safe, Humanity languishes and deteriorates even further.

If a Soul goes for broke, it could potentially cause major destruction.

Such is the situation that a Soul, incarnate through the Earth Human species, has to contend with.

Developing deeper levels of Sensory Perception, which can recognise various Energetic traces, gives One the ability to identify forces and influences that may not directly or immediately be visible.

THE SOCIALIST PROBLEM

The primary issue with Socialism, is that the Socialist is not really concerned with the welfare and well-being of a population.

The Socialist's main concern is with power and control.

Socialism compels conformity to social programs down the barrel of a gun; direct or implied.

The Socialist Problem is, that Socialism, is not voluntary.

As soon as social programs and safety nets become voluntary, they become a business, insurance and voluntary community programs.

These are all open to competing ideas and providers for these services.

Socialism is a forced monopoly.

Socialism is intended to create dependency.

Socialism is a one-size-fits-all approach to Individual and social issues.

But then, the inevitable question arises,

"What about the poor people?"

Socialism creates poor people.

Socialism cannot exist without poor people.

Socialism is constantly attempting to increase its supporter base.

It is easier to create dependency, with poor people.

Additionally, the funds for social programs do not come from Socialist governments, they come from tax payers.

The Socialist is very skilled at playing, "The Hero of the People", with other people's money.

UNIVERSAL HEALTH CARE

"Universal Health Care" is one such Socialist program that is intended to provide medical services to a national population at no direct cost to the Individual.

To see the consequences of this policy, One need only observe the general health levels of wealthy, western populations that implement such schemes.

There is no reason why genuinely healthy diet and lifestyle choices are not available to these people. Yet, poor fitness, obesity, chronic illness and degenerative diseases are out of control in these countries.

Why?

One reason is, incentive.

There is no incentive for Individuals to pursue healthy diet and lifestyle behaviours, because the resulting poor health is not a financial drain on the Individual.

If the Individual were to directly pay medical treatment costs for poor health choices, then the Individual would be incentivised to make better heath choices.

Poor choices and behaviours need to bestow meaningful consequences for changes to take place. If no meaningful consequences are forth coming, then poor choices and behaviours are encouraged to continue.

Consider an Individual, with a neighbour that is a reckless and dangerous driver. So when the neighbour invariable has an accident, they demand that this Individual pay for the consequences of that accident.

What does One consider the response to this request would be?

This same scenario is reflected in those that are reckless and apathetic with their own diet and lifestyle choices.

Why should those that do make healthy diet and lifestyle choices, be forced to pay for the medical expenses of those that do not?

If these Individuals do not care enough about their own health to do something about it, why should anyone else?

Undoubtedly, the vast majority of medical costs incurred in the Universal Health Care systems of western countries, are induced from poor diet and lifestyle choices.

One need only examine the leading causes of death in western countries for this to be evident.

Another related point, in many cases, Socialist health advice is fundamentally wrong.

Poor health choices are the result of poor health education.

Socialist education programs are geared toward producing compliant citizens for the state. Rather than high quality, well rounded and intelligent Individuals for society.

The intent of this verse is not to be an all-encompassing repudiation of Socialism and Universal Health Care, but merely a catalyst to stimulate further inquiry. For there are many not-so-obvious and inherent issues with Socialism that others have already addressed.

An invaluable source on the topic of real free markets and the corrupting nature of Socialism, is the Mises Institute.

Woke Ideological nonsense is dwarfed by the Religious nonsense on this planet.

Your Disagreement is a nonsensical irrelevance.

Your Disagreement is the equivalent, to Disagreeing with the fact that 2+2=4.

But if what you say is True, how did you independently, through fact, logic and/or reason, come to your understanding?

Regurgitating old scriptures does not count.

Because if what you say is True, you must be able to verify it independently.

If there is a Creator God of the Universe to be Worshipped, then that Understanding must be verifiable anywhere, at any point in time, by any Sentient Being.

Verifying and Understanding Truth, cannot be limited to a certain group of Individuals, thousands of years in the past.

You may protest that your Religion is deeply felt.

No, it is not!

Of course, you regard it as deeply felt though, having never experienced the real depth of Awareness/Consciousness.

But this is like walking into a shoreline and getting your ankles wet.

If you have no experience or concept of anything beyond that, it may well feel deep and meaningful.

However, there is an entire Ocean that you have yet to confront.

REASON FOR BEING

Although the Teachings of the Buddha, Christ, Mohammed and many others, points to Profound Fundamental Understanding, the Teachings themselves are offered within a Specific Contextual Framework.

One cannot be removed from the Specific Contextual Framework by thousands of years and chasmic cultural differences, but still be able to accurately comprehend the True Meaning underlying these Teachings.

When removed from the Specific Contextual Framework by such a degree, the only way to Truly Understand the Teachings, is if One is already versed in Profound Fundamental Understanding. Which then renders the Teachings to a historical studies value.

If these past Teachings are presented to those lacking Profound Fundamental Understanding, in a contemporary setting, their True Meaning can be lost, misunderstood or deliberately misrepresented. Thus furthering the distance between contemporary understanding and the Profound Fundamental Truths forming these Teachings.

Therefore, the Teachings of the Buddha, Christ, Mohammed and alike, may serve no beneficial purpose in a Contemporary Contextual Framework. But instead, could be inhibiting, or even detrimental, in the establishment of Deep Foundational Understanding.

What is required then, is a Contemporary Contextual Framework, to present Profound Fundamental Truths for the establishment of Deep Foundational Understanding.

This is the purpose for which A Beautiful Aching is offered.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

SOCIETY OF LIES

A Society of Lies, is failing generations.

A Society of Lies, is detrimental to the Psychological development of the young.

A Society of Lies, where contradiction and hypocrisy prevail, will cause the developing Psyche to become burden and overwhelmed trying to make sense of the inconsistency.

A Society of Lies, is built around Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy.

Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy, perpetuated by Government.

Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy, perpetuated by Religion.

Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy, perpetuated by Education Systems.

Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy, perpetuated by Media Outlets.

Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy, perpetuated by Family and Friends.

Lies, Indoctrination, Contradictions and Hypocrisy, perpetuated by Businesses and Places of Employment.

These all have an accumulating effect on a young, developing Psyche.

A developing Psyche, attempts to calibrate itself toward its new environment.

A developing Psyche, being feed distortions and untruths, develops in a malformed manner.

A developing Psyche, attempts to resolve contradictions that are completely incompatible with observable Reality.

An Individual with a malformed Psyche, will then find it difficult to comprehend actual Reality.

Reality, will make no sense to them.

This is then propagated from one generation to the next. Until the quality of the Human Being is so poor, that the average Individual struggles with even the most basic functions.

Undoing this damage is extremely difficult, as it begins at such an early age, the distortion is hardwired into the brain.

Is it any wonder then, that children grow up with their Psyche so malformed, they have no idea what gender they are?

Is it any wonder then, that children grow up with their Psyche so corrupted, they resort to self-abuse and bodily mutilation?

Given all this, teaching children about a Santa Claus and an Easter Bunny, may seem kind of cute, but it is not helpful.

Cutesy nonsense, is rarely helpful.

Truth, Logic, Reason, are vital for healthy Psychological development.

Prolonged, Obstinate Ignorance causes far more damage, than whether One is a "Good" or a "Bad" person.

***

RAISING THE FUTURE

Bringing up and raising children, is not about obsessively protecting children from difficulty.

Bringing up and raising children, is about preparing children, to ably address inevitable difficulty.

Nurturing and cultivating Psychological and Emotional resilience, is vital for the development of children in becoming proficient at resolve difficulty.

But to be successfully instil in children, Psychological and Emotional resilience, must first be inherent within One's Self.

Of course, this does not suggest adults be cruel to children.

***

SEEDS OF CATASTROPHE

Just as the metaphorical stone unleashes the avalanche, a single, seemingly innocuous and inconsequential Untruth, disseminated through an entire population over the course of time, has the potential be the progenitor of absolute devastation.

Hence, within a Society of Lies, the possibility for Catastrophe, increases appreciably.

Human history is replete with such examples.

Lies, are the Seeds of Catastrophe.

***

THE INESCAPABLE SOLUTION

Maybe the Inescapable Solution is, that Religious and Ideological Lunatics must first all destroy each other,

then the rest of us can proceed with Building a New Humanity.

If this is the case,
then so it shall be.

***

SAVING INSANITY, WHY?

Why would a "Saviour" have any desire to Save a population of Insane Zombies, that Obstinately Refuse to Wake Up?

It is best to just let them
Destroy Themselves.

A Sovereign Entity cannot be forced to do anything for their own benefit, that the Sovereign Entity does not want to do.

***

BAND-AID FOR A SEVERED LEG

At a time of Extreme Urgency, obsessing to rectify Superficial Issues, does not resolve Fundamental Problems.

Deck Chairs.

Titanic.

A Complete Overhaul
in Understanding is Essential.

Is anyone even Aware of the Urgency?

***

THE SYNERGISTIC SOLUTION

It is generally considered that Conflict Resolution between two or more parties, requires Compromised Solutions.

However, there is also such a thing as,
Synergistic Solutions.

This type of Solution benefits all parties to a greater degree than the sum of individual contributions from each party.

Although, finding these Solutions has some mandatory requirements.

One of which is,
disregarding the Ego.

***

THE WOKE CRUSADE

Wokeness is a Crusade
by incompetent Individuals to justify their existence, on issues that do not abide to any meaningful extent.

***

JUST A LITTLE BIT

A Little Bit of Religion is like a Little Bit of Drug Abuse.

A fledgling Drug Addict will convince themself that a Little Bit is fine, even though, health damage may still occur.

But the potential is there for a Little Bit, to become a Lot, which sees the Drug Addict become a Fanatic.

***

WHY SO HARD?

"Why so hard on Religion?"

If the Lie of Religion can be Killed within Humanity,
then Any Lie
can be Killed within Humanity.

Religion, is the Foundational Lie.

Destroy the Foundation, the Tower of Lies Crumbles.

***

DISTORTING PERCEPTION

Ideological and Religious Beliefs, are Interpretation Layers between the Observer and Creation.

These Skew and Distort Perception of Observable Events into a Predefined Mental Framework.

Creation, cannot fit within a Predefined Mental Framework.

Drop the Interpretation Layers and Experience Creation for what it actually IS.

Truth is, there is no separation, between the Observer and the Observed.

***

OBSTRUCTING TRUTH

Belief is a condition in which One Deludes themself that they have the Answers.

When One Deludes themself
that they have the Answers,
One Negates the Impetus for Inquiry.

When One Deludes themself
that they have the Answers,
One Obstructs the Discovery of Truth.

Religion and Ideology,
Indoctrinate Belief.

Religion and Ideology,
Obstruct the Discovery of Truth.

***

FIGURING OUT TRUTH

"How does One figure out Truth?"

One does not "Figure Out", Truth.

Once Clarity is established,
One Sees Truth.

One becomes Aware, of Truth.

Truth, is not a calculation.

Truth, IS.

***

THE MASK SLIPS

Tyranny is quite averse, to the Conflict of having its Ideology and Propaganda, challenged by Truth.

Those that attempt to suppress Free and Open dialogue, give themselves away.

Tell me you're a Tyrant, without telling me you're a Tyrant.

***

FRAMEWORK FOR DISCOVERY

True Insight and Wisdom, is not a Framework for Belief.

True Insight and Wisdom,
is a Framework for Discovery.

***

A SHIFT IN PERSPECTIVE

Rather than being Defined by what One Believes, find Inherent Meaning through what One Values.

***

PLAYING THE PART

One wonders,
if these Western Government and Media Mouth Pieces, feel like Clowns.

Because they sure do,
look like Clowns.

***

SECURING INCESTUOUS CORRUPTION

"National Security" actually means Political Establishment Security.

If something jeopardises
the Political Establishment, it is then deemed an issue of National Security.

Why should a Political Establishment be Secure?

Allowing a Political Establishment to be Secure, breads Incestuous Corruption.

***

PATRIOTISM

Patriotism implies Subservience, to a Nation State.

Patriotism implies Subservience, to a Political Collective.

Patriotism implies Subservience, to a Psychological Construct.

Patriotism is a Mechanism for,
Antagonism and Manipulation.

Patriotism is the War Cry, of the Simpleton.

If all Nation States were to disappear tomorrow,
Humanity would still be here.

So what exactly,
is One subservient to?

PUERILE PATRIOTISM

Patriotism directly correlates with the attitude of,

"My side is the only side that matters."

Either One makes a stand for Truth and Humanity or Humanity itself, is not worth the trouble.

The Human equation is a simple equation.

Humanity will either...

Prosper together or Perish together.

There is no other way.

***

DESTROYING NARRATIVES

One can have all the Public Relations,
Perception Management and Narrative wins they like.

But Reality,
IS Reality.

Eventually, Reality will Destroy all Narratives.

If One is unwilling and/or unprepared to face Reality, then One's dire fate is sealed.

It IS,
what it IS.

***

ESCAPING REALITY

The more a Society Escapes into Fantasy,
the more the Reality becomes a Nightmare.

How about involving Awareness with this Reality and Transforming it into something worth engaging in?

An Environment Devoid of Consciousness, leaves vacancy for a Perverse Hellscape.

The term "Environment",
does not only apply to the Physical,
but the Emotional and Psychological also.

But do not expect countering mechanisms to be pleasant and comfortable.

***

HEALING INSANITY

If Human Awareness keeps escaping Reality, then there ain't gonna be no Sane Reality left.

When there is no longer a Sane Reality left, then countering mechanisms will re-establish Reality.

THE CAUSE IS THE SOLUTION?

How can One expect Politics to fix the mess, that Politics created?

***

DISTORTING TRUTH

Democracy ≠ Freedom

Health Care ≠ Medical Aid

Political Authority ≠ Morality

Religion ≠ Spirituality

Darkness ≠ Evil

Belief ≠ Truth

Singularity ≠ God

Distortion ≠ Association

DEFINITION

Distortion ≠ Association – A Distortion of Truth does not have any Association with the Actual Truth.

***

PSEUDO-TRUTH

All Ideologies,
Religious or otherwise,
are a Cancer of the Mind.

All Ideologies,
are a Pseudo-Truth.

Because if the Ideology is True,
then it is Truth, not Ideology.

Pseudo-Truth,
is Mind Cancer.

DEFINITION

Pseudo-Truth – That which One believes to be True, but is not actually True.

CLARIFYING RESPONSIBILITY

It is not the Responsibility of A Beautiful Aching to convince any Individual of anything.

A Beautiful Aching offers a perspective, for Individual readers to consider.

It is the Responsibility of the Individual reader, to assess this perspective for validity, or use this perspective for deeper contemplation.

A Beautiful Aching may continue to elaborate and provide additional reasoning for this perspective, but this is done as a courtesy, not an obligation.

The perspective offered at A Beautiful Aching, is not an ideology or a religion that is to be believed and worshipped.

The Responsibility to uncover and discover Truth, is with the Sovereign Individual.

The Responsibility to uncover and discover Truth, is with You.

If One wishes to remain ignorant,
then One is responsible,
for remaining ignorant.

***

THE ESSENCE OF SATANISM

The Essence of Satanism is the establishment of a perceived Sovereign Authority, External to the Sentient Individual.

This can take the form of a God, a Religion, a King, a Government, the State or any other viable vehicle.

In other words, the Essence of Satanism is any attachment to a perceived External Sovereign Authority.

Once this attachment has been created, the Sentient Individual can then be lead down any path.

Whether the path is Beneficial or Detrimental, is dependent on the motivations and Wisdom of the influencing vehicle.

True Sovereignty is found at the Core of the Sentient Individual, not External to it.

When the issue of Individual Sovereignty is finally resolved, the Human Psyche can then begin to operate correctly.

Until this is achieved, the Human Psyche will be susceptible to and exhibit varying degrees of dysfunction.

The Essence of Satanism, is a Question of Sovereignty.

***

IDENTIFYING EVIL

Evil can be identified by the calculated intent to cause malicious harm to Others, from a perspective of exceptionalism and self-proclaimed superiority.

Evil may operate openly, if it deems resistance to it, inconsequential.

Evil may operate subversively, if it considers exposure to it, detrimental.

When operating subversively, Evil will attempt to obscure, deflect from or cover-up the outcomes of its actions.

Whilst those with honourable intentions, will immediately acknowledge and seek to correct any unintended adverse effects of their actions.

***

SOVEREIGN RIGHT, SOVEREIGN RESPONSIBILITY

A Sovereign Individual has the ability to Defer or Annul Sovereign Right for any Injustice Another commits upon them.

A Sovereign Individual does not have the ability to Abdicate Sovereign Responsibility for any Injustice they commit against another Sovereign Individual.

This is the reason Satanism indoctrinates the Abdication of Individual Sovereignty.

The Abdication is essentially, Annulling Sovereign Right.

***

THE FALL FROM GRACE

The Fall from Grace is the Abdication of Individual Sovereignty.

Enough with the Self-Sabotage already.

***

THE VALUE OF PRAYER

Prayer is falsely recognising
Sovereignty in an External Source.

Prayer is abdicating
Sovereignty to an External Source.

Abdicating Sovereignty to an External Source, leaves One open to manipulation from Satanic forces.

At best, Prayer is little more than a virtue signalling, feel-good endeavour.

***

MORALITY BADGE

Whenever One makes a statement prefaced with,

"I'm a Christian...",

there is an Implied Morality built into the term which means,

"How dare you question my Morality."

"Do you not realise, that simply by claiming to be a Christian, automatically gives me a Morality Badge."

Compensating for anything there?

Like despicable Christians have never existed before.

The Inquisitions, The Crusades,
Nazis, The Mafia, Paedophile Priests...

You know, "Christian Values" and all.

Religion's lure is based on,
Implied Morality.

Implied Morality,
is safe, cheap, no effort Morality.

Christianity takes the easy ride on the coat-tails of Christ's Morality.

***

MORALITY BY ASSOCIATION

"Christ was a good person,
therefore, as a Christian,
I'm a good person"

Morality by Association.

***

MOLLYCODDLED SYCOPHANTS

The Universe exists for Sentient Entities to Explore.

Not for Spineless Sycophants to be Mollycoddled by some God.

Singularity is not God!

Singularity is not there to pander to One's whims or delusions.

***

WORSHIPPING FUTILITY

Religious Individuals use Worship as a sort of compensating shortcut for True Understanding.

This is equivalent to Worshipping at the Temple of Isaac Newton, as a means to Understand Calculus.

Worship, is a vain and futile attempt to avoid Difficulty and Darkness.

Wise Teaching, guides One through Difficulty and Darkness.

There are no viable shortcuts to True Understanding.

Worship means nothing,
other than abdicating
Individual Sovereignty.

***

THE TILLER OF WORSHIP

Tyranny is not particular, with what One Worships.

Tyranny is only interested, in that One Worships.

Because the Worship itself,
can then be used as a Tiller,
to steer One in any direction.

The actual object or ideology of Worship, is inconsequential.

***

DEFINING RELIGION

Religion is the Expropriation and Obfuscation of Wise Teaching for Political purpose.

Religion is the Politicisation of Spirituality.

Religion is the Corruption of Spirituality.

***

WHY RELIGION?

If One requires Religion,
as an Historical Legacy,
then One is Stupid.

If One requires Religion,
as Pretence for Morality,
then One is a Fraud.

If One requires Religion,
as a Virtuous Signal,
then One is Hubristic.

If One requires Religion,
as Means to avoid Adversity,
then One is a Coward.

If One requires Religion,
as Justification for Atrocity,
then One is Reprehensible.

If One requires Religion,
as Insurance for the Afterlife,
then One is Deluded.

If One requires Religion,
as Combination of the Above,
then One is Pathetic.

Which One are You?

PROMOTING SATANISM

Those that Promote Religion,
Promote Exceptionalism.

Those that Promote Exceptionalism,
Promote Satanism.

Therefore,
those that Promote Religion,
Promote Satanism.

Truth, Morality, Wisdom, require no Religion.

Truth, Morality, Wisdom, are inherent to the Sovereign Individual.

***

TOOLS FOR THE JOB

If a Chisel, Hammer and Crowbar,

Indoctrinated Emotional attachments,
then those are the Tools that will be used.

***

GROW UP

Those that have read this work to this point and still make reference to some God, lack the Courage to Face their own Life, lack the Courage to Face Themself, lack the Courage to Face their own Existence.

They still cling to the idea of some Being holding their hand.

Grow Up.

Same is true for Ideologues, that Worship Government.

Grow Up.

TERMINAL REFLECTIONS

"Kill them all and let God sort them out."

Be careful what you wish for.

The Reflection could be Terminal.

***

RELIGIOUS TRUTH

Any Truth that may be found in Religion, has actually nothing to do with Religion.

So what is the purpose of Religion?

***

INDUSTRIES OF WAR

If a society allows for the establishment of profit-based Industries of War, then this obviously creates the incentive to find or manufacture needed enemies, resulting in more War.

Welcome to the

"God Bless America."

Wow!
Arrogance much?

Stated more accurately...

Satan Bless

Satan Bless
the Child Sex Trafficking

Satan Bless

Satan Bless

CRIMINAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Either,
a Democratic Society holds their Corrupt Leaders
Accountable for their Crimes.

Or,
the entire Society is held Accountable for those Crimes.

Your choice.

If Sovereign Responsibility is abdicated to Democratic Leaders, then this is the outcome.

This is the consequence, of Democracy.

Democracy does not look so good from this perspective.

Does it?

THE FARMER AND THE PLOUGH HORSE

If a Plough Horse ever realises just how dependent the Farmer is on the Plough Horse, the power balance shifts and the Plough Horse then dictates to the Farmer.

If a Vassal State ever realises just how dependent the Empire is on the Vassal State, the power balance shifts and the Vassal State then gains the reins of Empire.

If a People ever realise just how dependent a Tyranny is on the People, the power balance shifts and the People then see the Tyranny crumble.

MINOR MISUNDERSTANDINGS?

Humanity is not in the mess that it is in,
because of Minor Misunderstandings here and there.

Humanity's Foundational Understanding, is corrupted at its core.

This is why Humanity,

***

DENYING DUALITY

Any proclamations of,
"Being the Light",

are fraught with danger and possibly, Evil.

Such a proclamation,
is denying Duality.

Such a proclamation, is a statement of Self-Righteousness.

The denial of Duality, is the road to Evil.

I Am
The Light
And
The Darkness.

***

COUNTERING EVIL

When Evil tactics and characteristics are used to counter Evil, how long before it is just, more Evil?

There are no easy, predefined
"Right" or "Wrong" solutions
when Countering Evil.

Context, with a Healthy Dose of Moral Discernment, are what determines an appropriate course of action.

In other words,
how to be Manipulative.

Is it not more Meaningful

If being Genuine, being Authentic
Wins Friends, Great.

If being Genuine, being Authentic
Creates Adversaries, Okay.

If being Genuine, being Authentic Influences People, Wonderful.

If being Genuine, being Authentic
Rouses Animosity, Oh Well.

If being Genuine, being Authentic
Reveals One to be Wrong, So Be It.

If being Genuine, being Authentic
Provides Opportunity for Correction, Fabulous.

If being Genuine, being Authentic
Fosters Deeper Self-Reflection, Perfect.

Behaviour based on the perspective of a Religion, an Ideology or even a Philosophy, is not being Genuine, is not being Authentic,
it is running a shallow level program.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

FREEDOM IS NOT, NO RULES

"I do not want to be bound by Rules."

It may be surprising to realise,
that One is always Bound by Rules.

The Universe itself, is Founded on Rules.

There are Rules to Dictate,
if a Seed Sprouts.

There are Rules which Govern,
when the Rains Fall.

There are Rules that Regulate,
how the Flower Blooms.

There are Rules to Determine, should One be Born.

There are Rules which Guide,
One's direction through Life.

There are Rules that Discern, when One finds Death.

The Idea of No Rules,
does not Gift One with Freedom.

The Idea of No Rules,
Drags One into a Nightmare.

...

Freedom is not,
No Rules.

Freedom, is the opportunity to navigate a path, toward Singularity.

A UNIVERSE OF RULES

The Universe has Rules for every detailed Expression.

Yet then somehow does not have Rules, for Human Behaviour?

***

UNIVERSAL FUNDAMENTALS

The Universe is Fundamentally Self-Organising.

But somehow, Humanity feels the need to be managed and controlled.

Why?

***

FOUNDATIONS, NOT SYSTEMS

There is no "Right System" to fix a Degrading and Dysfunctional Society.

A Degrading and Dysfunctional Society is not the result of Systemic Failure.

Systemic Solutions cannot fix a Foundational Problem.

The Foundational Problem, in a Degrading and Dysfunctional Society, is Poor Quality Individuals.

There is no System that can compensate for Poor Quality Individuals.

To fix a Degrading and Dysfunctional Society, improve the inherent Quality of the Individual.

Regurgitating God Nonsense or Spewing Ideology, does not make for High Quality Individuals.

High Quality Individuals will create High Quality Societies.

***

SYSTEMS AND CRUTCHES

A System is obviously required to improve the Quality of Individuals, but the System should never be seen as anything other than a tool.

A particular System may be able to elevate the Quality of Individuals to a certain level, but might stall and fail to reach subsequent levels.

In such a case, change the System.

Never become dependent on a System.

Develop and utilise Systems like rungs on a ladder.

At the highest level, the Individual will eventually need to let go of all Systems and all Crutches, before realising the state of Singularity.

POISON WISHES

Humanity already has available all it needs, for Individuals around the world to be healthy and prosperous.

Humanity does not need exotic technologies or access to more abundant energy sources.

Instead, Humanity is extremely careless and wasteful in its use of resources.

Is a Society supposed to be measured by how much cheap, disposable crap it produces and is amused by?

In fact, given Humanity's dismal state of Consciousness, having exotic technologies or access to more abundant energy sources, would only accelerate Humanity's destruction.

Currently, Humanity cannot handle, exotic technologies or access to more abundant energy sources. Because insanity is not cured, with exotic technologies or access to more abundant energy sources.

If One allows Insane Psychopaths to rule over them or in their name, how is One then to be categorised?

SOVEREIGNTY MEANS SOVEREIGNTY

One cannot be a Sovereign Individual,

at the pleasure of Sovereign Individuals.

Paradoxically, true Sovereign Individuals are quite capable without Government.

From a Universal Context,

From a Universal Context,
Governments are not Sovereign.

***

PSYCHOLOGICAL CRIPPLE

Abdicating Individual Sovereignty to some God,

FORGING GENERATIONS

A True Leader
does not seek to amass Followers.

A True Leader
Forges Sovereign Individuals.

TRUST AND VALUE

TRUST

You are obviously a product of the Universe.

Therefore, if the Universe
did not want You to exist,
You would not exist.

Given then, that the Universe requires Your existence, the Universe will hence provide,
for Your existence.

On condition,
You fulfil the requirements,
of a Sentient Individual.

What are the requirements of a Sentient Individual?

Resolving Conflict in a manner that contributes to greater Understanding.

Resolve,
The Question Mark (?).

***

THE PERILS OF HOPE

Hope clouds judgement.

When judgement is clouded,
decision making becomes compromised.

During times of turbulence and upheaval, accurate decision making, is vital.

Ego does Hope, because Ego's self-perception is always under threat.

Consciousness need not Hope, because Consciousness itself is never a Question.

There is a prevalent perception of Hope being the force that binds One's world together and if One should let go of Hope then everything falls apart.

Well...? No.

The only thing falling apart,
as One lets go of Hope, is delusion.

As far as Creation is concerned,
Trust, not Hope.

Hope longs for preconceived outcomes.

Trust embraces
Creation's unexpected gifts.

***

MY OPINION

Opinion is not Truth.

Because Truth,
is not an Opinion.

***

HOPING FOR TRUTH

Hope simply braces Delusion.

Truth need not Hope, to stand.

As all the struts of Hope are knocked away and the structure they presume to support still stands, then the structure is an aspect of Truth and the struts themselves were never required.

If the structure collapses without any support, then the structure was always a Delusion.

If an Opinion requires Hope for it to stand, then the Opinion is nothing but Delusion.

***

TRUST, NOT FAITH

Faith, is akin to Hope.

Faith and Hope imply a Fear that certain events will not result in any adverse effects on Oneself or those One cares for.

Trust, is Powerful.

Trust recognises that the Universe will unfold as it should and One will play their part to Confront and Resolve any adversity that may arise.

***

SEEKING REWARD

Seeking Reward for "good deeds" is a distorted perspective.

You are not a dog requiring
Reward for obedience.

You are Infinite Consciousness.
So who is there to Reward you?

When living the life of a Sentient Individual,
the Universe will provide for your existence.

With greater Understanding,
being its own Reward.

The entire Universe is your playground.

So what value are any of your trinkets.

***

TRUE VALUE

The Value of an Individual, does not correlate to the Value of One's bank account.

In fact, in many cases,
it is inversely proportional.

While those that Value their bank account more highly than the Quality of themself, are destitute in True Value.

As for those that Value nothing;
what can be said?

True Value is not something One obtains.

True Value is something One IS.

WORTHY OF HEAVEN

Heaven is not Found in the opposite direction of Hell.

Heaven is Discovered, when One drags themself through and out of the Bowels of Hell.

Only then, is One Worthy of Heaven.

Creating an External Hell, only leads to destruction.

Journeying through and transmuting the Inner Hell, culminates into the state of Heaven.

If One is yet to encounter any Sustained
Deeply Meaningful Pain, Difficulty and Suffering, then One has not yet Embarked on the Journey.

***

RESILIENCE

toward a cloud layer that presumably obscures the peak.

But upon breaching this cloud layer,
it is apparent there is no peak insight,

only another cloud layer, which is twice as far away
as the distance just crossed.

Now image what it is like going through this scenario, over and over again.

Would you give up?

Could you give up?

***

GOOD INTENTIONS

One may join the military, police force or obediently engage in actions dictated by a perceived authority, based on "Good Intentions".

But without sufficient levels of Awareness and Understanding, "Good Intentions" may well be manipulated to the detriment of Oneself and/or Others.

"Good Intentions" are not enough.

***

THE WISDOM OF CONFLICT

A Conflict cannot be Resolved
if it is Suppressed or Prevented from occurring in the first place.

Be it an Inner Conflict or a Conflict with Others, allow the Conflict to play out.

Suppressing Conflict,
Suppresses Resolution.

Suppressing Resolution,
Inhibits Understanding.

This does not imply actively creating Conflict, purely for the sake of Conflict.

This does not imply initiating Violence to Resolve a Conflict.

***

PERPETUATING FAILURE

An inability to Understand
how the Universe works,
does not then imply actions of some God.

An inability to Understand
how the Universe works, ensures continuing mistakes being made.

Understanding and Knowing how the Universe works as a Whole, is Wisdom.

***

MISCONCEPTIONS OF WISDOM

"I'm Old, therefore I'm Wise."

Wisdom is not a Quality

Wisdom is a Quality earned,

Wisdom, is Timeless.

Wisdom is self-evident,
once the benchmark

RIGHT AND WRONG

How does One apply Logic and Reason

***

DIVINE IMPOSSIBILITY

Singularity cannot recognise Sovereignty outside of itself, because there is nothing outside of Singularity.

Singularity IS Sovereignty.

One cannot enter into a state of Sovereignty, whilst projecting Sovereignty onto an external God concept.

This is an Inner Conflict that is the progenitor, to an endless array of subsequent Conflicts.

More God, does not resolve this Conflict.

All Gods Must Die,
before Sovereign Singularity can Blossom through the Individual.

KNOWING DIVINITY

Divinity is not,
"All Knowing".

Divinity is,
the State of Knowing.

If Divinity was "All Knowing",
then what is the purpose of the Creation?

The Creation is the result of Consciousness endeavouring to Understand itself.

Thus, the underlying Nature of the Universe, is the Question Mark (?).

Recognising this distinction is vital.

PLAYING THE GAME

Using the sporting analogy,
there is a reason why the game is played.

Meaning, that Expectation

The process of Playing the Game may well uncover the Unknown;
developments that cannot be foreseen.

Thus, revealing new Insight and Understanding.

Creation,
is Playing the Game.

Creation,

Divinity,

Divinity,

LIFESTYLE INERTIA

Every type of Lifestyle has an inherent Inertia to it.

This includes a poor, unhealthy Lifestyle.

Transitioning from a poor, unhealthy Lifestyle, to a vibrant and healthy Lifestyle, requires One to arrest the current Lifestyle Inertia and reorient it toward a healthier direction.

Once sufficient Inertia is induced into this new Lifestyle, reverting back to past habits becomes more difficult.

Diet is also an important part of One's Lifestyle.

Contributing factors to unhealthy Lifestyle Inertia, are unresolved levels of Inner Conflict.

PARENTAL LOVE

The Love that a parent experiences for their children, is not based on Unconditional Love. No matter how a parent themself, may feel about the situation.

Genuine Unconditional Love is a whole different matter.

The Love that a parent experiences for their children is at best, Psycho-Biological.

This Psycho-Biological Love, is nonetheless very important and should in no way be dismissed. A parent must feel a strong connection to their children, so as to be able to protect, care for and raise their children.

Genuine Unconditional Love, is an experience encountered when Awareness reaches the state of Universal Consciousness.

While Awareness occupies the shallows of Consciousness, the Emotional Body is restricted and lacks the ability to experience Emotions from a higher intensity, higher frequency perspective.

If a parent's Love for their children was Unconditional, then the parent's Awareness would reach Universal Consciousness, as soon as they become a parent.

This is definitely not and is far from, being the case.

As a parent, One may not like to acknowledge that their Love for their children is limited. But this is, what it is.

A parent could well experience Unconditional Love for their children, once Awareness attains a state of Universal Consciousness. But One does not attain the state of Universal Consciousness, simply by becoming a parent.

Manage that.

Manage things

Manage every Manage!

Manage!

Manage!

Stop.

Here is a suggestion...

How about bringing Mindful Awareness to One's Self and One's Life.

Maybe then,
One will gain insights,
into Destructive Behaviour.

Maybe then,
One will move beyond,
Self-Sabotaging Choices.

Maybe then,
One will gain,
Actual Understanding.

Rather than,
Managing Oneself,
into Insanity.

Managing issues,
is not Resolving issues.

CONTRADICTIONS OF INSANITY

As an example, if One has no interest in an unhealthy diet and lifestyle, then One has no need to Manage their diet and lifestyle.

However, if One is compelled toward an unhealthy diet and lifestyle, but in turn, also wishes to be healthy, then One needs to Manage this irreconcilable contradiction.

It is the Contradictions of Insanity that must be Managed.

A Sane Individual and a Sane Society have very little, if anything, to Manage.

Furthermore, it is important not to confuse Contradiction with Duality. These are not the same thing.

INCENTIVISING NATURAL BEHAVIOUR

Human Nature is often pointed at in response to all manner of Perverse Behaviours.

However, among Humanity generally, there is no real Understanding of actual Human Nature, because Humans are raised in a Perverse Social Environment, created by authoritarian systems such as government and religion, which incentivises Perverse Behaviours.

Natural Systems impose disciplines that cultivate real, actual Human Nature.

Perverse Behaviours need to be flushed out of the Human system, then a new Natural Social Environment established. Which promotes real, actual Human Nature, resulting from Individual Self-Discipline.

Authentic Economic Free Markets are a part of a Natural Social Environment, and Natural Social Environments reside within the greater Natural Environment.

Any attempt by government to eliminate Difficulty and Risk, is creating a Perverse Environment, no matter how well-intentioned.

It should also be noted, that actual well-intentioned government is very uncommon.

Government presents a veneer of good intentions, to mask the march toward Tyranny to an unsuspecting and comfortably apathetic population.

ASCENDING THE LADDER

Consider a world, a Humanity, where a particular region of this world, is either Spiritually more Evolved, Technologically more Advanced or Economically more Affluent, than most other areas of the world.

Now, instead of this region attempting to hinder the growth of other areas, it engages to advance and elevate the less developed parts, where possible.

Not only to reach an equivalency with the developed region, but exceed it and move well beyond it.

To the current Human mindset, this would seem an absurdity.

Why would One help Another reach levels of prosperity greater than One's own?

Why would One be bothered with those that have less, are less?

When Ascending a Ladder, why does one foot support the body on a lower rung, so the other foot can then step higher? Why does one hand take secure hold on a lower rung, so the other hand can then reach further?

The anchoring foot and hand, provide stability for the other foot and hand, so as to scale higher up the ladder with assurance.

Once they have attained a stable platform on a higher rung, the lower foot and hand can then move more confidently to the next higher rung.

This is how One successfully Ascends the Ladder.

Consider Humanity operating in this way.

Rather than being resentful and obstructive to the progress of Others, what if lesser regions of the world were supported in their advancements by those with greater means. So when the time comes, those with current greater means, could then in turn, be supported in their own evolving progression.

What a world this could be.

INDIVIDUALITY ≠ EGO

Generally speaking, it is considered that a strong sense of Individuality somehow correlates to an inflated Ego.

This is incorrect.
In fact, the inverse is true.

Individuality and Ego are opposite ends of a spectrum.

A strong sense of Individuality means a deep level of Self-Awareness.

An inflated Ego is compensating for a shallow level of Self-Awareness.

A strong sense of Individuality has a greater capacity for compassion.

An inflated Ego is fear based and seeks to alleviate the fear.

A strong sense of Individuality is stable under extreme pressure and turbulence.

An inflated Ego compensates for fragility with belligerence and hostility.

Individuality can comfortably function alone or in groups.

Ego is afraid of being alone, seeking collectives to be defined by.

Individuality is convergent toward Singularity.

Ego is divergent

But the most telling difference between the two is...

Individuality,

Ego,
sees Separation.

Obsessing after Material Wealth and being overly attached to Material Possessions, is a massive Spiritual anchor.

Because such attitude and behaviour, ensures Awareness is restricted to the Material Realm.

One does not need to be Materially Wealthy, to Obsess after Material Wealth and be overly attached to Material Possessions.

DEPLETING INERTIA

In order to gain and maintain control over their populations, Western Governments have dumbed-down their populations in various ways, almost to the point of being basket cases.

Western Society has been running on past Inertia for quite some time. But now, that Inertia is quickly depleting.

EXPLANATION

The use of the term, Inertia rather than Momentum, is a deliberate choice.

Inertia is a property of Mass, regardless of Motion.

Mass, is Material Substance.

So if Mass is depleted, then Inertia is also depleted.

CHEATING ONESELF

Humanity in general, has a serious aversion to Difficulty.

This aversion, manifest in its extreme, culminates into unprovoked violence.

This aversion, in its more moderate forms, expresses itself into an over dependence on comfort and convenience.

An over dependence on comfort and convenience, then seeks Cheats to desired outcomes. But without the associated Difficulty and Understanding that comes when truly earning those outcomes.

These Cheats take the form of...

Cheats for diet.

Cheats for health.

Cheats for fitness.

Cheats for fasting.

Cheats for exercise.

Cheats for lifestyle.

Cheats for cognitive function.

Cheats for knowledge.

Cheats for intellect.

Cheats for meditation.

Cheats for achievements.

But the question that is rarely asked is...

"Who are you Cheating?"

Looking for Cheats, means an avoidance of Difficulty. It means delaying to engage in improvement, until a convenient Cheat is presented.

Avoiding Difficulty, means never adapting to Difficulty. Never becoming accustomed to Difficulty. Always looking for comfort and convenience at the expense of all else.

Humanity's modus operandi is, Cheat, Cheat, Cheat, Cheat, Cheat, Cheat, Cheat.

Meaningful Understanding and Outcomes, are not accessible, with Cheats.

THE OLD DECREPIT WALL

If One becomes confronted with an Old Decrepit Wall, the immediate undertaking is its repair and sound revival.

What initially draws attention are the major cracks and holes, which dispersed upon its surface,
set the priority task at hand.

Subsequent rebuilding of the most serious degradation, reveals the next layer of neglect,
obscured by greater need.

Once this level of deterioration

Methodically rectifying these subtle imperfections, here offers the opportunity for a refreshing coat of paint.

With the Wall's improvement

RELIGIOUS DNA?

"Religion is in our DNA."

Utter Nonsense!

Religion has nothing to do with DNA.

Religion is Indoctrination. That is all that it is.

Only a severely shallow level of Awareness can be convinced that Religion is in DNA.

True Morality and Integrity are found at much deeper layers of Awareness.

Some portion of Morality and Integrity is able to percolate through to the surface. But Morality and Integrity themself, are not a result of Religion.

Morality and Integrity have been obfuscated by Religion, which then uses them for control and manipulation purposes.

Accepting claims of the Religious foundations of Morality and Integrity, means that Religion can then dictate and distort what is considered Morality and Integrity.

Religion is an absolute Abomination, because so many find it almost impossible to see through to its Insidiousness.

RELIGIOUS LIFE-PRESERVER

For those that have had to contend with severe difficulty and turmoil in their life, particularly from a young age, Religion my feel like the only option to gain some sense of stability and direction.

This is perfectly reasonable.

Anything that is not directly harmful and offers respite in such situations, is beneficial.

As an analogy, if a person is seriously struggling whilst being battered about in a stormy ocean, having a life-preserver thrown to them is prudent.

It is when the life-preserver becomes a dependency and the answer to all things, long after its need has expired, does it become an issue.

Religious communities may offer a social support network for those in need. However, there is no reason that these social support networks cannot exist without the associated bullshit and indoctrination.

Religion is not the source of Morality in these communities, the Individuals are.

Developing the capacity to engage with extreme instability is a highly disciplined process. It is not something a young person is ever expected to master.

MEET YOUR MAKER

"Meet Your Maker."

Religious Individuals, particularly Christians, have utilised such terms to imply that some Being purposefully created them, in the same way One may create a piece of furniture.

This is not the case and there is no such Being.

Does One purposefully create the cells in their body?

Does a tree purposefully create its own seed?

Do animals purposefully create their own offspring?

Do these outcomes occur in the same purposefully way as One produces furniture?

Not the cells in One's body, nor the seeds of a tree, nor the offspring of animals, are created in the same way as piece a of furniture.

All these things are an outcome of a Natural Process that is not dependent on purposeful input from any Being.

There is no Maker directly and purposefully involved with producing any of these outcomes.

You are an outcome of the Natural Process of the Universe.

You are a Natural outcome of the Creation.

There is no Creator.

PATH TOWARD DESTRUCTION

"There is nothing wrong with believing in God."

Um, Yes There Is!

Has nothing written to this point been Understood?

Believing in Falsehoods and Untruths is the Path Toward Destruction.

The fundamental premise of the entire Universe is to Understand and Know Truth.

Falsehoods and Untruths create False Realities.

Prolonged False Realities will be destroyed.

This, is an Absolute Certainty.

Belief itself, is setting up False Realities.

Belief in some God is the ultimate False Reality.

False Realities will eventually descend down the path of all manner of perversion.

Is this not already blatantly obvious with Religious fanatics?

Does the above quoted notion come from a desire to see the destruction of Humanity?

Degrees in Falsehood, are still Falsehood.

Stagnation is a temporary phenomenon.

Either, perception moves toward Truth and greater Understanding, or it moves toward greater Falsehood.

The path of greater Falsehood, is not a viable option.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

SO, WHO ARE YOU?

"Are you Serbian or Croatian?"

***

Having been born in the northern region of the former Yugoslavia, Međimurje, my parents and I immigrated to Australian in 1970, when I was 3 years old.

Međimurje or Medjimurje, means Between the Rivers in Serbo-Croatian. It is situated between the Mura and Drava rivers. Not to be confused with Medjugorje, which means Between the Mountains. This is another place entirely.

Throughout my childhood and into my teens, I was always told we were from Yugoslavia and I had a Yugoslav heritage from the region of Međimurje.

One day, while in high school, a couple of my classmates of Greek and Italian background, who were aware that I was Yugoslav, asked me whether I was Serbian or Croatian.

This confused me. I had never heard these terms before.

"I'm Yugoslav", I replied.

"Yeah, but are you Serbian or Croatia?", they insisted.

That simple question was beyond my ability to respond to.

Later at home, I asked my mother, "Are we Serbian or Croatian?".

Her response was, "Croatian".

"What does that mean?", I followed up with.

She proceeded to explain that Croatia was like a state in Yugoslavia.

Well, whaddya know!? I had no idea I was supposed to be Croatian. Why didn't my DNA tell me this?

At least now I knew who I was. I was Yugoslav, from the state of Croatia, living in Australia.

Moving along several years, Yugoslavia dissolved as a country in 1992.

I was 25.

What am I now?

I didn't feel any different. I didn't feel better or worse. My family was still the same. My background and history were still the same.

So what actually changed?

Nothing, really.

I have never been overly nationalistic for Yugoslavia, or even my home now, Australia.

A political construct failed.

But, so what.

Some people died needlessly on both sides, which made me wonder why. But other than that, life went on as normal.

Given this new situation, what did, being "Yugoslav" even mean?

What does, being "Croatian" or "Australian" even mean?

If the political construct of Australia collapsed tomorrow, would there be turmoil?

Probably.

But why?

What would really change, other than the place that I live, is now called something different and its political structure has changed?

Would Moral Values, change?

Would Individual Integrity, change?

Would people's treatment of each other, change?

If substantive things like these, change, when a political construct fails, then these things never really existed in the first place.

Did they?

Attaching Individual Identity onto flimsy and unstable Foundations, such as Nationality and Religion, leads to a very precarious and insecure Psychological and Emotional Structure, when those Foundations eventually crumble.

All Material Conditions and Boundary States are unstable Foundations for Consciousness. This includes, all Psychologically and Emotionally contrived Foundations.

Consciousness cannot rest on such things. Because such things, are a product of Consciousness.

(As a side note, Croatians refer to Croatia as Hrvatska and Croatians themselves as Hrvati. Personally, I was never fond of the term, Croatia. Why did the British have to come up with different names for other peoples and their regions?)

MORAL PRECEDENCE

Morality is a Mirror.

Claiming the right and acting to steal Another's property, sets the Precedent for Others to steal One's own property, without any recourse to Karmic Sovereign Right.

Claiming the right and acting to unjustly destroy Another's property, sets the Precedent for Others to destroy One's own property, without any recourse to Karmic Sovereign Right.

Claiming the right and acting to unjustly physically harm Another, sets the Precedent for Others to physically harm Oneself, without any recourse to Karmic Sovereign Right.

Claiming the right and acting to unjustly end Another's Life, sets the Precedent for Others to end One's own Life, without any recourse to Karmic Sovereign Right.

One may have the physical ability and capacity to prevent reciprocity for their unjust actions, but given the transient nature of Reality, that ability and capacity will not endure indefinitely and consequences will follow.

The more One builds barriers to prevent accountability, the more time, effort and resources One must spend building barriers to prevent accountability. Eventually, time, effort and resources, will run out.

The effects of Karmic Sovereign Right diminish, the more One outsources and abdicates Sovereign Right.

This is why Governments and Religion indoctrinate from a young age, the notion of Sovereignty being external to the Individual. Thus, setting up Psychological programming for the constant abdication of Sovereign Right.

One's own Moral Standards toward Others, defines the Moral Standards toward Oneself.

This is Moral Precedence.

On a side note. The concept of a "Sovereign Citizen" is absurd.

Citizenship is a title granted by a State. This implies that the State has Precedence over the Citizen.

Citizenship is a title that a Sovereign Individual can accept, but it never has Precedence over a Moral Sovereign Individual.

Whole Consciousness, where nothing is absent, nothing is missing and nothing is separated.

This separation that is experienced in the shallower Awareness states, is an ego illusion.

Upon the death of the ego, this illusion evaporates. The idea of a God evaporates. Unless, everyone and everything is considered a God. But this is absurd.

The term "God" itself, implies a superiority; a hierarchy of obedience.

If God is now seen as Consciousness and Consciousness cannot be fragmented, then how can one aspect of Consciousness, be superior to another aspect of Consciousness?

This makes no sense.

Are you now worshipping and praying to yourself?

The term "God" itself, is absurd.

FAKE SPIRITUAL TEACHING

Contrary to what some Fake Spiritual Teachers may present, simply being a "Good Person", is not the goal of Spirituality.

Self-Awareness and Self-Understanding, is the goal of Spirituality.

Being a "Good Person", may be an outcome of Self-Awareness and Self-Understanding. But it is not the goal.

Anyone can pretend to be a "Good Person", and therefore, claim Spiritual credentials.

True Spirituality, does not work in this way.

Why do Fake Spiritual Teachers promote vague superficialities and nebulous promises?

Because they have no idea of what real Spirituality is. That is why they are Fake.

SETTING CHILDHOOD FOUNDATIONS

When parents of young children are inevitably confronted with existential questions, rather than regurgitate religious tropes based on scriptures taken at face value or cold, disengaged universal accident theories, here is a suggestion of how to initially broach such enquiries, which in turn help lead the child to deeper levels of Self-Understanding.

A parent can state,

"You are an expression of Singularity, through the Universe."

or

"You are an expression of Singularity, through Universal Creation."

This foundation is then able to be built upon from the information presented here at A Beautiful Aching, or from One's own personal experiences and insights.

***

PARALLEL DEVELOPMENT

In a transitioning environmental paradigm, it is not a linear serial progression that takes place. Changes occur throughout the system, in a myriad of areas, in a concurrent and dependent manner.

Development of one aspect of the Paradigm Shift, occurs in conjunction with all other aspects of the Paradigm Shift.

Being aware of and tracking one particular area of change in isolation, may be puzzling and frustrating without the awareness of its dependence on factors and developments in other areas.

As an example, monitoring physical geopolitical changes in isolation, fails to see the codependent requirements that must transpire across the spectrum, both materially and immaterially, for further transformation to occur in the geopolitical realm.

If one particular aspect of change were to develop too far ahead of all others, then a destabilising imbalance would result, which could potentially evolve into an unrestrained runaway phenomenon, that may be impossible to then rein back.

Obviously, destabilisation is a mandatory feature during any Paradigm Shift, but it is prudent not to push too hard in any one area, at the expense of all others. Although at times, it may be necessary to push hard in one particular area, to keep in sync with other areas.

Allowing the natural development of the Paradigm Shift to transpire is often easier said than done. Especially when the intensity of the transition becomes intolerable. But it is this intensity that is actually required, to help clear the path for further progression.

UNSETTLING SOVEREIGNTY

Many Christians and other religious groups get unsettled when told, there is no God.

It seems the ego does not like having no God to fall back on.

It seems the ego does not like being responsible for its own actions.

The excuse of a God, was never a valid excuse.

Either accept Sovereignty or be hung by Sovereign Responsibility.

Because the Natural Algorithm, considers every Sentient Individual a Sovereign Entity.

DELUSIONS OF DARKNESS

Darkness is not Evil.

Darkness does not equate to Evil.

Dark Forces are not necessarily Evil Forces.

Dark Forces are in a constant interactive dance with Light Forces, to create and sustain Life.

Dark Forces work within each and every Individual, to promote health and well-being.

Darkness is difficult, but this does not make Darkness, Evil.

Being afraid of Darkness, does also not make Darkness, Evil.

Equating Darkness to Evil, traps One in a cycle of Evil, through the Denial of Duality.

This is why Evil has Humanity by the balls, most especially the West.

***

THE EVIL OF THE WEST

The Western political establishment does not necessarily inflict Evil onto its own populations directly.

Because the Western political establishment requires a herd of docile and compliant cash cows and cannon fodder to draw from.

The Western political establishment does not wish to overturn their entire bountiful apple cart.

Instead, the Western political establishment implements the most grotesque acts of Evil onto the peoples of other regions in the world. Whilst using their own comfortable populations as barriers to accountability.

So long as Western populations maintain their levels of comfort, with their investments and stock portfolios continuing to grow, and Hollywood producing asinine drivel that keeps the seals clapping, they will not even acknowledge the atrocities committed in their name.

In fact, many will even welcome them.

***

ROOT OF ALL EVIL

Religion is the Root of all Evil.

Or more specifically, The Disassociation Of Sovereignty from the Individual, is the Root of all Evil.

What is the purpose of Religion?

To Disassociate Sovereignty from the Individual to some external source.

That external source can be a God, a Government or anything else. As long as it is perceived to be external to the Individual and the Individual is subordinate to it.

Most deny the connecting lines of Religion and Evil, because most lack the Depth of Awareness to see the connecting lines.

The connecting lines are buried deep within the “Sub-Consciousness” of the Individual.

Allow Awareness to penetrate deeper into Darkness, find the connecting lines and thus, sever them.

Few will embark on this path though, because most just assume the lazy and cowardly option of riding the coat-tails of Others.

Hence, they simply claim themselves Christian, Jew, Muslim, Buddhist, Hindu...

COMPOUNDING ERROR

When foundational Understanding is flawed, the Error in Understanding carries over to subsequent Error-riddled belief, which continues to Compound even greater Errors over time.

Each Error that is assumed to be true, produces more Error.

As time progresses further away from the original Error, the cascading effect of subsequent Errors approaches a critical point of failure. Where a system can no longer bear the corrosive effect of Untruth upon the structure.

This structure can be Physical, Emotional, Psychological, or any and all of these in combination.

Religion, with its external God that must be worshipped, is the flaw in foundational Understanding, that is now approaching a critical point of failure.

Christ may well have spoken about deeply profound subject matter, in very detailed terms, but because this was beyond the comprehension of the Apostles, they did not record these exchanges.

They also may have considered them unimportant, because of their lacked of understanding.

Religion, is the Fast-Food of Spirituality.

A generous appraisal of Religion, is it gives the impression of Spiritual development, without any actual Spiritual development. All in a cheap, convenient, pre-packaged experience.

This technique is to distract effort away from real Spiritual development, and direct it toward theatrical performance which serves no meaningful benefit.

DOMINANT SPECIES

Do Butterflies pray to a make-believe God?

Do Deer make a point to go to church every Sunday?

Do Ants build monuments to Holy Religious Icons?

Do Tigers obediently worship some imagined Magical Deities?

Of course they do not.

Why?

Because not even the Animals of this Earth, are as Retarded as the Humans of this Earth.

Why are the Animals not as Retarded as the Humans?

Because Animals have no mechanism for Ego.

Ego is possible within the transition phase between Animal and True Biological Sentience.

Ego, sees itself as separate to other aspects of Creation.

Ego, sees itself as better, superior to other aspects of Creation.

Ego, sees itself as fearful, defensive toward other aspects of Creation.

In doing so, Ego misses the Totality of what the Self, IS.

Death of the Ego, corrects this perceptive aberration.

What does Religion do, other than separate a God from the rest of Creation.

The Creator IS the Creation.

There is no "Intelligent Design", which would imply a Creator being separate from the Creation.

So, what then is to be Worshipped through Religion?

Worship in this case, is a narcissistic indulgence.

But with the death of the Ego, narcissistic indulgence is impossible, because the Creator IS the Creation.

***

PSYCHE DESTRUCTION

Humanity has allowed the creation of a perverse perception of Reality for itself.

A young developing Psyche, being raised amongst perverse perception, becomes discombobulated when attempting to comprehend the mountainous illogical inconsistencies it is being fed.

An example of this, is the promotion and reinforcement of the view, that there is a wonderful, caring God, that looks after the good and innocent people of this world.

What then, is the Psyche to make of young children being abused and slaughtered by Evil?

Where was this wonderful, caring God, when it came to protecting this innocence?

Does the Psyche now double-down on this delusion of a God?

If One's intent is to destroy a population's Psyche, a viable approach would be to construct an appealing and comfortable reality narrative. Then, once that narrative has been disseminated and accepted, engage in a process of both contradiction and reinforcement of the narrative at every possible opportunity.

Through this fatigue mechanism, the Psyche is weakened and eventually, possibly destroyed.

However, this process does not have to be taken to the point of Psyche Destruction, it can be limited to a range that makes the Psyche malleable enough for manipulation.

What better false reality narrative to construct, than one that is difficult to disprove to those of a shallow Awareness disposition. Such as, a wonderful, caring God narrative.

This technique can also be applied from a government level, toward a national population. In which the population is hyped-up and propagandised into believing in their goodness and superiority. While at the same time, the government commits egregious atrocities upon its own population or other peoples.

The erosion of Psychological structure takes place when this inconsistency is repeatedly encountered.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

ENERGY DEFICIENCY

The food a person consumes, does not provide the totality of the Human Body's Energy requirements.

The food a person consumes, drives the primary process which taps into the infinite pool of "Life Force", and that draws in the predominant Energy the Human Body utilises.

The fundamental mechanism for this process is the Biological Nervous System. Or more specifically, the Synapses which constitute a Biological Nervous System.

A Synapse is made up of what is referred to as a Presynaptic Neuron and a Postsynaptic Neuron with a small Synaptic gap in between.

As a Synapse fires, it creates an Ethereal vacuum, which Life Force is then drawn into.

Due to the fact that each individual Synapse and the Energy required to fire, is so small, the Life Force that is dawn, is also small.

However, when there are trillions of Synapses firing constantly in the Human Body throughout the day, the Life Force or Energy draw, is substantial.

Physical movement, especially during high intensity exercise, is when muscle Synapses are most active. But, with the brain composed of the highest concentration of Synapses, Brain function is by far the greatest contributor to Life Force reception. Provided there is any real meaningful Brain activity occurring.

Meaningful Brain activity comes about from active cognitive participation, not from passive stupification in the form of such things as mindless entertainment.

With regard to the food component, not all food is equivalent in this process. Healthy, high quality foods facilitate the process. While unhealthy, poor quality foods inhibit the process.

Mechanical Energy equations are not relevant to Biological systems, when there is no understanding of the underlying Cosmic Energy interactions with Biological systems.

QUESTIONING TOLKIEN

If the character of Saruman the White, is intended to portray a peak physical expression of Consciousness, then the portrayal is flawed, since this portrayal was corrupted by Sauron.

A peak physical expression of Consciousness cannot be corrupted, because Consciousness itself cannot be corrupted. Consciousness needs to be restricted and limited, for corruption to be possible at all.

Sauron would have been little more than a petulant, snivelling runt, in comparison to a peak physical expression of Consciousness.

But also, if Saruman was a fraud, Gandalf would have recognised him as such long ago; if Gandalf was as wise as he is presented to be.

Another thing that makes no sense, is why would Gandalf the White, fear the Witch-King of Angmar? Is it just because the Witch-King has a fancy lizard with wings to ride on?

As far as Star Wars and the Jedi are concerned, well, they have issues all over the place.

The main one being, is equating Darkness with Evil and then speaking about balances in the "Force".

Evil is not part of some Balancing Mechanism within the Universe. Evil is the result of a localised corruption of the Balancing Mechanism.

REFLECTIONS OF BEGINNINGS AND ENDINGS

For Universe to End, means Universe did Begin.

For Universe to End,
means
Consciousness did End.

But
Consciousness can not End,
because
Consciousness did not Begin.

Therefore Universe can not End,
because
Consciousness can not End.

So Universe IS,
because Consciousness IS.

Consciousness
Universe

An Inseparable
Eternal
Reflection.

***

CLAIMS OF BEGINNINGS

To make the claim that the Universe has a Beginning,
One must first Define what the Universe IS.

If the Totality of the Universe cannot be Defined, then how can a claim of a Beginning be made?

Can One identify a single example of an Object, Item or Thing, with a traceable Beginning, whose existence is not derived from a pre-existing Object, Item or Thing?

If the Universe as a whole has a Beginning, then it was derived from an already existing Foundational Source.

The Universe as a whole must be a Reflection of that Foundational Source, because how can the Foundational Source manifest something that it is not?

If the Universe as a whole is a Reflection of this Foundational Source, then the Reflection has existed for as long as the Foundational Source has existed.

Time is a function within the Universe, because the Foundational Source cannot be governed by Time.

If the Foundational Source cannot be governed by Time, then the Universe as a whole cannot be governed by Time.

If the Universe as a whole cannot be governed by Time, then the Universe has no Beginning.

So, is this a Paradox or a Contradiction?

The Universe is a Reflection of Consciousness.

With the Universe
Reflecting back to Consciousness.

***

IMPORTANT DISTINCTION

It is more accurate to refer to the Universe as being a Reflection of Consciousness, rather than a Creation of Consciousness.

Generally, "Creation" implies planning and constructing, like that of a man-made physical structure.

This is not the case for the Universe.

Universe was not planned.

Universe was not constructed.

Universe IS.

This is why Sentient Beings exist, to Explore and Understand the Universe.

If a "Creator" Created the Universe, then the "Creator" already Knows all there is to Know about the Universe.

Therefore, Sentient Beings are not required, because there are no Questions to be Answered.

With no Questions to be Answered, Energy Flow is not possible and Stagnation is the Reality.

If Stagnation is the Reality, then there is no Universe.

Yes, there is a Creation. But it is a uniquely specific type of Creation and it is important to Understand the distinction.

It is also important for One to be able to realise and see the Nature of the Universe for themself.

Not simply rely on what Others have said or written in the past, nor what mathematical equations may allude to.

Mathematical equations can be written to infer all manner of gobbledegook, based on the assumptions that are made.

CREATION OF THE FIRE BLOSSOM

A CURIOUS SPECIMEN

This floral enigma is bestowed a dual horned flame, based within the receptacle of the flowering bloom.

With these flickering flame tips twisting in helical form, reaching up and convening at the crown.

Each floret expresses an alluring appeal,
Captivating from a distance, Agonising on contact.

However, when engaged with in a manner of pure Sincerity and Gratitude, the sensation that ensues
Transcends the past, Transcends the future,
Transcends all that ever was and all that ever will be.

Resulting in a Peaceful Content, that opens the eyes to Eternity, anchoring them in this irresistible Timelessness...

That IS.

***

The Fire Blossom is the name given to the logo or symbol which represents A Beautiful Aching.

This verse endeavours to outline its design and construction processes, exploring the methods and techniques that were utilised in creating the end result.

DESIGN CONSTRAINTS

The underlying principle for this design is, The Trinity or The Three.

The only driving dimension to constrain the entire design is to be the overall size. All other elements are to be sized and positioned through naturally derived geometric relationships and proportions.

These geometric associations should be on a direct first level basis wherever possible, although this is not always practical. In some instances, implied proportions and relationships from other areas of the design may be utilised, so as to not over complicate the geometry.

Below is a key of the symbols that will be used to identify the types of relationship constraints which appear on the associated diagrams.

CONSTRAINT ICON KEY
CREATION OF THE FIRE BLOSSOM

***

GEOMETRIC SUPREMACY

Mathematics does not define Geometry.

Geometry defines Mathematics.

Geometry expresses temporal relationships between Singularity's unique individual boundary states.

Mathematics defines and describes these Geometric relationships.

So Geometry encapsulates Mathematics.

Geometry is not a subset of Mathematics.

When using Mathematics, One is referencing Geometry in some way, shape or form.

Simply put, the tree comes first, the description of the tree follows.

Similarly, the spider does not need Mathematics to construct its web.

Mathematics, is the Language of Geometry.

A Simulation uses Mathematics to Define a universe.

Reality is the Universe, which Mathematics can then Define.

STEP 1 - BASE CIRCLE

STEP 1
BASE CIRCLE

This is a fairly straight forward first step.

It is simply, a circle.

This circle establishes the overall size of the image and is the only feature to be given a predefined dimension. It does not matter what the actual dimension is, because all else will be proportioned to it.

All other features and proportions will be derived from structural geometric relationships as stated previously.

STEP 2 - INNER RING, OUTER DIAMETER

STEP 2
INNER RING, OUTER DIAMETER

This step gives an inscribed circle of a hexagon within the base circle.

The hexagon fits with The Trinity theme as six is a multiple of three.

STEP 3 - INNER RING, INNER DIAMETER

STEP 3
INNER RING, INNER DIAMETER

Next, the inscribed circle of a twelve-sided polygon is specified within the previously define circle.

The twelve-sided polygon also fits with The Trinity theme given that twelve is again, a multiple of three.

STEP 4 – BOUNDING DIAMETER

STEP 4
BOUNDING DIAMETER

Another inscribed circle is then generated from a hexagon within the inner ring.

This encloses the region where the main emblem is to be positioned.

STEP 5 – FLAME CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 1

STEP 5
FLAME CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 1

Three circles of the same size, 120° apart are put in place.

The centre of the top circle is vertically coincident to the base centre.

The same tangent constraints apply to all circles.

STEP 6 – FLAME CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 2

STEP 6
FLAME CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 2

The overlapping area of the three circles defines a central circle tangent to those three circles.

STEP 7 – FLAME CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 3

STEP 7
FLAME CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 3

A series of four circles is now draw, these will help delineate aspects of the flames.

Features and constraints are symmetrical about the vertical centre line.

The top smaller circle is tangent at four of its contact points.

STEP 8 – FLAME CONSTRUCTION

STEP 8
FLAME CONSTRUCTION

The arcs that make up the first flame can now be outlined from all the previous geometry, as shown above.

STEP 9 – FLAME INTERNAL CUT-OUT

STEP 9
FLAME INTERNAL CUTOUT

The internal flame cut-out can now be made.

The full constraints on this diagram are not included, as this would present too much complexity for the purposes of this verse.

STEP 10 – FLAME MIRROR

STEP 10
FLAME MIRROR

All the flame geometry is then mirrored to create the second flame motif.

STEP 11 – RECEPTACLE CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 1

STEP 11
RECEPTACLE CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 1

Four circles are drawn to set the foundation for the receptacle.

Features and constraints are symmetrical about the vertical centre line.

STEP 12 – RECEPTACLE CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 2

STEP 12
RECEPTACLE CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 2

Another four circles complete the setup for the receptacle.

Features and constraints are symmetrical about the vertical centre line.

STEP 13 – RECEPTACLE CONSTRUCTION

STEP 13
RECEPTACLE CONSTRUCTION

The outline of the receptacle is generated from the receptacle setup geometry.

STEP 14 – RECEPTACLE INTERNAL CUT-OUTS

STEP 14
RECEPTACLE INTERNAL CUTOUTS

Internal receptacle cut-outs are drawn next.

The full constraints on this diagram are not included, as this would present too much complexity for the purposes of this verse.

STEP 15 – GAPS AND SEPARATIONS

STEP 15
GAPS & SEPARATIONS

Gaps in the required areas are now created, with these all being the same width as the inner ring.

STEP 16 – WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 1

STEP 16
WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 1

Web construction begins by setting up a symmetric convergence of a nine-sided regular polygon. Nine is again a factor or three.

STEP 17 – WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 2

STEP 17
WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 2

Two straight lines are then drawn from the centre out to the inner ring and each are 5° from the vertical.

STEP 18 – WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 3

STEP 18
WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 3

An inverted diamond shape is constructed down the convergent polygon pattern and then mirrored about one of the lines extending from the centre.

STEP 19 – WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 4

STEP 19
WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 4

Within this inverted diamond shape, a circle is established by its tangencies to the sides of the inverted diamond. This becomes a circumscribed circle for a hexagon, which then implies its next inscribed circle.

STEP 20 – WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 5

STEP 20
WEB CONSTRUCTION GEOMETRY 5

The lines of the inverted diamond shape are then offset inward by the distance between the circumscribe circle and the inscribe circle of the hexagon.

These become the geometric basis for the web.

STEP 21 – WEB GENERATION

STEP 21
WEB GENERATION

This initial web geometry is then arrayed around the centre thirty-six times to create the web background.

STEP 22 - FINAL GEOMETRY

Displaying all the elements gives the full geometry for the Fire Blossom image.

STEP 23 - THE FIRE BLOSSOM

Filling in colour, adding additional text and effects, gives the Fire Blossom its resultant form.

Please don't ask me, what am I thinking, it's about you.
Please don't ask me, I never can see you, what can I do?
My first impulse is to run to your side.
My heart's not free and so I must hide.
Please don't ask me what I'm gonna say to you.

I toss and turn, can't sleep at night, it's worrying me.
I go to bed, turn out the light, but your face I see.
It only hurts the more I pretend,
That we could ever be more than friends.
Please don't ask me why I'm so in love with you.

You could easily make me happy, that I know.
But I'll try my best to never tell you so.
I will sing to you my love songs and pretend.
And I'll keep the secret right down to the end.

Please don't ask me why I'm not talking, I just can't explain.
And please don't ask me why I go walking out in the rain.
I could not live the lie it would take.
To have you near would be a mistake.
Please don't ask me why I'm so in love with you.

A PURE HEART

“GOHRASS!

We have captured Kah Duhran!”

The heavy throne room doors burst open. Gar Rog, appointed Seer from the royal court, dispenses with formalities in alerting the Viceroy of the added danger to an already desperate situation.

“What?!”

Some attendees to the emergency meeting growl from the back of their throats as part of a nervous defensive reflex.

“And you brought them here?!”

Imperial guards follow the oracle into the legislative chamber. Two pair supporting poles between them, suspending the couple by their wrists, which also happen to be bound behind their backs. With tearing pain electrifying shoulders, having been twisted in this abnormal manner.

“Who are they?”

“A farmer and his wife from Temek.”

Harsh treatment since capture is clearly evident on both, as blood stained clothes are reduced to mere rags.

Gar Gohrass, Viceroy of Rohur, standing under an immense circular, domed skylight, turns and faces the procession as they enter the stone assembly hall.

“What makes you say they are Kah Duhran?”

The Viceroy plainly displeased with the interruption.

“And why would Kah Duhran be in a sewer town like Temek?”

The guards stop, just inside the wooden arched doors. Rog proceeds into the ring of stone columns which provide support for the glass canopy above.

“There is talk of them spreading subversive lies against the royal rule.”

Both having to elevate their discussion due to the constant drone which is now getting noticeably louder by the hour.

“That does not make them Kah Duhran, that just makes them insurgents.”

An uneasy chatter from bystanders begins, complementing the already ominous background noise.

“Why are you wasting my time with such nonsense? Are you not aware that we have more pressing concerns to deal with?”

Agitation from all parties is palpable.

“I am a Royal Seer and I say there is more to these two than just being pesky insurgents.”

Gohrass relents, his impatience demanding a hasty resolution.

“Fine. Bring them!”

Rog summons the pole bearing guards, which then unceremoniously dispose of the humanoids just within the perimeter of the hefty pillars, not too far from where the Viceroy and his consul are standing.

“The male is Aros. The female, Kei-Len.”

Aros stood first, hands still bound, his body relieved that the strain on weary shoulders had eased.

Behind her husband, Kei-Len rises slower, exhaustion more visible. Momentarily placing her forehead on his back, before gaining composure and taking a step forward.

“Alright?”

Aros asks softly, when the sensation of his wife’s resting head gave indication to her discomfort.

Resilience returns to her face, as Kei-Len takes a breath and nods in acknowledgement.

“They do not look much to me. Have you interrogated them?”

The Seer now irritable with the Viceroy’s misgivings.

“We tried!”

Gohrass looks over Aros.

“Are you Kah Duhran, farmer?”

No response.

“We have not been able to get anything out of him.”, Rog interjects, attempting to hurry the process.

“Well rip it out of his mind, you are the Seer after all!”

“I have not been able to do that. That is why I suspect they are Kah Duhran.”

“What about her?”

“Her as well.”

“What kind of incompetence does the Royal Court send me?”

Snot ejects from the mystic’s snout as he snarls back with a grimacing stare, not willing to risk any greater show of petulance.

Now increasingly agitated, Gohrass turns his attention back to Aros.

“Did you bring that destruction upon us?!”

Pointing up through the skylight to a now sizeable orange ball, wagging its tail, contrasting the night sky.

"No.", Came the reply.

"Do not toy with me, sewer farmer.

If you are Kah Duhran, then I demand you stop that abomination. NOW!"

Aros says nothing, as he stares back at the hulking seven-foot lizard, dressed in red tunic, embellished with the emblem of his royal order.

Kei-Len meanwhile, looks around the room, making note of the rock pylons leading up to the round, transparent covering, which frames the fireball almost perfectly. Giving the impression of an eye with a dilating fiery pupil.

Gohrass notices her inquisitiveness.

"I do not have time for this.

Continue to play with me and I will squash this woman of yours like a bug."

Discovering a semblance of her normal vigour, Kei-Len allows her natural feistiness to surface.

"Your words are hollow."

Eyes widening and displeased with such insolence, Gohrass shoots back.

"What?! Why does your woman speak for you?"

Again, no response from Aros, as he looks at her, curiously.

"Are your threats intended to intimidate children?", Kei-Len continues, seemingly a little too comfortable, given the current circumstance.

"This woman annoys me. I will squeeze her head like a puss filled infection and you will have front seat for the show!"

“We have watched each other die a thousand times.”, she states. As if it were a mere trifle.

Aros, with an increasing sense of dread, feels the need to underline the seriousness of the situation.

“Yes, and each time more painful than the last.”, addressing her.

...

...It took a moment.

But as Kei-Len looks back to him,
a tear soon forms.

Along with a discrete, surrendering sigh.

Whilst reliving the sombre truthfulness within his piercing statement...

“ENOUGH!”

A reptilian paw grabs her by the throat, slamming her like a doll against the nearest stone pillar.

“Bind this witch to the column!

You have one last chance, farmer.”, Threatens Gohrass.

“If you are Kah Duhran, then end that. NOW!”, Referring again to the menace in the heavens.

“If you are not Kah Duhran, then you are both wasting my time.

Which will it be?”

Aros locks eyes with Kei-Len. She knew what the response would be.

"..."

"If that is your choice."

With the rock structure at her back providing the necessary resistance, a fist collapses Kei-Len's rib-cage and a hand then reaches in, crushes and tears out her heart.

A roar erupts in the throne room.

The excitement of the audience overflows with enthusiasm, as the brutish display gives temporary distraction to the fate descending upon them.

...

...Aros, just stood.

Eyes still anchored on Kei-Len.

Watching her life drain away, like the emptying of a ruptured container.
But Awareness, is unmoved.

He sees her eyes slowly close, as blood streams from her chest.
But Awareness, does not waver.

He watches her head slump forward, restrained at the neck.
But Awareness, remains resolute.

He suffers this scene being burnt to his memory.
But Awareness, is unflinching.

He senses his legs almost buckle beneath him.
But Awareness, will not run.

He feels his gut being twisted and ripped apart.
But Awareness, will not hide.

He notes his heart being crushed by an ethereal hand.
But Awareness, does not falter.

He accepts a tsunami of panic wash over him.
But Awareness, remains steadfast.

He discovers new levels of pain, as each time before.
But Awareness, will not submit.

He notices Gohrass and his frenzied red eyes.
But Awareness, does not surrender.

He perceives the blood-lust rage of the assembled horde.
But Awareness, is unyielding.

He hears the loudening roar that envelops it all.
But Awareness, remains enduring.

Given these horrific events and his agonising reaction,
Awareness does not stagger, not even in the slightest.

Awareness, remains Still...

...

Gohrass stands directly before him, sneering, smirking, pleased with what he has done.

"This is your doing. This is what you chose.", he mocks.

Now witness to Kei-Len's heart being thrust into his impassive face, Aros fixes eyes on the Viceroy.

Blood drips from Gohrass's silver-green jaw, as every last piece of the organ, is spitefully devoured.

POISON FOR THE WICKED

...

...Dusk breaks in the sky, as sun begins to ascend.
Light breaches the dark, thus ending this dire night.

Dry sloping terrain, is proving arduous to climb.
As the heavens still roar, while fury yet swirls about.

Gravel slips underfoot, with little strength to resist.
Knees baring the impact, upon surface hard as stone.

Pain erupts up his legs, but he holds on to her firm.
No chance of letting go. No possibility of her fall.

Wrapped in a red tunic, is her upper body and her head.
Blood covers all their clothes, whatever remains of them.

Rocky outcrop on the hillside, is the objective to be reached.
Seems impossible to consider, this destination to complete.

Distance covered without effort, some dozen times or more.
But given current factors, achieving once would now take all.

A meagre moment just to rest, that stretches out to many.
However, even standing, is the difficulty to address.

Is this the way things are? Is this the way it is to end?
If so, so be it. Because there is nothing, that is left...

...

Feeling a hand grasp his shoulder, Aros opens dust covered eyes to see what phantom has come for him.

“Can I assist you master Aros.”, are the words that emanate from the deep, familiar voice.

“Brohk!”, is the surprised response. The name almost sticking in his dry throat.

It takes a while for his body to regain some semblance of life, since collapsing in that place for what may have been an hour or even more.

“Would you like me to carry her?”, offers the Suhn Gar.

A sense of relief and renewed determination rises, as vitality sluggishly returns. The gesture of support stokes a flame in Aros that had almost burnt itself out over the course of the last few hours.

However, amidst his senses reviving, the perception of who he is carrying and the reverberation of earlier events surfaces again, giving him pause. Processing matters momentarily, in some part at least, simply to carry on.

Wanting to now stand, his numb legs seem unable to comply, but is quickly caught as he stumbles backwards in the attempt.

“Steady there. Are you sure I cannot take her?”, Brohk repeats his offer.

“I will carry her please.”, Aros advises.

“Can you help us get to those rocks?”

Gar Brohk, a roving work hand that often travelled to Temek and the employ of his two roadside discoveries, presently finds himself bracing Aros in his labour of carrying Kei-Len’s body. Fortunately, Brohk’s large frame aids in shielding them from the dust and sand being hurled about continually as they trudge.

With blood flow returning to his legs, Aros is walking on his own upon reaching the sanctuary of the megaliths. Although the distance was not great, the time and effort it took to get there seemed far more than would be necessary on any other day.

“Never thought I would be so relieved to see a Suhn Gar.”, acknowledges Aros in gratitude.

The nest of boulders atop the dry, arid rise provides gratifying, if only somewhat tolerable shelter from the prevailing wind and noise. The city below, obstructed by the murky haze, is difficult to see other than in silhouette. Occasionally breaking into clearer view when the gusts briefly subside.

One of the larger masses in this rock-pile projects from the ground and features a recess along its broad base. Consequently leaving a small nook, that affords some cover, within which Aros lays out Kei-Len's body. Ensuring that her resting place is as well prepared and comfortable as possible.

Finally satisfied that he has done all he can, he sits in front of her torso, leaning against the stone face, offering a little more protection to her from the increasingly tempestuous elements. Brohk takes a place beside him, concealing Kei-Len's legs, which Aros quietly appreciates.

"So how did you come to be on this road? My last hearing was of you and Kei-Len being taken by the Seer's guards."

Brohk obviously intrigued by the developments.

"No doubt he presented you to Gohrass as a trophy."

"He did.", came the concise reply.

"And you manage to escape the stronghold?"

"Well, there was a commotion in the throne room."

"Your doing?"

"No, Kei-Len's."

"In what way?"

"A pure heart is poison for the wicked.", Aros reflects. Acutely anguished by the preceding night's affair.

“Hmm, feisty to the end.”, muses Brohk. Recalling Kei-Len’s sometimes prickly, but always straightforward manner.

A sombre tone lingers as the two merely sit, not speaking at all, watching the city below come in and out of view, governed by the dictates of the wily squall. Occasionally glancing at the sky to register the peril’s pending arrival. Keen to have it done.

“Is that red tunic a prize?”, Brohk enquires.

“Unintentionally, it seems.”

“It pains me that some of my people have surrendered to such wickedness. It was once not like this.”

“You do not have to be burdened by the actions of others my friend.”

Aros reciprocates a hand on Brohk’s shoulder, again showing appreciation for his sorely needed assistance.

“I understand. But it is not the actions of others that burdens me, it is the inaction of those that did nothing to stop it.

Accounts must now be squared and many innocent will pay the price, as has your Kei-Len.”

Brohk looks skyward, indicating to the fiery incomer approaching collision.

“This is the grief that troubles me.”

Tapping Brohk’s shoulder, Aros can offer no words for him that are able to ease the current reality. A sorrow that taxes them both.

With the conversation petering out, a reflective mood descends. Aros reaches back and finds Kei-Len’s hand. Feeling compelled to hold her in whatever small way he can, given the time remaining.

The roar grows louder, thick like molasses in the air. Even the ground beneath and the rocks at their back resonate in permeating severity. Gale gusts churn the dust, sand and gravel making breathing a real task, even through the scant coverings available.

"It is almost upon us.", Brohk yells. His final words.

Intractable noise ceases when the thunderous and piercing barrage ruptures even protected eardrums, thus relieving the two of hearing. Although the reverberations continue to be felt through the terrain and surroundings objects.

A wind shift brings the unrelenting furore head on, with no possibility or point of moving. Resulting in dirt and sand being blasted directly at them, disintegrating clothes and ripping away flesh.

The sustained onslaught most certainly means that survival is unlikely before the moment of destructive impact. At this stage, the meteor ejects such a massive wave of intense, rolling fire that the heat generated manages to melt the surface of the boulder they lean against.

Which, in all likelihood, would indicate that their bodies are engulf and vaporised, in an instant.

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

THE FINAL CALL

THE INTRODUCTION

The Silent Stillness of Space is disturbed by an awakening Presence.

An enormous craft in stationary orbit, around the blue planet below, was the origin of the beacon that summoned the ancient cosmic Titan from its hibernation. Which to this point, extended across several celestial life-times.

The sense of this Being has no source, only a profound emanating Existence.

A solemn reverence arising from those on board, provides the invitation for the Entity to infuse itself through the vessel and coalesce in part, inside the living quarters occupied by the esteemed instigator of the call.

Framing a portion of the cloud speckled world, a large oval-shaped viewing portal opens out opposite the entry. Light reflecting from the planet's surface, into the dimly lit accommodations, silhouette's the hooded Emissary standing within its border.

"Welcome Master."

Was the opening communiqué, not spoken, but succinctly expressed through channels that precede vocalisation.

"I have often questioned whether we would ever be in Presence again.", Ardath conveyed, to the formless Awareness behind him.

"Master? You still address this Soul as, Master?", came the response.

Impactful in its delivery, even with impressions of it being restrained so as not to overwhelm the recipient.

"You have come to be Master yourself, long before this Soul's dormancy. So why still refer to it as, Master?"

Ardath turns to face the sparsely furnished landscape of his temporary abode. Placing his left hand on his chest and bowing slightly in adoration.

"How can I not?

The One to Find me. The One to Teach me. The One to Guide me.

So yes, always respectfully, my Master."

"The honour is noted old friend.", came the appreciative reply.

"In any case, the dormancy of this Soul was ended for good reason One trusts?"

"Indeed."

"What is this world below here? There is unfamiliarity with this system."

"The inhabitants refer to the planet as, Earth. Your state of dormancy precedes the systems birth."

"The situation to be dealt with is on this planet then?"

"It is."

"All other efforts have not brought about required results?"

"Only to a limited extent."

"Very well. Present the circumstance as it is."

THE HISTORY

“A full history is available amongst planetary records, as expected, but a somewhat concise explanation grants that natural development of Sentient life on this world, saw several different branches evolving.

With a native Humanoid and a native Reptilian, being the two prominent.

Primarily, an unconventional resolution is required regarding the Humanoid branch and its manipulation.

It is foreseen that the current Human species is on path for total collapse, if a major intervention is not undertaken. Even though, the basis of this situation, results from many previous unwise interventions.”

Ardath turns back to face the planet below and exhales sombrely, as he continues to relay his report amidst the darkened silence of his lodging.

“Those native Humanoids do not appear familiar to these presently. As they were larger in size, having a covering of thick long body hair, excluding the face.

Off-world races having come to this planet, found them to be quite suitable for utilisation as a labour force in various on-world tasks. Given that surface conditions would not permit themselves to remain for prolonged periods of time.

However, the natives were not as accommodating as their visitors would have anticipated, so it was decided to develop a species that met the requirements needed, but also being unquestioningly obedient to those they were to serve.

To achieve this, formative substance from the off-world race had been blended with an indigenous species, creating a hybrid branch. The perceptive state of this offshoot was then restricted to material levels, limiting its underlying Sovereignty.

It came to be discovered that by introducing severe traumatic conditions within psychological structure, makes it acutely problematic for the perceptive state to transition through these seemingly overwhelming barriers. Thus, leaving a life form of sufficient intellectual capability, yet avoids a non-compliant difficulty.

Additionally, a concept of "God" was configured into the new species, to ensure forthcoming obedience."

"What is this, God?", inquires the ubiquitous presence.

"It is presented as the Creator of the Universe, which must be revered and obediently worship, for risk of being outcast to a place of eternal torment, should One ever oppose or even question its authority."

"This seems rather absurd to any rational reckoning."

"Of course. But this is, What IS."

Walking over to a small table, Ardath pours a tea-like beverage into a glass receptacle and ingests a sip, then supports it in the palm of his other hand, taking a moment to arrange the remaining mass of convoluted historical threads, into a succinct yet comprehendible form.

"For quite a time this was successful. Soon, other off-world groups came and performed modifications to this new species, utilising it for their own purpose.

Considerable changes were made, modifications introduced. Countless races infusing their own material onto the elemental biological framework.

Compounding all this, were numerous destructive natural events, which contributed to trauma already induced within psychological structure. Resulting in the perceptive state being forced ever closer toward the material boundary, restricting awareness and intelligence further.

Malicious entities sensing vulnerabilities, took advantage of the situation. Establishing pervasive systems and structures, as parasitic mechanisms for vitality extraction from the Souls bound to these servile Humans.

It was not long before Souls were essentially depleted into lifeless husks, a direct result of insurmountable feeding operations.

As Sentient populations grew, the deficiency of viable Souls saw replenishment by the Etheric Field birthing new Souls. These young Souls were obviously not developed to a sufficient level to be able to withstand, let alone overcome, such a tremendous onslaught.

Young Souls have been lost in numbers that are shameful to even mention. The Etheric Field's ability to continually birth new Souls at the required rate, has reached a limit.

Furthermore, the Energetic environment of this Earth is shifting. The planet will no longer be amiable to Sentient individuals of a stunted perceptive disposition.

Unless these individuals advance, they will find the ever-increasing Energetic intensity becoming more and more inhospitable. Such that their level of diminutive perception will provide them ample opportunity to vacate this world.

If conditions are left untended, self-sustaining Sentient life here will become impossible. Karmic consequence for the interference is then carried by all those involved for the lifetime of their Souls. In many cases, Karmic consequence shall outlive the Souls themselves."

THE SITUATION

A growing tenseness developed as Ardath unravelled the saga. With a stern and less restrained reply impacting him significantly, although somewhat less than he was anticipating.

"What of it?

Planets, indeed, entire systems have been lost before.

Why should this circumstance require the awakening of this Soul and the utilisation of its final manifestations?

Why is it that the great Ardath or other Kah Duhran cannot deal with this themselves?

Let these Souls, these Beings, face the repercussions of their actions.

Let them humbly accept the opportunity to learn restraint, prior to interfering in areas they are either not invited or lack the wisdom to deal with.

Let this be an example lesson for all involved and all observing.

Let this catastrophe be their burden to bear."

An empty pause allows space for tensions to ease, before Ardath ventures to continue.

"Agreed.

Although, an occurrence has come about which changes response options considerably.

The material additions and manipulations have yielded an unexpected potential. One that was not noticeably present in any of the parts.

Granted, as currently embodied, the Earth Human is seemingly of little evident value, beside a source of biological material.

But upon a full awakening, is able to readily penetrate deeper into the Void than any other know species.

Beyond the level of the Soul itself."

The interaction ends abruptly...

...

...

...

After a time, a response emanates from the emptiness.

"Investigation has revealed the level of energetic intensity which can be endured by this hybrid species is significant.

To such an extent, that at its maximal levels it is able to reach conditions which cause deep awareness pathways to develop, extending significantly beyond the Soul itself.

As you are aware, there is possibility for this in other races, since these are the vehicles of Kah Duhran. But it is not prevalent.

Amongst Earth Humans, it is almost common.

What was not foreseen by those forming this combined species, was the degree to which these suppressing mechanisms would be rejected.

Natural tendencies for the perceptive state to return to the Source were severely underestimated. The biological resilience developed through hybridisation, gave the material form an inherent potential stability to withstand the extreme turmoil that natural counteracting processes generate. It could even be considered a hyper-elastic reaction.

By pressing the perceptive state toward an extreme separation from the Soul, stimulates remedial measures to compensate. Which then propels the perceptive state beyond the Soul itself, whilst the vessel remains intact.

However, the activation of this response is unpredictable. As those unaware of it occurring find it difficult to trust and adapt to. Fighting with it continually, mostly to their own detriment."

"It seems grounds for intervention are warranted." Ardath proclaims.

"Agreed, an unconventional intervention has merit in this case.

Have efforts to stabilise the situation begun?"

"Volunteer Souls from this galaxy and others are being inserted into the Etheric Field as a stabilisation measure.

These Souls are then better able to contend with the volatile instability of the Human psycho-biological organism, arresting the effects of malicious parasitic forces.

Soul insertion programs have been carried out to coincide with the dramatic increases in population growth on the planet.

This very craft is one of many platforms from which such programs operate. In fact, there is another insertion event occurring soon, that may be taken as an opportunity to join."

"If all facilitating arrangements can be made beforehand, then yes, this would be advantageous."

"It must also be noted, many of the Souls responsible for this dilemma have volunteered to assist in these stabilisation efforts, both on and off world.

Should a course of action be initiated to reverse the degradation, their co-operation would no doubt be available"

"This is appropriate and they will be called upon in such a case.

What of the native Reptilian species? Information of their well-being is not immediately available." Probes the formless entity.

"They predominately dwell underground, having no real contact with the surface races. Their numbers are much fewer than those of the Humans.

Dealings are maintained with certain off-world groups and they monitor the situation above them."

THE PLAN

Placing the receptacle back on the table, Ardath enquires,

"Regarding courses of action, is there a preliminary perspective on how the decline is to be corrected?"

"Given the nature and trajectory of this situation, an eventual global crisis that provides the awakening opportunity for many, is likely.

The resultant emotional and psychological turmoil grants better receptive conditions for offering alternate truthful perspectives for consideration.

But to maximise this potential, considerable prior arrangements and contingencies must be set in place.

Numerous volunteer Souls will be drawn to participate in this. A base level of Self-Awareness and trusting inner guidance, can direct them toward the actions that are to be instigated."

Ardath paces the floor in front of the portal and adds,

"It appears there are three primary stages that are to transpire.

One. Establishing Individual Sovereignty as the basis of Human identity and interaction.

Two. Building new decentralised systems and structures based on Individual Sovereignty, which exist in parallel with current systems.

Three. Deconstructing the old centralised parasitic structures."

"That is a sound summation.

At best, the process may simply require clarity and direction at appropriate periods to keep it progressing. The details of course, shall no doubt become more apparent as circumstances develop in the moment.

This approach offers the least destructive path, although great difficulty will still need to be overcome, from which substantial benefits might yet emerge."

THE ROLE

Discourse ceases briefly, as time is allowed for the full exchange to settle and possibly any other considerations to arise.

"Is there perhaps a foreseeance of the material expressions and manner they are to be manifest?"

Ardath queries, gauging the mode of the undertaking.

“It is a manifestation of three. One male and two females.”

“Is this spanning several temporal periods?”

“No, just one. A Soul Trinity.”

“Three material expressions within the same temporal period?”

“That is correct. The male is the anchor, whose temporal span encompasses the two females.”

“Balance and stability may be a cause for concern, dealing with so much at once.”

“If this is how it is best executed, then this is how it shall be done.”

Again, a pause, as an earnest sensation permeates the room, before Ardath receives confirmation of that which saddens him.

“Do all entangled parties calling for this Souls involvement understand the consequences of proceeding?”

“They do.”

“Upon conclusion of the final life, this Soul’s time is ending. It will no longer be available, success or failure.”

“This is Understood.”

“Very well, let us then proceed.”

THE PREPARATION

Ardath stood with his back toward the viewing portal, hands crossed at front.

A singular point in space immediately opens up with a brilliant flash of light, leaving this large unsettling creature before him.

Recognising what was manifest, a reminiscent grin finds its way onto Ardath's face.

Humanoid in form and definitely male, a hairless body covered by plates of hard calloused skin, as the creature's thick broad shoulders reach just above the Emissary's head.

Startling upon first sight, is an odd mannerism of emitting short bursts of air out of its nostrils, whilst scrunching its face in the process.

"I remember this incarnation." Ardath muses.

"Taarak is the name, is it not?

As I recall, it was buffoonish and rather obnoxious in nature."

The creature spoke in a deep, gruff voice,

"Yes, those aspects were amusing.

It may be entertaining to play with them one last time, if opportunity permits."

Blasting his nostrils, whilst scrunching his face at the end of the sentence.

"The planetary rules of entry and interaction dictate that abilities such as simply appear and disappear will not be available once incarnate."

"This shall not be necessary and it is of no real importance."

"Let us go find a gown to cover you with, it will give you opportunity to amuse yourself, playing the obnoxious buffoon, naked.

Something to fit a large Suhn Gar should be the appropriate size."

The door opens before them and Taarak duck's underneath, then closes again, as they both venture down the corridor.

THE INSERTION

After boarding and completing the screening process, Ohre'Na walks down a corridor toward the entrance that knowingly, she was not coming out of. The transition through screening left her nothing more than a thin white gown as a covering, along with a blue pill in a small chest pocket, which is to be taken once instructed.

Her athletic bipedal Feline features and graceful movement typify the physical characteristics of a young adult Torgehn female.

Being keenly cognisant of the surprise induced in those passing by, she responds in kind to the respectful bowed heads, since Torgah are highly regarded for their astute insight and wisdom, even at a relatively young age and it was not common for a Torgehn to be see in bodily form outside their home world of Urehn Dek.

How she came to be here is difficult to rationalise, only that a gossamer thread pierced her heart and drew her from a distant segment of the galaxy, concluding on the other side of the approaching doorway.

Aware of the plight on the planet currently orbited, she understood that her Soul would soon become an intrinsic part of its unfolding destiny.

Passing through a scanning field as she reaches the entry, it confirms Ohre'Na's identity before opening and allowing admission, then closing behind, once she enters the moderately crowded holding chamber.

"No turning back.", is the sensation that subtly bursts from within, having now come to the end of her mystical navigation aid.

The entire facility is lined with a semi-reflective, mostly homogeneous metallic material. There are no furnishings of any kind, apart from a boxed section along the entire perimeter, incorporated into the walls and floor. Small openings in the vertical face indicate a venting network of sorts and given the suitable proportions, the ductwork functions as seating for some of those present.

Observing the attendees, it seems as though a multi-racial gathering is underway, owing to sentient life-forms from across the galaxy and beyond represented. Most recognisable, a few not.

Then, as her eyes continue scanning, they fall upon a familiar form, one that was not expected in this place. A form, that like her own, is rarely found outside the fourth planet of the Urehn system.

The Torgehn male is seated on the peripheral formwork, across to the left side of the entry. Patiently waiting, yet watching those arriving, with only a barely perceptible change of expression as Ohre'Na establishes a visual connection.

Memories of her late grandfather wash over her like a wave, whilst making way toward a familiar presence. His large gleaming sapphire-blue eyes, similar to her own, help in promoting feels of ease amongst the tense apprehensiveness of the room.

"Greetings Shah.", she offers. Shah, being a respectful term for elder males of their race.

"Well met young one.", the old Torgehn replies. With a depth of calm intent in his voice, that gestures to the many long years of wisdom gained. Even for a Torgehn, his age is noteworthy, but far from frail is the physique and demeanour exhibited. As the muscular frame of a Feline male in his prime is still enduring.

"It seems you and I find ourselves far from home, young siekha.", he continues.

Expressing an endearing smile, impressions of Ohre'Na's grandfather become more vivid, as, "young siekha", is how he often referred to her.

"It is an age since I was last called siekha, Shah."

"Given my protracted life, you are still young enough for me to call you siekha.

I am Ghen and like you, find myself in this place, at this time."

"Ohre'Na is my name. Protracted life or not, I am pleased to find you here."

"Come, sit by me young siekha. This waiting would be better filled with some pleasant company."

“Thank you, Shah Ghen.”

Ohre’Na sits, leaning against the wall behind her. Feeling somewhat relieved that the journey to this point was over.

“Have you been aboard long?”, Ghen inquires.

“I have not yet seen a full day of this world’s cycle and you?”

“Ah, several I have witnessed and they have proven quite intriguing.

Indeed, just the day past, a strange occurrence arose about the ship.”

“In what manner?”

“A few days prior, a Kah Duhran by the name of Ardath was invited to board, along with many other prominent members of various races. However, I am unable to discern the nature and purpose of their visit.

Then, the day gone past, a rather unusual presence surrounded this vessel. It was as though the history of a billion lifetimes opened wide a hole in space and enveloped the entire craft within itself.

Truly peculiar experience.”

“Perhaps this is reason for the Kah Duhran’s attendance?”

“Yes, I sense a correlation.”

Meanwhile, the entry doorway at the far side of the enclosure opens once again, giving way to a curious and very large creature. It appears somewhat Human, apart from a covering of sizeable calloused growths that have an approximate resemblance to plate armour. At least, this is inferred from the arms and legs, which are not concealed by the uniformly prescribed gown.

“I am not familiar with this race.”, comments Ohre’Na, upon observing its appearance.

“Nor I.”, the old Torgehn responds.

They both watch, as it strolls up to a group of Rengeth, then pokes one in the arm saying,

"Taarak stand here now.", in a heavy gruff voice.

As the Rengethi stumbles sideways from the force of the push, this, "Taarak", steps forward onto the spot vacated and simply stands there. Blasting his nostrils, whilst scrunching his face.

The shorter and slender Rengethi, clearly displeased by the rude incursion, chooses to not escalate and moves off with the rest of his group, over to the other side of the premises.

Ohre'Na, noting the ample free space to stand elsewhere, expected a serious altercation as she watches astonished that the Rengeth uncharacteristically walk away without reprisal and Taarak, unmoved from his newly gained territory, blasts his nostrils, whilst scrunching his face.

A gentle smile, accompanying a lightened mood is the reaction to Taarak's goofy manner. But after pondering a short while, concerns begin to arise.

"Shah Ghen, why would such a creature have come to be here? Has it lost its way? This seems not the situation for it."

"Hmm, at times a facade may misrepresent the underlying substance, in favour for, or against. I suspect there is more being obscured.

One moment! Are you able to detect that siekha? The craft is moving toward closer proximity to the planet."

"Yes."

"It must soon be time."

A disquiet percolates within the two Torgehn and once noticing this about themselves, glance around the room to gauge similar sentiment among the rest of their companions.

Ohre'Na spots Taarak leaving his occupied territory, headed in the direction a female D'Jogar, standing in an apparent meditative state, not too far from herself. D'Jogar, are easily identifiable due to the elongate cranial structure. This results in acute analytical abilities, as a consequence of their skulls capacity to house a larger brain.

As the oversized creature comes to a stop behind the D'Jogarri, he inspects her hairless ovoidal head, which reaches the level of his chin, then begins rubbing the top of it in a back and forth screwing motion with the tips of his plump fingers.

Stunned, the D'Jogar whips around to confront the disruption, only to be stunned once more from being looked down upon by a monstrous beast.

After composing herself, the two are left to stare at one other for several moments, when suddenly, Taarak blasts his nostrils, whilst scrunching his face.

Initially perplexed, the D'Jogarren female soon offers a reluctant grin, tapping the impertinent brute on the chest, then continues on with her meditation.

Chuckles emanate from a number of points around the room, as Ohre'Na observes the crowd watching the unfolding antics. Others simply appear more at ease by the unexpected capricious actions from this enormous oddity.

Looking back to Taarak, she finds an intense gaze directed at her. His eyes piercing hers, feeling as if peering into a deep chasm, being drawn inside a well that opens out to a vast overflowing void of emptiness. Perceptions of her present environment fading, the surrounding chatter, falling silent.

She pulls away abruptly, when the sense of getting lost in the irresistible nothingness almost consumes her very essence.

"Is everything satisfactory, siekha?", enquires Ghen.

"I'm unsure... Yes, I'm fine.", shaking her head.

The movement of the ship ceases, then an overwhelming sensation alerts to the occasion that has drawn them all here. Prompting attention toward the small blue pill, which each occupant has within the chest pocket of their minimal attire.

“Well my dear Ohre’Na, our time was short, but I bid your Soul a rewarding journey.”

“As I do yours, Shah Ghen.”

Ohre’Na probes the gown pocket, removing the capsule of her finality. Holding it in hand, gazing at it, as thoughts of her life, her family, her friends all come flooding back. The physical heaviness of heart is a feeling that is unfamiliar, even though the earnest sadness and longing are not.

“Do I want to do this…?

Can I leave…?

Should I go back the way I came…?”

A commotion in front distracts from her thoughts, she sees Taarak struggling to recover the blue pill from the pocket of his garment, thick fingers proving cumbersome.

The D’Jogarri turns and also witnesses the difficulty, so reaches in to retrieve it herself and places it in the agitated creature’s hand. Taarak blasts his nostrils, whilst scrunching his face. Then bringing hand to his mouth, sucks down the pelletised potion.

Gratitude illuminates his stout face, as a response to the helpfulness delivered by a gracious stranger, which only moments earlier he rudely disrupted with his mischievous behaviour. Following an acknowledging smile, Taarak seats himself on the floor and after a few deep breaths, lifelessly slumps forward.

While ingesting her pill, the D’Jogarren decides to spend the last repose with a new friend and sits behind the body of this obnoxious annoyance, her back against his. Soon after, head dropping to her chest, signifying the final outcome of mortality.

Turning to look left, Ohre’Na sees Ghen, motionless, propped up by the wall, head to one side.

Surveying the rest of the premises, a silent stillness remains. Her own breathing and heartbeat, being all she can detect.

Leaning back, placing the cap in her mouth, she swallows and closes her eyes. With little time to ponder, the mass of her body becomes significantly more pronounced, when suddenly, a release. Which then gives way to an unbound weightlessness.

The perception of what Ohre'Na was, drifts off down a tunnel, fading into memory. Leaving a formless Awareness witnessing the inanimate shell with detachment. An irresistible vacuum from the desperate planet below, draws the Awareness deeply within its Etheric Field, like nourishment to a starving life-form, in an attempt to revive much depleted vigour.

So with no further life signs detected, a powerful energetic pulse is emitted into the enclosure, atomising all biological material. The venting system quickly evacuates the internal atmosphere out into space, before replenishing it again.

The facility is now clean and ready to be utilised, once more.

HOLLOWING THE SPHERE CALCULATIONS

This is a supplemental document to the verse, The Illusion Of Growth.

INTRODUCTION

The process of Hollowing the Sphere is based on the premise of starting off with a solid sphere, hollowing it out and the material that is removed from the core is then evenly applied to the surface of the original sphere, thus increasing its outer diameter.

This is subsequently repeated by removing more material from within the now hollow sphere and again applying it to the surface of the newly enlarged sphere.

Exploring and developing a logical and systemic mathematical model of the process is the purpose of this document. It is intended to ascertain any underlying patterns which may be present and to support the material that is expressed in the original verse, The Illusion Of Growth.

The full step by step methodology will be presented deeper within this document, but first some foundations will be established.

THE BASICS

SOLID SPHERE

The equation to determine the volume of a solid sphere is,

$$V_{solid} = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_{solid}^3$$

Where, V_{solid} = Solid sphere volume.

r_{solid} = Solid sphere radius.

SOLID SPHERE

HOLLOW SPHERE

HOLLOW SPHERE

Determining the material volume of a hollow sphere requires that the hollow volume be subtracted from the solid volume.

The solid volume of the sphere is found by evaluating,

$$V_o = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_o^3$$

Where, V_o = Solid volume of a hollow sphere.

r_o = Outer radius of a hollow sphere.

The hollow volume of the sphere is then found by evaluating,

$$V_i = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_i^3$$

Where, V_i = Hollow volume of a hollow sphere.

r_i = Inner radius of a hollow sphere.

The material volume of the hollow sphere is then determined by subtracting the hollow volume from the solid volume.

$$V_h = V_o - V_i$$

Where, V_h = Material volume of a hollow sphere.

This process can be combined into a single equation as shown below.

$$V_h = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_o^3 - \frac{4\pi}{3} r_i^3$$

Simplifying this equation produces the following form,

$$V_h = \frac{4\pi}{3} (r_o^3 - r_i^3)$$

CONSTANT VOLUME

For this process the material volume of all the spheres remains constant. No new material is added and no material is taken away.

Therefore, the volume of the solid sphere is the same as the volume of the hollow sphere at all subsequent iterations.

Expressed in equation form gives,

$$V_{solid} = V_h$$

Replacing the volume terms with the radius base terms gives,

$$\frac{4\pi}{3} r_{solid}^3 = \frac{4\pi}{3} (r_o^3 - r_i^3)$$

Dividing both sides by $\frac{4\pi}{3}$ leads to the Constant Volume Radius equation,

$$r_{solid}^3 = r_o^3 - r_i^3$$

DETERMINING DIAMETER FROM WALL THICKNESS

A short cut method for determining the hollow sphere outer diameter based on a specified wall thickness will be shown in this section. This simplified approach was utilised to produce Table 1 of condensed steps in the blog verse, The Illusion Of Growth.

HOLLOW SPHERE

The wall thickness of a hollow sphere is the difference between the outer radius and the inner radius.

$$w_t = r_o - r_i$$

Where, w_t = Wall thickness of a hollow sphere.

Rearranging this in terms of the inner radius gives,

$$r_i = r_o - w_t$$

Substituting this expression of the inner radius into the Constant Volume Radius equation,

$$r_{solid}^3 = r_o^3 - r_i^3$$

results in,

$$r_{solid}^3 = r_o^3 - (r_o - w_t)^3$$

Expanding this out leads to,

$$r_{solid}^3 = r_o^3 - (r_o^3 - 3w_t r_o^2 + 3w_t^2 r_o - w_t^3)$$

$$r_{solid}^3 = r_o^3 - r_o^3 + 3w_t r_o^2 - 3w_t^2 r_o + w_t^3$$

$$r_{solid}^3 = 3w_t r_o^2 - 3w_t^2 r_o + w_t^3$$

Subtracting r_{solid}^3 from both sides becomes,

$$3w_t r_o^2 - 3w_t^2 r_o + w_t^3 - r_{solid}^3 = 0$$

This is now in the form of a quadratic equation and so the Quadratic Formula can be used to calculate a result.

For a quadratic function in the form,

$$f(x) = a\,x^2 + b\,x + c$$

Provided that $(b^2 - 4ac) \geqslant 0$, the Quadratic Formula for the zeros of this equation is,

$$x = \frac{-b \pm \sqrt{b^2 - 4ac}}{2a}$$

So, from the radius and wall thickness equation,

$$3w_t r_o^2 - 3w_t^2 r_o + w_t^3 - r_{solid}^3 = 0$$

The parameters for the Quadratic Formula are,

$$a = 3w_t$$

$$b = -3w_t^2$$

$$c = w_t^3 - r_{solid}^3$$

From this, the Quadratic Formula with reference to the outer radius of a hollow sphere, r_o, takes the form of,

$$r_o = \frac{3w_t^2 \pm \sqrt{(-3w_t^2)^2 - 4(3w_t)(w_t^3 - r_{solid}^3)}}{2(3w_t)}$$

This then reduces down to two possible solution for the outer radius of the hollow sphere, r_o, in terms of the initial radius of the solid sphere, r_{solid} and the current wall thickness of the hollow sphere, w_t.

$$r_o = \frac{3w_t^2 + \sqrt{12w_t r_{solid}^3 - 3w_t^4}}{6w_t}$$

and

$$r_o = \frac{3w_t^2 - \sqrt{12w_t r_{solid}^3 - 3w_t^4}}{6w_t}$$

By placing values into the second equation it is found to give negative solutions for the outer radius, r_o. These negative values are physically not possible so the viable solutions come from the first equation,

$$r_o = \frac{3w_t^2 + \sqrt{12w_t r_{solid}^3 - 3w_t^4}}{6w_t}$$

To test this out, the following values will be assigned to the equation variables,

$$w_t = 10\ mm$$

$$d_{solid} = 100\ mm$$

$$r_{solid} = \frac{d_{solid}}{2} = 50\ mm$$

The outer radius of a hollow sphere with a 10 millimetre wall thickness and an equivalent solid material diameter of 100 millimetres or radius of 50 millimetres is,

$$r_o = \frac{3w_t^2 + \sqrt{12w_t r_{solid}^3 - 3w_t^4}}{6w_t} = 69.49\ mm$$

From this the outer diameter of the hollow sphere is,

$$d_o = 2\ r_o = 138.97\ mm$$

This answer corresponds with the value presented in Table 1 of the verse, The Illusion Of Growth, for the hollow sphere with a 10 millimetre wall thickness.

It is also useful to perform a check to ensure that the volume of this hollow sphere is the same as that of the solid sphere.

The volume of the solid sphere is,

$$V_{solid} = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_{solid}^3 = 523{,}598.78\ mm^3$$

Next find the inner radius of the hollow sphere for the given wall thickness.

$$r_i = r_o - w_t = 59.49\ mm$$

Following on, the inner diameter of the hollow sphere, d_i, is,

$$d_i = 2\,r_i = 118.97\,mm$$

Finally, the volume of the hollow sphere is,

$$V_h = \frac{4\pi}{3}(r_o^3 - r_i^3) = 523{,}598.78\,mm^3$$

To summaries these results,

For the solid sphere, the parameter values are,

The diameter of the solid sphere, d_{solid} = 100 mm.

The volume of the solid sphere, V_{solid} = 523 598.78 mm3.

For the hollow sphere, the parameter values are,

The new outer diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_o = 138.97 mm.

The new inner diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_i = 118.97 mm.

The wall thickness of the hollow sphere is, w_t = 10 mm.

The material volume of the hollow sphere is, V_h = 523 598.78 mm^3

The volume of this hollow sphere is the same as that of the solid sphere which shows that the hollow sphere fits within the progression of the defined hollowing process.

So, if the intent is to find the outer diameter of a hollow sphere which has a particular wall thickness, based on a certain sized solid sphere, then this is the approach to be taken.

THE METHODICAL APPROACH

This methodical approach can be used to achieve the same outcome as in the previous section but it requires far more steps to reach the target wall thickness. Its benefit is simply to show that a physicalised process is possible, although it is very cumbersome.

This methodical approach was utilised to produce Table 2 in the blog verse, The Illusion Of Growth.

A summary of the methodology is presented below.

Iteration 1.

Step 1 – Start with a Solid Sphere Diameter.
Step 2 – Determine the Solid Sphere Volume.
Step 3 – Select the Core Diameter.
Step 4 – Calculate the Core Material Volume.
Step 5 – Calculate the Increase in Diameter.
Step 6 – Calculate the Wall Thickness.
Step 7 – Check the Volume.

Iteration 2.

Step 1 – Determine the Diameter for Material Removal.
Step 2 – Calculate the Material Volume for Removal.
Step 3 – Calculate the Increase in Diameter.
Step 4 – Calculate the Wall Thickness.
Step 5 – Check the Volume.

Iteration 3 and on.

Repeat Iteration 2 until the desired number of iterations is reached.

The above summary will next be explained more fully.

ITERATION 1

HOLLOWING - ITERATION 1

STEP 1 – START WITH A SOLID SPHERE DIAMETER

Start off with a solid sphere, in this case 100 millimetres in diameter.

$$d_{solid} = 100\,mm$$

Where, d_{solid} = Solid sphere diameter.

STEP 2 – DETERMINE THE SOLID SPHERE VOLUME

Calculate the volume of the solid sphere using the equation,

$$V_{solid} = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_{solid}^3$$

Where, V_{solid} = Solid sphere volume.

r_{solid} = Solid sphere radius.

$$r_{solid} = \frac{d_{solid}}{2} = 50\,mm$$

$$V_{solid} = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_{solid}^3 = 523{,}598.78\,mm^3$$

STEP 3 – SELECT THE CORE DIAMETER

Generally, to determine the amount of core material to remove, the mean diameter of the wall thickness is chosen. In this initial case however, this is not possible as the sphere is still solid, so an equivalent value of half the sphere diameter is selected instead.

$$d_{s1} = \frac{d_{solid}}{2} = 50\,mm$$

STEP 4 – CALCULATE THE CORE VOLUME

The volume of material to remove from the core at the chosen diameter is found by evaluating,

$$V_{s1} = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_{s1}^3$$

Where, V_{s1} = Inner material volume to be removed.

r_{s1} = Inner radius of material to be removed.

$$r_{s1} = \frac{d_{s1}}{2} = 25\ mm$$

$$V_{s1} = \frac{4\pi}{3} r_{s1}^3 = 65{,}449.85\ mm^3$$

STEP 5 - CALCULATE THE INCREASE IN DIAMETER

From this core material volume, calculate the increase in the sphere diameter when that material is placed evenly on the surface of original sphere.

Essentially, there is a shell added to the surface of the sphere which also happens to be a hollow sphere. The thickness of this shell is the increase in the radial thickness of the hollow sphere.

This gives rise to the following variables to be determined,

$$V_{a1} = V_{s1}$$

$$r_{a1} = To\ be\ determined.$$

Where, V_{a1} = Material volume to be added to the surface of the sphere.
Which is equal to the volume removed from the core.

r_{a1} = Outer radius of the sphere with the new added material.

The equation for the addition of this shell material is,

$$V_{a1} = \frac{4\pi}{3}(r_{a1}^3 - r_{solid}^3)$$

Rearranging this to find the outer shell radius gives,

$$\frac{3V_{a1}}{4\pi} = r_{a1}^3 - r_{solid}^3$$

$$r_{a1}^3 = \frac{3V_{a1}}{4\pi} + r_{solid}^3$$

$$r_{a1} = \sqrt[3]{\frac{3V_{a1}}{4\pi} + r_{solid}^3}$$

Evaluating this equation with the know variables comes to,

$$V_{a1} = V_{s1} = \ 65{,}449.85\ mm^3$$

$$r_{a1} = \sqrt[3]{\frac{3V_{a1}}{4\pi} + r_{solid}^3} = 52.0021\ mm$$

Then the diameter of the now enlarged sphere is,

$$d_{a1} = 2\ r_{a1} = 104.004\ mm$$

Where, d_{a1} = Outer diameter of the enlarged sphere.

STEP 6 - CALCULATE THE WALL THICKNESS

Calculate the wall thickness of this now hollow sphere.

$$w_{t1} = \frac{(d_{a1} - d_{s1})}{2} = 27.0021\ mm$$

Where, w_{t1} = Wall thickness of the hollow sphere after Iteration 1.

STEP 7 - CHECK THE VOLUME

As a check, the material volume can be calculated for this hollow sphere to ensure that it is the same as the original solid sphere.

$$V_{h1} = \frac{4\pi}{3}(r_{a1}^3 - r_{s1}^3) = 523{,}598.78\ mm^3$$

Where, V_{h1} = Material volume of the hollow sphere after Iteration 1.

As is evident from the result of this equation, $V_{h1} = V_{solid}$.

ITERATION 1 SUMMARY

This now leaves a hollow sphere with a wall thickness and an outer diameter that is greater than the original.

For the original solid sphere, the parameter values are,

The diameter of the solid sphere, d_{solid} = 100 mm.

The volume of the solid sphere, V_{solid} = 523,598.78 mm^3.

For the new hollow sphere, the parameter values are,

The new outer diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_{a1} = 104.00 mm.

The new inner diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_{s1} = 50 mm.

The wall thickness of the hollow sphere is, w_{t1} = 27.00 mm.

The material volume of the hollow sphere is, V_{h1} = 523 598.78 mm^3

ITERATION 2

HOLLOWING - ITERATION 2

STEP 1 – DETERMINE THE DIAMETER FOR MATERIAL REMOVAL

For the next part of the inner material to be removed, determine the mean diameter of the wall thickness by evaluating,

$$d_{s2} = d_{s1} + \frac{d_{a1} - d_{s1}}{2}$$

Where, d_{s2} = Mean diameter of the wall thickness at Iteration 2.

d_{a1} = Outer hollow sphere diameter from Iteration 1.

d_{s1} = Inner hollow sphere diameter from Iteration 1.

$$d_{s2} = d_{s1} + \frac{d_{a1} - d_{s1}}{2} = 77.0021\ mm$$

STEP 2 - CALCULATE THE MATERIAL VOLUME FOR REMOVAL

Calculate the material volume of this inner portion of the sphere at the mean wall thickness diameter.

The mean wall thickness radius is required for this, so,

$$r_{s2} = \frac{d_{s2}}{2} = 38.5010\ mm$$

Where, r_{s2} = Mean radius of the wall thickness at Iteration 2.

The volume of material to be removed is,

$$V_{s2} = \frac{4\pi}{3}(r_{s2}^3 - r_{s1}^3) = 173{,}609.79\ mm^3$$

STEP 3 - CALCULATE THE INCREASE IN DIAMETER

From this established volume, calculate the diameter of the sphere when this material is added to the surface of the enlarged sphere.

$$r_{a2} = \sqrt[3]{\frac{3V_{s2}}{4\pi} + r_{a1}^3} = 56.678\ mm$$

$$d_{a2} = 2\,r_{a2} = 113.356\ mm$$

STEP 4 - CALCULATE THE WALL THICKNESS

Calculate the wall thickness of this new hollow sphere.

$$w_{t2} = \frac{(d_{a2} - d_{s2})}{2} = 18.1769\ mm$$

Where, w_{t2} = Wall thickness of the new hollow sphere after Iteration 2.

STEP 5 - CHECK THE VOLUME

As a check, the material volume can be calculated for this hollow sphere to see if it the same as the original solid sphere.

$$V_{h2} = \frac{4\pi}{3}(r_{a2}^3 - r_{s2}^3) = 523{,}598.78\ mm^3$$

Where, V_{h2} = Material volume of the hollow sphere after Iteration 2.

As is evident from the result of this equation, $V_{h2} = V_{solid}$.

ITERATION 2 SUMMARY

This again creates a larger sphere with a larger hollow core and thinner wall thickness than previous.

For the previous hollow sphere, the parameter values are,

The outer diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_{a1} = 104.00 mm.
The inner diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_{s1} = 50 mm.
The wall thickness of the hollow sphere is, w_{t1} = 27.00 mm.
The material volume of the hollow sphere is, V_{h1} = 523 598.78 mm^3

For the new hollow sphere, the parameter values are,

The new outer diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_{a2} = 113.36 mm.
The new inner diameter of the hollow sphere is, d_{s2} = 77.00 mm.
The wall thickness of the hollow sphere is, w_{t2} = 18.18 mm.
The material volume of the hollow sphere is, V_{h2} = 523 598.78 mm^3.

ITERATION 3 AND ON

Repeat all the steps in Iteration 2 until the desired number of iterations is reached.

HOLLOWING - ITERATION 3

Repeating these steps continuously will generate larger and larger hollow spheres with thinner and thinner wall thicknesses.

CONCLUSION

The process of Hollowing the Sphere is shown to generate hollow spheres of ever-increasing diameter and thinner wall thicknesses, while maintaining the same volume of material as the solid sphere. Which implies that it retains the same mass as the original, if a material density were to be added to the sphere.

This means that there is an increase in the overall size of the sphere but no increase in the actual substance of the sphere.

So, can the tag of The Illusion Of Growth be given to an object that grows in size but gains no substantive mass?

It seems fitting.

EXYGEN

The following is a copy of a fictional piece written on the Roberts Space Industries website for the computer game, Star Citizen. It describes the History, Manifesto and Charter of an organisation called EXYGEN, which has been created to exist in this fictional universe.

EXYGEN

THE LEADER IN EXOGENOUS SUPPLY & SUPPORT SERVICES

To Survive Out There, You Need EXYGEN

HISTORY

Born out of the United Empire of Earth's (U.E.E.) brutal blockade of the Centauri System in 2782, smuggles ran supplies through and around the naval battle group charged with enforcing the embargo. They provided food, medical supplies and arms to the desperate civilian population within the system.

As the military began tightening its grip, to strangle the renegade supply lines, a group of "independent contractors" co-ordinated their activities, to keep some form of trade open to the Centauri people. Most were merchants, others were former U.E.E. military providing security escort for the defiant convoys. All knew the importance of continuing, because as history has shown, this was one of the key events which marked the end of the Messer era.

Although a number of original members perished during these confrontations, enough survived to see the blockade end and the regime step back. The empire got a bloody nose and a black eye, but it was not defeated. Consequently, it is from this resilient legacy, that a more conventional enterprise was established.

EXYGEN was founded by the remaining members of this group of blockade runners, to provide security and supply services to areas of the galaxy that others fear to go into. With over 150 years of operation, our crew members have delivered countless supplies, escorted thousands of ships, contended with hordes of pirates and corrupt officials, but also lost many friends and companions along the way. Some have never made it back, yet all were committed to "Get the Job Done".

"Crave No Heaven, Fear No Hell" was a statement first made during the Centauri blockade and something our crew members still echo to this very day. Because to be pilot or crew with EXYGEN, requires this type of attitude and approach. Our people are not spoken about on the News services and they do not get shiny pieces of metal to pin on their chest, nor do they want them. They have seen the conditions that the frontier offers and the struggles that these pioneers endure. So, because of this, they consider their role as making things a little bit easier, a little bit safer and a little less daunting for those that travel the undiscovered path.

MANIFESTO

So, if you require a partner to help with these types of services and operations, in some of the less hospitable systems out there, then please do contact us, as we would be delighted to speak with you.

DISCLAIMER

* For legal reasons we have had to add the "almost" disclaimer to the above statement, because of past requests to round up the entire U.E.E. regime and its bureaucracy, then deposit them in the farthest black hole in the galaxy. This would be the equivalent of rounding up all the cockroaches on planet Earth and flushing them down a toilet. Although this is theoretically possible, practicality makes this a monumental task. Besides, we may be dumping them on to some unsuspecting version of reality, where they could potentially wreak even more havoc than they do here.

CHARTER

We admire the spirit of those that push boundaries, those that fly uncharted space and those that settle inhospitable worlds. We understand that living life on the edge of known space is perilous and every day is an extreme challenge. This is why we do, what we do.

Our role is to ensure that these pioneers have a chance and that their efforts see some reward. We hope that by supporting their endeavours, they get to experience some of the recognition that they deserve.

So, with this in mind, when we engage new pilots and crew to join our company, we look past the timid and the wannabe heroes. We look for a character that has balls, without the need for an authoritarian uniform. Someone who has the courage to stand alone, against the whole galaxy if need be, but does not shout about it or boast about how tough they are.

These are the type of people that can "Get the Job Done".

These are the type of people that "Crave No Heaven, Fear No Hell".

The statement on our Recruitment page reads,

> If you wanna play the hero,
> Go join the military.
>
> If you wanna make a difference,
> Welcome to EXYGEN.
>
> But once you're done with the military, come back and join EXYGEN

This is what we're about.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 1

If you read our History and Charter, you may feel as though we sound more like a charity, rather than a company that offers products and services in trade. Well, if you live life based on the concept of charity, then you see those that you give charity to as second-class individuals.

When you trade with another individual, you approach them as an equal, who has something of value to offer. When you see someone as a charity case, you see them as having nothing of value to offer.

When asked about the issue of charity, one of our original founders was quoted as saying,

> Charity slowly robs a man of his dignity and self-esteem,
> Thus once you have stolen it all,
> You have taken everything of value he has.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 2

Now, if you accept that trade is a respectable and civilised way for individuals to interact, then consider this.

> Government does not trade with you.
> Government makes demands of you.

Government may go to the effort of putting on a caring smiley face while making those demands, or they may dispense with the pretence altogether and just put a gun to your head. But either way, the demands are the same.

In this light, how do you think the U.E.E. and its agents see you?

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 3

Some may still reply,

> No, no, no, government is there to protect and serve me.

Government's role IS NOT to protect or serve you. Government's role is to create dependency. The more dependent you are on government, the more power government has over you.

> The tool of "Government" is the means through > which the few claim authority over the many.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 4

> Yes Sir! How High, Sir?

There are those that think the military teaches discipline. The military teaches obedience, not discipline. These two things are not the same.

Self-discipline is a very powerful quality. Obedience is the realm of domesticated dogs.

> Military men are just dumb, stupid animals > to be used as pawns in foreign policy.
>
> Henry Kissinger
> (20th Century politician of the once United States of America)

To the self-anointed "elites" who control the U.E.E., military personnel are little more than cannon fodder. Something cheap to throw at an enemy's laser round or blast cannon.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 5

On the one hand, you have pirates. On the other, you have the U.E.E.

In essence, they are both the same thing.

The only real difference being, is that the U.E.E. has managed to convince you that they have authority over you.

Pirates have not yet been successful in doing so.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 6

A question that must also be asked is,

"To what degree do elements within and around the U.E.E. covertly support pirate activity?"

Why would they do this?

So as to create the political P.R. opportunity to take control of outlining systems and ensure the continued submission of complaint worlds.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 7

There will always, always, always be groups and individuals that desire to control, manipulate and have authority over others. It is only a question of whether they do this on a small or a large scale.

When we sign on to the idea of "Government" it may well be with the very best intentions, but as the old saying goes,

The road to Hell is paved with good intentions.

By creating an institution which claims authority over everyone and is backed up with the threat of violence, we are creating a honey pot for those that lust political power.

We are giving them the ultimate tool/weapon to dominate, all wrapped up in this veil of legitimacy called, "For the public good".

The real political power in the U.E.E. is not in the position of Imperator, it is in those that created and now control the position.

> The power of the throne is not in the King,
> but in the King makers.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 8

> Power tends to corrupt and > absolute power corrupts absolutely.
>
> John Dalberg-Acton (A.K.A., Lord Acton)

This statement is absurd, although the sentiment is understood.

It would be more accurate to rephrase it this way,

> Political power tends to corrupt and > absolute political power corrupts absolutely.

Political power is about power over others. Political power is an illusion crafted by those that wish to dominate others. Another can only have power over you, if you submit to them.

Real power comes from the individual. It is power over Oneself and One's own life.

One does not come close to touching real, absolute power until One becomes incorruptible.

While you are corruptible you are corrupting the very power that emanates from you.

So, what is corrupting you, you may ask...?

FEAR.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 9

Those that are weak in real power and are highly ambitious, will seek political power. They will use any means necessary, including deception and violence, to get it, retain it and expand it.

Those that are strong in real power, are Masters of their own destiny. They do not require the obedience of others to live a meaningful and fulfilling life.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 10

TRUE LEADERS VS POLITICAL RULERS

Rulers are not the same as Leaders.
Rulers tell you what to do,
Leaders show you.

True leaders lead by example and recognise the sovereignty of the individual. They are not voted upon, they do not speak for others and they do not require the obedience of others. Instead, others seek them out for guidance and wise council.

True leadership has no hierarchy.

Political rulers are installed by coercion/force or voted for by members of the collective. By extension, they claim to speak for every member of the collective and their authority is based on the threat of retaliation or even violence.

They also issue commandments that other members of the group must follow, such as which enemies to fight, but often exempt themselves from such inconveniences.

Leadership is a quality that an individual has. It IS NOT something inherent to an organisational structure. Political systems want to convince you that it IS inherent to the organisational structure.

Positions within an organisational structure are positions of responsibility, NOT positions of leadership.

Having citizens vote for their political rulers is now the preferred method of operation that the U.E.E. practises, as it gives citizens the delusional impression that they have a say in the functioning of the empire. This is often referred to as "Democracy".

> Democracy is nothing more than mob rule.
> Those that control the mob, rule the mob.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 11

There are religions that talk about Heaven and Hell and they inform us that both are found in opposite directions to one another. This is a false and deliberate diversion. Hell is what stands between where you are now and Heaven. Heaven is also open to everyone, but YOU need to find the courage and a way to get there.

You may also be surprised at what and where Heaven and Hell are. They are not "Out there" or "Up there" or "Down there". They are not found outside of your own Being, but are states of your own psyche.

Hell is a simple equation, it is the sum total of all your deepest and most intense fears, multiplied by a lot.

Heaven is the peace you will find, when you have explored and understood every facet of this equation.

> The cause of insanity, is the denial of legitimate suffering.
>
> Carl Gustav Jung?

Intense suffering will come while engaging your fears, but from this suffering something new is born; courage, resilience, a greater understanding, a deeper sense of Self; until the final realisation.

Organised religions are part of the control mechanism, they are there to distract and divert you from following your true path home. Because once you have made it back, you can never be anyone's slave.

CHARTER – SUPPLEMENTAL POST 12

Truth will not leave you in peace, until you have the courage to face and accept it.

GANDALF AND FRODO'S EXCHANGE IN KHAZAD-DÛM

Dialogue from the movie, "The Lord of the Rings, The Fellowship of the Ring" Special Extended DVD Edition, Disk 2. Time: 20:32 - 22:54.

Some wise words to consider and keep in mind.

TRANSCRIPT

Frodo There's something down there.

Gandalf It's Gollum.

Frodo Gollum?

Gandalf He's been following us for three days.

Frodo He escaped the dungeons of Barad-dûr.

Gandalf Escaped, or was set loose? And now the ring has drawn him near.

He won't never be rid of his need for it.

He hates and loves the ring, as he hates and loves himself.

Sméagol's life is a sad story.

Yes, Sméagol he was once called, before the ring found him.

Before it drove him mad.

Frodo It's a pity Bilbo didn't kill him when he had the chance.

Gandalf Pity?

It was pity that stayed Bilbo's hand.

Many that live deserve death and some that die deserve life. Can you give it to them Frodo?

Do not be too eager to deal out death and judgement. Even the very wise cannot see all ends.

My heart tells me that Gollum has some part to play yet, for good or ill, before this is over.

The pity of Bilbo may rule the fate of men.

Frodo I wish the ring had never come to me.

I wish none of this had happened.

Gandalf So do all who live to see such times but that is not for them to decide. All we have to decide is what to do with the time that is given to us.

There are other forces at work in this world Frodo besides the will of evil.

Bilbo was meant to find the ring; in which case you also were meant to have it, and that is an encouraging thought.

Oh! It's that way.

THE DRUG IN ME IS REIMAGINED LYRICS

FALLING IN REVERSE

I heard a knock upon my door the other day.
I opened it to find death staring in my face.
The feel of mortal stalking still reverberates.
Everywhere I go I drag this coffin, just in case.

My body's trembling, sends shivers down my spine.
Adrenaline kicks in, shifts into overdrive.
Your secrets keep you sick, your lies keep you alive.
Snake eyes every single time you roll with crooked dice.

I felt the darkness as it tried to pull me down.
The kind of dark that haunts a hundred-year-old house.
I wrestle with my thoughts; I shook the hand of doubt.
Running from my past, I'm prayin', "Feet, don't fail me now."

I lost my god-damn mind; it happens all the time.
I can't believe I'm actually meant to be here.
Trying to consume, the drug in me is you.
And I'm so high on misery, can't you see?

I've got these questions always runnin' through my head.
So many things that I would like to understand.
If we are born to die and we all die to live.
Then what's the point of livin' life if it just contradicts?

I felt the darkness as it tried to pull me down.
The kind of dark that haunts a hundred-year-old house.
I wrestle with my thoughts; I shook the hand of doubt.
Running from my past, I'm prayin', "Feet, don't fail me now."

I lost my god-damn mind; it happens all the time.
I can't believe I'm actually meant to be here.
Trying to consume, the drug in me is you.
And I'm so high on misery, can't you see?

I've lost myself.
You tried to reach me but you just can't help me.
So long, goodbye.
You tried to save me, it won't work this time, 'cause now,

I've lost my fuckin' mind and there's no fuckin' time.
I can't believe I'm actually meant to be here.
Trying to consume, the drug in me is you.
And I'm so high on misery, can't you see?

Can't you see?
Can't you see?

Can't you..., can't you...

Can't you see?

Can't you see?

POPULAR MONSTER LYRICS

FALLING IN REVERSE

Yeah.

I wake up every morning with my head up in a daze.
I'm not sure if I should say this, fuck, I'll say it anyway.
Everybody tries to tell me that I'm goin' through a phase.
I don't know if it's a phase, I just wanna feel okay, yeah.

I battle with depression, but the question still remains.
Is this post-traumatic stressin' or am I suppressin' rage?
And my doctor tries to tell me that I'm going through a phase.
Yeah, it's not a fuckin' phase, I just wanna feel okay.

Okay, yeah, I struggle with this bullshit every day.
And it's probably 'cause my demons simultaneously rage.
It Obliterates Me, Disintegrates Me, Annihilates Me.

I'm about to break down.
I'm searchin' for a way out.
I'm a liar, I'm a cheater, I'm a non-believer.
I'm a popular, popular monster.

I break down.
Falling into love now with falling apart.
I'm a popular, popular monster.

I think I'm going nowhere like a rat trapped in a maze.
Every wall that I knock down is just a wall that I'll replace.
I'm in a race against myself, I try to keep a steady pace.
How the fuck will I escape if I never close my case?

Oh my God, I keep on stressin', every second that I waste.
Is another second sooner to a blessing I won't take.
But my therapist will tell me that I'm going through a stage.
Yeah, it's not a fucking stage, I just wanna feel okay.

Okay, mother-fucker, now you got my attention.
I need to change a couple things 'cause somethin' is missing.
And what if I were to lie? Tell you everything is fine.
Every single fucking day I get closer to the grave.

I am terrified, I fell asleep at the wheel again.
Crashed my car just to feel again.
It Obliterates Me, Disintegrates Me, Annihilate Me.

'Cause I'm about to break down.
I'm searchin' for a way out.
I'm a liar, I'm a cheater, I'm a non-believer.
I'm a popular, popular monster.

I break down.
Falling into love now with falling apart.
I'm a popular, popular fucking monster, yeah.

Yeah, here we go again, mother-fucker, oh!

We're sick and tired of wondering.
Praying to a god that you don't believe.
You're searching for the truth in the lost and found.
So the question I ask is, "Yeah, where the fuck is your god now?"

'Cause I'm about to break down.
I'm searchin' for a way out.
I'm a liar, I'm a cheater, I'm a non-believer.
I'm a popular, popular monster.

I break down.
Falling into love now with falling apart.
I'm a popular, popular monster.

I'm a liar, I'm a cheater, I'm a non-believer.
I'm a popular, popular monster.

VOICES IN MY HEAD LYRICS

FALLING IN REVERSE

The voices in my head keep on tellin' me to pray.
'Cause I'm spinning like a carousel, circling the drain.
Hit the bottom of the bottle, I don't wanna feel the pain.
But that is all I got for now, I don't wanna talk about...

The voices in my head keep on begging me to stay.
If I pull the trigger now then the demons go away.
And I know my time is coming so there ain't no time to waste.
So that is all I got for now, I don't wanna talk about it.

The voices in my head keep tellin' me to choose a side.
It's heaven or hell like it's do or die.
I'm a sad boy, you know better.
Please don't make this last forever.

The voices in my head keep tellin' me I'm not okay.
It's feeling like a hurricane in my brain.
Dark Clouds, Hard Times, Bad Weather.
Please don't make this last forever.

Eye E Eye E Eye E Eye

The voices in my head keep on tellin' me I'm gonna Die.
And I don't wanna talk about the drama, I'm trauma-tized.
They're tellin' me I'm fine but we both know that's a fuckin' Lie.
I'm losing my mind, but I don't wanna talk about it.

The voices in my head keep givin' me the worst advice.
Kamikaze crash, like a suicide.
I'm a lost boy, you know better.
Please don't make this last forever.

The voices in my head keep tellin' me that I'm insane.
And maybe I'm a little bit, that won't change.

Dark Clouds, Hard Times, Bad Weather.
Please don't make this last forever.

Eye E Eye E Eye E Eye

The voices in my head keep on tellin' me I'm gonna Die.
And I don't wanna talk about the drama, I'm trauma-tized.
They're tellin' me I'm fine but we both know that's a fuckin' Lie.
I'm losing my mind, but I don't wanna talk about...

The voices in my head keep on tellin' me I'm cursed.
I'm paranoid, I don't wanna make it any worse.
We're all gonna die but first things first.
I'ma take the world with me when they put me in the dirt.

The voices in my head keep on tellin' me I'm cursed.
I'm paranoid, I don't wanna make it any worse.
We're all gonna die but first things first.
I'ma take the world with me when they put me in the dirt.

Move!

The voices in my head are tellin' me I'm cursed.

WATCH THE WORLD BURN LYRICS

FALLING IN REVERSE

Yeah, I got voices in my head again, tread carefully.
And I don't medicate, it helps me temporarily.
I got problems, I got issues, yeah, apparently.
Trauma that I'm burying, I think I need some therapy.

I battle depression, I'm back with a message.
I'm asking the question that if you hate me, why you acting obsessive?
I'm past the point of no return, fuck being passive aggressive.
I'll brandish a weapon, teach all you mother-fuckers a lesson, yeah.

I actually battle my demons and shadows.
They swim in the deep and they creep in the shallows.
I'm lost.
Gotta admit that I'm living the life that I've always wanted.
But it comes at a cost.

Yeah, they're licking their chops.
They're fixing to rip me a part.
I'm swimming with sharks.

I'm lifting the bar.
I'm lifting it into the stars.
I'm like a shot of adrenaline,
mixed with some Ritalin.

You started a battle, but bitch I'ma finish it.
You think you can stop me, not even a little bit.
Nowadays everybody's so sensitive.

Taking my words and you pick it a part.
Tripping on nothing just get in the car.
Gripping and ripping I'm sticking the mark.
I'm tipping the ch-ch-ch-ch-ch-ch-charts.

I got enemies trying to get rid of me.
Evil tendencies are fucking with me mentally.
I got people that don't like me in the industry.
I can feel your energy, you are not a friend to me.

'Cause I have been to places that you never wanna go, yeah.
I got dirt on people, but they act like I don't know, yeah.
I could do some damage, but I'll never rock the boat.
All it takes is one post, watch 'em fall like dominoes.

You'll never get rid of me,
too many mini-me's ripping my imagery.
You know my history, it ain't a mystery.
I put every enemy outta they misery.

Somebody send me some positive energy.
About to go Darth, about to go Disney.
Into the darkness, into Infinity and shut you mother-fuckers up, you listening?

Stacking every little pretty penny that I'm getting and I'm never giving into anybody, always winning.
Never kidding when I die, I'm taking everybody with me.
You're never gonna get me, 'cause you'll never see it simply.

I'm a mother-fucking god!

You're a light yawn.
I'm a time bomb and the vibes wrong,
is this mic on?

I'm killing the syllables with a loaded refillable.

I'm a lyrical typical super villain, I'm venomous.
And I'm never gonna stop until they put me on top of the list.

I can't control the monster any longer that's inside.

The pain and sorrow left us hollow.
No tomorrows, hard to swallow.
Death is calling, so appalling.
Tightrope walking, now I'm falling down.

Like missiles falling from the sky.
Come and save us.
The pain and sorrow left us hollow.
Here today but gone tomorrow.

The pain inside is the fuel that drives this flesh and bone through blood red skies.
Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha.
The death defying, hypnotising.

One day you're gonna figure out that, everything they taught you was a lie.

Watch The World Burn!

Rah!

Ooh!

The fear, keeps you alive.
Break the fucking chains, take back your life.
The fear is what keeps you insane.
Break the fucking chains, take away the pain.

The Insane Psychopaths of the Israeli Government and Defence Force.

vs

WESTERN VERMIN

A Broad Collection of British and American Deep State and Political Shit Bags.

Since these are the Originators of this Conflict.

A world first, Three Way! No Rules! Cage Match!, between three equally reprehensible groups, to decide once and for all, the ruler of the piece of dirt in the Middle East known as Israel/Palestine.

This special event has been organised so that no more innocent people, young or old, are obliterated by cowards hiding in comfortable homes and offices, far away from any real danger themselves.

Upon entering the ring, these three foes will decide how this event is to proceed.

They can either choose to tear each other apart like the rabid monsters they are, or they can decide to resolved their differences in a civilised manner.

The cage will not be re-opened again, until all the participants have either destroyed themselves or have come to a peaceful, permanent resolution to this conflict.

The choice is theirs.

This historic clash is to be broadcast on pay-per-view across the entire world. With proceeds going to the families of innocent Israelis killed by Hamas Terrorists and innocent Palestinians whose lives have been destroyed by Israeli Psychopaths.

Additionally, regardless of the outcome, all participants's personal assets are to be seized and will contribute to the Innocent Israeli/Palestinian Fund.

SPECIAL VICTORY CONDITION

If the entire Western Vermin team is annihilated by the other two contenders and the other two contenders manage to reach a peaceful, permanent solution between themselves, the cage will then be re-opened and remaining members of these two groups are given the opportunity to live out the rest of their lives, without their personal assets.

Stay tuned, for further details.

CONTEXT FOR THE BRUSSELS GARDENERS NAME

THE EUROPEAN GARDEN

> "Europe is a garden. We have built a garden. Everything works. It is the best combination of political freedom, economic prosperity and social cohesion that the humankind has been able to build – the three things together. And here, Bruges is maybe a good representation of beautiful things, intellectual life, well-being.
>
> The rest of the world – and you know this very well, Federica – is not exactly a garden. Most of the rest of the world is a jungle, and the jungle could invade the garden. The gardeners should take care of it, but they will not protect the garden by building walls. A nice small garden surrounded by high walls in order to prevent the jungle from coming in is not going to be a solution. Because the jungle has a strong growth capacity, and the wall will never be high enough in order to protect the garden.
>
> The gardeners have to go to the jungle. Europeans have to be much more engaged with the rest of the world. Otherwise, the rest of the world will invade us, by different ways and means.

> Yes, this is my most important message: we have to be much more engaged with the rest of the world."

THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION

If the United States Constitution is such a great document, why is it not the basis by which the United States treats everyone else around the world?

Why is the spirit of the United States Constitution not the basis for United States Foreign Policy?

Why is there a discrepancy between United States Government behaviour within United States borders and external to United States borders?

Are only Americans worthy of being treated with Respect and Dignity by the United States Government?

Maybe, this is why the United States Government is beginning to treat Americans the same way it treats everyone else around the world.

Maybe, the inconsistency was just not sustainable.

Liberty at Home, Tyranny Abroad, eventually becomes, Tyranny Everywhere.

PAPER PRINCIPLES

Do Americans that value the principles stated within the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights, do so because those principles are written in a document?

Or, do those documents simply reflect their own deeply held principles?

In other words, are One's values and principles derived from a document, or is the document a reflection of One's own values and principles?

There is a substantive difference between the two perspectives.

If a document is a reflection of personal principles, then the document is merely codifying those principles and the document itself is of no inherent value.

Because a document can be reproduced, refined and improved at any time.

Robust Moral Principles are innate to the Sovereign Individual.

The Sovereign Individual is the Source.

The Sovereign Individual is the Source of either Robust Moral Principles, or Flimsy Moral Principles.

Wielding the Constitution like a magical parchment, does not bestow the holder with any special powers.

Those that state, the United States Constitution is just a piece of paper, are correct.

It is the principles underlying the document that matter.

RIDING ON COAT-TAILS

To all those that enjoy patting themself on the back for being American and consider America the "greatest country in the world", are your self-congratulatory back slaps really justified?

Those that fought for the independence of the United States of America, especially the Founding Fathers, truly were exceptional Individuals.

However, every generation since has not improved on that vision, instead they have allowed the gradual degradation of the United States into an imperialist tyranny, within and without its borders.

Is this worthy of praise? Is this worthy of the title, "The Greatest"?

Or is it more rightly a source of shame?

To be given so much, only to squander it all.

The Beacon of Liberty that the United States was for Humanity, is dying.

How many are there, of the quality of the Founding Generation, to ensure that this does not happen?

How many are there, that are willing to make a real stand, not simply pat themself on the back for the past achievements of others?

There are many on the outside looking in, doing whatever possible to ensure that the founding vision of the United States does not fall.

For it is not only the people of the United States at stake, it is all of Humanity.

What is the current day purpose for the Constitution of the United States of America, other than as a self-congratulatory device for those that had nothing to do with its framing or implementation?

A LITERAL RANT

Why is it that, "Literal", now also means, "Metaphorical"?

"I Literally Died."

HMM.

So now, if One is actually being Literal, what word is meant to be used in that instance?

"But the meaning of words changes over time."

FUCK OFF!

Fine, language may change over time,
but how does it make any sense, that a word today, means the complete opposite, of what it did just ten years ago?

FUCK OFF!

If there is no remotely accurate definition of words, then how is anyone supposed to understand what each other is talking about?

FUCK OFF!

If dim-witted young people do not know how to communicate correctly, then that is the fault of their incompetent parents and teachers.

FUCK OFF!

Consider the definition of a metre changing over time.

“Well, today a metre means 700 millimetres, but tomorrow, it will mean 1200 millimetres.”

FUCK OFF!

Parents and teachers should teach children

CLARIFYING THE SITUATION

4th June, 2024.

Let's be perfectly clear here.

Russia is not the initiating aggressor in the war in Ukraine.

NATO and Western countries, headed by the United States and Britain, are engaged in a destabilisation campaign against Russia, using Ukraine as a proxy.

Reasons for this destabilisation campaign are varied, but primary among these is,

1. To install nuclear weapons in Ukraine as a constant threat against Moscow.

2. To see a compliant puppet regime ruling over Russia, possibly even breaking up Russia into smaller vassal states.

3. To steal Russia's vast natural resources.

The war in Ukraine, is not about Ukraine.

If the peoples of Western countries choose to elect "Leaders" that supposedly act on their behalf, then the peoples of Western countries are responsible for the actions of those "Leaders".

Ignorance is no excuse.

Natural Karmic Law does not recognise the abdication of Individual Sovereign Responsibility.

It is the responsibility of the peoples of Western countries to keep themselves informed on whatever schemes and activities their "Leaders" are involved in.

It is the responsibility of the peoples of Western countries to reign back their "Leaders" when they cross unacceptable boundaries.

If the peoples of Western countries are unable, or unwilling to do so, then the consequences that arise, are on the heads of the peoples of Western countries.

Given the current context and continuous provocations by the West, the point is fast approaching where Russia is legitimately entitled to use nuclear weapons to defend its people and its territories.

If Russia chooses to take such a course of action, then this will be the responsibility of NATO and Western countries.

This will be the responsibility of the peoples of Western countries, for not reigning in their psychologically unhinged "Leaders".

Historical records will show that Russia has been at the forefront for a peaceful resolution to this conflict, but has also been deceived and snubbed at every turn.

If nuclear weapons start raining down on European and American cities, then the peoples of Western countries should be fully aware of who is responsible.

If you incessantly prod and provoke a Bear and the Bear keeps warning you to stop, but you refuse, then do not be surprised, when the Bear justifiably rips your face off.

Playing chicken with a Bear, is not a wise move.

***

THINGS TO PONDER

If "Leaders" of Western countries, being the aggressors in this conflict, think that they will be able to launch all their nuclear weapons against their targets, Natural Karmic Law may have something to say about that.

Maybe, there are forces at play that could inhibit any unjustified retaliatory strikes by aggressing Western countries.

Maybe, the damage done on balance, will more heavily burden Western countries.

Maybe, the underground bunkers that many have created for themselves, will instead, fittingly become their tombs.

Hmm, things to ponder.

Care to find out which way things will go?

SEEKING GOD'S WISDOM

The phrase "Seeking God's Wisdom" is an Oxymoron.

Have you people even read the Bible?

The God depicted in the Bible is an Insane, Murderous Psychopath.

What sort of Wisdom do you gain from that?

Religious people have their heads so far up their own backsides, it's amazing they don't suffocate.

RANT TIME

The delusional God Nonsense comment in the above video shows just how Fucking Retarded religious people are.

If Your God existed, why hasn't Your God, done anything about this?

Your God, is the All-Powerful God, Creator of the Universe, is he not?

Your God, supposedly punishes bad people, does he not?

Your God, is not only, not punishing these people, Your God, is allowing this to happen.

Why is Your God, allowing this to happen?

Maybe Your God, is not what you think it is.

Maybe Your God, is the Evil that you pretend to rally against.

Your Santa Claus in the Sky, does not exist and has never existed.

Humanity has allowed this to happen, because Humanity has been too busy with its head stuck up its ass, regurgitating Bullshit God Nonsense.

"Look at what wonderful people we are, because we regurgitate Bullshit God Nonsense."

Humanity is responsible for allowing this and resolving this.

Fuck Your Delusional God Nonsense!

DIVINE INTERVENTION? PLEASE

There are many referring to "Divine Intervention" or "the Hand of God", with regard to the events surrounding Donald Trump's failed assassination attempt.

One man was shot in the head and killed, whilst protecting his family.

Did "Divine Intervention" or "the Hand of God", not have anything left to save him?

If "Divine Intervention" or "the Hand of God", played a part in this event, then "Divine Intervention" or "the Hand of God", killed this man.

Are Religious Crazies willing to admit this obvious reasoning?

If your God is so great, why did your God, not save Corey Comperatore?

Why did your God, allow his children to lose their father?

Why did your God, allow this event to occur in the first place?

Why is your God, such an Asshole like that?

Or, maybe your God, does not exist.

***

Now, regarding Donald Trump moving his head, just at the right time to avoid a fatal injury...

Maybe, even the limited Individual Sovereignty that Donald Trump expresses, was enough for this action to occur.

Maybe, all the Individuals worldwide, that are beginning to make a stand for Truth, was sufficient to influence the Natural Algorithm toward a different outcome.

How about giving credit where credit is due? Rather than conjuring imaginary Beings, to attribute all the "Good" or the "Bad" things to.

Not Understanding how the Universe works, does not then imply actions of some God.

A PSYCHOLOGIST

"It is probably better to get married when you are young because then you grow up."

Is it being suggested that people get married when they are fourteen years of age or younger?

***

This, coming from an acclaimed psychologist.

This, coming from a renowned academic.

The way this is framed, is such condescending and self-righteous bullshit, which is typical of your average psychologist and academic.

So, what is being said here, is that One is only able to mature, if One is married.

One is only able to care for others, if One has children.

One cannot be mature or have the capacity to care for others, unless they are married and have children.

How myopic of you Jordan. From your own limited experience, you extrapolate out to everyone else.

There are many that are married and have children, that are alcoholics.

Is this mature?

There are many that are married and have children, that are drug addicts.

Is this mature?

There are many that are married and have children, that violently beat their spouse.

Is this mature?

Is this caring?

There are many that are married and have children, that abuse those very children.

Is this mature?

Is this caring?

There are many that are married and have children, that are obese.

Is this mature?

There are many that are married and have children, that are destroying their children's health with the diet and lifestyle choices they teach them.

Is this mature?

Is this caring?

Was the Buddha married? Did the Buddha have children? Was the Buddha Immature?

Was Christ married? Did Christ have children? Was Christ Immature?

You are not special, simply because you are married.

You are not special, simply because you have children.

Reducing complex issues down to such simplistic blanket statements, shows that academia and the study of psychology are in a pitiful state.

This guy needs to hand back his degrees and doctorates and maybe get a refund.

The moral of the story here?

Be wary of psychologists and academics in general.

Because many times, they are just full of shit.

Finally, if you are going to be condescending, at least know what you are talking about.

Pay Attention, to the state of the world, with Humanity on the brink.

This is what you get, for abdicating Individual Sovereignty.

This is what you get, for being apathetic and ignorant to what your political "leaders" are scheming.

This is what you get, for allowing your political "leaders" to drag you by the nose.

This is what you get, when you expect government to look after you, like it were your mummy and daddy.

Your political "leaders" have created this mess and you are responsible for allowing it to happen.

It is far more difficult to turn things around now, after the psychopaths in government, have already been given all the power.

But of course, many will be unfamiliar with what is being referenced here. Too busy caught up in all manner of pathetic distraction.

Maybe, there is a situation where ignorance is bliss. That being the moment of One's own destruction.

Yet somehow, there are still those that think they can pray their way out of this.

Geez!

Many have been on their knees, praying in the face of their own annihilation, to no avail.

Do people never learn?

At this vital juncture in Humanity's story, what are YOU going to do?

A BRILLIANT IDEA

I have an idea...

Let's establish a body that we call "Government", in which we bestow all manner of political power and then see what happens.

A few moments later...

Well surprise, surprise. The psychopaths have taken it over and now we're in real trouble.

Who would have thought that could have happened?

(Sarcasm. For those lacking sarcastic sense.)

THE PERFECT BLOSSOM

Dialogue from the movie, "The Last Samurai", DVD release.

Time Sections: 01:08:46 - 01:11:35 and 02:08:34 - 02:09:53

TRANSCRIPT

01:08:46 - 01:11:35 : Katsumoto is in a courtyard admiring a blossoming cherry tree, as Algren approaches.

Katsumoto The perfect blossom is a rare thing.

You could spend your life looking for one, and it would not be a wasted life.

Algren Who sent those men to kill you?

Katsumoto I'm writing a poem about a dream I had.

The tiger's eyes are like my own.
But he comes from across a deep and troubled sea.

Algren Was it the Emperor?

Omura?

Katsumoto If the Emperor wishes my death, he has but to ask.

Algren So it was Omura.

Katsumoto I'm having trouble finishing the poem.

Can you suggest a last line?

Algren I'm not a writer.

Katsumoto Yet, you have written many pages since you came here.

Algren What else has she told you?

Katsumoto You have nightmares.

Algren Every soldier has nightmares.

Katsumoto Only one who is ashamed of what he has done.

Algren You have no idea what I have done.

Katsumoto <Gives instructions to a guard in Japanese.>

You have seen, many things?

Algren I have.

Katsumoto You do not fear death, but sometimes you wish for it.

Is this not so?

Algren Yes.

Katsumoto I also.

It happens to men, who have seen what we have seen.

And then, I come to this place of my ancestors, and I remember.

Like these blossoms, we are all dying.

To know, life in every breath, every cup of tea, every life we take.

The way of the warrior.

Algren Life in every breath.

Katsumoto That is, Bushido.

Algren Ay.

Katsumoto The Emperor has granted a safe passage to Tokyo.

We leave tomorrow.

Algren Good.

Katsumoto Good.

The guard returns and delivers to Katsumoto, Algren's books. Katsumoto then hands them to Algren.

Katsumoto When I took these, you were...

...my enemy.

...

02:08:34 - 02:09:53 : Katsumoto is mortally wounded on the battle field. Algren assists him to end his life.

Algren I will miss, our conversations.

After plunging his sword into his abdomen, Katsumoto's final moments are spent admiring an adjacent orchard, of blossoming cherry trees.

Katsumoto Perfect.

They are all...

...perfect.

THE STATE OF EVIL

Does the Target of Evil sometimes enact Evil, as a desperate response to the Source of Evil itself?

Absolutely!

Does the Source Evil then use this response, to self-righteously deflect from its underhanded machinations?

Most definitely!

Rather than admonish and demonise the Target of Evil exclusively, maybe some deeper and honest inquiry is required to identify the real Source of Evil.

Evil does not discriminate with regard to the willing surrogates that carry out its bidding.

Surrogates of Evil can identify as Jewish, Christian, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist, Atheist...

Surrogates of Evil can identify as Israeli, American, British, German, Russian, Chinese, Indian, Iranian...

Currently though, Israel is the State of Evil. Along with its captured vassals in London, Washington, Brussels.

Ironically, these captured vassals are the ones that gave birth to and sponsor, the Israeli State of Evil.

This is a case of the tail wagging the dog for so long, that the dog is now almost helpless to stop it.

Is it not interesting, how ISIS spends a lot of time and effort attacking those that Israel deems its enemies, but never seems to turn its attention to Israel itself?

Curious. No?

SIX FEET UNDER

CHARLOTTE SANDS

I, can't help but think the worst of myself when
I, go out of my way to ruin my peace of mind.
I'm an optimist, but the pessimist wins sometimes.
Mhm, mmm.

And I'm fighting with the mirror, when I thought that we were friends.
I wanna disappear, but then I'm going out again.
Am I getting better, or just better at pretending?

Oh, some things never change.
I'm still at war with my brain.
I want so badly to feel good, I wonder,
How much more can I take?
I'll just keep digging my grave.
I won't be happy 'til I'm six feet under.

Days, turn into nights and every night feels the same.
It's hard to get dressed, 'cause look at this mess I've made.
I sit by myself, the stories I tell are fake.
Uh-uh, uh.

So I'm avoiding every mirror, I can't look at her again.
I'd rather disappear, than have to wait to see the end.
Am I getting better, or just better at pretending?

Oh, some things never change.
I'm still at war with my brain.
I want so badly to feel good, I wonder,
How much more can I take?
I'll just keep digging my grave.
I won't be happy 'til I'm six feet under.

(I won't be happy 'til I'm six feet under.)

(I won't be happy 'til I'm six feet under.)

I, can't help but think the worst of myself when
I, go out of my way to ruin my peace of mind.
It's hard to keep breathing. Why do I even try?
Mhm, mmm.

Oh, some things never change.
I'm still at war with my brain.
I want so badly to feel good, I wonder,
How much more can I take?
I'll just keep digging my grave.

KEEP ME UP ALL NIGHT

CHARLOTTE SANDS

I don't think I've slept in a month.
I don't wanna dream, it's too much.
Playin' in my head like a picture.
I haven't seemed myself, guess she's gone.
Crying used to help, now it feels wrong.
I'm drowning here alone, yeah, go figure.

'Cause I finally thought that I found you.
But you were wasting my time.
I'm over here dying without you. It's fine.
But,

Every time you look at her, I close my eyes.
Does she keep you up all night, keep you up all night?
Why'd you say "forever" if you'd change your mind?
You still keep me up all night, keep me up all night.

You blow me off, like I'm a mistake.
Show her off, oh god, I can't take it.
Why'd she have to look like a model?
No, it didn't take you long to forget about me.
Tell me how you're moving on, baby? I still can't sleep.
How the hell you look so unbothered?

'Cause I finally thought that I found you.
But you were wasting my time.
I'm over here dying without you, tonight.

Every time you look at her, I close my eyes.
Does she keep you up all night, keep you up all night?
Why'd you say "forever" if you'd change your mind?
You still keep me up all night, keep me up all night.

I miss the way that we were.
And I'm no better than her.
I know you better than her.
Ohhh.
You know that I was here first.
And I'm no better than her.
I know you better than her.

'Cause, your voice, was a soundtrack of my summer.
Do you know you're unlike any other?
You keep me up all night.

Every time you look at her, I close my eyes.
Does she keep you up all night, keep you up all night?
Why'd you say "forever" if you'd change your mind?
You still keep me up all night, keep me up all night.

Wasted my time.
You still keep me up all night, keep me up all night.
You wasted my time.

ALL MY FRIENDS ARE FALLING IN LOVE

CHARLOTTE SANDS

Starry-eyed.
Looking like a movie.
Every night's a new scene.
I'm still stuck, in hell.

Say goodbye.
When they go home together.
Whispering forever.
I'll go touch, myself.

I'll still be alone when I'm done.

All my friends are falling in love.
And I can't even make out with him,
Without wanting your touch.
Hell, I can't even stomach a drink,
Without hitting you up.

Though it's too late.
But there's still a part of me,
That's hoping baby, one day,
It could be us.

Yeah, I'm still falling out of it
And all my friends are falling in love.

Every night,
I lie awake at his place.
Thinking 'bout you always.
Dying, can't you tell?

Hey, I'm fine.
Faking like I'm happy.

Hope he doesn't ask me,
If there's someone else.

But I'll still be alone when he's done.

All my friends are falling in love.
And I can't even make out with him,
Without wanting your touch.
Hell, I can't even stomach a drink,
Without hitting you up.

Though it's too late.
But there's still a part of me,

Yeah, I'm still falling out of it
And all my friends are falling in love.

I can barely breathe.
Yeah, I still miss you.
Ohh-u-ohh.

Do you think of me,
When she's with you,
Falling in love?

Yeah, oh.
Falling in love. (Falling in love.)
Ohh-u-ohh.

Maybe I'll go outside
And try to count the trees,
Outside of my apartment.

Maybe I'll close my eyes.
Pretend I'm somewhere else,
Where all the leaves have fallen.

I trust my horoscope,
More than I trust myself.
Keep feeding my ego,
When I should ask for help.
Don't know where prayers go,
But I'm still scared of hell.

No, I'll never be alright.
But maybe I'll get close.
I'm drinking with my ghosts, tonight.

No, I'll never be alright.
But I heard it gets good.
I'm thinking that I could, in time.

No, I'll never be, alright.
But it's gonna be, alright.

I should be keeping score,
Of all the nights I can't decide
Between getting high or sleeping.

I thought by twenty-four,
I wouldn't question all affection,
As if I don't need it.

I trust my horoscope,
More than I trust myself.
Keep feeding my ego,
When I should ask for help.
Don't know where prayers go,
But I'm still scared of hell.

No, I'll never be alright.
But maybe I'll get close.

But it's gonna be, alright.

No, I'll never be, alright.
But it's gonna be, alright.

And every time I go back to Boston,
It just feels like running away.
And I sink right back to the bottom,
Hoping one day something will change.
All my monsters live in the mirror,
So I stare them straight in the face.
Tell them, even though I'm lost, I'm not afraid.

No, I'll never be alright.
But maybe I'll get close.
I'm drinking with my ghosts, tonight.

No, I'll never be alright.
But I heard it gets good.

I've been trying to keep,
My feet on the ground.
I feel like I'm floating.
Scared that I'll always be,
Alone in a crowd,
Where nobody knows me.

'Cause they all laugh,
Behind my back.
Like I don't know.
That my whole life,

Do you know what it's like,

Why am I so surprised,
When it's the same every time?
Do you know what it's like,
On the outside?

Yeah.

In a different life,
I would go out at night
And make friends with strangers.

I'd be someone they'd like,
If I could just get it right,
I wouldn't be such a failure.

But they all laugh,
Behind my back.

(Ah, ooh, yeah) I'ma be your biggest regret.
(Ah, ooh, yeah) Good luck getting me out of your life.

Yeah, I might just buy your house, light a match, burn it down.
While my name is up in lights, you'll be out, in the crowd,
With my picture on your shirt. (Ah)

WEATHER AND ENERGY

There seems to be some angry scepticism surrounding the possibility of "creating" weather. Primarily due to the massive amount of Energy required to produce weather phenomena such as hurricanes.

Some arguments accurately state that it is impossible for current human technology to generate the required Energy.

This is not the point.

Firstly, the Energy to induce a process is often far less, than the Energy derived from the process. It requires far less Energy to pull the trigger of a gun, than is experienced at the end of the barrel. Also, pushing a rock down a hill, may result in an avalanche that can destroy everything in its path.

Within an electromechanical system, control and signalling energy requirements are generally always far less than that required for actuation power. Or expressed in a more familiar way, the Energy required to signal your muscle to contract, is far less than the energy required to contract the muscle itself. Especially when lifting heavy items.

It is also worthy to note, that a pig can be manoeuvred with a plywood board.

Secondly, no Sentient Being in the entire Universe has or will ever, produce or create Energy. Energy is either converted from one form to another, or it is redirect in its expression.

Energy = Consciousness.

Similar to the way that thoughts cannot conceive of Consciousness, because thought itself is downstream of Consciousness, an entity within the Universe cannot create Energy, because the whole Universe itself is downstream of Energy. The Universe is formed from the foundation of Energy. The Universe is the result of Energy Flow.

Energy is all around. everywhere, within everything.

The question may then arise, "Well, where is all this energy?".

This is analogous to a fish swimming in the ocean asking, "Where's all the water?".

It is not a question of whether certain entities within this world can generate or create enough Energy to produce a hurricane, but whether they have discovered ways to manipulate Energy Flow to produce such an outcome, under the appropriate conditions.

Of course, manipulating Energy Flow from its natural course, may have its own ramifications. Every action has a reaction, but it is not always equal. The principles underlying mechanical advantage prove this.

Finally, the atomic bomb was impossible, until it wasn't.

TRANSCRIPT

...I'm glad you said that.

Yesterday I had a two hour conversation with Dmitri Trenin. Who is a senior, he used to head up the Carnegie Endowment for Peace in Moscow.

He used to be part of the, back when America and Russia were talking about partnership, he was the man that was making the partnership work.

But he has the ear of Vladimir Putin, he is a man of substance in Russia.

You know, we've collaborated together on trying to stop nuclear war over the course of the last year and I was saying over and over again, how close we were to nuclear war, how close we were to nuclear war.

And there's a lot of people out there going, Scott, Scotty, Scotty, Scotty. Calm down, it's not as bad, no. You're exaggerating.

Trenin, yesterday said, America will never understand how close they came to having, not just one time, not just twice, but at least three times, a nuclear war.

How absolutely close we came.

Putin, he said was under more pressure than you could possibly imagine from the Russian system, that said they had crossed every red line and if we don't stop them now, it will be the end of us. We must act now! We must use nuclear weapons!

Guys, we are so lucky to be alive today, and it's not because of anything that happened here in the United States. It's simply because Putin decided that he wasn't going to push the button.

But we were provoking him so much. The Biden administration, almost killed everybody.

Almost killed everybody.

And Kamala Harris, had she been elected, would have killed everybody.

We have this president that none of us really understand. We're not experts on Donald Trump. I don't think there is an expert on Donald Trump.

We're trying to figure out who this guy is. But all I know, is that he doesn't want a nuclear war and he has articulated that.

And that helps me sleep easy at night.

ADDRESSING FAILINGS

Upon the eve of a new administration taking office in the United States, some serious self-reflection must take place by the entire country, give the information that Scott Ritter has just shared.

How did this happen?

How does an administration have the power to not only threaten the existence of the United States of America, but the entire world?

How was there no way to pull this back?

How was there no real-time accountability for all those involve?

The United States has some serious internal issue it must address. There is a parasitic disease which has spread throughout the U.S. political establishment, that threatens all life on this planet.

It is probably best that the United States limits or even removes itself from global affairs for an extended period of time, while it investigates and resolves its own serious internal failings in ensuring that nuclear annihilation is not something that ever comes close to occurring again.

How do psychopaths get anywhere near the White House or Congress in the first place?

This is a dark stain on the reputation of the United States, which already has serious transgressions to account for.

How can the rest of the world ever trust the United States again?

How is the fate of the world thrown onto the shoulders of one person?

If not for the restraint and patience of a foreign leader under tremendous pressure, planet Earth, would right now, be a waste land.

There would be no one reading this post, because there would be no post to read, or people to read it.

This is something everyone should reflect on.

Because if you do not...

Good-bye to Humanity.

Americans are suckers for an entertaining show.

So far, Donald Trump has been an entertaining show.

But what is the substance?

***

Overall, a solid perspective. But just some comments on a couple of the points Richard made.

Richard talks about the federal minimum wage not being raised in over 15 years, resulting as a burden on the poor. But he also implies that manufacturing cannot return to the United States, because of high production costs.

Well, either production costs are lowered, or manufacturing jobs do not return? Which will it be?

As far as Richard's view on deporting illegal immigrants goes, what is the point of having borders, if unvetted access across those borders is allowed?

It is not up to the people of the United States to treat the people of Mexico like a charity case.

In saying that, Mexican prosperity is hampered by U.S. imperial mechanisms, interfering in Mexican affairs to ensure they do not rise to the level of being a rival to the United States in the region.

This is a complex issue, with tentacles stretching out in many directions. Addressing all the complexity would be quite a challenge.

The United States empire promotes itself as an advocate of free markets, but somehow, manages to rig and contort markets in its favour.

The book, Confessions Of An Economic Hit Man by John Perkins, is an excellent primer on this, for those that are unfamiliar with the issue.

Allow a genuine global free market to operate, and wherever any country or region sits at a particular point in time, is where that country or region sits at that particular point in time.

This desire to perpetually be "Number 1", by any means, is just childish and a detriment in the long run.

FACT CHECK

The Soviet Union was already defending itself from the Nazis and their allies for about two years prior to the United States even entering the war.

So, who helped who?

Also, it is generally considered that the Soviet Union lost around 20-30 million people over the course of the Second World War.

Around 14 million of which were Russian.

This figure of 60 million, came from where exactly?

Correspondingly, American deaths in World War 2 are said to be in the order of 400 thousand.

Americans come along to sweep the floor, then claim credit for constructing the building.

Okay, this might be a bit of an exaggeration.

A CURE FOR MINDS UNWELL

LEWIS CAPALDI

Wakin' up too early, static on the TV.
Dressed in all the clothes I had on.
When yesterday decided I didn't need to fight with
The hours and the seconds no more.

Doin' all the things that I'm supposed to.
Workin' every day the way that most do.
Smilin' while I'm hidin' what I'm goin' through.
But you know, you know, you know...

That if I'm being honest.
I couldn't tell you this is all I wanted.
I struggle sleeping 'cause the house feels haunted.
Filled with the shadows of regret and the things I should've said,
To the ones I laid to rest, and lately,
I'm terrified that all my youth is fading.
Man, growing old is so excruciating.
Is there a cure for minds unwell?
'Cause my head's a living hell.
If I'm honest with myself.

Stumble as I'm leavin', one foot takes the lead and Second seems to struggle to find,
A solitary reason to continue seekin'
Any use in walkin' this line.

Doin' all the things that I'm supposed to.
Workin' every day the way that most do.
Smilin' while I'm hidin' what I'm goin' through.
But you know, you know, you know...

That if I'm being honest.
I couldn't tell you this is all I wanted.
I struggle sleeping 'cause the house feels haunted.
Filled with the shadows of regret and the things I should've said,
To the ones I laid to rest, and lately,
I'm terrified that all my youth is fading.
Man, growing old is so excruciating.
Is there a cure for minds unwell?
'Cause my head's a living hell.
If I'm honest with myself.

So how am I supposed to see an end,
To my all-consuming, constant fear and dread?
When I can't even seem to make it out of bed.

Yeah if I'm being honest.
I couldn't tell you this is all I wanted.
I struggle sleeping 'cause the house feels haunted.
Filled with the shadows of regret and the things I should've said,
To the ones I laid to rest, and lately,
I'm terrified that all my youth is fading.
Man, growing old is so excruciating.

Donald Trump blaming Volodymyr Zelenskyy for the conflict with Russia is a bit rich. Regardless of how reprehensible Zelenskyy is.

Victoria Nuland was instrumental in fomenting the Maidan coup.

Victoria Nuland was instrumental in manoeuvring for war with Russia.

Victoria Nuland was a United States government employee, was she not?

That's not to mention Joe Biden's role in Ukraine through his son, Hunter.

Also, Donald Trump himself sent arms to Ukraine in preparation for the war with Russia.

So Don, what fantasy land are you living in?

The United States was not funding Ukraine out of the goodness of its heart. The United States political establishment expected a payoff in the form of Russia's breakup and then expropriating its resources.

The United States is directly responsible for the war in Ukraine.

How about you start being more honest with yourself and the American people, Don?

If the United States has lost money on this venture, tough.

Suck it up, Princess.

P.S. Um Don, China is part of BRICS.

Mummy and Daddy government is an antiquated construct whose time has come, if Humanity is to evolve into a new paradigm.

Stated more accurately, Individuals will encounter pressures which will encourage them to develop into a higher quality, which will then make governments redundant.

NUMBER ONE GIRL

ROSÉ

Tell me that I'm special.
Tell me I look pretty.
Tell me I'm a little angel.
Sweetheart of your city.
Say what I'm dying to hear,
Cause I'm dying to hear you.

Tell me I'm that new thing.
Tell me that I'm relevant.
Tell me that I got a big heart,
Then back it up with evidence.
I need it and I don't know why,
This late at night.

Isn't it lonely.
I'd do anything to make you want me.
I'd give it all up if you told me.
That I'd be
The number one girl in your eyes.
Your one and only.
So what's it gon' take for you to want me?
I'd give it all up if you told me
That I'd be
The number one girl in your eyes.

Tell me I'm going real big places.
Down to earth so friendly.
And even through all the phases,
Tell me you accept me.
Well that's all I'm dying to hear.
Yeah I'm dying to hear you.

Tell me that you need me.
Tell me that I'm loved.
Tell me that I'm worth it
And that I'm enough.
I need it and I don't know why,
This late at night.

Isn't it lonely.
I'd do anything to make you want me.
I'd give it all up if you told me
That I'd be
The number one girl in your eyes.
Your one and only.
So what's it gon' take for you to want me?
I'd give it all up if you told me
That I'd be
The number one girl in your eyes.

The girl in your eyes.
The girl in your eyes.
Tell me I'm the number one girl.
I'm the number one girl in your eyes.
The girl in your eyes.
The girl in your eyes.
Tell me I'm the number one girl.
I'm the number one girl in your eyes.

Well isn't it lonely.
I'd do anything to make you want me.
I'd give it all up if you told me
That I'd be
The number one girl in your eyes.

Your one and only.
So what's it gon' take for you to want me?
I'd give it all up if you told me
That I'd be

The number one girl in your eyes.
The number one girl in your eyes.

STAY A LITTLE LONGER

ROSÉ

Stay a little longer.
Take a little longer
To pack up your bags.
You're moving too fast.
Make me want to hate you
So I don't have to miss you.
Or make a mistake,
So someone's to blame.

I can't stand these four walls without you inside them.
Build us a castle, then leave me in silence.
What if I tangled some rope 'round your feet.
Into the ocean, cause I'm in too deep.

Please won't you stay, stay a little longer, babe.
Don't walk away, when I'm here calling your name.
I'm fragile.
I'm speechless.
Don't leave me in pieces.
Already having enough trouble breathing.
Please won't you stay, stay a little longer, babe.

Walk a little slower.
Stand a little closer
So I can convince you,
The minute I kiss you.
Speak a little softer
So I don't have to answer.
And make it okay,
Before you can say.

I can't stand these four walls without you inside them.
Build us a castle, then leave me in silence.

What if I tangled some rope ‘round your feet.
Into the ocean, cause I’m in too deep.

Please won’t you stay, stay a little longer, babe.
I’ll be okay, you say it’s written all over my face.
I’m fragile.
I’m speechless.
Don’t leave me in pieces.
Already having enough trouble breathing.
Please won’t you stay, stay a little longer, babe. Oh...
Babe.

Stay a little longer.
Take a little longer
To pack up your bags.
You’re moving too fast.
Make me want to hate you
So I don’t have to miss you.
Or make a mistake,
So someone’s to blame.

Please won’t you stay, stay a little longer, babe.
I’ll be okay, you say it’s written all over my face.
I’m fragile.
I’m speechless.
Don’t leave me in pieces.
Already having enough trouble breathing.
Please won’t you stay, stay a little longer, babe. Oh...

TWO YEARS

ROSÉ

How'd it all fall apart.
You were right here before, in my arms.
Now you're invisible.
But the heartbreak's physical.

Got a place, moved away.
Somewhere with a different code, different state.
Still feels miserable.
God it's so chemical.

All that I know,
Is I can't let you go.

It's been two years and you're still not gone.
It doesn't make sense that I can't move on.
Yeah I try, I try, I try, I try.
But this love never dies.

Two years since you've been in my bed.
Even had a funeral for you in my head.
Yeah I try, I try, I try, I try.
But this love never dies.

Another night, another vice.
Even try with someone new, someone nice.
I'll always hate the fact that you, ruined everybody after you.
I'm always coming back to you.

It's been two years and you're still not gone.
It doesn't make sense that I can't move on.
Yeah I try, I try, I try, I try.
But this love never dies.

It’s been two years since you’ve been in my bed.
Even had a funeral for you in my head.
Yeah I try, I try, I try, I try.
But this love never dies.

Maybe I'm just sick and this is how it’s gonna be.
Maybe this is all I know
And I know it's not you it’s me.
Cuz it’s been two years and you’re still not gone.
It doesn’t make sense that I can’t move on.
Yeah I try, I try, I try, I try.
But this love never dies.

It’s been two years since you’ve been in my bed.
Even had a funeral for you in my head.
Yeah I try, I try, I try, I try.
But this love never dies.

TOO BAD FOR US

ROSÉ

And it crept up on us,
In the way that it does
And the moment disappeared.
In the desert of us,
All our tears turned to dust.
Now the roses don't grow here.
I guess that love does what it wants.
And that's just too bad for us.

Was it all just sleight of hand?
Another trick that fate has played on us again.
Two heads in the sand.
I hear you talkin' but I just can't understand.

Caught in no man's land,
Between the wires.
Comin' under friendly fire.
Can't go forward,
Can't go back again.

And it crept up on us,
In the way that it does
And the moment disappeared.
In the desert of us,
All our tears turned to dust.
Now the roses don't grow here.
I guess that love does what it wants.
And that's just too bad for us.

Flying high with both eyes closed.
Almost touched the sun, I guess we got too close.
Now I'm dancing on my own.
But the music's not as good when you're alone.

Caught in no man's land,
Between the wires.
Comin' under friendly fire.
Can't go forward,
Can't go back again.

And it crept up on us,
In the way that it does
And the moment disappeared.
In the desert of us,
All our tears turned to dust.
Now the roses don't grow here.
I guess that love does what it wants.
And that's just too bad for us.

We wanna talk but we don't wanna listen.
We play pretend but we both know it's missin'.
If love burns too bright it burns out in a minute.
At least that's what I tell myself.

We wanna talk but we don't wanna listen.
We play pretend but we both know it's missin'.
If love burns too bright it burns out in a minute.
At least that's what I tell myself.

DANCE ALL NIGHT

ROSÉ

Got out of my bed today.
The sunlight was hitting my face.
And two little birds came and sat on the edge
And they ask if I'm doin' okay.
And we talked for a while, sat for a while.
And one of them asked me if there's anything I would change.
And I didn't know what to say.
But I...

I would dance all night.
Not care about the heartache in my life.
Oh.
And I would not obsess
Over all the little things I don't regret.
I'd dance all night, night.
I'd dance all night, night.
Oh.
And I...
I'd dance all night, night.
Dance all night.

I wouldn't be so in my head.
Three words every chance that I get.
Be spontaneous
And better with trust
And say things that I should've said.
I would let my feelings lead me.
Let you be the one to hold me now
And maybe this time you could stay.
Cause I...

I would dance all night.
Not care about the heartache in my life.

Oh.
And I would not obsess
Over all the little things I don't regret.
I'd dance all night, night.
I'd dance all night, night.
Oh.
And I...
I'd dance all night, night.

Dance all night.
I'll be there for you tomorrow.
You can dry your eyes.
We'll laugh away the sorrow.
When the morning comes
Just promise me you'll stay forever young.
Forever young.
I...

I would dance all night.
Not care about the heartache in my life.
Oh.
And I would not obsess
Over all the little things I don't regret.
I'd dance all night, night.
I'd dance all night, night.
Oh.
And I...
I'd dance all night, night.
Dance all night.

PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY

This commentary is a response to the video, The Law Finally Caught Up, EVERY AAA Is In Trouble, on the Bellular News YouTube channel. Which is a channel that reports on computer gaming industry news.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WCkUUm0zDLY

***

No! No! No! No! No! No! No!

No.

So, if customers have been trained to be weak and undisciplined by government, then this is somehow the fault of the Free Market?

What?

The arguments made here against the Free Market are nonsense.

If people are so psychologically weak and undisciplined that they fall for marketing traps, then let them fall for marketing traps.

Pandering does not help them.

The Free Market imposes Discipline on both Produces and Customers. On Employers and on Employees.

Government involvement in economic matters, interferes with this Self-Regulating Disciplinary Mechanism.

The reason why people have no Self-Discipline, is because they have been brought up with governments interfering with the development of Self-Discipline.

Instead of allowing Natural behaviours to develop, government involvement incentivises the development of perverse behaviours.

If producers and businesses run corrupt, inefficient companies, then they deserve to go out of business.

If customers have no Self-Control and Self-Discipline, then they deserve to get ripped off.

If customers cannot get a handle on their spending habits, then they deserve to go broke.

This is Natural forces at play, producing Natural outcomes. Which, for sane Individuals, would encourage changes in behaviour.

If an Individual spends all their money on their computer games, then that Individual should face the consequences of spending all their money on their computer games.

It is not until people face the hard reality of their behaviour, that people will then change that behaviour.

Why are children allowed to spend so much money on computer games? Where are the parents?

If children never learn Self-Discipline when they are young, they are unlikely to be Self-Disciplined as adults.

Why should those with Self-Discipline, be burdened by overbearing government, just because there are those that have no Self-Discipline?

I don't care if people spent all their money on their computer games. Why should this then be used as an excuse for more government?

I should also state, that I am no fan of any of these computer gaming corporations and the European Union is a corrupt, despicable basket case of an institution.

EDUCATION REVOLUTION?

This commentary is a response to the video, Veritasium: What Everyone Gets Wrong About AI And Learning – Derek Muller Explains, on the Perimeter Institute for Theoretical Physics YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0xS68sl2D70

***

Derek from Veritasium, presents this excellent talk regarding education.

The last question asked by a young lady was regarding methods of assessment. Part of what she asked was,

"Exams aren't the best methods of evaluation either due to the performance anxiety..."

One of the aspects of raising children is to have them develop the ability to perform under pressure and eventually resolve the stress and anxiety regarding performance.

Performance anxiety is something that must be regularly worked on, until it is no longer an issue for children.

Performance anxiety is a direct result of a fear of failure, in whatever way failure is perceived.

Failure should be seen as a part of gaining Understanding. Children being given tasks they will most likely fail, is quite helpful on occasion.

It is important these failures be set up so they have real meaning and emotional impact for children. Just like success has real meaning and emotional impact for children.

Space should also be available for developing the ability to feel and accept the full ramifications of failure. Rather than being emotionally crippled by failure.

Accepting success and failure as two sides of the same coin, is a much more balanced way to approach the development of children.

If One does the best they can and One still Fails, well, then One Fails.

TECH BRO SOLUTIONS

Tech Bro Solutions to Humanity's problems almost always come down to more Technology.

Their solutions often offload greater amounts of Human Cognition, Skill and Understanding on to mechanical and electrical devices.

One might wonder if they have a vested interest in making Humanity dependent on Technology?

It may be better to treat Technology as a Tool, rather than a Dependency.

Does more Technology, really help Humanity?

Are Humanity's problems, problems of Technology?

THE PSEUDO-SCIENCE PROBLEM

This commentary is a response to the video, How I Became Particle Physicists' Enemy #1, on the Sabine Hossenfelder YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XqoyTSAF5g0

Sabine highlights some of the numerous problems in many fields of science at present.

***

Another serious issue is that of Reproducibility. This is where discoveries made in a scientific experiment cannot be reproduced by other scientists.

The fact that this occurs on such a large scale, is a massive red flag.

***

WHY CAN'T WE REPRODUCE SO MANY SCIENTIFIC FINDINGS?

https://lowninstitute.org/why-cant-we-reproduce-so-many-scientific-findings/

From the linked article.

"If scientists find a certain result from an experiment, but no one else is able to replicate it, that's a red flag. It indicates that the first scientists could have made a mistake or that the original study design wasn't sound."

Although this is a possibility, what is not mentioned in the article is the potential for fraud and corruption.

With failures to replicate occurring to such a large degree, means that either there are many incompetent people receiving science degrees, or there is systemic fraud and corruption permeating the scientific community.

Both of which are highly problematic.

"Currently, researcher[s] that have the most-cited or most popular studies in "high-impact" journals get rewarded — even though the methods may not be reproducible."

How are studies able to be published in peer reviewed journals, without being reproducible?

Reproducibility is a core tenet of science, yet these people cannot even get that right.

To a layperson, this seems to be a fundamental first step before publication. If your study is not able to be reproduced, how can it be published as a valid study?

WTF!

"Reproducibility is a concerning issue in science, but these new initiatives also give us something to be optimistic about. Now go out there, and do the same thing over again!"

How are any of these initiatives a cause for optimism? These initiatives just sound like fluff. These initiatives sound like, "let's just keep sweeping the issue under the rug".

***

SCIENCE UNDER SCRUTINY: THE PROBLEM OF REPRODUCIBILITY

https://www.scientificamerican.com/article/science-under-scrutiny-the-problem-of-reproducibility/

From the linked article.

"Yet the reproducibility problem does not necessarily mean that science is fundamentally broken. "Progress is dependent on failures," says Richard M. Shiffrin, a psychologist at Indiana University Bloomington, who is skeptical of the attention being paid to the "crisis.""

What sort of unscrupulous dirt bag thinks that this is not a problem?

"Progress is dependent on failures..."

If the system that you work within has failed and is broken and you refuse to fix it, how is this, "progress"?

System failure indicates a problem that needs to be addressed. It means you have a broken system. Why is anyone expected to trust your broken system?

This is typical of the crap that is vomited out of the mouths of psychologists.

***

REPRODUCIBILITY: THE SCIENCE COMMUNITIES' TICKING TIMEBOMB. CAN WE STILL TRUST PUBLISHED RESEARCH?

https://frontlinegenomics.com/reproducibility-the-science-communities-ticking-timebomb-can-we-still-trust-published-research/

From the linked article.

"But for a discipline that prides itself on the "unbiased pursuit of knowledge and truth", the fact that up to 65% of researchers have tried and failed to reproduce their own research is astonishing, to say the least."

Let that sink in.

65% of researchers failed to reproduce their own results.

How have these people still got a job after this?

In the engineering field, which I have worked in, being this incompetent would have meant an immediate sacking, and rightly so. Because people could die if I screw up.

But scientists that produce bogus and/or fraudulent studies, simply move on to their next grant project.

The unfortunate fact here is, it is not just science that is replete with clueless incompetence, but it is a disease that has infected every profession and field.

Professional grifters are being paid tremendous amounts of money, and they will do their best to ensure that the gravy train continues for them.

Yet, those that call out the nonsense and/or corruption, are the ones to lose their job.

Why is senior management so eager to cover these things up?

From these articles, there seems to be an underlying narrative that it is not the fault of the scientist, but the system.

However, if the scientists see the problem, why don't more of them speak out? Why are so many happy to go along, to get along?

A scientist's primary loyalty should be to truth and integrity, even at the expense of their own well-being.

People create these systems. People work within these systems. People need to be responsible for the systems they create and work in.

"We need the space to question, revisit, and reassess. But if the goal is to constantly push forward, we don't allow for that opportunity."

The context of this quote seems to imply that flawed studies are, "constantly pushing forward".

How is there any "pushing forward" if the primary research is flawed?

***

I wasn't expecting Sabine's video to trigger such a rant, but here we are.

Regardless of all this, remember to just, "Trust the Science".

Not.

RE-EVALUATING THE GOSPELS

This commentary is a response to the video, Jesus & Eternal Life | Faith, Fact Or Fiction? | Paul Wallis, on the Paul Wallis YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Rr06lfv-YU8

***

"Our purpose here is to learn love, joy, compassion, harmony..."

You miss the actual point here, Paul.

Life is about developing deeper and greater levels of Self-Awareness and Self-Understanding.

At the end of a Life, an evaluation takes place to determine the new Understandings you have come to, about yourself.

Everything else is a byproduct of that.

Don't get too hung up on the specific byproducts.

The byproducts will take care of themselves.

To gain Genuine Understanding, be Genuine.

Additionally, this planet is a quarantine zone. Once a Soul enters here, either native to Earth or visitor, there is no leaving until the quarantine is lifted.

This is of course dependent on whether Humanity is brought out of its state of insanity.

On a side note, it is time people stop being dependent on Others for correcting them on Fundamental Understanding.

Anyone that has read these writings to this point, should have a solid grasp of Fundamental Understanding.

The basic premise of these writings, is Self-Awareness and Self-Understanding.

But here, Paul goes off on some tangent that his previous religious indoctrination programmed into his psyche.

This is a clear case of being given 2 + 2 and coming up with 37.

Although to some, this may seem like nitpicking, it is not. When errors in Fundamental Understanding extrapolate outward from their source, those errors magnify substantially.

It would be best for Humanity, to dispense with all these supposed holy books for any meaningful Understanding. Because the lingering perversion of Understanding, does more harm than good.

WRITTEN BY CONAN GRAY

I still remember, third of December.
Me in your sweater. You said it looked better,
On me than it did you. Only if you knew,
How much I liked you. But I watch your eyes as she...

...Walks by.
What a sight for sore eyes.
Brighter than a blue sky.
She's got you mesmerised.
While I die.

Why would you ever kiss me?
I'm not even half as pretty.
You gave her your sweater. It's just polyester.
But you like her better. Wish I were Heather.

Watch as she stands with her holding your hand.
Put your arm 'round her shoulder. Now I'm getting colder.
But how could I hate her? She's such an angel.
But then again, kinda wish she were dead as she...

...Walks by.
What a sight for sore eyes.
Brighter than a blue sky.
She's got you mesmerised.
While I die.

Why would you ever kiss me?
I'm not even half as pretty.
You gave her your sweater. It's just polyester.
But you like her better. Wish I were Heather.

Oh

Oh, oh

Why would you ever kiss me?

SWAMP MONSTER

From the Tom Woods email, "This Isn't What I Campaigned For", concerning statements made by Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene.

https://mailchi.mp/tomwoods/mtg

***

[Start]

I have no doubt that everyone reading this is capable of sending me silly things that Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene has said or done, and yet I am not interested in any of them.

I am not interested in any of them because just days ago she had the stones to say this:

I represent the base and when I'm frustrated and upset over the direction of things, you better be clear, the base is not happy.

I campaigned for no more foreign wars.

And now we are supposedly on the verge of going to war with Iran.

I don't think we should be bombing foreign countries on behalf of other foreign countries especially when they have their own nuclear weapons and massive military strength.

And on top of that, now we are told that we have signed a deal for mineral rights in Ukraine, in order to pay us back for the hundreds of billions of dollars that we gave Ukraine and they used for money laundering, sold the weapons we gave them to our enemies, and their leader is a dictator who cancelled elections, was involved of the first impeachment of Trump, and campaigned for Biden.

Didn't we learn our lesson when we went to war in Iraq and killed Saddam Hussein because of "weapons of mass destruction?"

Did we ever find any? And did any of that oil over in the Middle East make us rich? The answer is no, we are $36 trillion in debt today.

So why on earth would we go over and occupy Ukraine and spend an untold amount of future American taxpayer dollars defending and mining their minerals as well as potentially putting American lives at risk and future war?

Why don't we just mine our own rare earth minerals that are tied up on federal lands that the government confiscated years ago?

I also campaigned on accountability for the communist and tyrannical acts made by the government during Covid. Yet the Covid vaccine still has FDA approval even though there are millions reported injuries and deaths, and this mRNA vaccine is known to have horrific side effects and DOES NOT STOP PEOPLE FROM CATCHING COVID.

And to this day, it's still on the childhood vaccine schedule, why on earth is this happening? Hasn't big pharma made enough billions and billions and billions of dollars on this lie?

I also campaigned on accountability for all the lawfare that was waged against the American people in the past four years. What about all the people that were locked up in jail and the abuse that they went through? And when are those vicious attorneys and judges ever going to be held accountable for the lives they ruined?

And I campaigned for an end to waste fraud and abuse of the American people's harder tax dollars. I believe the DOGE mission is one of the most important things happening today in our government, and yet where are the rescissions that we should be voting on in Congress?

And one of the biggest issues in the nation that I have fought for, and early on I was one of the only ones that took a loud screaming stand against, is the evil transgender assault against our children. Most normal people in this country can't even comprehend how it's allowed to happen to kids who by law can't even get a tattoo, drive, or vote. And how did so many of our teachers turn into the predators themselves that groom children with gender lies? This should be an all out effort by Republicans to end this insanity.

And look at the extreme nature of our rogue judicial system that is so defiant that there are judges that defy our nation's laws and block the deportation of literal enemies of the United States of America. Where is the outrage and moral courage to dispose of this treason? Sadly not in Congress.

And what about election integrity? This should be the most important issue that the Republicans aggressively fight to protect because without secure elections protected from illegals voting and protections from stealing our votes, the American people have lost their power.

When you are losing MTG, you are losing the base.

And Trump isn't on the ballot in the future, so do the math on that.

It took legitimate guts for her to say those things. She will face the wrath of the lapdog influencers who refuse to admit flaws in Trump 2.0, and she could be turning Trump himself against her.

She is not a contrarian by nature. She wants to be a team player. But she blew the whistle on these important things, and good for her.

I don't think I'm telling readers anything they don't know already when I say: it's entirely possible that politics will fail us, and that we're going to continue to have a screwed up society for a good long time.

I obviously don't want that to be the case, but I for one am prepared for the possibility.

[End]

Didn't Donald Trump once promise to, "Drain the Swamp"?

Instead, Donald Trump has become the Swamp Monster. Looking to create more foreign enemies, instead of facing and dealing with the well-entrenched domestic enemies that are the ones actually destroying the United States.

The greatest tragedy here is the lost potential.

At this point, it is hard to see Donald Trump as anything but a phoney. Just another, in a long line of U.S. Presidential buffoons.

I wonder if members of his cabinet have destroyed their reputations and political careers because they are involved with this Trump administration?

It is deserving.

Why the double standard?

A BEAUTIFUL ACHING

WHAT IS CAPITALISM?

From the Tom Woods email, "Dumb Slogan, RIP", concerning ridiculous criticisms of Capitalism.

https://mailchi.mp/tomwoods/slogans

***

[Start]

I expect dumb slogans to come from the left.

Their entire worldview is slogans. Whatever they want, they can costlessly wish into existence. No wonder that 99 percent of the time when you see a car covered in bumper stickers, the driver is a leftist.

His entire philosophy is a bumper sticker.

I find it demoralizing, then, when people on the right, especially those who call themselves "traditionalists", do the same thing. They are smart enough to know better.

I've heard it all from these people over the years. One of my favorites -- and it's pompous to boot -- is that capitalism and socialism are really two sides of the same coin because they share the same "anthropology."

Okay, man.

Nobody who speaks like this ever gives us a definition of capitalism. On the rare occasion that they do, they give the game away with a tendentious definition that has their righteous complaints already baked into it.

Well, turning to today's annoyance, someone I otherwise respect apparently said, "Capitalism is based on the idol of money."

Can we all please stop saying things like that?

Am I to believe that money is not also central to socialism or social democracy? Proponents of those systems do nothing but obsess over money, and on expropriating people they've never met. That does not strike me as a moral improvement.

Capitalism, meanwhile, is not based on any "idol". It is a system of freedom of contract, bounded by private property rights. Forget all the bogeyman definitions. That is all it is.

Moreover, it is only because we have private property in the means of production -- an essential feature of capitalism -- that among the billions of possible production choices and combinations that confront us, we can use the price system and the process of economic calculation to approach that one that most satisfies the preferences of the public while at the same time involving the lowest opportunity cost.

By contrast, without such a price system, allocation decisions would be destructively arbitrary. With no way to express relative demand, we would deploy resources in suboptimal production processes at the expense of ones more urgently demanded by the public -- an error that, repeated millions of times, would have the cumulative effect of large-scale impoverishment.

Thus the only way we can be good stewards of the resources entrusted to us -- see, I'm using their language -- is via private property and the price system to which it gives rise.

Capitalism is simply a system in which we do our best to please our fellow men, such that they freely choose to enter into mutually beneficial trade with us. No doubt some people under such a system may become addicted to moneymaking, but we can of course see that that has nothing to do with the principles of capitalism per se. Tyrannies have grown addicted to violent confiscation. I think I'll take my chances with the capitalist who enjoys making money.

You are asking too much of an economic system if you expect it to give you the meaning of life. It is enough if it can eradicate the worst indignities and deprivations, and give reasonable hope of future improvement.

[End]

***

This Tom Woods email post does a pretty good job of defining Capitalism and also shooting down some of the nonsense that is spewed out about Capitalism.

Most people's criticisms are not of Capitalism, but of Corporatism.

Definition from the Merriam Webster Dictionary.

Corporatism - The organisation of a society into industrial and professional corporations serving as organs of political representation and exercising control over persons and activities within their jurisdiction.

Corporatism is also sometimes referred to as, Fascism.

This is not the private ownership of Capital. Or as Tom puts it,

"...a system of freedom of contract, bounded by private property rights."

I would also argue, that the underlying principles of Capitalism are not just a mentally conjured construct. They are a natural byproduct of healthy Human psychology.

Someone thinking they have the right to steal other people's stuff, is not healthy Human psychology.

Another comment Tom made in this post that I quite like is,

You are asking too much of an economic system
if you expect it to give you the meaning of life.

ARAB BROTHERHOOD

Q. How does one Arab recognise another Arab?

A. It's the person that is friendly to his face, while plunging a knife in his back for a handful of shekels.

The Arab Monarchies in the Middle East are just as complicit in the slaughter of the Palestinians as the Americans and Europeans.

For decades, they have used the Palestinians as bargaining chips, so they can make deals that gain them more billions to shove up their silky, ornate dresses.

These Kings and Princes are nothing more than sand weasels. Too busy whoring out Instagram models and jerking off their camels.

They deserve to be in the same War Crimes Tribunal as the Zionist Facilitators from western countries, who are all the equivalent to Nazi Collaborators.

This criticism can also be extended to Turkish President, Recep Tayyip Erdogan and his government.

The mass murder of the Palestinian people, especially the children, is equally on their hands.

IS BRAINWASHING A PROBLEM?

From the Tom Woods email, "The Brainwashers Hate When You Resist".

https://mailchi.mp/tomwoods/worldview

***

[Start]

Is it wrong to hand down your worldview to your children? Is that "brainwashing" them?

Of course not.

Parents are supposed to teach their kids right from wrong. Handing down your worldview is nothing more than an extension of that.

Teaching children what matters in life, what we should value, what we should respect, whom we should admire, what we should preserve -- all of these are perfectly natural things for parents to teach their children, and they happen to be essential ingredients of a coherent worldview.

The importance of imparting a worldview to children is why so many people -- from simple busybodies to outright totalitarians -- intend to do it for you if you don't stop them.

CNN was none too happy when Connor Boyack became successful providing beautifully illustrated books that help parents do precisely that. The educational establishment is shot through with people who want to make sure your kids think a particular way, but if anyone should try to throw a monkey wrench into that plan, why, he's brainwashing the kids!

CNN's outraged article was written by (this really is too perfect) Nicole Hemmer, a researcher with the Obama Presidency Oral History Project at Columbia University.

"The goal," warned Hemmer, "is to seal conservatives' children off from a broader culture, to protect them from supposed liberal indoctrination by getting a head start on conservative indoctrination."

You read that right: "supposed liberal indoctrination." Got that? It's all in our imagination!

Nicole Hemmer's worldview is present everywhere a child turns, but if you try to inoculate your kids against it, you're the unreasonable one!

[End]

"Is it wrong to hand down your worldview to your children?
Is that "brainwashing" them?

Of course not."

Yes it is a problem Tom, when parents hand down their "worldview" onto their children and that worldview is based on lies and distortions.

The above blanket statement is heavily dependent on which parents are you specifically referring to.

Is it not a problem that Nazis hand down their "worldview" onto their children?

Is it not a problem that Zionists hand down their "worldview" onto their children?

Is it not a problem that Racists hand down their "worldview" onto their children?

Is it not a problem that Exceptionalism is indoctrinated into children?

Brainwashing efforts have to be countered by someone at some point. Do you expect vile and false ideologies to continue to spread, Tom?

Are you happy to see Humanity destroy itself, just so some parents can continue to hand down dangerous indoctrination without challenge?

I understand that your concern is to counter malicious actors indoctrinating your children.

But are you so sure that your worldview is beyond reproach?

I know that your worldview is strongly religious.

Religions lies and distortions have not helped Humanity.

You may want to improve the accuracy and validity of your own worldview, so you have something of real substance to pass onto your children.

Pretending to be a Good Person is Not Enough!

Human History is a Desolate Wasteland of Atrocities, committed by those that think themselves,
"Good People".

Tom, has not a large portion of your adult life been spent countering inaccurate worldviews?

THE TRUMP APOLOGY TOUR

This commentary is a response to the video, Populism And The Deep State With Robert Barnes, on The Duran YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fxLgxSGe5sE

***

Halfway through this I had to stop watching. The discussion to that point was basically, America, America, poor little America.

It gets tiresome listening to Americans talk about how hard it is being American.

This whole video sounds like an apology for Donald Trump and his administration.

I understand the difficulty and adversity. But if any of them were truly impressive people, they would not try to manoeuvre through or around the swamp, they would expose the swamp.

I find nothing impressive about any of them, at all.

Additionally, if Trump supporters need to explain to the world what the President of the United States does or does not mean in his demented social media posts, then there is something seriously wrong here.

But these Trump supports, cannot or do not, want to see that.

The Trump administration is games, games and more stupid games. Donald Trump himself talks like a wannabe hero, but behaves like a stooge.

None of the members of this administration are having their family members slaughtered, are they?

The United States should leave the rest of the world alone, and sort out their own serious issues.

BOW BEFORE THE EMPEROR

From the Tom Woods email, "Trump Lashes Out At Rand".

https://mailchi.mp/tomwoods/randpaul

***

[Start]

The President is unhappy that Rand opposes the so-called "big, beautiful bill" for budgetary reasons.

Rand has defended Donald Trump at times when other Republicans ran and hid.

All through Russiagate, Rand insisted the whole thing was a witch hunt and that Trump was innocent.

During the first impeachment trial, Rand emerged as one of Trump's staunchest defenders in the Senate. Same for the second such trial, which Rand denounced as "absurd" and "political theater."

He defended Trump against campaign finance allegations in 2018.

Establishment left and right alike went after Trump in 2019 for his Syria withdrawal, and at that moment when the President needed allies, Rand supported him.

Likewise for Trump's 2018 summit with Vladimir Putin. Said Rand:

Yes, the vast majority of the foreign policy community, the bipartisan consensus said you shouldn't meet with Putin. They also said he shouldn't meet with Kim and this is an extraordinary thing about President Trump that should be lauded and not belittled is that he is willing to meet with adversaries to try to prevent us from having World War III.

So you'd think the response to all that would be to say: thanks, Rand, for all the support, especially when it was most difficult to stand in my corner and other Republicans had abandoned me. Now let's see if we can address your concerns.

As you know, dear reader, that was not the response.

By now you probably know my opinion on all this: the debt problem is not going to be solved. Almost nobody cares about it, and even people who profess to care are not nearly prepared to take the kinds of steps that need to be taken.

It will eventually resolve itself in the form of a severe crisis. Until then, nothing is going to be done.

I am not normally a pessimist, as I think is obvious enough from my tone on the Tom Woods Show, but on this I know I'm right.

That doesn't make politics entirely useless: there are issues other than debt, and there's been positive movement on a handful of those. But the spending problem will not be brought under control before the crisis. That should be obvious.

KING'S BIRTHDAY

In Australia, 9th of June 2025 is the King's Birthday public holiday.

At around this same time of year, we also used to have the Queen's Birthday public holiday.

However, this is not that actual day of Charles's birthday, nor was it the actual day of Elizabeth's birthday.

Did I say Australia?

Well, not all of Australia.

Western Australia and Queensland do their own thing. But still, not on Charles's or Elizabeth's actual birthdays.

New Zealand decided to have their public holiday last week. Presumably because the day first starts in New Zealand, or something like that.

The United Kingdom commemorates the King's or Queen's Birthday on a different day, again.

Which is also not their actual Birthday.

Why do we have these public holidays, that are nowhere near their actual birthday?

Who knows.

It's just more government stupidity, I guess.

For anyone interested, Charles's actual birthday is said to be on the 14th of November and Elizabeth's actual birthday is said to have been on the 21st of April.

The point and purpose of royalty at all, is an even bigger issue, for another time, maybe.

Anyway, back to the real reason for this verse.

Since it is the "King's Birthday" and birthdays tend to be celebrated with friends; who was one of Prince Charles's good friends?

The Paedophile, Jimmy Savile.

Hmm, I smell something.

Who was one of Prince Andrew's good friends?

The Paedophile, Jeffrey Epstein.

But wait! There's more.

Who was the great-uncle to both these men?

The suspected Paedophile, Louis Francis Albert Victor Nicholas Mountbatten, or Lord Mountbatten.

Charles is said to have had an "Especially Close Relationship" with, Lord Mountbatten.

I'm not sure, but is anyone seeing a pattern here?

Happy Birthday.

The corrupt political establishment in the West, is nothing new.

People have had plenty of time and opportunity to do something about it, if they wanted to.

They chose not to.

But now, you expect billionaires to be the "Saviours of Humanity"?

The billionaires have profited greatly from this tyranny. Why would they be the ones to do something about it?

In periods like these, if people have got the time to go to the football match, baseball game, NASCAR race and Disneyland, while genocide is being committed in their name, then they have chosen their priorities.

Natural consequences do not care about excuses.

Speculation.

This issue of Donald Trump constantly attempting to appease the neocons, even though he could easily deal with them head on, may be rooted in possible dirt that neocons have on him.

But if this is the case, then the question comes to mind; why did they not make use of this dirt prior to the election? All manner of legal shenanigans and hit pieces were undertaken, so animosity was a definite driving factor.

Could it be, that Donald Trump had his own dirt on some of the more prominent neocons, which he in turn utilised as leverage?

Was it a Mexican Standoff of sorts?

So, did something change?

The FBI raided Mar-a-Lago in August 2022. searching for supposed "classified documents".

This was obviously a bogus claim, since the President of the United States has the authority to declassify any documents he/she wishes. Donald Trump had every right to whatever documents he wanted.

Unlike Joe Biden's similar case when he was Vice President. From which nothing was ever done.

Then, given the reasoning for this raid was spurious, what was the real motivation?

Could it be, that the FBI was looking for the kompromat Donald Trump himself had on establishment political figures or their backers, which he was leveraging against?

Since Donald Trump has moved in the same social circles as these people his entire life, this is not impossible.

The raid itself may have turned up nothing at the time, but what if the political establishment has now obtained said kompromat, or is able to neutralise it?

Could this explain the spineless way Donald Trump deals with these neocons at present?

Again, speculation.

No doubt, there are complex and shady dealings going on here, well away from public scrutiny. With a multitude of Shitbags all manoeuvring to cover themselves.

Good Luck with that.

BEING HONEST

If Donald Trump is going to start being honest about the Ukraine conflict, then he should be completely honest about the Ukraine conflict.

He should openly state that the intent of the Ukraine conflict is a destabilisation campaign of Russia, with the ultimate goal of stealing Russian natural resources.

But the possibility of that occurring is in the negative percent.

The West has always been jealous of Russian natural resource, particularly the British. Pure and simple jealousy is possibly the driving force of Russian hatred in the British political establishment.

British loathing of Russia, may boil down to being nothing more than Petulance, Spite and Resentment over Russian natural resources.

The Ukraine conflict is little more than an elaborate and sophisticated heist, all dressed up in the worn-out rages of "Freedom and Democracy". Consequently, with the added benefit of exposing and degrading the West in the process.

(Some may recoil at the statement that degrading the West is a benefit. So yes, it is a benefit. Whether that happens or not, is another thing entirely.)

> Alexander Mercouris

This quote from Alexander Mercouris, is advice well worth considering in such circumstances. Particularly with the possibility of no leisure being available to repent those actions.

The obsession of the West to oust Vladimir Putin as President of the Russian Federation, could be the result of a desire to see a more hard-line president take over. Thus, giving the West the opportunity to demonise Russia even further.

Remember, if the West is to fight a war with Russia, then it needs to convince its populations to do the fighting. Because it is certain that the Western political establishment, are never themselves going to fight that war.

The option to take a harder line is always available, but once this river is crossed, the way back, might not be so easy, or even possible.

Commentators, and the Western public in general, should be the first to take an aggressive stance toward the Western political establishment, not the president of a major nuclear power.

Those in the West, critical of Vladimir Putin's restrained approach, are too eager to abdicate their own Responsibility as Sovereign Individuals.

As has been pointed out in the subsection, Sovereign Right, Sovereign Responsibility, to the post, The Essence Of Satanism, One cannot abdicate Sovereign Responsibility.

The tyranny in the West is not Vladimir Putin's Responsibility. But it could become Vladimir Putin's and the peoples of Russia's Right to Resolve, should the peoples of the West, refuse to accept their Responsibility.

FAILED INVESTMENT

This commentary is a response to the video, Putin-Trump Summit. Orban Outsmarts Warhawks, on The Duran YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EN_0OvxRI7A

***

These criticisms by commentators that Vladimir Putin was over-invested in Donald Trump, prior to Trump taking office, seem to forget that they themselves were heavily invested in Donald Trump, prior to Trump taking office.

It was not so long ago that these same commentators were still cheer-leading for Trump.

Now that Donald Trump has definitively shown himself to be an absolute disaster as president, some commentators have conveniently forgotten their own past sycophancy for Donald Trump.

Criticisms of Vladimir Putin for being too accommodating to the Western political establishment may be valid. However, Self-Reflection of One's own part should not be neglected.

Many people were overly invested in Donald Trump as president, and some continue to be.

"Hope and Change", strikes again.

Donald Trump's disastrous failure, is based upon the immense opportunity he was gifted for real change, but categorically squandered, due to his cowardice, hubris and ego.

It is also important to recognise, that had Vladimir Putin not been so accommodating to the West, the West would not have taken the opportunity to reveal themselves to be duplicitous dirt-bags.

This accommodation has led to the West's exposure around the World.

Whether deliberate or incidental, Vladimir Putin's accommodation of the West has induced a major benefit.

Give them rope to hang themselves with.

ACADEMIC THOUGHT OR PROPAGANDA PEDDLING?

Vladimir Putin may well have his critics in Russia that disagree with some of his policies.

But does this then automatically correlate to all these people seeking to oust Vladimir Putin as president of Russia?

Maybe, these people just have a difference of opinion.

If you happen to disagree with your work colleague, does that then mean you would like your work colleague to lose their job?

Is this the level of simplistic analysis, that passes for academic thought in the West nowadays?

Additionally, there should be more attention paid to the Sovereignty of the Individual, not the Sovereignty of the State.

THE STANDOFF FALLACY

This commentary is a response to the video, John Mearsheimer: How Dangerous is Russia to America? to the World?, on the Daniel Davis/Deep Dive YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p-3c-JseFPU

***

John Mearsheimer's perspective, that Russia and the West are headed into a long, drawn out standoff, is based on the assumption that the West is operating on a stable foundation.

The West's political, military, financial, industrial and social foundations are all rapidly deteriorating. Despite the rhetoric.

What then, is going to be left to help support Ukraine?

When the collapse of the West eventuates, the political establishment will be too concerned about being lynched, and the majority of the population will be wondering how to feed their families. With little time being devoted to what is going on in Ukraine.

No, there is not going to be a long, drawn out standoff, or even a freeze of the conflict, between Russia and the West. Russia will resolve the conflict on its own terms.

Russia simply needs to stand its ground and the Western political establishment is done.

Western populations, along with the rest of the World, should be thankful for that.

The true absurdity of the situation, is that the Western political establishment is so hellbent on destroying Russia and China, when Russia and China are realistically the only players that could help rebuild the West after the collapse.

So, it makes sense to have a strong Russia and China for this to even be possible.

However, the Western political establishment keep loading rounds into the gun, and shooting themselves in the face.

Geniuses.

CONDITIONS FOR CORPORATE BAILOUTS

If the public is expected to bailout failed corporations, then there must be strict conditions applied for that bailout.

1. All Senior Executives, Board Members and Senior Government Regulators must be criminally charged and plead guilty to their complicity in the failure. Serious jail time must apply.

2. All Senior Executives, Board Members and Senior Government Regulators must be subject to 100% asset seizure and pay hefty fines for their complicity in the failure.

3. All Senior Executives, Board Members and Senior Government Regulators must reimburse all remunerations paid to them directly or indirectly in their roles at the corporation or government institution.

4. These individuals are disqualified from holding any Senior Executive, Board Member or Public Office position for the remainder of their natural life.

5. These individuals are disqualified from holding the position of Director in any company for the remainder of their natural life.

6. The above conditions may also apply to former Senior Executives, Board Members and Senior Government Regulators, if applicable.

7. Shareholders cannot receive dividends until the bailout amount is fully repaid to the public, with interest.

8. As a transparency measure, any individual accepting a position as Senior Executive or Board Member of a corporation, or Senior Government Regulator, must publicly disclose all personal assets and financial interests.

9. Additionally, all personal financial transactions must be publicly tracked for Senior Executives, Board Members and Senior Government Regulators during their tenures at any corporation or government institution. Nothing to hide, nothing to fear.

10. Senior Government Regulators are subject to the Personal Financial Transaction Tracking provision for a subsequent ten years from the date of vacating public office.

These points may be refined and expanded upon by others with sufficient financial and legal understanding.

Congratulations Scott, for being part of the greatest killing machine of its time.

It is obvious that you are proud of this fact.

It is obvious that this gives you a real sense of achievement.

It must feel special knowing that you could kill anyone at any time, should you be ordered to do so, or the urge compelled you.

It must feel special knowing that you were among a group of like-minded individuals, eager to follow Presidential orders, invade other people's countries, kill their people and steal their stuff.

Yes, I understand how a cultish reverence for the Marine Corps and the piece of paper known as the Constitution, would engender such pride.

When the President of the United States of America, solves problems with a gun, it is considered tough, manly, strong.

When the President of the United States of America, steals other people's stuff, it is considered, "protecting America's interests".

It is considered, Presidential.

When President, after President, after President resorts to a gun to solve America's problems and is lauded for it, is it any real surprise that America has a serious problem with gun violence?

You reap what you sow.

Personally Scott, I value your work over the past several years, a million times higher than almost anything you achieved in the Marine Corps.

Your stand against the Weapons of Mass Destruction lies in Iraq, was highly commendable in this regard.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3onO7SRkWd0

This commentary is specifically referring to John Mearsheimer's remarks at 1:06:27 - 1:09:15.

I understand that John is a highly respected academic, but quite often, I find him talking absolute nonsense.

This notion of the United States widening the gap between the other major powers of the world over time, simply by importing immigrants, is ridiculous.

How many immigrants does the United States have to import, before the United States, is no longer, the United States?

As a whole, the United States may be a wealthy country. But when that wealth is concentrated within a small segment of the population, and getting smaller, this alone creates its own seriously destabilising pressures.

In line with the wealth disparity, how is the United States going to widen the gap between the other major powers, when deeply ingrained political corruption is considered normal and, is off the charts.

Corruption is a major corrosive factor for a society, regardless of wealth.

Any innate benefits the United States has for prosperity, can easily be eroded by a putrid and incestuous political establishment.

All three commentators seem to think that a long drawn-out stand-off is on the cards between the West and Russia. This is not the case at all.

The collapse of the West, is closer than these three gentlemen think.

The nature of such a collapse, is that is happens suddenly, without warning.

Only in retrospect, is it recognised as obvious.

The collapse of the West, with all that that entails, is not going to be enticing anyone to the West.

This is the perspective that comes about from looking at the world from your own particular myopic ideological lens.

Because the only reason Venezuela struggles economically, is because of Socialism.

The looting and sanctioning of the country for decades prior, has nothing to do with it at all.

"Socialism doesn't work" is just a stupid mantra regurgitated by libertarian ideologues that are too lazy to do any in-depth research into an issue such as this, but feel compelled spew the line, "Socialism doesn't work" at any opportunity.

Why did Hugo Chávez gain power in Venezuela?

Could the C.I.A. puppet that was president before him, looting the country for U.S. interests, have something to do with it?

That might be a possible consideration.

Maybe, the poor and working-class people of Venezuela got sick of being shafted. So when presented with the option of Socialism, they went for it. Because what did they have to lose.

When your only experience of a free market, is Crony Capitalism, Socialism sounds pretty good.

This realisation of decline has triggered frantic, scrambling efforts to consolidate as much territory and material wealth as possible, under the control of the current political establishment, while any semblance of ability still permits.

If what Robert states in the first part of this video is correct, then this does not improve Donald Trump's standing at all.

What this portrays, is that Donald Trump is a fake, a fraud, a phoney and a cowardly piece of shit to boot. It shows he is willing to sacrifice the lives of people in other countries, just to save his own image.

If these foreign attacks were committed without Donald Trump's approval or knowledge, then why did he not come out publicly and state that these attacks were carried out without authorisation? Thus exposing the corruption of the deep state, and taking them on directly for operating outside the chain of command.

Tremendous support would have been forthcoming from not only within the United States, but outside the United States as well, had he chosen this path.

Of course, this would have required real courage, which Donald Trump lacks. Donald Trump is only prepared to pretend to have courage.

Due to his insecurity, arrogance and ego, Donald Trump is more concerned with saving face, rather than doing what's right.

The truly baffling thing is, he has knowingly surrounded himself with people who were actively hostile toward him, and is now taking advice from.

Does he really think that his charm and charisma won them over?

In the New York real estate game, Donald Trump may have been a big shark. But in the world of shady national and geopolitical machinations, he is a blind clownfish, surrounded by monstrous sharks.

In such a scenario, it is imperative to play the game straight. Because few are able to match the diabolical tactics of those that created this game. Also, playing the game straight, overrides all other games.

Time section 9:30 - 16:55.

I strongly suspect Garland is correct with his speculation that COVID originated at Fort Detrick, Maryland, and not the Wuhan wet market in China or the Wuhan Institute of Virology.

In Summary.

Fort Detrick is the premier bio-weapons research facility in the United States.

Preceding the global COVID outbreak, the 7th CISM Military World Games were held in Wuhan from October 18th - 27th, 2019.

Military personnel from Fort Detrick were present at those games.

There were reports of people being afflicted with a strange virus in and around Fort Detrick, Maryland in the weeks leading up to the 7th CISM Military World Games.

Was this an accidental outbreak, or a deliberate release of a bio-weapon the United State military had developed?

Was there a calculated attempt to blame and demonise China for the outbreak?

Was China's strict lockdown policy a result of concerns for a bio-weapon attack?

At this point, anyone that has objectively performed even a modicum of research into the whole COVID episode, would have to conclude that the official narrative is bogus, and that it was most likely a preplanned operation.

Additionally, the tactic of providing a moderately difficult problem to solve as a distraction to the real agenda, plays into the natural Human psychological instinct to resolve a predicament that makes no sense. Especially one that has a direct impact on well-being.

Once people feel that the problem is solved, then there is no longer a reason to look any deeper, and all inquiry stops.

PERPETUAL MYOPIA

"Why do the Russians continue to engage in useless talks?"

Considering this sentiment in isolation.

Maintaining dialogue, regardless of its usefulness, does not prevent the Russians from continuing their military operations in Ukraine.

Of course, the response to this would be, the Russians are wasting time and resources participating in talks that achieve nothing.

Well, if the Russians are wasting time and resources participating in talks that achieve nothing, then so are the Western Paedophilic Political Establishment.

In such a case, what of it?

However, nothing within the Universe exists in isolation.

Hence, from a broader perspective.

The Ukrainian conflict is just one area the Western Paedophilic Political Establishment find themselves entangled, by their own doing.

Another, is the Epstein saga.

Others still, are the deteriorating economic conditions in the West, the enormous A.I. bubble, United States domestic instability, the Iranian conflict, Gaza genocide outrage, Israel's failing perceived legitimacy, China's growing dominance, cracks in Western alliances and many, many, more.

These are just some of the areas of strain on the Western Paedophilic Political Establishment that are openly visible.

There are many, that are not.

Each issue on its own may not mean much, but when all occur simultaneously, the sinew of the Western Paedophilic Political Establishment begins to tear apart.

No doubt, the Western Paedophilic Political Establishment have substantial material wealth and political power, but these are nowhere near infinite, nor very effective in this circumstance.

It would certainly be easier to simply destroy these people outright. But that would mean also destroying more of Humanity than is necessary, and besides, what would be learnt from such blatant destruction?

Untangling and resolving this mess is far more beneficial and productive for the long term.

"Useless Talks", gives time and space for other areas of strain to evolve and new areas to develop. Thus, direct the Western Paedophilic Political Establishment into ever more self-destructive actions, whilst minimising damage to innocent aspects and reducing unnecessary Karmic blowback.

There are far greater forces to be considered here, than just those openly visible.

Alexander, you and Alex Christoforou may be correct that after parsing Tusli Gabbard's Senate testimony, she was attempting to put sole responsibility for this war on Donald Trump.

Why does her testimony have to be parsed and analysed for its real meaning?

Why does she not state it categorically?

Why is she not taking direct responsibility for her statement?

Why the stupid, childish games?

How many innocent people have died because of stupid, childish games?

How many more innocent people will die because of stupid, childish games?

This is contemptible cowardice on the part of the few people that were expected to be better. Too busy trying to preserve their political careers at the expense of other people's lives.

Given the current trajectory, political careers are the last thing they should be concerned with.

You also mentioned winners and losers in this war. That it is too early to say whether Iran or the United States has won this war.

So, over one hundred and fifty young school girls were killed in a missile attack on the first day of this conflict, along with a large number of innocent men, women and children in the subsequent weeks, not to mentions the billions of dollars in property damage, all in an attempt to steal Iran's oil and make Donald Trump and his Epstein Class cronies, a fortune?

Is this what all this is about?

I'm no legal scholar, but that sure sounds like an admission to War Crimes.

Going by the precedence the United States itself set at the end of World War Two, serious War Crimes result in the Death Penalty.

You know, the same United States that holds itself as the moral beacon of the world.

You know, "Freedom" and "Democracy" and all that sort of stuff.

The last part of this quote is just an outright lie.

Donald Trump's history of behaviour and rhetoric shows that he is not the type of person to share a "Gusher" with the rest of the world.

This is a man that stole Venezuela's oil and boasts about stealing Greenland.

This is a man that brags about not being constrained by laws or principles, only his own vacillating, self-righteous pretend morals.

It looks to me that there needs to be Nuremberg Trials 2.0, and if the people of the United States have any real Morality left, they will willingly participate in the process. Offering up all those still living, that are responsible for Crimes Against Humanity around the world. Whilst seizing assets to help pay for reparations.

Yes, I think this is the appropriate path to take.

To describe this current U.S. Presidential Administration as totally incompetent, would be giving it far too much credit.

These people can't even do criminality, with all the resources of the United States behind them, in a competent way.

Almost every member of the Trump administration are graduates from Dunning-Kruger University. With Secretary of War Crimes, Pete Hegseth, being valedictorian.

If not for the colossal tragedy, this entire episode is stunning in its monumental stupidity.

COMPLICITY IN WAR CRIMES SURVEY

If one neighbour was constantly lying, encouraging and cajoling another neighbour to murder an innocent third neighbour, then how much responsibility does the first neighbour share in that murder?

Especially if that murder would not have occur, if the first neighbour had never acted in this manner.

How much responsibility do politicians, members of the media and commentary class, bear for War Crimes and Crimes Against Humanity, that they themselves have lied about, encouraged and cajoled?

How much responsibility do the billionaires and corporate executives that work behind the scenes, bear for War Crimes and Crimes Against Humanity, just to enrich themselves further?

Who are such people?

Lindsey Graham, Ben Shapiro, Mark Levin, Laura Loomer, Hillary Clinton, Miriam Adelson, Larry Ellison, Bill Ackman, Stephen Miller, Fox News personalities, CNN News personalities and many, many, many more.

When War Crimes trials occur and these people are found complicit, what should be the penalty awarded them?

(A) Should they be stripped of all assets?

(B) Should they go to prison for life?

(C) Should they face the Death Penalty?

(D) All of the above?

United States military personnel like to think of themselves as moral, honourable Individuals.

United States military personnel like to think of themselves as the "greatest fighting force in history".

United States military personnel like to pat themselves on the back by how violently they can behave.

Is it moral and honourable to deliberately fire a missile into an elementary girls school?

Is the Individual that carried out this heroic mission still on active duty?

Is the Individual that carried out this heroic mission going to face the Death Penalty, or any other disciplinary action?

Is the Individual that carried out this heroic mission going to get a medal?

It would not be surprising to learn that during this heroic mission, the Individual responsible was wearing a crucifix around his/her neck; to remind them they were doing "God's work", and that Jesus was on their side.

A truly Moral and Honourable Individual, would have sooner accepted a bullet to the head from their own commanding officer, than follow such a heinous order.

Only an Army of Monsters even considers this an appropriate action to take.

"But underneath all that Machismo and Brutal Confidence, is Fear."

The above quotation refers to the design of the Tesla Cybertruck, but equally applies to all expressions of Machismo and Brutal Confidence.

After all, Machismo and Brutal Confidence are compensating mechanisms for Fear.

Many Individuals for which authentic confidence and self-assuredness is a foreign experience, manufacture a veneer of what they imagine confidence to look like. On the extreme side, they imagine it to be overly aggressive and brutal.

They imagine wrong.

John makes a particularly great point in an overall excellent video.

Billionaires, are terrified Individuals.

Those that lust after material wealth, are terrified of the Real World.

They regard material wealth as protection, from the Real World. They regard material wealth as insulation, from the Real World.

But instead of being protected from the Real World, they become distant and detached from the Real World.

Therefore, these Individuals never develop adequate and healthy skills to function in the Real World.

The skills they do develop, are ones that create an even greater distance and detachment from the Real World.

This is reason for so much investment of time, effort and resources in creating artificial environments, which feed them the sense of control they desperately seek.

However, the unavoidable impact of Reality onto their perceived expectations, results in an impossible dichotomy that drives neurotic and dysfunctional behaviour.

So, because of the reach their wealth and influence provide, this becomes a detriment, not only to themselves, but society as a whole.

Billionaires, are just an extreme expression of denial and cowardice, effectively concealed behind a confident facade.

To counterpose Stanislav's perspective that Russia should have hit the Europeans and Americans harder at the initial stages of the Ukrainian conflict.

Russia's moderate response was beneficial in that it suckered the West to dump all its military hardware into Ukraine and have it destroyed.

If Russia was more heavy-handed initially, it may well have scared the West off. But then the West would have retained all its military hardware.

Given the de-industrialisation of the West, it will now be virtually impossible to resupply all that lost military hardware.

Was this the Russian plan all along? Probably not.

I disagree with Alexander on a particular point.

Donald Trump placed his own testicles into the Iranian vice, and dared Iran to crush them, metaphorically speaking.

Why should Iran not oblige his implied request?

I would not recommend any face-saving options for Donald Trump, Benjamin Netanyahu, the United States or Israel.

This behaviour is not new for the United States and Israel. So maybe severe humiliation is the only way to correct this arrogant, murderous, self-righteous behaviour.

Why should the United States be given any advantage at all?

Face saving options are applicable for genuine mistakes or accidents.

There should not be face saving options for deliberate malicious behaviour. Especially when the behaviour is continued over and over again.

It should be noted though, it is the Iranians that have to contend with the repercussion.

Advice is easy to give, when there are no consequences to pay.

This commentary is a response to the video, Fractured Iran Or Fractured Trump? With Robert Barnes, on The Duran YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XNq8TjkMeSc

Several points I like to comment on from the above video.

...

Why are there people within the Trump administration pussyfooting around Donald Trump if he has and/or is developing dementia?

As Robert mentioned, they did not swear an oath to serve a monarch. So why do they behave as if they did?

Are these people content to simply mollycoddle Donald Trump, to prevent him from ordering even greater atrocities?

Why are they not speaking out publicly?

These are serious circumstances that are before us, and yet they think it appropriate to keep a lid on it, sweeping it all under the rug?

People have died and many more are going to die because of this.

If Donald Trump is suspected to be in cognitive decline, then members of the administration and congress that have obligations under the 25th Amendment, should act under those responsibilities to ensure a deranged President does not stay in office.

If they fail to carry out the functions of their office in this regard, then there must be charges brought and proceedings for criminal negligence and dereliction of duty initiated against them.

The mechanisms for this should exist on a Federal and/or State level.

But of course, this is highly unlikely to occur. Because the United States does not operate on any foundational principles. It only pretends to.

Congress is a place where people of low moral character go to become wealth, through bribery and insider trading. It is not a place where elected Individuals accept responsibilities, and diligently carry out those responsibilities.

...

The discussion about getting a nuclear deal with Iran is disappointing nonsense.

This conflict has nothing to do with Iran gaining nuclear weapons.

Nuclear weapons is a smoke screen for regime change in Iran, or the destruction of Iran as a viable country. All for the benefit of Israel.

This is the reality.

Address the reality.

...

China may well want an open Strait of Hormuz for its own interests, but who is going to pay for the damage done to Iran from these unprovoked attacks?

If Russia and/or China force Iran to take a deal that sees no recompense for the death and destruction caused and no criminal charges against those responsible, then the entire Global South should tell Russia, China and the United States to go pound sand. While subsequently causing as much turmoil for all three countries as they possibly can.

That's assuming the leaders in these Global South countries have balls at all.

...

J.D. Vance having a consistent history of opposing wars is not very reassuring or favourable for J.D. Vance.

Donald Trump had a consistent history of opposing wars, yet look where we are.

I know Robert thinks well of J.D. Vance. To me, he's not all that impressive.

Although to be fair, he may be better than most people in the U.S. Congress.

But that's not a high bar to reach.

...

Politically Powerful, Functionally Incompetent Deep State.

Robert makes a good point about the Deep State being Politically Powerful when it comes to placing lackeys in appropriate political positions. But is Functionally Incompetent in regards to actually carrying out operations that don't turn into a debacle.

...

Finally, at some point, real, actual justice must take place.

Because if Individuals and legal systems fail to hold major criminals accountable for horrendous crimes, then Nature will hold everyone accountable.

PARASITIC INFECTION

Zionism is a parasite, and like all parasites, it requires a suitable host.

A parasite will exploit this host until the host dies, or becomes so depleted it no longer serves as a viable host.

Before this occurs though, the parasite must find an alternative host or face succumbing to exposure and lack of sustenance.

Zionism's current host is being quickly depleted. Hence, the desperation to extract as much as possible from this host, while finding and establishing a new host.

Who are the potential new hosts for Zionism?

Obviously, this new host must have sufficient economic and military robustness to satiate Zionism's monstrous appetite. Additionally, it must be able to protect Zionism from any threats and competitors that may come about due to Zionism's hostile nature.

Or at least, it must have a strong potential for such purposes.

The candidate must also be somewhat willing to take on the parasite, or be susceptible to infiltration from the parasite.

At present, there are only three candidates that could possibly fill this role for the Zionist parasite.

They are China, Russia and India.

China's entire political and philosophical framework is too incompatible with how Zionism has been structured up till now. For a harmonisation to develop, it would require more time for equalising adaptations of both the host and parasite than the parasite has available to it.

Russia is currently engaged in hostile actions against the parasite's existing host, and since the depletion of the host's capabilities, the parasite has been exposed as being the driving force behind this hostility.

This leaves India.

Although India does not presently embody the economic and military robustness to be able to sustain this Zionist parasite, and there could also be some political and philosophical framework incompatibilities, it is the only realistic option available, given the diminishing time constraints, for Zionism's survival.

If India allows itself to become the new Zionist host, then it can expect to be turned into a withering husk. Even before it realises any of the economic or cultural potential it may possess.

From a foundational level, it is not Zionism itself that is necessarily the parasite, but the ideology of Exceptionalism undergirding it, that transforms it into a parasite.

This type of ideology can manifest itself in many other ways, such as it has done in the past, through Nazism.

How Religion imagines a God is not real.

Religion is worshipping things that are not real.

Religion is based on imaginings that are not real.

The Religious Security Blanket is not real.

Maybe one day, these self-proclaimed Religious people will finally see through the indoctrination, and realise that Religion itself is Satanic.

The reason it is Satanic, is because it creates the perception that Sovereignty does not exist within the Individual, but is manifest within an external Being that must be worship.

This is the Ultimate Evil.

The reason it is the Ultimate Evil, is because this projection robs an Individual of their fundamental, natural, Sovereign birthright.

One cannot recognise the Sovereignty of the Individual, and worship an imagined external deity. Even if that worship involves a person like Christ.

These two positions are incompatible.

Let's be honest Larry, Western commentators and Westerners in general, that get particularly annoyed or even angry that Russia is not sufficiently aggressive in their eyes, are not making this claim from a position of deep caring about the Russian people.

They are doing so, because they expect Russia to save them from the Tyranny of Western governments.

Thus, abdicating their own responsibility in this matter.

The Tyranny in the West is not Russia's problem to resolve, until it becomes an immediate threat to Russia's existence.

At that point, every person in the West is a legitimatise target for abdicating their responsibility of controlling their own governments.

If the situation develops to such a degree that Russia must resolve Western Tyranny, then that is not going to be a fun time for anyone.

Are you still keen in Russia becoming more aggressive?

If Russians themselves want to have the discussion of how far to push it, then that is up to them. Because if the escalation is disproportionate, ill-timed or poorly executed, then the consequences fall back on the Russian people.

The benefit of Russian's self-imposed restraint, is that the people of the West have time to get their act together regarding those that rule over them through democracy.

These people, on all sides, that are overly enthusiastic to see Russia escalate this conflict, should be careful what they wish for. Because what may eventuate, in all likelihood, will bear no satisfactory resemblance to what they desire.

K.J. makes some great points about the problems faced. But his indoctrinated Socialist responses to the causes, are absolute rubbish.

All Capitalism means, is the private ownership of Capital.

That's it.

Nothing more.

Individuals create Capital through their own endeavours, then Individuals get to keep and decide how that Capital is used.

Socialists use the term "Capitalism", as a catch-all phrase for their personal pet peeves. Some quite legitimate, but in actuality, have nothing to do with Capitalism, specifically.

To say that the United States and other Western countries are not Socialist, is misreading the landscape.

The United States is a Socialist country, for Corporations and the Oligarchy.

The United States has a centrally planned economy, for Corporations and the Oligarchy.

This is often referred to as Crony Capitalism. But is more accurately stated as, Crony Socialism.

Cronyism is special privilege, for the few that are politically connected.

This can occur is any political system, whether it is Capitalist, Socialist or Communist.

To imply that Socialist systems are impervious to corruption is simplistic and naive.

Corruption can exist in any system.

Does K.J. think there weren't special privileges for members of the ruling class in the Soviet Union or Mao's China?

Does K.J. think there aren't special privileges for members of the ruling class in the Socialist European Union?

China itself became more economically prosperous when it freed up its economy and allowed its people to own their own property.

From this freeing up of the economy, China has gone from very low literacy rates, to essentially universal literacy levels in a matter of a couple of decades.

It wasn't like this, under the controlled economic system of Communism.

K.J. is obviously and intelligent person. But Socialist indoctrination hamstrings him significantly.

As stated previously, with Dave Smith and Libertarian ideology, Lazy! Lazy! Lazy!

Timestamp 54:15 - K.J. expresses statements about freedom to make individual decisions, and in the same sentence, calls for collective power.

In a collectivised, controlled economy, who gets to decide which people control the economy? Who gets to control and direct collective power?

K.J. talks about master/slave relationships. Well, in a Socialist system and a centrally planned economy, is there not those that centrally control the economy? Are they not now the new masters over the slaves, that are required to abide by their master's rulings?

These Socialist can't even see the contradictions that they themself create and endorse.

They imagine some Socialist utopia. If only they were allowed to control everyone and everything. While at the same time, everyone has the freedom to do as they please.

What?

According to Socialist, people are free, as long as they abide by strict Socialist controls.

How is this Tyranny, different to any other?

Humanity needs higher quality Individuals. Not some imagined perfect political system.

No political system is going to compensate for the deficiencies of poor quality Individuals.

One indicator of poor quality Individuals, is a sense of entitlement toward other people's property.

The foundation of Socialism, is promoting the sense of entitlement toward other people's property.

Socialism requires and promotes, poor quality Individuals.

It's amazing how someone can come across as both intelligent and stupid, at the same time.

This is what ideological indoctrination does, it seems.

People become wedded to a particular ideology, or vehemently opposed to a seemingly counter ideology, then force it work in their own heads, regardless of the inconsistencies.

There are far better critiques of Socialism available. This is just some off-the-cuff ramblings, after getting annoyed watching the linked video.

LADIES LEAD THE WAY

This commentary is a response to the video, Pact Of Shame EXPOSED: Outrage Sweeps Lebanon Over Israel Deal Ep. 237, on The Cradle YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T7herZuT2wY

***

I remember watching an episode of The Cradle podcast a few weeks back, where Karim was quite excited over the potential of the Memorandum of Understanding between the United States and Iran.

Sharmine on the other hand, was cautioning restraint and not to get too far ahead of the game, so to speak.

However, after the United States signed a very dubious deal with Israel and treacherous elements within the Lebanese government, Karim is now in defeatist mode, basically saying, all is lost.

While Sharmine is calling it as it is, just another part of the toing and froing in the overall bigger picture.

The emotional extremes that Karim pivots to during these events, is indicative of a person of limited emotional and psychological stability and resilience.

From Karim's constant uncomfortable movement at times, it seems he was annoyed that Sharmine in particular, was not willing to accept his forlorn resignation.

Here, Sharmine displays what is meant by, Grace, Strength, Wisdom.

Karim could also learn something from Mohamad Hasan Sweidan, another Cradle contributor.

Mohamad is Lebanese, from southern Lebanon.

His home and entire town has been destroyed by Israeli terrorists.

Mohamad vows to return to the area of his home with his family, and rebuild. However long it takes. However many times it takes.

That there, is a Strength of Character worthy of admiration.

It is disappointing to read the comments to this video, in that people get caught up in the personalities involved, rather than the information being presented.

It is understandable that credibility needs to be established. But what has Billy gained from all these years of presenting information?

Not much, I suspect.

If he is trying to swindle people for fame and fortune, then he has done a rather poor job of it.

This is not about Billy, or the Plejarens.

This is about Humanity overcoming the Evil that has imprisoned Humanity, and reaching the potential that is possible for Humanity.

People presume that they are entitled to Truth, that they themselves can contribute nothing, and expect others to just give them answers to everything.

Actual Truth is discovered from an inward pilgrimage, not from external entertainment.

With regard to this whole extraterrestrial phenomenon, most people are looking to be entertained, rather than discovering Truth.

That is why the Plejarens and other off world entities, are not doing a big song-and-dance about their presence or involvement.

Humanity needs to grow up.

NO!

The Buddha, Christ or Muhammad and many others, did not have epileptic seizures, or any other type of seizures.

They didn't go "beyond" to see some altered state of Consciousness.

They resolved the barriers to deeper levels of Awareness, until they attained a state of Singularity/Consciousness.

There is no "beyond", from this perspective.

It is possible to temporarily go "beyond" from shallow levels of Awareness.

For example, an Awareness state limited to the Physical or Emotional Body, may experience Awareness of the Psychological Body due to some extreme stress, for a short period of time. Provided Awareness is maintained and not suppressed.

This experience can be either Pleasant or Unpleasant. This experience is not, "Transcendent".

Drug induced experiences from the likes of Ayahuasca may have a similar effect, or they could just be causing delusion.

On a snarky note, still waiting for all the deep and profound insights that Ayahuasca advocates promised would come from their amazing drug trips.

I won't hold my breath.

There are no easy shortcuts to attaining Singularity/Consciousness. There are only distractions.

Take your pick.

Additionally, it was stated in the video that Dostoyevsky had a gambling problem. A Buddha, Christ or Muhammad could not have a gambling problem anywhere close to the Singularity/Consciousness state.

Divine Death, is death of the Ego. Not death of the body.

TECHNOLOGICAL OBSESSION

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1_BkYlnqrPs

Humanity's problems are not due to a lack of Technology.

Technological advancement is not going to dig Humanity out of its dire hole.

Technological advancement is not required to improve people's health.

Why wait for Technology to improve health, when poor health is not a Technological problem?

Chronic and degenerative conditions are not the result of a lack of Technology.

Maybe look at diet, lifestyle and environmental pollutants.

Technological advancement is not going to lead to Humans being more peaceful.

Technological advancement is not going to diminish Humanity's issues. Instead, it will exacerbate them.

The industrial revolution did not make Humanity better. It made Humanity more comfortable and more deadly.

Human quality must instead improve appreciably. So then, Technological advancement will simply be a bonus.

Just like a child's hunger for the next new toy can never be satiated, hunger for the next new technology is equivalently so for a malformed, juvenile psyche.

Transcend the hunger.

More Technology ≠ Better Humanity.

***

Claiming that the pursuit of Technology is valid to alleviate difficulty and Suffering, fails to recognise that Suffering is a crucial component in the development of Understanding and Wisdom. Provided, the Suffering is approached with authentic humility and acceptance.

If a particular vector of Suffering is mitigated through Technological means, without the corresponding Understanding and Wisdom accompanying it, then the Suffering will simply manifest through differing pathways.

Suffering is a response to Inner Conflict.

Suffering can be approached in two ways. It can be tended to with Technological methods, or it can be resolved via the growth of Wisdom.

The growth of Wisdom resolves the underlying Inner Conflict. Technological methods do not. Thus, leaving the underlying Inner Conflict to express through alternate avenues.

There is no escaping Suffering in life, while Inner Conflict remains unresolved.

A life without Suffering, is a life devoid of Wisdom.

Clayton, you just spent almost 12 minutes going on about how everything is a lie, and how tiring it is for you that everything is a lie. But then, you come out with the statement that these very same liars are out to destroy Christianity.

What The Fuck Clayton?

I thought you were finally going to wake up and realise that Christianity and all Religion is a lie. But no, gotta double down on stupid and hold on to the Religious lies.

Can't let those precious Christian lies go, can you?

Gotta keep believing that there's a daddy God looking after you, that Jesus is there to hold your hand and protect you.

Please.

Do you consider me a "Paedophile or Kabbalist" trying to destroy Christianity? Because I'm doing everything I can to destroy not just Christianity, but every Religion. I would be happy if Christianity and every Religion disappeared off the face of the Earth tomorrow.

There's a saying, that the sign of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting a different result.

I would slightly reword it as; the sign of insanity is believing the same thing over and over again and expecting a different result.

Just because takeaway food tastes good, does not mean takeaway food is good for you.

Religion, is the takeaway food of Spirituality.

This tyranny that you and many others are beginning to open your eyes to, is not a new thing.

This tyranny has been here tens of thousands of years.

This tyranny understands the Human Being and Human psychology far better than ANY psychologist.

This tyranny created all your Religions as vehicles of control.

This tyranny knows how to manipulate Humanity on very deep levels.

But to you, your Christianity is sacred and beyond question.

If there is a daddy God or Jesus to hold your hand and protect you, why haven't they done so by now? It's not like there isn't ample reason to.

If you're tired and frustrated now, what are you going to be like when you finally realise your Religion is a lie? That all Religion is a lie?

I guess it shouldn't be a surprise if you end up catatonic.

You have no fucking idea.

Please do explain how the United States is going to come out of or even prolong this mess, which is of its own making.

- U.S. debt is astronomical.
- U.S. debt is increasing on an accelerating trajectory.
- Countries like Japan are being pressured to sell off their U.S. bond holdings to protect themselves.
- U.S. vassals (allies) looking to escape the fallout from the crash.
- The petrodollar is in serious trouble and therefore, the U.S. dollar as world reserve currency is done.
- The U.S. is not going to rearm with conventional weapons in any meaningful way.
- The U.S. manufacturing base is in no way capable of producing the military equipment for sustained conflict, anywhere.

- The equipment they do produce is in insufficient quantities, out of date and extremely expensive.

- Bringing the manufacturing base and equipment quality up to adequate levels would take far longer than 6-12 months.

- This process would require massive amounts of investment, which would increase the acceleration of U.S. debt even further.

- Critical raw materials for weapons systems are in serious short supply due to export restrictions from China and potentially other countries.

- The stock market and economy in general, are being held up by a massively over inflated A.I. bubble.

- Out of control corruption in the political system is not beneficial at any time, let alone in a time of crisis.

- An overall obese population in poor health.

- A population that is oblivious to the extent of all these issues. More concerned with the merits of the latest Hollywood fictional garbage.

- Increasing social stresses and social volatility.

- High number of firearms in the hands of a volatile population.

- Educational standards falling. High school graduates unable to read.

- Increasing drug epidemic.

- A panicking, parasitic billionaire class doing whatever they can to protect themselves and their assets. At the expense of everyone else.

- Paedophiles infested throughout the political system and billionaire class.

- A corrupt and untrustworthy corporate media establishment.

- A cowardly, low-life, deluded president that continues to laud the greatest economy ever, greatest technology ever, greatest military ever, greatest country ever through his social media channel.

- An increasing global population that despises the United States.

No doubt, there are many more straws on this camel's back than what has been listed here.

Each of these points on their own have a cascading effect into other areas. Combined?

The warning sirens have been screaming for quite a long time.

There is only so much room available to kick the can down the road.

"As a Christian, I do not support Genocide."

Yeah, because those that do not call themselves Christians, just automatically support Genocide. Only Christians are above Genocide.

I guess Marjorie forgot about all the Genocides carried out by Christianity. Like the Catholic Church's slaughter of the Cathars and the killing of the people in the middle-east during the Crusades.

Then there's the Genocide of native populations around the world, by Christian colonising forces.

Oh, and something Christians conveniently forget; the Nazis and other Fascist groups in Europe, where predominately Christians.

This self-righteous grandstanding from those that call themselves Christians gets old real quick. But they like to pat themselves on the back for simply claiming to be Christian.

Christianity has nothing to do with Christ.

Christians know nothing about Christ.

Christians get off on riding the coat-tails of Christ, because that is far easier than actually discovering the Consciousness state of a person like Christ.

Some Geopolitical Analysts, from the comfort of their homes and offices, are of the expectation that Russia should act more aggressively and take greater casualties in doing such, just so these Armchair Generals can feel better about themselves.

Some of these Geopolitical Analysts are quick to express concern for U.S. military personnel being fed poorly on U.S. warships, but expect Russian lives to be needlessly sacrificed so the Ukraine conflict can end quicker, for the benefit of Armchair Generals.

I don't see these Geopolitical Analysts, or any members of their family, on the Ukrainian front lines hurrying things along.

It's easy for Armchair Generals to make bold proclamations of how a war should be fought, when there is no risk to themselves or their families.

Armchair Generals neglect to consider, that at the pointy end of comfortable bravado, are real Individuals required to engage with the impact of that bravado.

To dig out the deep, rotting corruption infecting this world, while at the same time, minimising unnecessary destruction, requires time and meticulous care.

Engaging in a hasty, superficial sweep to make the facade look pretty, does not resolve the underlying rot. It only beautifies the eventual corpse.

This is a Conflict of Attrition, at every level.

Either you have the resolve and the stamina to see it through, or you don't.

It's understandable that as a child, Brian looked to religion for answers out of fear, because it was the only thing presented to him.

But as an adult, he never reflected on that? He continued to be religious out of fear? Not because he considered religion to actually be based in truth?

And there is the fundamental, honest reason why most people are religious.

> "I'm religious, because I'm afraid."

Religion is a compensating mechanism for fear. Rather than facing, addressing and resolving the underlying fear.

Truth, has nothing to do with religion, and never did.

Time Stamp - 24:25

> "Let me kind of tangent and give you an example. Let's say I had a Star Trek tricorder. Right? And so, I got to time travel and I'm going to go back and I'm going to the resurrection of Jesus. Right? And so, I put my tricorder out. And... ...and now suddenly I have all the information. Right? I'm like, Oh, look, the cellular structures did this and blah, blah, blah, blah... I can explain this now.

Well, okay, great. But the guy still came back from the dead."

Again, What!?

Brian categorically claims that Jesus actually came back to life?

An event that happened 2000 years ago. Where he has no direct experience of the events himself. He does not know any of the sources of the information to know whether their accounts are reliable. But, because he read it in a book, or someone he now knows told him this was the case, he just proclaims it as irrefutable fact?

It's never a consideration that Christ may not have actually been dead on the crucifix?

Maybe he was presumed dead? Or maybe he was declared dead without actually being dead, so he could be removed off the crucifix? Or some other possibility, 2000 years ago.

Apparently, no other alternatives are possible. The accounts from some guys that denied any association with Christ after he was detained, are the ones that should be taken at face value.

I understand that true objectivity is difficult to come by in a shallow Awareness state, but at least give it a try.

This is a good example for students, to never just buy what their professor is selling them.

That's enough of this video.

Some of what Brian said was good, some of it was horseshit. His perspectives were inconsistent and schizophrenic. They didn't know what they wanted to be.

But he presented them very confidently.

OPENING MONOLOGUE

Minab.

February 28, at 11:23 am.

The United States and the Zionist entity has struck Shajareye Tayebe School. (Three times.)

Upstairs the girls, downstairs the boys and beside it, a kindergarten.

155 people were killed.

This, demands the world to bear witness, to how the most dignified form of life came under assault by profit seeking machinery of death. Which for all its forces, cannot extinguish the love that sustains what it seeks to destroy.

What follows, affirms the narratives of those subjected to imperial and colonial violence at Minab.

It recognises their lived testimonies as a vital repository of Truth and a legitimate source of knowledge.

It refuses the presumption, that objective Truth resides in the distance. In external investigations, in international institutional reports or in mediated accounts, and instead, it centres those who have endured the violence as its primary witnesses and interpreters.

Their ways of knowing, remembering and narrating are not peripheral. They're the central ground upon which any serious account must withstand.

For everything is at stake in their struggle to achieve justice and renew life in the face of the U.S., Zionist death machine.

So this is to honour Minab.

Holding its pain and dignity together, as a testament to the best of this humanity.

REQUEST FOR HONOURABLE ACTION

27th September 2026.

If United States Military personnel, involved with the illegal and unjustified attacks on the people of Iran, Yemen, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Afghanistan and Palestine, have any Honour within them at all, they should take it upon themselves, to blow their own brains out.

But of course, this is unlikely to occur on any large scale, because the United States Military, has no Honour.

Maybe, when the people of the United States of America, experience a semblance of the pain and suffering inflicted by them, upon other peoples of the world, the people of the United States of America, will become more motivated to hold their own Politicians, Senior Bureaucrats, Generals, Intelligence Agency Executives, Media Commentators and Executives of the Military Industrial Complex, accountable for the War Crimes and Crimes Against Humanity that they are all responsible for and have enriched themselves from.

Maybe, when the people of the United States of America, experience a semblance of the pain and suffering inflicted by them, upon other peoples of the world, the people of the United States of America, will hand down sentences to those individuals, that not only reflect the magnitude of such crimes, but also, act to deter others from following this path in the future.

It is foreseen, that there will be many which will find such a request offensive and outrageous. However, the response to this offense is,

REMEMBER MINAB
REMEMBER GAZA

In the event that this Request For Honourable Action receives a significant response, the blood spilt will not stain the hands of the source of this request. It will drench the hands of those Americans that acted insufficiently to hold the individuals outlined above, accountable for their heinous crimes.

"Oh my gawd.
The misogyny is oppressing me.
Oh my gawd."

Western Feminists

The only thing "oppressing" you, is your own vapid, narcissistic victimhood entitlement.

Your life to this point, has been far too easy. Absent any real torment and adversity. So you have to invent it, and project it.

The reason people "hate" you as an "influencer", is because you're insufferable. Man or Woman.

No useful skills or abilities. No meaningful or insightful perspectives.

This sort of nonsense can only occur in a declining and decadent culture.

Contrast these women, to the young woman that produced this,

The Evils Of God's Chosen

DEMOCRATIC CAR CRASH

This commentary is a response to the video, I Don't Get Democracy, on the Jonny Harris YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O7LvhSQ5Te4

These two gentlemen, present a video by the blatantly Russian hating BBC, on Russia, about how Vladimir Putin's opponents are all in jail, and take it at face value.

That's some solid, unbiased reporting right there.

Meanwhile, they fail to mention that presidential elections in Romania, were overturned in 2025, because the European Union did not like the result, and eventually installed their own favoured candidate.

Then, they have this silly map, that shows the United States with "mostly free and fair elections".

If United States's elections are "mostly free and fair", that does not reflect well on Americans, given what the results have been.

Besides, what is the point of having "mostly free and fair elections", in a contrived two-party political system, where both parties have been co-opted by downright evil special interest groups?

Also, who were the "experts" that compiled these maps they're presenting?

Oh! Of course, Western academics.

Bastions of Truth, those Western academics.

I thought this was going to be a serious video.

Apparently not.

I should have known, when they started playing with plastic blocks.

Very superficial and naive.

Any system, is a reflection of the quality of the Individuals that created it, and participate in it.

No system, is going to fix a screwed-up Humanity.

The system is not the source of the problem.

Poor Human quality, is the source of the problem.

It is the equivalent to blaming the car, for a 200 km/hr accident. But failing to address the fact that the driver is deaf, visually blind, with severe cognitive dysfunction, never learnt how to drive and intoxicated.

Maybe the car wasn't the problem.

DEATH TO AMERICA!

2nd October, 2026

During decades of diabolical crimes committed by the United States government upon millions of people around the world, Americans themselves chose Football, Disneyland, Hollywood and Video Games.

Now its Karma's turn to choose.

Enjoy your American Nightmare.

No amount of Religion or praying to God, will save you.

PURE EVIL

This commentary is a response to the video clip, Madeleine Albright On 500,000 Dead Iraqi Children - “The Price Is Worth It”, on the Eduardo Corrochio YouTube channel.

On the 12th of May 1996, Madeleine Albright made this statement in a 60 Minutes interview.

The estimated 500,000 Iraqi children died, because of U.S. sanctions on Iraq.

How much uproar did this cause in the United States at the time?

Essentially zero.

She later went on to become United States Secretary of State, under President Bill Clinton, from 1997 to 2001.

Just in case, there are any Americans that feel they are being hard done by, You allowed all this to occur in Your name.

Democracy says, You’re responsible.

WHEN THE WAR IS OVER

COLD CHISEL

Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.
Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.

When the war is over, got to get away.
Pack my bags to no place in no time, no day.
You and I, we used each other's shoulder.
Still so young, but somehow so much older.
How can I go home and not get blown away.

You and I had our sights set on something.
Hope this doesn't mean our days are numbered.
I've got plans for more than a wanted man.

All around is chaos and madness.
Can't help feeling nothing more than sadness.
Only choice, to face it the best I can.

When the war is over, got to start again.
Try to hold a trace of what it was back then.
You and I, we sent each other stories.
Just a page, I'm lost in all its glories.
How can I go home and not get blown away.

Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.
Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.
Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.

Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.
Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.
Ain't nobody gonna steal this heart away.
